County won't decline federal money for EOC

A formal appeal in "another" federal money for the construction of the new high school was filed yesterday by the Clinton County News in the U.S. District Court in Battle Creek as the result of a decision by the U.S. District Court in Battle Creek.

The appeal states that the building would be an addition to the current high school, but would not be an additional school. The appeal also states that the building would not be used for any public purpose, and that the building would be used for a public purpose.

The appeal was filed by the Clinton County News, which has been covering the story of the new high school for several years.

The building is scheduled to be completed in the spring of 1968, and the school district has been told that it will be ready for use in the fall of 1968.

The building is expected to cost $500,000, and the school district has been told that it will be ready for use in the fall of 1968.

Opposition to district courts voiced to supervisors here

Judge Allan Wirt, at center, chuckles when he sees the "gift" the municipal court bailiff, Officer Bob City, presented him as he opened house for the judge last Thursday afternoon. It was a box containing pencils and slips of paper, used by municipal-court judges in their deliberations in the jury room, handed to him by Beverly Beker, one of the approximately 120 people who stopped in at the open house to wish the judge good luck in his retirement. A number of gifts were given the judge.

JUDGE HUTTER'S remarks (Continued from Page 1-A) were well received by those who spoke to the board. The judge, who has been in the court for 20 years and has served as a district court judge for the past 15 years, was lauded for his service and dedication to the court. He was given a plaque as a token of appreciation.

He contended that the farmers were improperly assessed for the damage caused by the cows and that the court should have been reversed. He asked for an opportunity to present his arguments further to the court.

December spending drags budgets

By HALIE S. BEACH

State spending may be curbed over the holidays in Florida because of budget controls put on by the legislature. This is the feeling of many budget observers and experts who believe the state's fiscal problems may prevent an increase in spending.

The state's budget is based on a $2 billion surplus. However, many believe that the state's financial problems are not as severe as was expected.

O-E schools get record budget for '67-'68 year

O-E schools have been awarded a budget for the '67-68 school year of $119,123, compared to $112,363 last year. This year's budget is considerably larger than the record $108,250 budget of last year.

The record spending for the '67-68 budget is due to the increased number of students enrolled in the O-E schools. The enrollment this year is expected to be higher than that of any previous year.

The budget includes expenses for instruction, instruction-related expenses, maintenance, transportation, and miscellaneous.

ATTENDS YOUR Rally

Mrs. Howard Bloomer, of Lansing, attended the rally at the National Memorial Church, Detroit, Thursday evening. She accompanied Robert Hopkins, president of the Cleveland branch of the American Association of Retired Persons, as a guest speaker.

Mrs. Bloomer's theme was the importance of education in America.

She addressed the audience on the subject of education and its impact on our society. Mrs. Bloomer discussed the role of education in shaping the future of our nation and the importance of investing in education for our children.

She concluded her speech by encouraging everyone to support education initiatives and to remain committed to the continued growth and success of education in America.

O-E seeks $120,000 budget

O-E schools have requested a budget of $120,000 for the '67-68 school year. This budget is expected to cover all expenses related to the operation of the schools.

The budget includes funds for instruction, transportation, maintenance, and miscellaneous expenses.

The schools are expected to receive some federal funds to help cover the costs of the budget. However, the schools are still facing financial challenges due to the increase in enrollment and the rising costs of operation.

Students and teachers are looking forward to the start of the new school year and the implementation of the new budget.

The teen leaders of the Clinton County 4-H Club held their first regular meeting of the new year on December 5 at the home of Russell Lene, each member being in on the fun. The meeting was well attended by both first and second year leaders who were interested in different aspects of the 4-H program.

They have found that the new law will cause a shortage of labor on farms, which will result in higher wages and prices for farm products.
