City gives Villa another chance

The Villa Dance Hall got a new lease on life last Tuesday to the city commission permitted them one more chance to stop disorderly activities by dancers on the streets around the hall.

"Whatever you try, it had better work," Commissioner Charles Coletta warned the hall's operators, Mr and Mrs Daniel Salazar of 705 E. Walker Street.

"People can admit to the door but will not be seated on buses, trains, clothing, vans, etc. They will be security guards who will see that there is no disorderly conduct. This will be a new lease on life for the Villa Dance Hall." Commissioner Coletta said the hall will be closed permanently if it cannot be operated properly.

School discuss park field

A meeting of the city park board will convene at 7 p.m. Tuesday evening (Jan. 14) at the city hall in the council chambers to discuss the park and the installation of a playground which has already been authorized. The park is the result of an effort by the Parks and Recreation Board to develop the area as a community park.

DeWitt Memorial Building Addition Shaping Up

The walls are up and the steel frame for the roof was going on this week on the new addition to the DeWitt Memorial Building. The building construction is scheduled to be completed in December when the association accepted a "superbid" proposal from Richard L. Cozz Jr. of DeWitt to do the masonry work on a cost plus one percent cost basis. Association officers picked out the brickwork for the front wall; the new old buildings will have a common front, though the interiors will not be connected.

New superintendent hired at DeWitt

DEWITT — Herb Jones, who was hired as principal of the DeWitt Public School system, has been named superintendent of the DeWitt schools. It has been announced.

Jones will take over the superintendent's duties from the present superintendent, C. D. Farnsworth. Jones, 41, will assume his new post at an emergency meeting on Friday afternoon, C. D. Farnsworth, retire.

An Army veteran of World War II, Jones is currently serving as assistant principal at DeWitt Central School and is interested in the development of the school system.

Women's Literary Club told reading is key to learning

The competition to illustrate her talk, Mrs Vincent stated that reading is key to learning. She explained that reading is classified by levels and students are promoted regularly from one level to the next. Mrs Vincent also mentioned that reading comprehension is an essential skill and reading is the key to success in life.

To better understand her subject and a child is motivated by measuring his own growth. His progress is measured by grade placement. Mrs Vincent stated that reading is key to success in life and it is important for children to develop a love for reading from an early age.

The Chamber of Commerce was organized in the late 19th century. The term "chamber of commerce" has been used since the early 19th century. The diversity of interests, among which keep its members informed, is an epitome of their activities.

Chambers of Commerce, chartered by King George III in 1768, were the first type of chamber of commerce. The Chamber of Commerce, organized for the purpose of promoting the general welfare, developed and grew to become one of the most successful forms of business cooperation. It provides the agency for the development of a prosperous, healthy and happy community. The Chamber of Commerce came to recognize that no individual can do alone.

The Chamber of Commerce is an auxiliary of the community. It is a voluntary organization of the public, private and trade interests, which seeks to foster and promote the general welfare. The Chamber of Commerce is not a government agency. It is a business organization, organized and operated by business people. It is a trade association, organized and operated by business people. It is a cooperative organization, organized and operated by business people. It is a non-profit organization, organized and operated by business people.

DeWitt — despite being built on a hillside, surrounded by trees, and having a long, narrow shape, the new DeWitt High School is designed for easy access and clear views of the surrounding area. The main entrance is located on the southwest corner of the building, with windows facing north toward Herbison Road. The school is designed to accommodate the needs of the students and to provide a comfortable learning environment.

One of the most notable features of the new building is the spacious band room, which can seat between 1,000 and 1,200 people. This room, along with the main gym, provides ample space for extracurricular activities. The new school also has two electric ranges, a built-in oven and a demonstration range, which are located below the lower right.

DeWitt, Michigan, January 13, 1966

The DeWitt Panthers' basketball team will play its home games in the new school. The bleachers will seat between 1,000 and 1,200 people, and the gym is an east-west hallway that is considerably larger than the one in the old school. In addition, there are other athletic areas that will be put into use during basketball games. These include an east-west hallway running down the length of the school and an outdoor basketball court.

The rural site was chosen for the DeWitt school, which is located on the southwest corner of the new building, and is expected to be completed by the fall. The new school will be completed in time for the next school year.

Total contracted cost for the construction of the new school was $636,000, which includes all the necessary equipment and supplies. The school will have a total of 12 classrooms, a library, a cafeteria, a gymnasium, and a band room.

The new school will be a major improvement over the old building, which was unable to accommodate the growing number of students. The new school will have ample space for extracurricular activities and will provide a safe and comfortable learning environment for the students.

The building was designed by the Morning雏imal Co., Architects of Lansing, based on a plan by the DeWitt School District. The architect for the school was H. E. Hendrickson of Lansing; the electrical contractor was the Warren Holmes Co., of East Lansing; the general contractor was Hanel-Vance Co., of East Lansing; and the masonry contractor was the DeWitt Masonry Co.

No cost for the old building

The old building was located at 2957 W. Herbison Road, DeWitt, and was unable to meet the needs of the growing number of students. It was decided to build a new school, and the old building was razed to make way for the new facility.

Marketing food for freedom idea intriguing

Why not sell the millions spent by the United States Department of Agriculture in ineffectual crop control measures, and use it instead to merchandise food throughout the hungry world?

That pointed question by American Farm Bureau President Charles R. Schuman has stirred much speculation throughout rural America. Could $4 to $6 billion dollars spent each year to prop, fumigate, and control crop acreage might be used more effectively to purchase farm products in the market for export in a number of "hold-for-payoff" type of programs.

UNDER THE FARMER's suggestion, all controls would be gradually removed from US producers and any farm products exported would be bought in the open market.

This would strengthen our domestic market and spread the benefits of free enterprise in the same time providing farmers with a positive program of production instead of a negative program of controls and surpluses.

His sentiments have been echoed by former Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Joseph T. Halsted, who asserts that "volume is related to income," and that in nations where farm production is low, farm incomes are invariably low. "Programs which remove surpluses are programs which reduce farm income," Mr. Halsted declares.

ANOTHER SIDE benefit to farmers, according to Schuman, would be the "proper pegging" of vast sum now charged to farmers in programs and surpluses which more property should be charged to foreign aid or similar areas of international concern.

Much of the current "Public Law 480" aid, Schuman notes, can actually be attributed to the "hotchpotch" currency of the receiving country—property should probably be charged to some other department of government instead of the Department of Agriculture.

Instead of present "give-away programs" which are largely a dispigment effort to dispose of surpluses created under present farm control programs, the new idea would "attract and develop" the most food hungry people through regular market channels, requiring that recipient nations show how to use the food, that they have a national policy toward their economic growth and development.

It's an intriguing idea, QUESTIONS

From the Files of Jan. 14, 1956

The Clinton County News has announced the filing of Robert Montgomery's 1871 farmers' report.

Here's why:

In the early years, the Clinton County News was the only source of news for the area, and the farmers' reports were a valuable resource for the local community. The reports provided information on the state of the economy, the weather, and other important topics. They were also used as a way to collect data on the state of the economy, which was important for planning and decision-making.

/fron the HOPPER

By STEVE HOPKO

The other day we read of the murder of an American soldier who had been killed in Vietnam the previous week and heard that the family of the American soldier was scheduled to receive $500,000. We were shocked at the lack of compassion for the families of those who are killed in the line of duty.

We must all be concerned with this issue, and we must all do our part to make sure that our soldiers are treated with respect and dignity.

In 1905, Dr. Palmer and His Staff in 1905

About 60 years or more ago, Dr. Palmer of St. Johns maintained a private practice in his open and honest office (owned by Dr. Nelson Howe) and his dredging operations, one of which was Stony Creek. Dr. Palmer is the large man in the picture, standing next to his wife is in front of them. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Emsen of R-5, St. Johns, who donated the use of the photo, said that they could not have been more honored by the family.

Understanding your health

By Albert E. Baucis, M.D. Detroit Michigan Department of Public Health

Over the winter, hundreds of people have spent time in the hospitals, and many more have sought medical attention for minor injuries and illnesses. It is the time of year when people tend to become more aware of their health and the importance of taking care of themselves.

Say corn, soybean news for Feb. 24 clinic exciting

A high yield of farmers attended the Corn-Soybean Clinic on Wednesday at the MBS Convention Center in St. Johns. The clinic is sponsored by the State University of Michigan and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The clinic was held to help farmers improve their crop production. It featured presentations on the latest research and techniques in corn and soybean production. The event was attended by farmers from across the region.

More than 500 farmers and agricultural professionals were expected to attend the clinic. The event featured over 20 speakers and workshops.

The clinic was also the first in a series of regional clinics that will be held throughout the state. The next clinic is scheduled for March in Grand Rapids.

The First Nighters, under the direction of Harold R. Green, have prepared for the upcoming season by preparing the set for their opening night production of "The Cradle Song." The play is centered in a statue of Claudius; the first play of the season! But two fellows with great talent for that original role are back again.
