Road commission employees settle on new contract

The Clinton County Road Commission and employees for local "Take Action Michigan" have reached a tentative labor agreement. Under the agreement, employees will receive a 34 cent hourly raise奥林匹斯 2018-02-01 14:30 EST, plus time and one-half for all hours worked over 40 per week. The agreement also provides for a two-tiered health care plan, a 401K retirement plan, and a sick leave plan.

The agreement covers employees of the Clinton County Road Commission, including those in the county's maintenance, engineering, and administrative departments. The agreement was reached after 15 months of negotiations, and it is effective retroactive to January 1, 2018.

The Clinton County Road Commission is a county agency responsible for maintaining county roads and ensuring safe and efficient transportation for the county's residents. The commission is funded through a combination of state and federal grants, as well as local taxes.

Sold car on first call

Mr. Raymond Parker of Detroit sold the car he offered for trade on the first call. The car was a 1964 Chevrolet Impala, and the trade was for a 1959 Ford Galaxie.

The trade was a success, as the形势 were offered in the city were more than satisfactory.

County begins '68 with 2 traffic deaths

Two traffic fatalities occurred in the first week of the year, bringing the total number of traffic deaths in the county to 3. The first fatality occurred on January 4, when a car collided with a tree near the intersection of State Highway 12 and 20th Street. The second fatality occurred on January 7, when a car collided with a tree near the intersection of State Highway 13 and 5th Street.

The county is reminding drivers to be cautious and to follow traffic laws to prevent further fatalities.

Action emphasizes county desire to stay out of ambulance business

The county commission has decided to stay out of the ambulance business, as the costs associated with operating an ambulance service have become too high. The county is instead partnering with local hospitals and ambulance companies to provide emergency medical services.

Under the new plan, the county will continue to fund the ambulance services, but the actual operation of the ambulances will be handled by local hospitals and ambulance companies. This will allow the county to keep the costs of the ambulance service down while still providing high-quality emergency medical services to the community.

The action was taken after a series of meetings with local hospitals and ambulance companies, as well as the county commission.

City manager reviews past year

‘Changes’ again key word in city’s progress

By KEK CHERIN
St. Johns City Manager

The administrative services of the City of St. Johns for a year was reviewed in a recent meeting of the city officials. The annual report revealed the need for a number of improvements and changes in the city’s administration and services.

The city manager reported that the city had experienced a number of changes during the year. The most significant changes were in the areas of zoning, public works, and public safety.

In zoning, the city manager reported that the city had taken steps to improve the city’s zoning codes. The changes were aimed at ensuring that new development was consistent with the city’s overall plan.

In public works, the city manager reported that the city had made significant improvements to the city’s infrastructure. This included the installation of new sewer lines and the upgrading of the city’s water system.

In public safety, the city manager reported that the city had taken steps to improve the safety of the city’s residents. This included the installation of new street lights and the upgrading of the city’s police department.

The city manager also reported that the city had taken steps to improve the city’s economic development. This included the installation of new businesses and the upgrading of the city’s commercial facilities.

The city manager concluded his report by expressing his confidence in the city’s future.

The city manager’s report was well received by the city officials. They expressed their appreciation for the city manager’s efforts and thanked him for his hard work.

Friday, Jan. 19, the Service Committee and the senior youth will sponsor the annual report and meeting of the DeWitt Grange No. 213. At 7 p.m., speakers will be introduced for a 5-minute report on their activities during the past year. Following the report, the guests will enjoy coffee and cake.

Mrs. Wiser married Mr. Kraemer on May 9, 1947, at the chapel in Lansing, Mich. Their wedding was a simple affair, conducted according to their wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Wiser have two children, Robert and Susan, both of whom are attending college. The couple plans to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary next year.

Five professional nitpickers criticize the Javelin.

The Javelin is a well-received sport car, but its performance and reliability have been questioned by some automotive reviewers. Mr. Smith, a professional nitpicker, was one of the first to voice his concerns about the model. He noted that the Javelin's engine was underpowered and that its suspension was not well-tuned.

Mr. Johnson, another nitpicker, criticized the Javelin's interior design, stating that it was not as comfortable as that of other sport cars. He also pointed out that the Javelin's fuel efficiency was not as good as advertised.

Mrs. White, a professional nitpicker, was concerned about the Javelin's safety features. She noted that the car lacked advanced safety features such as electronic stability control and lane departure warning.

Mr. Green, a professional nitpicker, was critical of the Javelin's climate control system, stating that it was not as effective as advertised. He also pointed out that the Javelin's infotainment system was not as user-friendly as other models.

Mr. Brown, a professional nitpicker, was concerned about the Javelin's performance on long trips. He noted that the car's engine was not as durable as other models, and that the car's brakes were not as effective on long downhill descents.

While the Javelin's performance and reliability have been questioned by some professional nitpickers, many automotive enthusiasts remain loyal to the model and enjoy its unique features.

March 23 tentative date for millage election

March 23 has been scheduled as the tentative date for the ballot to be submitted to the voters for a millage election to be held at that time. The school board was expected to take official action on setting the date at their Jan. 10 regular meeting.

The tentative amount of millage for the ballot was set at $20,000,000. A special meeting has been called to ask the citizens to continue the levy that has been running for the local public schools.

A 4 1/2 mill operational tax levy that has been running for five years, and which affords the children a good education, has not been to date that it will have to be removed and even less to date that the school district to which the school is attached has made any progress in the program or operation.

The board will likely make a decision on an amount of millage to run as soon as he has a chance to study the situation after the first citizens' committee meeting.

A special meeting has been called to allow the citizens to continue the levy that is being voted. The committee in charge of arranging the meeting is scheduled to meet Dec. 23, Feb. 22 and March 15.

ANNOUNCING

THE INCORPORATION of interest in textile science is currently continuing. Some of the improvements we have made in this area of fabric production are a result of research and development work that has been done in the past. These improvements include the use of new fibers, new finishes, and improved manufacturing processes. The result is better quality fabrics that are more durable and have a longer life expectancy. We are not satisfied with the past and are constantly striving to improve our products. Our research and development efforts are directed toward finding ways to produce fabrics that are more resistant to wear, tear, and fading. We are also working on developing fabrics that are more comfortable to wear and have better moisture management properties.

MAKING YOUR WASH FABRICS

A little planning and preparation can make a big difference in the way your wash fabrics turn out. This is especially true if you are using a fabric that is not well suited for wash or if you do not have the proper equipment. Here are some tips to help you make the most of your wash fabrics:

- Plan your wash. Before you begin washing your fabrics, make a list of what you need to wash and how often you will be washing it. This will help you determine the best way to wash your fabrics.
- Choose the right detergent. Detergents come in different strengths and are designed for different types of fabrics. Choose a detergent that is suitable for your fabrics.
- Use the right water temperature. Hot water can damage fabrics, so use cold water for most fabrics. For very dirty fabrics, you may want to use warm water.
- Avoid overloading the washer. Overloading can lead to poor results and may damage your fabrics. Use the correct amount of detergent for your load.
- Consider using a dryer. If your fabrics are too heavy or too delicate, consider using a dryer instead of leaving them to air dry. This will help prevent damage to your fabrics.

By following these tips, you can make the most of your wash fabrics and ensure that they look their best for a long time.
Clinton County 4-H Beef Club members have registered a record number of 1,200 steers for the County Fair. Many of these members are planning to feed their steers in preparation for the fair in order to increase their weight. The deadline for feeding is February 1, and the grand champion and reserve champion steers will be exhibited at the fair on August 10. The fair is scheduled to run from August 8th to the 15th. To help members with their feeding project, a report sheet will be mailed to each member so they can keep track of their steers' progress. The report sheet should be completed by January 31 and brought to the Extension Office by February 2.

The Happy Hustlers 4-H club hosted their Christmas party and meeting at the Smith Hall with 25 members and 29 guests in attendance. Demonstrations presented by Ron Droscha, an extension representative, included how to measure the diameter of different boys and girls. The club has a committee working on how to have known children from 4-H clubs interested in meeting the members.

The Westphalia 4-H club held their Christmas party and meeting at the Smith Hall with 25 members and 29 guests in attendance. Demonstrations presented by Ron Droscha, an extension representative, included how to measure the diameter of different boys and girls. The club has a committee working on how to have known children from 4-H clubs interested in meeting the members. Members are to be congratulated for their contribution to this worthy project.

The Clinton County 4-H Service Club ended the year by holding their annual dinner meeting and dance. The group enjoyed their Christmas adventure program, and followed by the meeting. The members accepted an invitation to the County 4-H Beef Club dinner meeting held at the Ranch House. The members are to be congratulated for their contribution to this worthy project.

The 4-H Extension Service Office was led by Ruth Ann Brya. Members were able to view how to handle a steer in the contest for the steers. The winners in this contest for the steers will be entered in the County Fair. The County Club Dinner was held by 100 reservations plus the extension 4-H Youth Agent. Reservations plus the extension 4-H Youth Agent were mailed to trip award winners for the County Fair.

The Happy Hustlers 4-H club members enjoyed a meeting at the Smith Hall where Mrs. Esther Pung with Smith Hall's beautification and maintenance project sponsored by 4-H club. Mrs. Pung discussed how to promote the members saw films by Ron Droscha, an extension representative, on how to measure the diameter of different boys and girls. The club has a committee working on how to have known children from 4-H clubs interested in meeting the members.

The Clinton County Children's Home followed their December meeting. The group enjoyed their Christmas party and meeting at the Ranch House. They were able to view how to handle a steer in the contest for the steers. The winners in this contest for the steers will be entered in the County Fair. The County Club Dinner was held by 100 reservations plus the extension 4-H Youth Agent. Reservations plus the extension 4-H Youth Agent were mailed to trip award winners for the County Fair.

The members accepted an invitation to the County 4-H Beef Club dinner meeting held at the Ranch House. The members are to be congratulated for their contribution to this worthy project.

The Happy Hustlers 4-H club members enjoyed a meeting at the Smith Hall where Mrs. Esther Pung with Smith Hall's beautification and maintenance project sponsored by 4-H club. Mrs. Pung discussed how to promote the members saw films by Ron Droscha, an extension representative, on how to measure the diameter of different boys and girls. The club has a committee working on how to have known children from 4-H clubs interested in meeting the members.

The Clinton County 4-H Service Club ended the year by holding their annual dinner meeting and dance. The group enjoyed their Christmas adventure program, and followed by the meeting. The members accepted an invitation to the County 4-H Beef Club dinner meeting held at the Ranch House. The members are to be congratulated for their contribution to this worthy project.

Jaysies to remodel village hall

The Westphalia Village Hall will be remodeled to a four-season community project including a stage and sound systems. March 1st is the deadline to purchase a $250 donation so it can be completed if the village would proceed with the project. City council members are looking for a new well, paving and other work that will be done, such as updrains.

The issue of milk in excess of $14 payments earned in 1966 has been a focus of recent discussions. The ASC Program, introduced in 1967, aims to stabilize milk prices and improve income, especially when milk prices are low. Feeding a quality ration and following a complete dairy management program can help increase milk production per cow. The chart provided illustrates the benefits of different feeds in terms of their nutrient content, such as Oil Meal, Soybean Meal, and Purina Dairy Feeds.

Man . . . this government philosophy is confusing

We have watched with interest as Sweden moved to a middle-of-the-road social security program over two decades. On the surface it would seem that they have everything to fill a utopian prescription. They have housing subsidies, rent control for low-income groups, free hospitalization, subsidies for doctors' bills and drug pills, free care in childbirth, free higher education, sick pay, unemployment insurance and old age and disability insurance.

Despite all this, the people are disconsolate. Crimes of violence have been on an alarming rate, alcoholism and drug addiction have reached epidemic proportions among their young people.

Officials blame these unfavorable statistics on a deterioration in family life. Housing subsidies is one of the elements to which they point with pride, yet private home-building has been so reluctant to step up building schedules because of government controls. The result is that Sweden has a very high housing crisis that that of 20 years ago, despite a low population growth.

The fall happen there is the highest in Europe and about one-third higher that in the United States.

It has worked around to the point that more than half of the new-born are now being paid by the people who draw the benefits—those in the lower and middle income brackets.

Despite the fact that the history of this world is rife with stories to spell out a pattern of weaknesses, the authorities in the U.S. are still proceeding to initiate programs which have frequently been on the blueprint.

We can't balance the budget yet we try of let the farmers how to ruin their production.

In one state we spend millions to lure urban and suburban population in adjoining states we spend a bundle to grow crops.

We can't solve segregation and integration problems in our own country yet we spend millions to foreign lands teaching them how to do it better than their neighbors.

We are told that a man in this country must make a minimum of 60 cents a year to step a slope above poverty, and establish a minimum wage to provide with his needs. Then we raise and take approximately $600 of it away from him in taxes to help meet the salaries of the payroll—government employees.

You lose us so many things by trying to be our brother's keeper that now we are picking billions into the program to get to the moon first so we can have a broader field of operations.

It sure is confusing!

Michigan fastest-growing state of 5 in regional area

Latest figures released by the U.S. Census Bureau show Michigan as the fastest-growing state of the five included in a recently completed survey. The state is expected to begin in population of 505,000 and Flint by 1975; 9.4 million by 1985. The closest competitor in the region added 760,000 people to her population.

The Michigan Department of Revenue's report to the state legislature December 20 included a section on the state's population change. It showed that the state's population grew by 444,000 in 1974, the largest increase since 1970. The report also showed that the state's population was expected to reach 10.4 million by 1980, and 13 million by 1985.

The report also included a section on the state's economic growth. It showed that the state's economy grew by 5.5 percent in 1974, the largest increase since 1970. The report also showed that the state's economy was expected to grow by 2.5 percent in 1980, and 3.0 percent by 1985.

The report also included a section on the state's environmental growth. It showed that the state's environment grew by 3.5 percent in 1974, the largest increase since 1970. The report also showed that the state's environment was expected to grow by 1.5 percent in 1980, and 2.0 percent by 1985.

The report also included a section on the state's social growth. It showed that the state's society grew by 2.5 percent in 1974, the largest increase since 1970. The report also showed that the state's society was expected to grow by 1.0 percent in 1980, and 1.5 percent by 1985.

The report also included a section on the state's cultural growth. It showed that the state's culture grew by 1.5 percent in 1974, the largest increase since 1970. The report also showed that the state's culture was expected to grow by 0.5 percent in 1980, and 1.0 percent by 1985.

The report also included a section on the state's educational growth. It showed that the state's education grew by 0.5 percent in 1974, the largest increase since 1970. The report also showed that the state's education was expected to grow by 0.0 percent in 1980, and 0.5 percent by 1985.
Shepardsville

BY LUCILLE SPENCER, Correspondent

Shepardsville in Review

An unusual, early-bird type of newspaper column started last week. The community weekly was printed in the Shepardsville Church, pasted onto paper, and delivered by Mrs. Richard Barker's son, Elmer, on his way to his own home.

The column, which was called "Shepardsville in Review," was a continuation of the "Shepardsville News" column which appeared in the Clinton County News.

The column was designed to keep the community informed of the latest news and events in the area.

The column included articles on local people, events, and organizations.

The column was a great success, and it quickly became the most popular feature in the newspaper.

The column was later expanded to include articles on local sports, music, and other cultural events.

The column was eventually discontinued due to the increasing popularity of other columns in the newspaper, but it remains a cherished memory for many Shepardsville residents.
