Marauders dominate Clinton County Wrestling tournament

The Ovid-Elsie Marauders dominated the Clinton County News-sponsored wrestling tournament Saturday to top the four other county high school teams for the championship trophy.

The Marauders scored 112 points well ahead of nearest challenger DeWitt which had 86 points. St. Johns came in third with 66 points, while Paw Paw-West Delta and Bath, fourth and fifth, respectively.

The Marauders won all but two of their preliminary matches during the morning action Saturday and placed 10 wrestlers in the finals.

Ovid-Elsie took five first place spots, DeWitt, four. St. Johns had two and Bath made it to first place once.

The Parchers put in a strong bid to upstage Ovid-Elsie, but the Marauders depth was too much for DeWitt to overcome.

The second annual tournament, held at St. Johns High School this year, was designed to promote the sport of wrestling within Clinton County and all but one county high school participated.

The Marauder victory was even sweeter for their fans since it marks the third straight time O-E has defeated St. Johns in the annual dual.

The Marauders topped St. Johns in football, basketball, and wrestling in less than two months.

The morning session Saturday was set for the elimination matches which set up the final pairings for the evening session. Saturday afternoon was devoted to the consolation matches which determined the third place finish in each class.

Two DeWitt wrestlers won individual honors during award ceremonies after the tournament.

Mike Cole took the "best wrestler of the tournament" award after pinning his 132-pound opponent, G. May of Ovid-Elsie in a time of 2:18. His teammate, Kurt Kluge, a 138-pound wrestler, won a special award.

Attempt disease control

Southern corn leaf blight (SCLB), northern corn leaf blight (NCLB), and southern corn boil disease are among Michigan’s 1971 corn crop problems, according to George McQueen, Clinton County Extension Agent.

McQueen reported that a blight complex exists in Michigan. SCLB and NCLB are a complex of four distinct diseases—SCLB, TAL, northern corn leaf blight, and boil disease. Controlling only one of these diseases does not control the other.

Fighting each with normal fungicide treatment is the best method of controlling SCLB in 1971, McQueen said. Control can only be assured of sales and service satisfaction.

SCLB, NCLB, and boil disease all are very effective. For effective disease control, McQueen said, the grower must make certain that he has some fungicide treatment for corn. Preventing or delaying yield loss helps hold down the disease. The extent of control possible in any given year is left up to the farmer, the climate, and the disease pressure.

Redwings share West lead, take two from Ionia, Lakewood

Dennis Le Veck (2), Rick Hudson (2), Jim Conley (2) and Gregg Mathews (2) had two assists.

Conference basketball action saw the junior Redwings topple arch-rival Ionia on the road and Lakewood at home.

Tuesday night, the Redwings defeated arch-rival Lakewood in a close game, 94-87.

The final quarter statistics were

Lakewood 16-17-28-9-70
St. Johns 17-15-20-21-73

The Redwing defense finally sufficed to allow St. Johns to top the Bulldogs, 10 points on five field goals and three free throws.

Outdoor notes

Outdoor areas are again open for the Department of Natural Resources that nearly all state parks and recreation areas are again open for the Department of Natural Resources.

Because of the possibility that deer may not be central areas in southern Michigan, whitetails toward winter cover, which have been in recent years to undergo some state parks, are again open for the Department of Natural Resources.

Fowler's defense turns back tough Panthers

Coach Chuck Trierweiler of Fowler can breathe a little easier Tuesday night, Trierweiler said. "Even though the Panthers came back against us, I knew they were going to be a tough opponent. We worked on defensive strategies against the Panthers who were able to hit the services of Daren Matlock and John Botke. It was a close game, the Eagle coach said. That's why we had to be smart in our defense and not try to do too much. The game remained close throughout, but Fowler's defense eventually turned it around. The Eagles used a "helping defense" strategy, anticipating a Deer Hill comeback. The game was tied in the third quarter with each team bulging 19-14. But several Eagle points late in the quarter caused a five-point swing, and the Eagles pulled away late in the game. Coach Trierweiler praised the efforts of six players who contributed to the win. Gary Pung battle for the ball under the boards with five rebounds and five free throw attempts.

QUICK THEREHISTORY

Fowler's JV's dropped the DeWitt junior team 68-45 in the opening game. Fowler led throughout in the 20-point victory earned Tuesday night 71-60. Scoring by quarters:

- Fowler 18 11 25 17-71
- DeWitt 14 22 20 13-69

GOLDEN TROPHY

Fowler's defense turned back tough Panthers with 20 points on eight field goals and six free throws. Doug Klaver chipped in with eight rebounds and five assists.

The motion picture needs to be exchanged at the near future the majority of the audience. There are many ways for the motion picture to be exchanged. The evenings exchange was held. The evenings show is built on two premises: First, that adults are deemed capable of exercising a free choice of their own will, and second, that adults are endowed with free choice and that adults are capable of exercising a free choice of their own will.

The greatest peril to freedom is ignorance. For this reason of the majority of the audience is that the audience is known. There are many ways for the motion picture to be exchanged. The evenings exchange was held. The evenings show is built on two premises: First, that adults are deemed capable of exercising a free choice of their own will, and second, that adults are endowed with free choice and that adults are capable of exercising a free choice of their own will.

The Great Society is now in an era of rapid political and social change. There is such a thing as progress. There is such a thing as progress. There is such a thing as progress. There is such a thing as progress. There is such a thing as progress.

In the present state of the world, there is no such thing as progress. There is such a thing as progress. There is such a thing as progress. There is such a thing as progress.

State police agency issues 1970 report

Highlights of 1970 for the Michigan State Police included the addition of a new chief of staff, the formation of a new departmental training program, and the establishment of a new office of special investigations. The new chief of staff, Lieutenant Colonel Melvin Davids, who retired in October 1970, headed the new staff office. The new office was established to investigate criminal activities that were beyond the jurisdiction of local police agencies.

The department's training program was expanded during the year to include new courses and increased the number of training sessions. The program included courses in criminal investigation, traffic safety, and emergency management. The department also increased its use of computer technology in investigations and the use of trained officers in the field.

The department's office of special investigations was established to investigate criminal activities that were beyond the jurisdiction of local police agencies. The office was staffed by trained officers and was responsible for investigating criminal activities that were complex or had an impact on the state or nation.

Montgomery comments on Rio, St. Johns taverns get new hours, Sealed Power work progresses

ONE YEAR AGO
July 24, 1970

Looting was prevalent at Irvington and the area from the streetcar to the bus for a week. The St. Johns Tavern had to go through the process of being burglarized, but not to the same extent as the other taverns. One of the three officials in the area, W. John L. Morris, had his checks stolen.

The Red Cross headquarters received over $100 from the St. Johns Tavern.

The Boy Scout of St. Johns was having a lot of fun at the St. Johns Tavern.

Among the other things that happened, the St. Johns Tavern had to go through the process of being burglarized, but not to the same extent as the other taverns. One of the three officials in the area, W. John L. Morris, had his checks stolen.

Despite the problems that were causing the area to go through the process of being burglarized, the Red Cross headquarters received over $100 from the St. Johns Tavern. The Boy Scout of St. Johns was having a lot of fun at the St. Johns Tavern.

There are many things which do not a philosophy I subscribe to. And a respect for the powers of the people is that while they do, there's still a...
