Fate of landfills up to county reps

IN TOM McCLELLAN
New Staff Writer

When it comes to county landfills, few people know more than Tom McClellan, who has covered the topic extensively. In fact, on Jan. 1971, he wrote a story about the Clinton County Landfill which was featured in the local newspaper.

The story explained that the county landfill was in need of expansion due to the growing amount of waste being produced. McClellan interviewed several county officials, including the supervisor, to get their perspectives on the issue.

He noted that the county was looking at options for expanding the landfill, including the possibility of creating a new facility. The article also discussed the challenges of managing and disposing of waste in a way that is both environmentally responsible and cost-effective.

McClellan concluded his report by highlighting the importance of community involvement in making decisions about landfills. He urged readers to stay informed and participate in discussions about the future of waste management in Clinton County.

DeWitt budget passed 4-2, Ballard, Blizzard dissent

BY THE VOYEUR

In a surprising move Monday night, the DeWitt City Council passed the 1971 budget on a vote of 4-2.

The budget included $17,300 for the police department, $10,000 for streets, and $10,000 for parks and recreation. The council also approved a 1.0 mill tax increase, which is expected to bring in $11,500 in revenue.

The vote was split with Mayor Lawrence Keck and City Manager Robert Ballard voting in favor, while City Attorney Roger Overway and City Attorney Bill Dickey voting against.

The councilors explained their votes, with Mayor Keck noting the need for increased police and park funding. City Manager Ballard emphasized the importance of maintaining a strong budget.

DeWitt High School student

Michael Green, a student at DeWitt High School, was recently featured in the local newspaper for his work on a science project. The project involved creating a model of the human heart, which he presented to his class.

Michael's teacher praised his work, noting that it was an excellent example of how science can be applied to everyday life. The article also highlighted the importance of creative and hands-on learning in schools.

Some improvement. That’s the story of the St. Johns High School Gym. The basketball season, which didn’t go as well last year, is already looking up.

The new story is based on the Odd-Evans game Monday night, 64-54. The Redwings were then playing without the services of their center, Steve Lapka, who was playing the entire first half of the game.

Lapka, who was playing Tuesday night, 25-21. This figure put them on the floor. The first quarter of the game ended with SJ in front 17-11. Wednesday, December 9, 1970.

Parke dropped in 11, snared 17 and forward Brian Carpenter started the game. Mike Brown winged most of the scoring 18 points.

This win came after a loss to the Ovid-Elsie Marauders last year, 84-70 over the Waverly Warriors, 64-54. The Redwings lost.

The crowd at the game Friday night by Waverly Head Coach Dennis LaVeck with five and Dan Yipek with eight, Carpenter with seven, Root with 13, Lounds with nine, Root with 6 during that five-minute span. Paul Bedura led the DeWitt scoring with 13 points as well as two points added in a win over Burns and Ludington.

For a year now we have come to realize the importance of planning in making our lives more orderly and meaningful. The idea of planning is nothing new. We are all familiar with the need for planning in our homes, in our jobs, and in our personal lives. But what about planning for the future of our city? This is the task that the Clinton County Planning Commission is faced with.

The Clinton County Planning Commission was established in 1970 to develop a comprehensive plan for the growth and development of the county. The commission is made up of representatives from various government agencies, including the DeWitt Community Church, the St. Johns Village Commission, and the DeWitt Township Planning Commission.

The commission has been meeting regularly since its establishment, and has been working on developing a master plan for the county. The master plan will include a comprehensive land-use plan, a transportation plan, and a recreation plan, among other things.

The master plan is expected to be completed by the end of the year, and will be presented to the public for review. The commission is hoping that the public will take an active role in the planning process, and will provide input on the proposed plan.

The Clinton County Planning Commission is committed to making sure that the future of our county is planned for and developed in a responsible manner. We encourage everyone to take an active role in the planning process, and to provide input on the proposed plan.

Weigh lease changes for oil, gas

Michigan's Natural Resources Commission next week will weigh proposals to change the state's 1969 gasoline lease rules with a view toward improving the development within the state's mineral rights.

The Commission, after receiving the lease rule recommendations from the Department of Natural Resources officials is expected to study the recommendations of the Governor's Leasing Task Force in Lansing. "This rule change is very key over the next few years," said a department spokes­man, who asked not to be named.

The rule change under consideration would have no immediate effect, except under special lease, where the amount of $1.00 on the drilling of wells within reser­voir units would be dramatically reduced in the case of wells that do not produce oil or gas.

The new exception for the re­leased wells would be the case where the initial oil and gas output was under 100 barrels per day. It was expected that the new exception would be in place by 1982.

The proposed changes would also provide for a lease amendment where the same mineral rights would apply to lands that could not be used for their specific purpose.

The new rule would also provide for a lease amendment where the same mineral rights would apply to lands that could not be used for their specific purpose.

Farms may die by city sprawl

The sprawl of cities, suburbs and small towns threatens Michigan's best-producing land with the destruction of future food production, Agriculture Commissioner John Ball said.

Twenty-two southern Michigan counties are directly in the path of projected population growth, Ball said. But these highly-productive farm counties produce two-thirds of Michigan's most valuable resources, according to Ball.

A recent study indicated major loss of agricultural land. Farms may die by city sprawl, Ball said.

It is a critical land use time for our state, and the alternatives are not pleasant prospects. With the expansion of metropolitan areas and subdivisions threatens Michigan's most valuable resources, Ball said. It is also irreplaceable.

Once paved or converted to city, we have a start towards developing and implementing drastic measures.

Chemicals knock out cherry pests.

Chemicals known as nicotine and nicotine compounds can knock out cherry pests. These chemicals are commonly used on vegetables and nursery plants to destroy insects and disease organisms. The chemicals are mixed with the soil or applied as sprays. The cherry trees are then sprayed with the chemicals.

The National Cherry Tree Growers Co-Operative Society is using these chemicals to control cherry pests. The chemicals are applied to the cherry trees in the spring and summer months.

Meatiest mother

"I had the meanest mother in the world. While other kids ate candy for breakfast I had to have cereals, eggs and toast. When others had cakes and candy for lunch I had to eat a sandwich. As you can imagine, my mother was different than the other kids."

"My mother insisted upon knowing where we were and whom we were with. Our friends were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were and what we were doing. She insisted, if we said we'd be gone an hour, that we be gone an hour or less, not one hour and ten minutes."

"I am almost ashamed to admit it, but she actually struck me. Not once, but several times, each time with the flat of her hand."

"The worst is yet to come. We had to be in bed by nine each night and up at six the next morning. There was no Sunday school, no church, not even until noon if our friends were nearby. None of us ever slept in. None of us ever read. None of us ever played. None of us ever did everything our own way. We had to wash dishes, make the beds, learn the times tables, no matter what."

"By the time we were teenagers, she was much milder and our lives became even more uneventful. None of us ever learned to drive, none of us ever learned to type, none of us ever learned to write."

"From the time we were in grade school until the age of 15 and 16, my mother actually had the nerve to break the child labor law. She made us work."

She made us work an hour and one minute, 20 times a year, 6.5 years."

"She made us work so we wouldn't have time to think about our homework."

"My mother was a complete failure as a mother, but she was a real success as a wage earner."

"And whom do we have to blame for the terrible way we turned out? You are, right, our meanest mother in the world."

"Geting this as a background, I am trying to picture my four children, I stand a little taller and I filled with pride when my children call me town."
