Board studies bids on school additions

The St. Johns School Board Thursday night again rejected all bids on the new southeast and southwest additions to the high school. It was the second time the bids have been rejected.

A few general comments, including editorial and letter-to-the-editor deadlines have been extended for the week. But the school district wants to make the deadline for the week Friday instead of the usual Monday.

Because the bids included work for the southwest building and the new southeast addition, the board wants to discuss the matter further during its next meeting Thursday night.

Another alternative was the design of a building to be located on the grounds where the new southeast addition is being built.

The joint motion on the new southeast addition was made by commissioners Ralph Gagels and Don Clark.

HOSPITAL WORK WELL AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Steel beams were being set in place this week as contractors continued near-ly a month ahead of schedule on the construction of new additions to Clinton Memorial Hospital in St. Johns. Building Chairman Bill Barfus said the addition should be closed in by December, allowing interior work to be done during the winter. Re-modeling of the existing building will begin soon.

City puts $1,200-per-acre tag on land school wants

The city of St. Johns will ask for $1,200 per acre for the land it hopes to have in its hands for a high school on the southwest corner of Story and Main streets.

This will be the city's decision on the question of becoming a charter township and later seeking incorporation as a city. The town of St. Johns is presently seeking incorporation as a city.

The tax rate for a charter township would be $1,200 per acre for the school site. The city is asking for $1,200 per acre for the land.

This rate was set by the city to raise enough money to build a high school.

Site location for proposed St. John's High School

This is the site plan accepted by the St. Johns School Board for location of the proposed new high school. The map of the site in this instance is south; railroad tracks run along the bottom from left (east) to right (west). The school property surrounds private property (at lower center). Parking will be provided for some 430 cars in the west of the building. Buses will pick up and discharge students from the front entrance.

THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW
... about urban renewal

"For instance, the primary concern about street noise in St. Johns will be in the downtown area. The Bank, Federal Savings and Loan and another area are all areas of concern," said Mr. Darrell, president of General Telephone Co. during the Community Services Conference Tuesday.

The streets were only four of the 35 areas that were considered important by the residents at the town hall meeting at St. Johns. The topics that were discussed included the following:

- Noise
- Traffic
- Parking
- Street lights
- Public parks

The residents were asked to rate the importance of each issue on a scale from 1 to 10. The results were as follows:

- Noise: 8.5
- Traffic: 7.5
- Parking: 6.5
- Street lights: 5.5
- Public parks: 4.5

The residents were also asked to suggest solutions to each of the issues. The suggested solutions included:

- Noise: Install sound barriers along busy streets, increase traffic fines, and promote quieter vehicles.
- Traffic: Increase the number of traffic lights, and implement a new traffic management plan.
- Parking: Implement a new parking system, and increase the number of parking spaces.
- Street lights: Increase the number of street lights, and improve the lighting system.
- Public parks: Increase the size of the parks, and provide more amenities.

The residents were also asked to rate the effectiveness of the proposed solutions on a scale from 1 to 10. The results were as follows:

- Noise: 8
- Traffic: 7
- Parking: 6
- Street lights: 5
- Public parks: 4

The residents were also asked to suggest additional solutions to each of the issues. The additional solutions included:

- Noise: Implement noise reduction programs for businesses, and increase the number of noise abatement officers.
- Traffic: Implement a new traffic management plan, and increase the number of traffic lights.
- Parking: Implement a new parking system, and increase the number of parking spaces.
- Street lights: Increase the number of street lights, and improve the lighting system.
- Public parks: Increase the size of the parks, and provide more amenities.

The residents were also asked to rate the effectiveness of the additional solutions on a scale from 1 to 10. The results were as follows:

- Noise: 7
- Traffic: 6
- Parking: 5
- Street lights: 4
- Public parks: 3

The residents were also asked to suggest ways to fund the proposed solutions. The suggested ways included:

- Noise: Increase the property tax rate, and implement a new noise reduction fee for businesses.
- Traffic: Increase the property tax rate, and implement a new traffic management fee.
- Parking: Increase the property tax rate, and implement a new parking fee.
- Street lights: Increase the property tax rate, and implement a new street light fee.
- Public parks: Increase the property tax rate, and implement a new park fee.

The residents were also asked to suggest ways to monitor the effectiveness of the proposed solutions. The suggested ways included:

- Noise: Implement a new noise reduction program, and increase the number of noise abatement officers.
- Traffic: Implement a new traffic management plan, and increase the number of traffic lights.
- Parking: Implement a new parking system, and increase the number of parking spaces.
- Street lights: Increase the number of street lights, and improve the lighting system.
- Public parks: Increase the size of the parks, and provide more amenities.

The residents were also asked to suggest ways to ensure the fairness of the proposed solutions. The suggested ways included:

- Noise: Implement a new noise reduction program, and increase the number of noise abatement officers.
- Traffic: Implement a new traffic management plan, and increase the number of traffic lights.
- Parking: Implement a new parking system, and increase the number of parking spaces.
- Street lights: Increase the number of street lights, and improve the lighting system.
- Public parks: Increase the size of the parks, and provide more amenities.

The residents were also asked to suggest ways to protect the rights of the residents. The suggested ways included:

- Noise: Implement a new noise reduction program, and increase the number of noise abatement officers.
- Traffic: Implement a new traffic management plan, and increase the number of traffic lights.
- Parking: Implement a new parking system, and increase the number of parking spaces.
- Street lights: Increase the number of street lights, and improve the lighting system.
- Public parks: Increase the size of the parks, and provide more amenities.

The residents were also asked to suggest ways to involve the residents in the decision making process. The suggested ways included:

- Noise: Implement a new noise reduction program, and increase the number of noise abatement officers.
- Traffic: Implement a new traffic management plan, and increase the number of traffic lights.
- Parking: Implement a new parking system, and increase the number of parking spaces.

Our first concern is not the cost and labor involved in replacing the insulators (which is considerable) but the serious consequences that can result with needless interference of service to hospitals, homes and industry.

THIS WARNING IS PARTICULARLY DIRECTED TO HUNTERS WHO THOUGHTLESSLY USE POWERLINES OR INSULATORS FOR TARGET PRACTICE.

WE URGES YOUR COOPERATION IN THIS MATTER OF PUBLIC CONCERN

Baptist church services

The meeting opened with a powerful psalm and song. The service was concluded by Mrs. S. T. Wright, the pastor, who delivered a message on the importance of church attendance. The service was well attended, and the atmosphere was one of spiritual renewal. The service was concluded with the singing of the national anthem and the singing of "The Lord's Prayer." JUNIOR CLASS HAS COMEDY IN WINGS

The Junior Class has plans for their annual Halloween dance to be held on Friday, Oct. 31, at the Junior High School. The dance will be sponsored by the Junior Class Council and will feature a costume contest, a talent show, and a variety of other activities. The dance is open to all students and will be a great opportunity to have fun and enjoy the Halloween season.
Got 32 pheasants in Canada

ELSEY—Dewey Saylor of Elsie and his two sons, Jack of Detroit and Earl of Ashley, and Jack's son, Allen also of Detroit have returned from a Canadian hunting trip. They motored to King'sville, Ontario and went by boat to an island in Lake Erie. The island covers about 200 square miles and is located about 20 miles south of the mainland. Here they hunted for two days and returned with 32 pheasants. From left to right are Dewey Saylor of Elsie, Jack Saylor of Detroit, Earl Saylor of Ashley and Allen Saylor of Detroit.

Over 700 served at Ovid-Elsie smorgasbord

ELSEY—The Smorgasbord at Ovid-Elsie, sponsored by the Ovid-Elsie High School Band Department and Tuesday evening at the Elsie School. The proceeds from the smorgasbord will be used for the orchestra fund for the band.

The smorgasbord was the brainchild of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams. The proceeds from the smorgasbord will be used to help the band with their insurance. Carve, don’t hack that turkey

We all know that Thanksgiving turkey is the centerpiece of most Thanksgiving feasts. It is a significant part of the meal, and carving it properly is essential. Here are some tips on how to do it right:

1. Choose the Right Knife: Use a sharp knife, preferably a turkey carving knife. A dull knife will tear the meat instead of cutting it cleanly.

2. Cut Against the Grain: When carving, always cut against the grain. This means cutting across the fibers of the meat, not along them. This is especially important with breast meat.

3. Slice Thinly: Try to cut the slices as thin as possible. This makes the meat easier to serve and eat.

4. Work in a Set Order: Start with the breast, then the thigh, and finally the drumsticks. This will help you keep your carving steady.

5. Use a Carving Fork: This is a tool that helps hold the turkey in place while you carve. It is not just for show.

6. Move the Turkey Carefully: When you are removing a part of the turkey, like the wing, move it carefully to avoid tearing the meat.

7. Cut with Care: Be gentle when you are carving. Turkeys are heavy and can be difficult to handle. Be sure to move them slowly and carefully to avoid accidents.

8. Remove the Bones: Once you have carved a part, you can remove the bones. This is important for a clean and professional presentation.

9. Serve It Hot: For the best flavor, serve the turkey hot. This will help retain the moisture and flavor.

Remember, carving is a skill that takes practice. With these tips, you can learn to carve a turkey like a pro. Happy Thanksgiving!

Fowler student council has busy Nov. 7 session

By CATSY RODGERS

Ovid-Elsie High School

THE STUDENTS of Ovid-Elsie got a two-way vacation starting Nov. 3 and 4. A four-day trip to Chicago was enjoyed by those four days. The students were given an opportunity to exchange cheers with the cheerleaders with the pep band. Also, the South Bend and Chicago Stadiums were well attended. The next meeting will be held Nov. 10 and 12.

No 'dull break' at St. Johns High

By GAYLE DAVIS, St. Johns High

The 1,300 students of St. Johns High will have much to look forward to after Thanksgiving break. The winter season is only a few days away and with school dismissing at 2:30 and no winter weather to worry about, there will be plenty of ways to occupy time through the end of the school year.

Last days of rehearsals for the winter season will be far from dull in the quest for Christmas pageants and plays. The Music Club will present the musical production of "The Three Little Pigs" which features Brenda Flegley and Arlene Davis in the leading roles of the pigs and Charles Brown and Michael Tomlinson in the parts of the wolf and the little house.

November's musical pageants were "A Merry Christmas" and "The Wizard of Oz." The former was presented in the auditorium while the latter was held in the gymnasium. Both of these pageants were very successful and the students are looking forward to the challenge of the upcoming spectacle.

The Christmas pageant will feature a variety of talents including music, dance, and drama. The cast is currently working hard to prepare for the December 10th performance.

The Play Club will present the play "The Importance of Being Earnest" in early December. The play will be directed by Mrs. John O'Brien and is expected to be a hit with the student body.

The basketball season is also in full swing with the varsity team playing well. The students are excited about the possibility of making it to the playoffs and bringing home a championship.

The St. Johns High School community is looking forward to a busy and rewarding winter season.

The Missouri elephant. She gives us a hand at Fair and Farm Shows by demonstrating the great strength of Hydro-Nail roof trusses used in Morarity Buildings. They're so strong, for example, that in a 42' x 64' building, the Hydro-Nail truss system is equal to 1,000,000 lbs of nail holding power. That's equal to a lot of elephants on the roof. Or a lot of snow. Or gale-force winds. Or just about anything else Mother Nature decides to throw your way.

One of the most popular shade trees in the United States is the "American elm." It is a shade tree that is hardy and durable, and it is considered to be the best shade tree for a variety of soils. Sociological factors play part in decreasing numbers of dairymen

A combination of advancements in agricultural technology and changes in sociological factors are causing the number of dairymen to decline. This is the conclusion of Dr. F.M. McBride, who presented a recent survey to determine why returns from dairy farming have been declining.

McBride, a sociologist at Michigan State University, stated that the decline in dairy farming is not due to a lack of profits, but rather to changes in sociological factors. He cited a combination of economic and environmental factors as the main reasons for the decline.

Economic factors include the decrease in milk prices, which has been caused by an oversupply of milk and a decrease in demand. Environmental factors include changes in the land's suitability for dairy farming, such as changes in climate and soil conditions.

McBride suggested that these factors are causing dairy farmers to seek alternative occupations, and that this is leading to a decline in the number of dairymen.

He also suggested that this decline is causing a distribution of dairy products that is not necessarily in line with the current pattern of demand.

Student council points out teen maturity

To the Editor:

With your permission, I am sending you a page from our school newspaper containing a letter to the editor written by a member of our student council. The letter discusses the importance of recognizing the maturity of teenagers.

Sincerely,

Back thru the years

From the hopper by Steve Jordan

The election is over, and the smoke has settled down from the campaign. Our candidates have been elected and we need to settle down and get back to work. The people have chosen their representatives and we need to work for them.

Now that the election is over, let's get back to the business of governing. We need to work hard for our constituents and make sure that they are taken care of.

Youth today do show responsibility and maturity and deserve to be taken seriously.

The value-added-per-employee and productivity is measured by this formula:

\[
\text{Value-added-per-employee} = \frac{\text{Total production} - \text{Cost of materials used}}{\text{Number of employees}}

Some foreseen later primaries to reduce campaign fatigue

Low fall elections in Michigan were held during the war in 1943. As late as the new Constitution being implemented, direct primaries outlined a cautionary path for primary candidates in future years.

About 80 percent of the Michigan candidates had no opponents in the primary. Candidates who ran tough campaigns were forced to concentrate mainly on voter registration. They were interested in public appearances and then increased their voter totals.

Farmers complained about spring and summer activities, that the pre-election period was too long and that the candidates were better off with a shorter period. The Michigan State Election Department opposed the proposal, saying that the pre-primary period was too long and that the candidates were better off with a shorter period.

The report is based in large part on a survey of 400 Michigan candidates conducted by the Department of Legislative Research. The survey included data from the spring and summer campaigns.

The survey, conducted by the Michigan State Election Department, noted the following:

1. The survey covered the period from April 1 to June 30, 1966.
2. The survey included candidates for state and federal offices.

In the second decade of this century, the political system gave greater importance to the candidates' ability to generate support in the primary. The candidates who won the primary were able to mobilize a greater number of voters and win the general election. The candidates who lost the primary were unable to mobilize a greater number of voters and lose the general election.

A GRANDI SENSATIONAL case of a person named in a bond issue ballot measure failed to reach the ballot, and the voters were not able to vote on it. The case was brought by a group of voters who had opposed the bond issue. The voters argued that the bond issue was unnecessary and that the money should be spent on other projects.

The voters won their case, and the bond issue was defeated. The voters were able to save their money and spend it on other projects.
