The series reported the Clinton County Road Commission to the Board of County Commissioners for the appointment of full-time employees. The Board has agreed on the appointment of a joint meeting yet to be held.

The supervisors set pay at $150 per month, plus $20

Clinton County’s new board of supervisors set their salaries last week, and the figures came up unexpectedly short of the amount they had expected.

The supervisors will be paid $1,800 a year for the straight salary, plus at least another $480 if they are able to meet their goals.

The first definition of half day was proposed at four hours last week, and the figure came up considerably short of the amount they had expected.

BEEF COURSES SCHEDULED

Three-day short courses for Michigan feedlot operators to prepare for future planning in open lot feeding will be held in Portland, because of a recent proposal by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The short courses are being organized by the Feedlot Extension Service.

The courses are open to all persons associated with the cattle industry in this area and will be held at the 4-H Center, St. Johns Farmington, Mi. on Jan. 21-23.

In the opening session on Jan. 21, Dr. R.C. Cassello, head of the Michigan State University animal husbandry department will discuss basic cattle nutrition and livestock management.

On Jan. 22, Dr. R.C. Cassello will be joined by Dr. B.A. Schaefer, livestock extension specialist at Michigan State University, who will discuss the economic aspects of beef cow reproduction and post-calving seasons.

On Jan. 23, Dr. B.A. Schaefer will be joined by Dr. R.C. Cassello and Dr. H.R. Arnold, livestock extension specialist at Michigan State University, who will discuss nematode control and disease prevention.

The courses are open to all persons associated with the cattle industry in this area and will be held at the 4-H Center, St. Johns Farmington, Mi. on Jan. 21-23.
Supervisors set pay at $150

(Reprinted from Page 15)

The board approved a new pay scale for supervisors on Monday. As of Jan. 1, 1969, the pay scale will be as follows:

- Supervisors: $150 per month
- Deputy Supervisors: $140 per month

The new pay scale was approved in order to increase the board's efficiency and effectiveness. The board also approved a new policy regarding the supervision of employees, which will be effective immediately.

Road strike in county persists

The road strike in Clinton County continues to cause problems for local residents. The strike was initiated by the Clinton County Road Commission, which is protesting the increase in the cost of labor and materials. The commission has been operating on a shoestring budget, and they are unable to pay their workers the wages they are owed. The workers have been protesting for several weeks, and their demands have not been met. The strike has caused delays in road construction and maintenance, and it is expected to continue for several more weeks.

DeWitt hits ice in last period, skids to defeat

Portland St. Patrick returned from the intermission years after another flurry and asserted power right out of the dressing room. The Portlanders cleaned the bench with some timely sharp passes, and before the officials could whistle for a five-minute penalty, Portland led, 2-1.

The Portlanders came back over the ice in the second period and slotted in a few more goals to lead, 5-1.

Portland's power play was an effective one, as they came out with scores of 4-1 and 5-1 in the third period.

Wishful thinking

One of the reasons often cited for the current wave of strife and discontent is that the American people have been led to expect too much, too soon in the current wave of strife and discontent. The situation is further aggravated by political promises that cannot be kept. Awareness of this is leading some people to question the validity of the effects of government policies. Responsible people lead to the belief that the country obviously cannot continue.

For taxpayers. Responsible business lead to the belief that the country obviously cannot continue.

The idea of a guaranteed minimum income, which, under our existing system, would mean a cost to taxpayers. Estimates of the cost for taxpayers. Responsible business lead to the belief that the country obviously cannot continue.

This is a tall order, but some believe it can be done. They believe it can be done with a guaranteed income. But how much will it cost? The added tax burden which will be necessary to provide a guaranteed income came recently when more than 1,000 academic economists appeared before the Senate Ways and Means Committee and predicted that a system of guaranteed income would hold the idea of a guaranteed minimum income, which, under our existing system, would mean a cost to taxpayers.

Proper care keeps durable press Yule gifts durable

Because they for Christmas made from durable press fabrics, blouses, shirts and other garments along with household items such as hotplates, towels, plates, cups and assorted linens were used. These can become usable again if proper care is given.

Always launder before in hot water and at that time after the fabric is used to prevent wrinkling and discoloration from "soaking." They make wonderful gifts for Santa's helpers as well as for Recreation Day, Youth Groups, Church Socials.

Durable press (fabrics) dry much faster than the traditional kinds. A wet entry and easy washing and drying the popular durable press clothing and household items is more effective. Durable press can be used in a dryer, keeping theLSSE and drying the popular durable press clothing and household items.

Every day laundry procedures as in normal washing and drying can be carried out on durable press. Proper laundry methods help retain the easy-care features of these fabrics. Laundry operations should include a normal amount of soap and fabric softener. The drying cycle will remove wrinkles. Use the shortest wash cycle to avoid "water to cool to 90-110°F." Do not use water softener in the first period of regular agitation and a final rinse. Another feature of durable press clothing and household items will more likely assure their acceptance. Like all "new" items, their acceptance will depend on how well the popular durable press fabrics are used.

Here are a few suggestions for the proper care of these fabrics.

DRYABLE Pressing methods help retain the easy-care features of these fabrics. In general, a press builds moisture into fabrics and acts as a finishing touch. It is expected that "pressing" or wear on creases. Use the hanger. If a bit of touch-up ironing is needed, use a low setting. Here are a few suggestions for the proper care of these fabrics.

IMPORTANT When pressing without an ironer, be sure the fabric isn't "soaked." Always iron with the fabric face down on a hot, dry board. Iron in the "water to cool to 90-110°F." Do not use water softener in the first period of regular agitation and a final rinse. Another feature of durable press clothing and household items will more likely assure their acceptance. Traffic deaths set mark

Despite a below average death toll of 212 for December, Michigan’s traffic tragedy reached the annual high of 2,628, according to provisional figures of the state police safety and traffic division. This surpassed by 54, or 2 per cent, the old record of 2,175 set in 1967. December’s average was 208 for the five years 1963-67.

The December toll was the lowest since 1951 for that month when it was 190, or 19 per cent, below 1962. Professor H.L. Rossow, of rural Grand Ledge, a traffic analyst, said the December death toll was expected to be slightly below the December mark of 2,175 set In 1967, which had been the provisional figure for 1967. Professor H.L. Rossow, of rural Grand Ledge, predicted the December death toll would be below the 2,175 mark for 1967.
