Airman Moinet

Airman Moinet now they have a better pure water? I know I haven't. Many cities pipe their supply from rivers and lakes. I read in some parts of India the people do not have enough water to drink coming in it's dry season.

A picture of a woman in a bushel basket shows how she balancing a water pot on her head underneath it. Oh! My God, what a sight!

In every Bible is a thank you for this is the fruit of God in this world concerning you."

Do we ever thank the Water God, for he has provided an abundant source of water for all mankind.

Do not pass on 1 of the benefits of reading the Bible. This is the season of the year when you get up. It lets you put on before breakfast and read your Bible during the winter months.
Dear Editor,

American sportsmen

Let's try again. Romantic notions of a glamorous sportsman's life, and all that goes with it, remain - but in the nation as a whole, in Michigan, the sport of hunting is losing ground to television. As the editor of the Michigan Sportsman recently said, "Hunting as a sport is not what it used to be. We had a lot of people who were interested in hunting. Now, it's more of a pastime than a sport."

Hunting enthusiasts need to realize that the sport of hunting is not just a pastime, but a way of life for many Americans. According to the editor of the Michigan Sportsman, "Hunting is not just a pastime, it's a way of life for many Americans." Not only does hunting provide a means of providing food for the table, but it also serves as a way to connect with nature and enjoy the outdoors. Furthermore, hunting is an activity that has been enjoyed for generations, and it continues to be an important part of American culture.

It's important to understand that hunting is not just a pastime, but a way of life for many Americans. The sport provides a means of providing food for the table, connecting with nature and the outdoors, and enjoying a healthy lifestyle. Hunting is an activity that has been enjoyed for generations, and it continues to be an important part of American culture. As the editor of the Michigan Sportsman said, "Hunting is not just a pastime, it's a way of life for many Americans."

Sincerely,

Anila Gupta speaks to Lowe UMW

The Lowe UMW met at the home of Betty Badaway No. 6 on Dec 13 in the meeting room. Anila Gupta was the speaker. She expounded on "The Current Status of Urbanization from Biblical and Secular Perspectives: implications for Church and Society." She encouraged the members to reflect on the dual confrontation and the intersecting influences of Biblical and secular perspectives on urbanization. She emphasized the importance of understanding the implications of urbanization on social and economic structures. She ended her address by discussing the need for better roads and better transportation facilities. The meeting was turned over to Betsy Christensen, who read the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer’s report. She pointed for the Harvest Festival Oct 13, 7:30. Liz Christensen accepted the home care product - a beautiful English in describing it as a expensive beauty product. She discredited the common misconception of expensive beauty products as being only for the rich. She said, actually, the women are the heroes behind the scenes, as they are in any social activity. She ended the address by inviting all to come to the next meeting.

The meeting was turned over to Bernice Creaser, who read the treasurer’s report. She reported that the group had an influx of so many new families, so it takes time to reach them and start getting involved. A girl, Anna Maria, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Donohue, 11917 U.S. 31, St. Johns, 4-11. She weighed 5 lbs 7% ozs. The baby has 1 brother. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Donohue, 11905 U.S. 31 S. St. Johns and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Driscoll, 11326 E. Perry Rd, St. Johns, sister of the bride.

After opening victories over non-league rival Owosso and conference opponent Ionia, the St Johns Redwings are preparing to face 1 of the first tough tests of the season Friday.

The Redwings take on Waverly on the opponents court Friday and, according to Coach Doug Jaglings, Waverly and Grand Ledge are considered to be the teams to beat in the West Central Conference.

The 2 have already met this season and Grand Ledge took a 3point victory over Waverly.

Only Litterman from last year’s squad is on the 1973-74 squad. He is Doug Woodhams, 6’1¼ forward, who was a strong performer for St Johns last year. The Redwings are taller than in the past with starters 6’1”, 6’3” and 6’4”. Jaglings feels the Redwing height should be “somewhat comparable with the rest of the league.”

Currently the Redwings are working to sharpen overall aspects of the game while gaining experience as a squad. Three of the 5 St Johns starters had not played in a varsity game before this season.

After the Waverly encounter Friday, the next scheduled game is Dec 21 at home with Owosox.

Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates

The Pewamo-Westphalia Pirates go into the 1973-74 season with 7 returning lettermen and must be considered a strong contender in the CMAC.

Among those returning lettermen are the Pirates leading 1972-73 rebounder, Dan May; scorer Randy Walter and one of the team leaders, Louis Thelen.

That experience plus the experience of the other returning lettermen could lead Coach Harry Peacock’s Pirates to quite a successful season this year.

In addition to May, Walter and Thelen, returning to this year’s squad are Nick Blauwiekel, Jim Cotter, Duane Hengesbach and Dean Miller.

Peacock sees the race between arch rivals P-W and Fowler with DeWitt also a strong contender.

Last year’s rivalry between P-W and Fowler brought in the use of the St Johns gymnasium in the lid encounter to handle all the fans who showed up to see unbeaten Fowler and once-beaten P-W fight it out for league honors. P-W lost that game in a close contest, but the 1972-74 season appears to offer much of the same competition.

Elsewhere in the league, Peacock sees Petoskey as a possible darkhorse and is not discounting St Pat’s, who have quite a few players from last year back.

The basketball fortunes may be slim at Ovid-Elsie this season, he said, "and went to the finals of the regionals before losing. They return most of their players this year. Chesaning and Swan Valley will be competitive with the rest of the league, fairly equal." Retaining to the Marauders this year is Randy Bowles, a 5-11 forward. Foreback describes him as extremely aggressive and great on the boards. Bowles is expected to provide the leadership for the team this season.

The only starter of the returning lettermen, Jack Bashore, a 6-4 guard, is described as "very quick and a good shooter." He's also a good defensive ball player. Next on the schedule for the Marauders is Midland Bullock Creek at Midland Friday with a Dec 8 game scheduled at home with Portland.

FOWLER — Good height and balance could tell the story for the Fowler Eagles this year as they come off of a 30-6 1973-74 season.

Two veterans returning to the squad this year are Glen Thelen at center and Bob Mackinen at guard. Coach Charlon Trierweiler sees the other forwards as pretty well balanced. That balance offers Trierweiler the opportunity of sending 5 players out to the buzzer depending on the defense played by their opponents.

Trierweiler says his balance means there are kids going to be sitting on the bench who could play and the Fowler coach plans on using that depth in a league that will be gunning for the Eagles.

The Marauders opened the season with a loss against St. Johns, but bounced back to defeat Chesaning. Foreback sees the power this year in Lhaca. "They won the league last year," he said, "and went to the finals of the regionals before losing. They return most of their players this year. Chesaning and Swan Valley will be competitive with the rest of the league fairly equal.

DEWITT — Speed and experience will be the DeWitt Panthers strong points this season. The Panthers, small and quick, also possess a quantity of experience in Steve Dalman, Bob Beck, Terry Pautz and Mike Ferguson, who saw a lot of action last season.

Also returning as lettermen are Mark Colby and Warren Willits. Stone and Ferguson were juniors last year and Willits was a sophomore.

Opposing offenses best be prepared for harassing defenses from the Panthers as 1st year coach Terry Gale plans to make extensive use of the press. The Panthers lost their 1st game of the season, a non-conference tilt to Bath. Coach Gale feels that game was in the books and sees lack of height as a problem for DeWitt this season, with most teams in the CMAC taller than the Panthers.

Facing the league opposition with 12 ballplayers, Gale said his squad has the depth and sees all 12 as players who could see a lot of action this season.

The cards are designed to resemble church membership cards, and they can be personalized with the church's name and contact information. These cards can be distributed to members of the congregation, and they will also be available to potential new members who may be interested in joining the church. At the phone, but they expect you to know to whom you're calling. When you're in a hurry, it always takes about half an hour to get a call through to Bath or Fowler. It's as performed only on TV where there are no wrong numbers. As far as I'm concerned, saying why not call her up and wish her Happy Birthday is just as far-fetched as saying why not go on a trip to the moon. There are so many wrong numbers. We also lost the phoned-in phone number for 42 years.

But Ann Landers says husbands should phone their wives. "Wives are always there to answer the phone, but you're出门去 when you're in a hurry, it always takes about half an hour to get a call through to Bath or Fowler. This week was a busy one for public policy and legislative events in the State Legislature. Many hearings were held, including those on the Public Health and Welfare, Mental Health, Crisis and the very controversial question of whether to disapprove the executive order to consolidate state departments and agency to merge these three into one.

GOVERNOR AND LEGISLATURE

All of these events were discussed in the context of the energy crisis. The Governor has already spoken about the need for energy conservation and the Legislature has been considering various bills to address this issue. However, the mood of the Chamber is that there is no time for a recess. Possibly the Governor will be able to go back to the Legislature before adjournment to ask for more time due to the shortage of fuel.

Announce sale of Laingsburg golf course

Edward and Sharon Adams, owners of the Laingsburg Golf Course, have decided to sell their course due to high costs and other factors. The Governor has already expressed his interest in the purchase of the course, but has not yet made a decision.

The Governor has also been working with the Legislature on a proposal to merge some of the state agencies. This proposal has been met with mixed reactions by the Legislature, but the Governor is determined to move forward with it.
