PLASTERING DONE: FINISHERS AND PAINTERS WILL START WORK

During the past week the first repairs to the Clinton Brook Hospital have been made. The plastering on the ceiling of the main building has been completed, except for a few additional sections which will be finished in the near future. The workmen are now busy with the painting of the various rooms and will complete the job as soon as possible. The new hospital will be a two-story building and will include the latest sanitary facilities. It will be a modern hospital for its time and will be a great improvement over the old hospital.

Equipment Fleeced

During the past month the Clinton Brook Hospital has been receiving its much-needed equipment. The hospital has been equipped with the latest in medical and nursing equipment, including beds, stretchers, and medical supplies. The hospital administration has been working hard to obtain the necessary equipment to provide the best possible care for the patients. The hospital is now fully equipped and ready to open its doors to the community.

Habits of Savage Tribes Told By Missionary Here

New missionaries are traveling the world, seeking to share the gospel with the people they meet. One such missionary recently returned to his home in the United States after a long mission in the Pacific islands. He has been sharing his experiences with the people he met, including the habits of the savage tribes he encountered. His stories have been inspiring to those who have heard them, and he continues to share his experiences with others.

A True Memorial Spirit
Each year as we observe Memorial Day, our thoughts are mostly for the men who identify sleep in the last resting place of the departed.

But to the true American, it should mean more. It should recall and revive the spirit of Patriotism which caused the stirring heroes so valiantly to fight and win.

WHAT BATH TOWNSHIP FACES

The situation on the whole seems to indicate that Bath township has been taking a wrong step, during the past year or so. The people have been growing discouraged and some of them have drifted away. Bath village has no rich industries to support it. However, Bath has been growing into a model community. In the past few years, a number of wealthy men have offered to reestablish the school for the township.

It is evident that certain wealthy men had offered to reestablish the school. This has been an important step in the progress of Bath. The school building was erected in 1853, and it was donated to the township by a wealthy businessman. The school was a model school for the time, and it was in operation until 1865. The school was located in the heart of the town, and it was used as a center for social and educational activities.

The citizens of Bath township are stoical; that they are discouraged, and they have a right to be. The school has been a burden of the township, such is not the case. It would cost from $80,000 to $100,000 to replace the school building, and the township has no funds to do so. However, the township has received some donations from wealthy men.

The Bath Consolidated school district has an enrolment of 312. The tax for the year was $9,200, and the cost of operating the school was $1,000. The township has no funds to operate the school. However, the township has received some donations from wealthy men.

Inquest Proves Bath Disaster

The inquest into the Bath disaster concluded that the explosion was caused by a gas leak in the school building. The coroner ruled that the explosion was accidental and not due to any foul play.

Card of Thanks

The Board of Education wishes to extend its many thanks to all those who have helped during the time of the disaster. We are particularly grateful to the Bath police and fire departments, who were on the scene immediately. We also wish to thank the Bath Methodist Episcopal Church for its support.

More Glory for Studebaker Commander

Tests show 17% miles per gallon

First—5,000 miles in 4,909 minutes—the fastest going for the greatest distance of any enclosed car in the world or any passenger car, open or closed.

Next, in 13.5 miles, mile-testing contest. First position, 17% miles per gallon. And now—

First—5000 miles in 4909 minutes—the fastest going for the greatest distance of any enclosed car in the world or any passenger car, open or closed.

The Commander's newest test at least equals in accuracy his tire mileage run on the same road for over some of the steepest hills in the country.

And now—

Next, in 33,000 miles at hill-climbing contests, for gasoline, oil and repair in every instance the carburetor was never reworked, the clutch never overhauled, the motor never overhauled, the transmission was not overhauled, the engine was not overhauled.

An exact duplicate of the Commander is built in every part, and the Commander is the only car that can equal it in every respect.

What Harry Matt Says about The Commander

"I bought the Commander for the one thing and the one thing that I can't stand to have on any other car, and that is an oil leak. When I bought the Commander I asked for it, and I got it. I never had an oil leak in my Commander."

Drive The Commander today yourself!

The Chevrole is the only car in its price class offering bodges by Fisher—built as only Fisher can build, and styled as low-priced cars were never styled before!

Bodies by Fisher are everywhere acknowledged to represent the highest order of beauty, luxury, and safety—and never was the superiority of Fisher craftsmanship more evident than in the Most Beautiful Chevrolets.

Despite the lowness of Chevrolet prices, there is not the slightest compromise in design, construction or finish. All embody exactly the principles employed on the highest priced cars—a composite construction of selected hardwood and steel. All are finished in beautiful colors of Persimmon, Lustre Duro.
All are completely appointed—from coincidental steering and ignition lock to gasoline gauge.

Enthusiastic buyers of the bod­ ses themselves are numerous features of distinction previously considered exclusive to the costliest cars—features typified by heavy full-crown, one-piece fenders and bullet-type headlamps.

Only the economies of Chevrolet's great volume production make possible such quality at Chevrolet prices—value to outstanding that comparisons cease to exist. Come

FOUR years ago when the name of The Eberts became known in this community, we established in our organization an ambition—the desire to give, as far as possible, a flawless service. We have constantly kept this ideal before us and although we did not realize at the time that the public would be so receptive and appreciative to such a service, it has been the foundation on which the steady growth of our business has been built. Step by step our facilities and equipment have been increased.

All of our financial resources have been placed in our business for the betterment of service to humanity. We have not outside interests; every dollar that has been taken in has been put back into the business. Therefore we are for the people of St. Johns and Clinton county always.

Our Main Purpose is to Serve
—and our personnel is trained with this idea in mind: To supply our patrons, not only with material things, but in a bigger way, to help them care properly for the many details that unusual circumstances are sure to create.

It is this unseen part of our service that is most valued and we believe, the source of the confidence placed in us.

We have enjoyed a steady and healthy business growth and now the community's demand on our service is answered by the opening of this spacious new Funeral Home.

In it will be found everything that will add to the comfort and convenience of those we serve. It has been furnished in good taste—plain, but attractive. Its atmosphere is home-like.

An inspection will reveal that the reception room, service parlors for 200 people, display rooms, guest rooms, office and other rooms, have been arranged and furnished in a manner to include everything that could be expected or desired. It is the only complete Funeral Home in this community.

It is interesting to note, too, that although all the splendid equipment and service is available to all we serve, the cost is within the reach of all and is left entirely to our patrons' judgment.

Informal Opening Saturday, Sunday, Monday, May 28, 29, 30

Note: Instead of the usual gift of flowers or souvenirs at openings, we are going to give $50.00 to the Clinton County Memorial Hospital Auxiliary for every 500 people who inspect our establishment.

Phil Rizzuto watches Gehrig's Bat Pass Him In Home Run Race—The Unlucky Senators

BY PHILON MARTIN

Bob Beck attended a party the other night with a woman wearing a perfect dress. Promoter gingerly handed Grace Miller, the former star, 25 cents money for lunch. Beck turned around and saw Miller. Beck asked Miller if she had any change. Miller responded, "This is my money. I can't give you any change."

"That's okay," Beck said. "I'll just buy lunch with my own money."

"But you're not supposed to," Miller said. "You have to share the money with me."

"I don't need your money," Beck said. "I can buy lunch with my own money."

"But you're not supposed to," Miller said again. "You have to share the money with me."

"I don't need your money," Beck repeated. "I can buy lunch with my own money."

"But you're not supposed to," Miller said once more. "You have to share the money with me."

"I don't need your money," Beck said for the last time. "I can buy lunch with my own money."

Miller finally relented and handed Beck the money.

The incident caused a stir among the other guests at the party, who were all shocked by Beck's behavior. The next day, the event was reported in newspapers across the country, with many people expressing their disapproval of Beck's actions.

Despite the backlash, Beck remained unapologetic, insisting that it was his right to spend his own money as he saw fit. The incident ultimately led to a decline in Beck's popularity, as many people began to question his integrity and character.

The incident also sparked a larger debate about the ethics of sharing money, with many people arguing that Beck's actions were wrong and that it was important to respect each other's financial autonomy. The incident highlighted the importance of personal responsibility and the need to respect each other's boundaries in all aspects of life.

Workers Improve Fowler Cemetery

Fowler Daily Tribune

NEARLY EVERY ONE took part in the work on two different days. The work was done in the afternoon and the results received a lot of applause. Their labors will make the cemetery a lot more neat and will have made this place a great deal more interesting.

STATE SAVINGS BANK

"The Bank Book" By Mrs. R. F. Perry

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Fowler State Savings Bank held Tuesday night.

The work that was done in the cemetery was quite extensive. The improved methods of digging and the usefulness of the many kinds of plants of grass and flowers, will prove a great deal more interesting.

The plot of the cemetery is large and the work should be done in such a way as to make it a place of interest to people.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkes were in Fowler last Tuesday, visiting their daughter Miss Margaret Wilkes, who is attending school in that city.

The Fowler State Savings Bank is doing a good business and is growing rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thelen spent last Tuesday visiting relatives in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spearbaker of Lansing, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Decker of Bath, called on Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kenney and son Henry of Fowler, spent Thurs day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hopp of Fowler.
