prevent. I say the county doesn’t have the power to dictate. They can’t even force that. They can’t even be told they can’t do it. They can’t even be charged with it. They can’t even be given any sort of financial penalty for it. They can’t even be asked to pay any fine.

It’s not known whether Sgt. Len was aware that he was being chased by DeWitt County prosecuting attorney, is currently reviewing the case and would advise the Clinton County Board of Commissioners if he is to prosecute the tax payer. He referred to the attorney general’s letter and said, “The taxpayers would then have to make a decision whether or not the township is raising it legally.”

The township apparently feels the decision of the Board of Commissioners is the test of its legal right to collect the tax. When asked if the township has the legal right to collect the tax, she added, “Not unless the township has the legal right to collect the tax.”

Using color coded patches of various colors, the project vividly illustrates the known areas of current land development patterns. The Tri-County Regional Planning Commission has prepared a series of three maps, each of which are color coded to distinguish the extent of development in different areas. The maps are based on data collected through interviews with local officials, residents, and landowners. The maps highlight areas that are currently developed, those under development, and those that are potential for future development.

In cooperation with several Thanksgiving collections for support of the denomination's worldwide missions effort, Rev. Anderson has been asked to lead a collection at the bank. Vern DeMott adds to the load with another collection. Total collected $2,150. and he's shown on his way to the bank.

Debra Alynn Jackson marries Daniel Siekerman

Debra Alynn Jackson and Daniel Siekerman were married Nov. 20 at the First Episcopal Church, St. Johns. In an evening ceremony officiated by Rev. Averill M. Carson, Hambleton accompanied the bride. The bridal bouquet was made of white carnations and accented with stephanotis and orchids. Mrs. Siekerman was a guest of honor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, John A. Jackson, who was a guest of honor. The bride and groom were both ushers.

A vestment of new color combinations was used in the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Siekerman wore a floor-length, light-peach-colored gown with an orchid-trimmed train. The groom was wearing a light-peach-colored shirt and tie.

The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Daniel G. Siekerman, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Siekerman wore a floor-length, light-peach-colored gown with an orchid-trimmed train.

The cards may be obtained by calling Cathy Cain, 224-7979.

For any day or any week, one will walk by to a real non-cooperative school. York doctor or the final report from a Washington-based consumer interest group may have written for you or your school. The report reveals a new conclusion to the once-obvious question of what to do to improve the running of a non-cooperative school. All the students of the school will be required to take a written test. What do you think the report is about? Is it written in English or another equally well-known language?

As the consequence of the newspaper, the test is not an easy one. How can one write without understanding the final report?

Back Through the Years

10 YEARS AGO

The Clinton County News received a special request Friday, Dec. 21, from a farmer named Donald Arsenault who discovered that he had already finished the structure and was keeping a horse inside. The soil was packed 18 feet from a brook feeding into the Connecticut River, and the selectmen worried that the horse might break state and federal anti-erosion statutes. They asked Mr. Arsenault to relocate his shed.

15 YEARS AGO

The horse was returning from a school of cattle reading, "Horses allowed." The selectmen approved his request. "Neighbors were happy," one of them said. "The horse was blowing the horn all the way." Near French Corners was driving slowly, possibly 35 mph, between St. Johns and French Corners. He noticed a building permit application for a tool shed from a farmer named Donald Hinkley and family of the household兄弟会. They had applied on Nov. 14 of this year, the date of the building permit application, for the shed to be located at 100 yards south of Round Lake. The building permit application was for the shed to be located at 100 yards south of Round Lake.

The Clinton County News Files

Due to a blowing wet snow, I stopped the car at the intersection of St. John's and Highland Rd., a block west of the building permit application for the tool shed. I noticed a sign that read, "STATE DEPTH RECORD SET." I was interested in this sign because I had noticed similar signs at other locations.

MIDDLEBURY — The Fowler Eagles got knocked out in their opening CHS regional game, losing to Fulton 76-63.

Fowler built a 3-point lead in the first quarter, the Eagles came back in the second to lead by 6 in the half. However, the game got away late, as Fulton turned the ball over to the Eagles in the 3rd period. After Fulton led at the end of the ball game, the Eagles came back in the final period hitting 4 of 4 free throws.

The Eagles clinched the game with a 16-point last quarter to win the game. The Eagles will play in the next round of the regional Sunday night.

Ovid-Elsie can't get offense going, falls to Chesaning Friday

Ovid - Elsie wrestlers win dual meet

The Ovid-Elsie wrestling team won their first dual meet of the year by downing Chesaning 40 to 21. Winning was a relief after a 65-16 loss to St. Johns Oil. The Marauders got off to a slow start, however, before hitting on all six spots, while the Ovid-Elsie team stayed steady in the field goal department.

Chesaning popped in 11 free throws in 13 attempts, in the wrestling. Marauders bench got off to a slow start, but came to life with only four free throws on the night. Ovid-Elsie was 11-for-14 from the free throw line.

Winning didn't come too easy for the Marauders, though, as they got away from them when it came to free throws. The Ovid-Elsie bench got off to a slow start, however, before hitting on all six spots, while the Ovid-Elsie team stayed steady in the field goal department.

Elise OES holds December meeting

Elise OES held its last meeting for the year on Thursday, Dec. 1, with Mrs. and Mr. Larry Faxon presiding. After the reading of the minutes, the chapter's นาย secretary, Mrs. Mary Grange, presented a report listing the activities that had taken place during the year. Mrs. Grange recounted the various volunteer projects that had been undertaken, including the Christmas tree sale, the annual picnic, and the monthly meetings. She also highlighted the chapter's support of local charities and its commitment to community service.

The regular monthly report of the OES was presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Smith. She provided an overview of the chapter's financial status, including the budget and expenses for the past year. The report also included a summary of the chapter's activities and events, with particular attention given to the Christmas tree sale.

A "thank you" letter from Mrs. Grange was presented to Mrs. Leslie Martin for her contribution to the chapter's activities. Mrs. Martin had been instrumental in organizing the Christmas tree sale and had provided valuable assistance to the chapter throughout the year.

The regular monthly report of the Elsie OES was presented by Mrs. Mildred Whitaker. She provided an overview of the chapter's financial status, including the budget and expenses for the past year. The report also included a summary of the chapter's activities and events, with particular attention given to the Christmas tree sale.

DeWitt Lions Club recently toured the Rochester Leader Dog facility. Accompanied by the club president, Mary Kolls, several members of the club and their families visited the facility where dogs experiencing blindness are trained and handled so they can be guided by human beings. Those who took the tour were impressed with the facility and the dedication of the trainers.

Dr. James Scott closes DeWitt practice

James A. Scott, M.D., is withdrawing from private practice this month. He opened offices in DeWitt in July of 1953 and has been in continuous practice since that time. He is a member of the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, and the State Medical Society of Michigan.

4-H beef sign-up due

JOHN A. BEATTY

The Jan. deadline for 4-H members planning to show beef at the 1973 Clinton County Fair will be February 15th. Do you have your 4-H member planning to sign up for the Beef Judging project to date? Will you discuss the rules for the project to date? Are you familiar with the rules for the project to date? Have you taken all the necessary steps to prepare for the Beef Judging project to date? Are you familiar with the rules for the project to date? Have you taken all the necessary steps to prepare for the Beef Judging project to date?

The 4-H Beef Judging project is designed to provide 4-H members with the opportunity to learn about the beef industry and its products. The project is open to 4-H members in grades 5 through 8 who have no previous experience in the project. The project offers the opportunity to learn about the different breeds of beef, their management practices, and marketing practices.

In addition to learning about beef, the project provides an opportunity to develop critical thinking skills and decision-making abilities. Members will be required to complete a series of tasks throughout the year, including participating in a variety of judging activities, completing a portfolio, and completing a research project.

Those interested in participating in the 4-H Beef Judging project should contact their 4-H leader or extension agent for more information.

Dairy language Saturday

JOE POPOV

County Extension Director

The words "dairy" and "milk" are not just buzzwords for dairy farmers. They have real significance and meaning in the dairy industry. The dairy industry is one of the largest and most important industries in the United States. Dairy farmers produce milk, cheese, butter, yogurt, and other dairy products.

Dairy farmers are an essential part of the food supply chain, providing essential nutrition to people around the world. Dairy products are a source of protein, fat, calcium, and other nutrients that are important for a healthy diet.

In addition to producing milk and other dairy products, dairy farmers also play a role in the environment. Dairy farms are often located near streams and rivers, and the dairy industry is a significant source of water pollution. Dairy farmers are actively working to reduce their impact on the environment and improve water quality.

The dairy industry is an important part of the economy. Dairy farmers provide jobs for hundreds of thousands of people across the country. Dairy products are also an important export, bringing in billions of dollars in revenue.

Overall, the dairy industry is a vital part of our food system and economy. Dairy farmers are dedicated to producing high-quality, safe, and environmentally responsible products. We should support and celebrate the hard work and dedication of dairy farmers and the important role they play in our society.
