lacovoni wins promotion as regional supervisor
By Tim Youngman

ST. JHONS—Gordon Lacovoni, 38, parole and probation agent in Clinton County, has been promoted to a supervisory capacity with the Michigan Department of Corrections, it was disclosed Monday.

Lacovoni will assume his new duties at the department’s new office in Traverse City, a region incorporating 22 counties in both northern Michigan and Traverse City. He will be in charge of supervising eight parole and probation agents assigned to the Traverse City district.

Lacovoni will succeed the current Great Lake district parole agent for the state, who was assigned to the area. Lacovoni’s new duties will include the management of the parole and probation agents assigned to the Traverse City district.

Lacovoni, who is responsible for parole and probation in Clinton County and several other counties, has spent 10 years in the parole and probation field. He was assigned to the Traverse City district earlier this year.

In his new capacity, Lacovoni will be responsible for supervising the parole and probation agents assigned to the Traverse City district. He will be responsible for ensuring that the agents are meeting the needs of the parolees and probationers in the district.

A case for a tax

Rep. U.S. Gerry Brown of the Congregational Church

WASHINGTON, D.C.—If you want to pay any attention to those who demand that the Administration initiate its own proposal for a value-added tax, then no particular rate, but for our Federal fiscal system.

These people argue that an added tax is a charge that is added to the price of a product each time it changes hands in the production and circulation processes. The ultimate tax to be paid by those conducting the transaction.

They insist that this kind of proposal as similar to the tax the Federal Government would disburse the regressive nature of current taxes.

Winter wonderland

Speedway.
The only sports snowmobile of its kind made in the U.S.A.

Speedway. Completely new. It's unlike anything on the market. It's a snowmobile as a snowmobile can be. But it's more. It's a snowmobile built in the tradition of Ferrari, Gendaro, and Jaguar. A sports machine with flair and finesse with Italy as with California.

Fallen trees and tangled shrubs add a battle-field affect to the early hours after last week's snowfall.

After spring-like temperatures in the early days of December, winter seems to finally arrive to the area as the snow was piled up in the center of Clinton Ave., before road crews removed it.

The snowy riverbanks are closing in on the flowing Maple River and soon all movement will stop as ice will form, signifying the start of several months of freezing weather.

COMMUNICATION!

IT'S A BIG WORD BUT OFTEN HAS LITTLE MEANING

But beginning Wednesday, January 18 we at Clinton National Bank will be doing something to make communications between us and our customers really meaningful.

On that date we'll begin a series of "BankTalks," a program of regular discussions in the customer lounge of our main office. BankTalks will be attended by our top level officers and customers who have indicated a desire to participate. The audience is limited to eight persons, and any bank employee will be allowed to attend as observer. If you would like to participate, please call our main office to request an invitation. We hope you'll tell us what you like or dislike about Clinton National, our policies or practices. Conversely, we'll try to give you an insight into our business and the role we see ourselves playing in our community. Each BankTalk will last as long as the conversation does and cover any bank or community related subject that happens to come up.

This is our way of "making the big word—communications* take on a little more meaning in our day-to-day operations that will lead to more effective service to customers and our community.

This is in way of making the big word "communications" take on a little more meaning in our day-to-day operations.

If you'd like to meet with us one of these evenings, give us a bell.

Fallen trees and tangled shrubs add a battle-field affect to the early hours after last week's snowfall.
Let's dream a little

As a new year comes into being, it's always better to "approach it with positive thoughts, good hopes, happiness and a pair of wings and those things that we associate.

So often it is easy to think of all the wrong things, the bad things, the things that have occurred the past 12 months, or the past week, perhaps realistically, at some of the troubles facing us in the coming year.

We suggest that always along with all the wrong things, the bad things, the dreary things, we must look at every change as bad, before being proven wrong. We look at every change in the wrong light, it is not a real one. And, the past few years have brought us many major problems, and this year, there will be more of our own, and our lives, will look at every change as bad, we look for the positive in the strongest way. It is a part of us that is easily come by, and we've all been in it.

The consensus of forecasters say that we'll have another good year. The return to relative prosperity. Obviously.

A good year ahead

Good News: Of course, for people who want to get rich quick, there isn't much news.

Sometimes we see and hear that the economy is better. One occurred on the Tonight show the other night when Johny Carson ripped several General Motors pretty good.

We forgot it, until the next rat, that is. Carson cut out again. We tuned in a few days ago, now for a while, and heard Carson say, presumably saying that the reason O'Brien Chirgim James Bonge was taken to court on another murder case, he is a murderer because he never node in any of the minds of the television and the right.

The political terms it could mean the re-election of Richard Nixon. Of course, political forecasts are only a by-product, not the purpose, of prosperity; and probably should be ignored in the moral and mental health of a nation. There is a reason why we should probably not be too optimistic about the future. But we must assume that all of us are honest, sincere individuals and some of us are honest some of the time.

It is so human to worry about...
