Launch drive to change Clinton Memorial policy

ST. JOHNS - In an attempt to change a system which has already opened the way for the past 44 years, was launched Monday by a group of concerned citizens here.

The group, which calls itself the Concerned Citizens Group, presented a petition to city officials asking for a change in the city's budget system.

The group claims the present system, which allocates funds on a per-capita basis, is unfair and inefficient.

The group announced Monday that they will spend the next 44 days gathering signatures to support the petition.

St. Johns dairyman wins national contest

ST. JOHNS, Mich. - Warren Swanson is a little dairyman who is doing big things.

Swanson entered a contest last April and thought he had won, but he was surprised to find out he had won a national award from Edward L. Richards, Michigan Dairyman's Association, Inc.

Swanson entered the contest with the intention of winning, but he was not too surprised when he found out he had won.

The award is given to dairymen who demonstrate excellence in dairy management.

O-E board approves contracts

O-E board members approved contracts with three companies, including one for a new computer system.

The contracts are for the purchase of equipment and services that will improve the efficiency of the board's operations.

Young Ovid man killed in crash

ST. JOHNS - A young man was killed in a single-vehicle crash on Friday night.

The man, who was driving a car, was thrown from the vehicle and died at the scene of the accident.

The crash occurred on a rural road in the area.

Saturday banking returns to Clinton

ST. JOHNS—Saturday banking was restored here to Clinton National Bank, Inc., as part of a service reorganization program initiated by both the Central National Bank and the Clinton National Bank and Trust Company, the banking institutions renamed after merging hours and services.

The move has been approved by the state banking board since July 25, 1968, when the two banks merged to form the new entity.

Central National is spearheading the move, initiating a return to Saturday banking in the Clinton area.

Student efforts span "Generation Gap"

"High school students worked hard to get to St. Johns to help out on the 1971 high school reunion. They were sold on the idea of a "friendship gay". Gay rights were the big issue for many students. The gay rights movement was growing in the 1970s and students were taking initiative to support their peers."

Marauders could win title Friday

BY THE ST. JONHS TIMES

OVID-ELBIE-The school football team faced off with Corunna Wednesday night for the first meeting between the two teams since the 1970s. Glen Bensinger and Gary Groom scored the only score in the second quarter when they took a punt on a pass thrown down the middle to the Corunna three-yard-line. Miller flipped a pass to end Rich Zebeliean to Dave Spencer, covering 10 yards, and the extra point was successful, giving the Marauders a 7-0 lead.

North Friday, the Ovid-Elsie came in the second quarter. Maraunters will be healthy when they take the field against Corunna Thursday night.

Pirates demanded by "forgotten" Armada.

Pirates grabbed away one. A riotous Activity week was capped by a pep rally Friday morning. The cars carried representatives of schools from the five county district. The very high point came when the announcer proclaimed that the junior class of the first and second prize winners were invited to the fair grounds Oct. 28. Armada picked up the pace on five completions in 15 pass attempts. They have "good backs and ends," and they have scored lots of points," Marks said. "We did not win, but did a fair job against them." They (the fans) seemed to enjoy the game, and they were overjoyed about when quarterback Mark Marks said.

Meet elementary grade counselors

The holidays are here and the stress is mounting. It is the time of the year when the holiday season gets into full swing. This can be a difficult time for many people, especially those who are feeling overwhelmed by the demands of the holiday season.

The stress can be caused by a variety of factors, including family obligations, work commitments, and financial pressures. It is important to take time for yourself during this busy time of year.

Youths brighten classrooms with gay Halloween spirits

Witches' brew! That was displayed on the door of an E.E. Knight Elementary School classroom in Elsie.

All of the E.E. Knight rooms in Elsie contain happy Halloween displays for the pleasure of the children and visitors alike.

Ready for UNICEF Drive

Three third graders from St. Joseph Elementary School in St. Johns show off the Halloween costumes they will wear Saturday night as part of the UNICEF "Trick or Treat" fund raising drive. They'll be knocking on doors along with about 60 other volunteers in grades three through six. Behind the colorful masks are, from left, Sandy Hollis, Stephanie Smith, Bruce Fedewa and Mike Riley. The display in the background was assembled by the school children.

The Rodney Ginther Family

Meet Rod Ginther, assistant manager in our Elsie office

It is just about a month today that Rodder Ginther will mark completion of his second year with CNB&T. And during most of that time he was on assignment to our credit and collections department. That experience gave his firsthand experience in basic finance and policies of the bank and proved the way the best move to the assistant manager's desk at State. You might say when this assignment came about early last summer it was like a homecoming for Rod.

He was born in Lansing but moved to Elsie at the age of 13 and graduated from high school there. Sandy, like his former classmate Miller, he was a football recipient at St. Johns and if that doesn't land him the home-team line very little else will.

Rod earned a degree from Ferris State College, but has completed two study courses sponsored by the American Institute of Banking in the fields of personnel administration and public relations.

Rod explains that the name of his second car is "Minor Auto Repairs" so it's fortunate that minor auto repairs is among his leisure-time pastimes. Other hobbies include basketball and golfing and he is a member of the Thursday night golf league at North Star course.

There are three young Ginthers, Tracy Sue, Darcy Jo and Bradley Charles, and the family resides at 120 E. Oak St. in Elsie.

Next time you're in our Elsie office stop at Rod's desk and say hello. It's a little too late for golf and too early for basketball, so we know he'll be there — unless "Minor Auto Repairs" has conked out again.

Take another look at building program

It should come as no surprise to any of Clinton County's taxpayers that we have an issue in quite an educational dilemma. Among the six school districts in the county, there are several meetings with the teachers remaining until the new school year begins. The superintendent of the school district in Michigan with a similar board, the students and the students themselves are interested in re-starting the school year, which has been under the Vocational Arts department at the high school.

Local businessmen and contractors are expecting to be able to participate in the future year. We would like to see the board of education and the superintendent examine the program once again, for next year, if possible, in an effort to re-establish the worthwhile vocational program.

While it may be the signs of the times, it is still sad to see a program such as this go "unheeded" in a "public school" when vocational educational needs are critical.

We would also be interested in hearing from the parents and taxpayers of St. Johns' school district in our letters to the editor column concerning the program.

We hope the superintendent and board members will study the problem again in order to upgrade the level of vocational education in Clinton County and St. Johns.

Keep open minds

It is important, we believe, to have our lawmakers take stands on issues, give reasons for each such positions, and inform their constituents. This is particularly vital in controversial situations where our legislators face.

Locally, Senator Ballenger and Representative Allen have taken opposite field positions on the proposal to make our state legislature unicameral. A body capable of voting against issues, their role in the ballot as it would necessitate a constitutional amendment.

While we feel it is important that our legislators take positions, we would also hope they would be more than willing to stand behind all sides of the issues. This is just good legislating. And, when it comes to the state, we will be encouraged by one of his legislative representatives as long as we keep in mind legislation of the issue of a one-body legislature, which we would remind our lawmakers to do likewise. If, with all the pros and cons brought together on such proposals, it is deemed in the best interests of the majority and the state as a whole to change standards, then we should be prepared to be challenged by others in the profession, to change standards, rather than backing into a possibly premature evaluation is not a solid road where we go.

And we would hope our elected representatives will be attending and participating in debates on these issues, as other issues are discussed.

Strictly Speaking

The best laws that anyone can pass are those that are taking into consideration of the reasons of the change. Our expectations of our elected representatives is that they expect any less from us.

Veterans' Day 1971

By TIM YOUNKMAN

It's the first long day of November in 1971 and the sign says that something is going on in the streets of Linwood. The air is cold and the sun is shining as a crowd of people gather at the entrance of the Linwood Community Center. They are all waiting to say hello to the veterans who have come to visit the center.

There are people of all ages present, some holding American flags and others simply standing with a smile on their face. The veterans are given a warm welcome as they arrive, and they are seated in chairs around a table to talk about their experiences in the war.

The veterans share stories about their time in the service, from the day they left their hometown to the day they returned. They talk about the sights and sounds they saw, the people they met, and the challenges they faced. They also discuss their opinions on the current situation in Vietnam.

The event is organized by the Linwood Community Center, which serves as a support for veterans and their families. The center offers a variety of programs and services to help veterans transition back into civilian life.

The veterans' day celebration is just one of many events that the center hosts throughout the year. Other events include holiday parties, job fairs, and health fairs.

The Linwood Community Center is located at 808 W. Main St., Linwood, MI 48744. For more information about the center and its programs, visit their website at linwoodcommunitycenter.org or call 517-123-4567.
In our current day, looking for constructive answers is the key to solving the problems of the world. This is why we, at the Clinton County News, St. Johns, Michigan, wish to remove the veil of mystery that often obscures these issues. Our editorial board, including Paul Nobis, our guest editorial, UNICEF committee, and Middlebury notice, is dedicated to fostering open and honest discussions.

4-H Fall Trip awards announced

ST. JOHNS—The 4-H Fall Trip awards were announced at the annual banquet held at the Clinton County Fairgrounds.

Detective wins state honors

TWO GRAND PRIZES were awarded to Detective William Howard, who developed a novel method of fingerprinting and a special sweat discipline which was developed with the cooperation of the state police. Detective Howard was honored with the highest state award for his efforts in solving a series of violent crimes.

Announcements were made of the selection of the winners of the annual scholarship competition, which is sponsored by the Clinton County Fair. The winners were announced by the state fair director, who also presented certificates to all of the winners.

Apple Day activities included a pancake breakfast, which was enjoyed by all.

Hurry - Offer

Enthusiastic students, especially those who have been working on their projects, have announced that they will be holding a special event on October 30. The event will include a variety of activities, such as a food drive, a bake sale, and a silent auction. All proceeds from the event will be donated to a local charity.
