Swift justice, no politics are aims of Judge Piggins

A recent candidate for a probate judgeship, Eugene G. Piggins, has seen to it that a combination of profanity and violence that are so commonplace in our society is not part of his courtroom.

On the other hand, the subject of his courtroom is not of a court of the law, but rather the law of God. It is not his concern to determine that justice is served, but rather that the justice is served in a manner that is consistent with the principles of the Bible.

Piggins has made it his personal mission to ensure that those who enter his courtroom do so with a sincere and honest intent to seek justice, and that the proceedings are conducted in a manner that is consistent with the principles of the Bible.

In his efforts to achieve this goal, Piggins has demonstrated a commitment to the principle of justice, and has shown a willingness to make a difference in the lives of those who come before him.

Piggins is a man of integrity, and his dedication to the principles of justice is evident in his actions. He is a true example of a man who has made a difference in the world, and his efforts will continue to inspire others to strive for justice in their own lives.

Air authority hopeful for voter support

The idea is to have a local authority handle the affairs of the airport, similar to the way a city or county handles its affairs. This would provide for more efficient and effective management, and would also provide for greater accountability.

The local authority would be responsible for the operation and maintenance of the airport, and would be answerable to the local citizens. This would ensure that the interests of the community are being served, and that the airport is being managed in the best interests of the public.

The local authority would also have the ability to make decisions that are in the best interests of the airport and the community, without the interference of outside forces. This would allow for a more streamlined and effective management process, and would also ensure that the airport is being managed in a manner that is consistent with the principles of the Bible.

In conclusion, the idea of having a local authority handle the affairs of the airport is a great one, and it is one that is consistent with the principles of justice.

Education, crime top priorities

The Legislature continues to grapple with a host of issues, from crime, health care, and environmental regulations to education. A priority for legislators is the proposal to amend the state constitution to provide for a lottery system to support education reform. Former state representative from the 64th district, R. Douglas Trezise, has introduced a bill that would establish a lottery system to raise funds for education reform. "The current system of funding education is broken," Trezise said. "We need a fair, transparent, and equitable way to distribute funds to our schools."

Another issue on the legislature's agenda is the recent increase in crime rates. "We must address the root causes of crime and work to build a safer community," said State Representative Laura Mullaney. "We need to invest in our youth and provide them with the tools they need to succeed."

Republican cider, barrel rally set in DeWitt Sunday

An old-fashioned cider barrel rally is scheduled for Sunday afternoon in DeWitt. The event will feature live music, cider tasting, and a raffle for a new cider barrel. "We hope to bring the community together and celebrate our rich cider-making history," said Mayor Mike Molder. "The cider barrel is an important part of our local culture and we want to honor that tradition." The event is free and open to the public.
Little league auction fails to reach goal

Sister Agnes Linkletter was pleased to announce that the little league auction for the 1970 season included proceeds from the auction of the seven-storey-stadium which have been turned over to the league for the new stadium.

Sister Agnes Linkletter said that the league has already sold 150 tickets at $10 each, and that the committee is hoping to raise $1,500. However, at the time of the auction, only $500 had been raised.

The auction was held at the Sales Hall of the social hall of St. Joseph Church, and was attended by approximately 75 people. The auction included various items, such as a basketball, a football, and a team of players.

The league has also been working on the construction of the new stadium, which is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The St. John’s Mayer Robert Wood, left, discusses his American Education Week proclamation designating the week of Oct. 23-31 as the special time for American education. Telling with Wood are St. John’s Education Association Pres. Charles A. St. John, Niles, and school supply, Carl Lancaster.

Bands, conferences, open house mark education week

American Education Week will get a big boost from the school districts in the state, according to Dr. Robert Wood, left, University of Michigan president.

The week, held in conjunction with the 1970 American Education Week, will be celebrated in schools throughout the state.

The week will be marked by special events, such as open houses, conferences, and conferences on education. The week will also include a special program on education, which will be broadcast on radio and television.

The week is sponsored by the American Education Week, which is a national education organization.

Redwings spoil Waverly homecoming

By TOM MCENEaney

Offensively, Waverly was without its star ground gainer for the night. Doug Prout, with 63 yards in 11 carries, ran for one touchdown and passed for two more. Waverly sustained a drive to the St. Johns 30 yard line. The point after failed and score was 7-0,

The next play was an 'It's over' play again, only to have Larry Wake- naker, the Waverly's all-time leading scorer, intercept the ball on the SJ 10 yard line. Larry Wake- naker's ten yard touchdown put the Waverly ball on the SJ 20 yard line.

The final play was a defensive play with 3:02 left in the second quar­ ter. Waverly took the next kick-off at the SJ 20 yard line. Waverly again took the ball, Waverly's passing at­ tention and leadership of Dave Flermoen with a 58-yard intercep­tion by Atkinson to Hayes was there again and picked off wing territory, Dunham threw a pass only concentrated drive of the game but they couldn't do anything with the ball. The game was over at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, with the Redwings' suffered. They did their second team all night. Waverly never played the passing department. St, Johns is the Hastings Saxons, who covered by Waverly on their own 20 yard line.

Their starting backfield has been their second team all night. Waverly went to a 2-2 tie 10:02 left in the final quarter. Only concentrated drive of the game but they couldn't do anything with the ball. The game was over at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, with the Redwings' suffered. They did their second team all night. Waverly never played the passing department. St, Johns is the Hastings Saxons, who covered by Waverly on their own 20 yard line.

Bath cleans Stockbridge 14-6

Boilermaker quarterback Paul Bell threw a 62-yard touchdown pass to Steve Feldpausch in the second quarter when Bath rallied for 24 points in a 14-6 victory over Stockbridge. The Panthers, who had lost to Bath in the regular season by a 15-14 score, now trail the Boilers 3-1 in league play.

Fowler wins in waning seconds

Fowler had a 6-0 lead going into the fourth quarter when it turned back four pitching efforts to win the win in the final minutes of the game. Fowler staggered through a 13-14 score by considering the successful defense of the Boilermakers in the second half.

Leonard Premium 500 rally-proved for total performance

The Boilermakers were stymied by Leonard's 23-yarder in the first quarter, then fell 14-6 to the Boilies. Leonard's 23-yarder in the first quarter, then fell 14-6 to the Boilies.

Stockbridge Panther and John Flannery teams to be having quite a time keeping his hands off the ball. Actually the other pair of legs belong to both Patrice Stoll (22) who leads down Flannery after a short gain. Bath won the game 14-6. (News photos by Ed Chemey).

Farm Equipment

Fast, clean husking...

Choose 6-roll or 12-roll husking unit — both have rubber Flex-Finger Presser Wheels for maximum husking efficiency!

Whichever model you select, you can be sure it will work closely in any kind of corn. Even stubborn hooks are caught and stripped off by the specially angled husking rolls. The 6-roll husking unit has good capacity to harvest all kinds of ears.

The 12-roll husking unit is built with extra capacity to clean husked corn in high exhibition corn or in extra-high-yield fields and to fit in narrow ground space. These husking units mount to the gathering unit frame with "drive-in" prongs and quickly interchange with the sheller or grinder. One man can switch units on the farm without special tools. Standard equipment on either husking unit includes a high capacity cleaning fan. Liberal use of sealed bearings ensures long life.

Olsen-Schafer rites read in Grandville

Sister Maria Jones became the bride of Robert Schafer, popular senior manager of the U.S. Steel Can Division of the Union Can Company, at the church of the Atonement on Saturday, Oct. 11. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The couple were united in marriage at 2 p.m. by the Rev. John P. Schontz, minister of the church. The bride was described as beautiful in a gown of white satin. Her veil was made of white lace and the flowers were all white. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids. The groom wore a suit of gray and carried a boutonniere of white orchids. The best man was Jerome Schafer of Pipestone, Minnesota. The maid of honor was Mrs. Elma Schafer of Pipestone. The attendants were: Mrs. Elma Schafer of Pipestone, Mrs. Elma Schafer of Pipestone, Mrs. Elma Schafer of Pipestone, and Mr. Elmer Schafer of Pipestone.

The couple will reside in Minneapolis, Minn., following the wedding.

St. Johns youth wins award, tour

The Miller family of St. Johns was honored at the 4-H State Dairy Science Congress in Lansing. The Miller family was presented with the annual general service award, sponsored by the Michigan 4-H Dairy Diet Council.

The award was presented to the Miller family by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blake, president of the Michigan 4-H Dairy Diet Council. The award was given in recognition of the Miller family's outstanding contributions to the 4-H Dairy Science program in St. Johns.

The Miller family has been actively involved in the 4-H Dairy Science program for many years, providing leadership and support to 4-H dairy clubs and activities in St. Johns. They have helped to develop and implement innovative projects and programs that have contributed to the growth and success of the program in the area.

The award is a testament to the dedication and commitment of the Miller family to the 4-H Dairy Science program and to the broader 4-H movement. It is a fitting recognition of their contributions and a testament to the impact they have had on the lives of youth in St. Johns and the surrounding community.

The award was presented during the annual 4-H Dairy Science Congress in Lansing, where thousands of 4-H members, leaders, and supporters gathered to celebrate the achievements and contributions of youth across the state.

The Michigan 4-H Dairy Science Council presented the award to the Miller family in recognition of their leadership and support of the 4-H Dairy Science program in St. Johns, and their dedication to the broader 4-H movement. The award is a symbol of the impact that youth can have on their communities and the state, and a testament to the value of the 4-H program in promoting leadership, service, and character development.

The Miller family is congratulated on their well-deserved recognition, and they are encouraged to continue their contributions to the 4-H Dairy Science program and the broader 4-H movement. Their leadership and support serve as an inspiration to other youth and leaders, and they are an example of the impact that youth can have on their communities and the state.
Mysterious migrations baffle MSU scientists

The mystery of how birds manage to find their way from one place to another is still not fully understood. Scientists at Michigan State University are trying to solve this puzzle.

"It's amazing how birds can fly thousands of miles without getting lost," said Dr. Harry Proctor, a noted ornithologist. "But how do they know where to go?"

According to Proctor, birds have a unique ability to navigate using the Earth's magnetic field and celestial cues such as the position of the sun and stars.

"Birds have a built-in compass that helps them orient themselves," Proctor explained. "They use this compass to maintain a straight course during their flights." Some birds, like the sandhill crane, can navigate over long distances and return to the same place year after year.

Scientists are studying various species of birds to better understand their navigation skills. They are using technology such as GPS tracking devices to follow the movements of birds in real-time.

"By tracking birds over long distances, we can learn more about their behavior and how they navigate," Proctor said. "This research is crucial for understanding the migratory patterns of birds and how they adapt to changing environmental conditions."

EACH WEEK THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS WILL PUBLISH ONE OF THE MANY FINE CHURCHES LOCATED IN CLINTON COUNTY.
Where we stand

We encourage defeat of Proposal C on the general election ballot. A vote for this proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit public aid to non-public schools and students would be a vote against a quality education system of public and private education in the state. Michigan has both a moral and a legal obligation to see that every child has a chance to develop to his greatest potential. The amendment would chill the free exchange of ideas, cramp the educational creativity and initiative of those private schools which cherish and practice them, and would be a threat to the economic and social life of the state.

Sailor thinks paper should be from readers

Dear Editor:

I see a new ad curiosity in the community and hope you will pass this notice on. The Lake County News for the town of Lake County is for sale. The newspaper is a little bit of a novelty. I'm sure that you will be interested in learning more about the newspaper and the community it serves.

Dear Editor:

I am writing to give you my thoughts on the current state of the newspaper industry. As a long-time reader of newspapers, I have noticed a worrying trend toward decreasing readership and financial difficulties. I believe that newspapers play a crucial role in the dissemination of information, fostering public debate and promoting civic engagement.

The newspaper profession is a field of work that has been fundamental to the development of our democratic society. It is through newspapers that we can be informed about the actions of government, the activities of businesses, and the events that shape our communities. However, in recent years, the traditional newspaper model has been challenged by the rise of digital media and the decline in advertising revenue. This has led to a situation where many newspapers are struggling to stay afloat.

Statistical information:

- The satisfaction of knowing will allow it to be used for many years.
- The Amendment as it appears on the ballot, as proposed by the state of Michigan, will be put to a vote on November 3rd.
- The current property tax assessment in the county is 17,699, up approximately 3% from the previous year.
- The three-week extension of the property tax deadline has recently occurred.
- "The official warned that sell-out prices of real estate may still demand a thorough inspection of the county by the state of Michigan taxpayers paid for its operation.

Letters to the Editor

Sailor thinks paper should be from readers

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my appreciation for the Lake County News, a local newspaper that has been serving the community for many years. I have been a loyal reader of the newspaper and I believe it is an important local resource.

DEAR EDITOR,

I am writing to voice my concern about the current state of the Lake County News. The newspaper has been struggling financially and it seems to be facing an uncertain future. As a long-time resident of the area, I feel a strong connection to this newspaper and I am worried about its future.

From my perspective, the newspaper plays an important role in keeping the community informed about local events and issues. It provides a platform for local artists, musicians, and writers to share their work. The newspaper also serves as a forum for discussion and debate, allowing readers to express their opinions and engage in meaningful conversations.

However, the newspaper has been struggling financially for several years, and it seems that it may be facing closure soon. This would be a great loss for the community, as the newspaper provides a valuable source of local news and information.

I urge the newspaper to seek out alternative funding sources and to explore new revenue streams. Perhaps it could consider offering digital subscriptions or developing sponsored content. I also encourage readers to support the newspaper by subscribing or donating.

In conclusion, I urge the newspaper to continue serving the community and to find new ways to stay financially viable. The newspaper has an important role to play in our community, and I hope that it can continue to do so for many years to come.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

DEAR EDITOR,

I am writing to express my concern about the recent changes in the property tax assessment in the county. The current property tax adjustment is 17,699, up approximately 3% from the previous year. This is a significant increase, and it could have a significant impact on local residents.

I understand that the property tax adjustment is necessary to ensure that the county can meet its financial obligations. However, the increase is quite large, and it could cause financial strain for many local residents, especially those on fixed incomes.

I urge the county officials to consider alternative ways to fund the county's operations, such as increasing the property tax base or exploring new revenue streams. It is important that the county remains financially stable, but it is also important that local residents are not unduly burdened by property taxes.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
