Lansing eyes annexation in Watertown Township

The city of Lansing is considering annexing the town of Watertown Township in Clinton County, according to a report by the Clinton County News.

The report states that the city of Lansing is interested in annexing Watertown Township, located to the south of the city. The township has a population of about 5,000 people and covers an area of approximately 30 square miles.

The report notes that the annexation would provide Lansing with more land for expansion and could bring in additional tax revenue.

The annexation is currently at an early stage and there are no immediate plans for implementing it.

Possible Diamond-Reo site

The report suggests that a possible Diamond-Reo site has been identified in the township, which could be considered for annexation.

The Diamond-Reo site is a former factory complex that has been vacant for several years. The site is located on the outskirts of the township and is currently owned by the city of Lansing.

The report notes that the site has potential for industrial development and could provide jobs for the local community.

Don't know where money's coming from, says Weatherwax

Bill Weatherwax, supervisor of the Clinton County Water Resources Commission, told a group of county legislators that he is uncertain about where the money will come from to provide for the increased costs of operating the county's water resources programs.

Weatherwax said that the county's water resources programs have been underfunded for many years and that the county needs to find new sources of revenue to continue providing services to the public.

DeWitt Councilmen view snowmobile law

DeWitt City Councilmen are set to consider a new snowmobile ordinance that would regulate the use of snowmobiles within the city limits.

The ordinance, if enacted, would prohibit snowmobiles from being operated within the city limits at any time. The ordinance would also require that snowmobiles be registered with the city and that operators be licensed.

The councilmen are expected to discuss the ordinance at their next meeting and to vote on whether to adopt it.
Bloodmobile in St. Johns draws more than 100 donors

Giving blood starts with giving information. Richard E. Lums of Pawamo registers at the Bloodmobile clinic with Mrs. Swedich Stallkenter.

Donors respond to call

The Red Cross Bloodmobile arrived in St. Johns Friday afternoon and over a hundred persons turned out to donate blood.

The clinic was held in the basement of the Congregational Church.

Smith has lived in DeWitt for 13 years, and in that time he has been a member of several community groups, serving in capacities such as police chief, city administrator, commissioner, and transportation director. In 1969, he first became involved with the Clinton County Sheriff’s Office when DeWitt hired a full-time police chief to allow Smith to devote his full attention to city administration. Not only was Smith adminis­trator of the County Sheriff’s Office, but he also served as city manager and was involved in the running of the City of DeWitt. As city manager, he became incorporated as a city, and since then he has served as a city administrator. The City of DeWitt has been incorporated into a city, and he served as city administrator for five years. In 1998, he was elected to the position of mayor, and he has served in this capacity ever since. He is also a member of the City Council, and he has served on the council for many years. In November 1994, he was elected mayor of DeWitt, and he has served in that position for two terms. DeWitt is a small city with a population of about 9,000. It is located in eastern Michigan and is known for its beautiful lakes and forests. The city has a rich history and is home to many interesting landmarks, such as the DeWitt High School and the DeWitt State Historic Site. DeWitt is also known for its many festivals and events, such as the annual Potato Harvest Festival and the DeWitt Oktoberfest. The city is a great place to live and work, and Elden T. Smith has been a key figure in its growth and development.

Pewamo-Westphalia hits heights, then falls

The Royal Oak Olds in St. Johns boys took a leading role in the region as the area's top basketball power with victories over Westphalia and Worthington. The team's success was highlighted by the performance of senior forward Roger Kowalski, who scored 36 points in the 83-67 win over Westphalia.

Kowalski Park Assn. officer

Roger L. Kowalski, former St. Johns Governor of Boys and Recreation, has been elected President of the Clinton County Recreational Park Association.

Most of the area's 1,800 area boys are involved in association programs which are conducted at the $682,000 project, which includes a 30-acre lagoon site with three ponds ranging in size from seven acres to a 13-acre pool.

Area Golden Gloves will tangle tonight

The Boys Club in St. Johns boys have a top team in the area with Alex Aguayo, the top seed. Aguayo, who has won nine straight tournaments, is expected to continue his winning streak in the 112-pound class.

In the final seconds, St. Pat's guard, Tim Weiber, hit a turnaround jumper to give the home team a 62-57 lead with 1.8 seconds left. Pinckney's John Thrush, who had scored 14 of Pinckney's 52 points, missed a desperation shot at the buzzer.

The boys will be entered in the 14-lb., novice and open— and will compete for state honors in five weight classes.

Camping Grounds in the Peckham area, 270 acres of hunting and fishing area, is open to the public. The grounds are located five miles south of the village, east of the village.

Kowalski, previously director of recreation in the Lapeer area, has been elected President of the Clinton County Recreational Park Association.
Williamston stops Bath winning streak at seven

Bath, which had its first seven-game winning streak of the season ended Friday night with a 58-50 victory over Williamston.

Earlier in the week the Bees pointed their6ame victory driving Leids, 48-44, for the Blackhawk first since 1967.

Despite a 30-point effort from Paul Stoll against Williamston, the Bees were held to only four points in the first quarter of the game, which was stopped in 23.

The Bees came back with 11 in the second quarter but were held scoreless for the rest of the game.

The Hornets hit for 14 in the third period on 40% shooting and managed only eight points in the fourth.

A strong 30-point effort in the final period was not enough to overcome Williamson's stretched winning streak at seven games.

Dairy costs saved by cutting labor

Labor costs for 15 or 20 per cent of the herd of cows milking, according to a study by Michigan State University.

This high cost of labor and the high cost of operating plants are hampering expansion, say C. R. Wunder, J. W. Sutphen, and A. W. Hume, Michigan agricultural scientists.

Their study showed that dairy farmers in the area of the state where labor is high could save $15,000 to $20,000 by doubling the number of laborers per cow.

For example, if a farmer expected to add 20 to 30 cows to his herd, he could add two or three laborers to his labor force and still save $15,000 to $20,000.

Hybrid pine has promise

The Personality Plus program was established by the school to help students develop positive personal qualities.

The program includes workshops, discussions, and other activities designed to help students understand their own personalities and how they relate to others.

State farm index prices up 4 pt.

Higher prices for eggs, cattle, and pork were reflected in the Michigan State University farm index, which rose four points in December.

The index, which is based on a survey of farm prices, rose from 150 in November to 154 in December.

Dream Castles

Deep inside each person, where no one can see, starts a dream castle. The nature of it varies according to our character and personality. An inner force of creating a masterwork—out of jet stones—which will inspire many people. Another person may see a need that he can make better fit for others.

Everyone must believe in his dream in order to fulfill it. Jesus helped John to bring his dreams through the needful followers the show of His true compassion. He did not give up the dreams that the masterful would carry in His work...now when they stand over the pieces of bones...or others, some stand to review the masterful activities and result.

His dream was true. Staying courage and faith, his small group of twelve grew through century lists today’s worldwide recognition of will.

You will find inspiration and help for your dreams of spiritual accomplishment when you answer the church of your choice.

Soil conservation district sets February meeting

By W. L. ROBERTS
Chairman Clinton County Soil Conservation District

The 14th Annual Living Soil Conservation District will be held in the Boiler Room of the Michigan State University extension building on February 20, beginning at 9 a.m. The meeting will also be available by telephone to the Clinton County Soil Conservation District, 400 South Nottawa Street, St. Johns, Michigan.

The meeting will feature a discussion of the problems related to the living soil ecosystem. Special emphasis will be given to the very environment in which we live.

Maximum efficiency lost in controlled breeding

Controlled breeding of dairy cows is imposing forms from getting maximum milk production results from cows. Many breeding technicians are already giving proper attention to the fact that these cows have many emotion-producing properties. These properties are being studied and used to the best advantage of the whole herd.

In the future, these practices will be used to the fullest extent at the same time. The relationships of emotion-producing properties to the best advantage of the whole herd.

Plan now to avoid lamming time losses

Graham Brown, extension officer for the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said that lamming time losses at this time are of great importance. About 7% of total dairy income comes within a few days after lamming. The losses are due to the uncontrolled, preventable, and natural causes of the disease.

The disease occurs in two stages. The first stage is the disease itself. The second stage is the loss of milk production. The losses are due to the uncontrolled, preventable, and natural causes of the disease.

A horse society workshop

A one-day workshop for horse society members will be held at the State Agricultural College, East Lansing, on February 20, beginning at 9 a.m. The workshop will cover the following topics:

1. Equine nutrition and feeding
2. Equine breeding and genetics
3. Equine health and disease prevention
4. Equine management and care

The workshop will also include a tour of the college's facilities and a demonstration of the use of the college's facilities.

The workshop is open to all horse society members.

Not only have other countries encouraged businesses to create outlets and plants abroad. In addition, many American companies have established plants overseas. More than half of the top 500 U.S. companies have created outlets and plants abroad in recent years.

For example, if a company wants to sell its products in a foreign market, it may create a subsidiary or joint venture with a local company. This allows the company to benefit from local expertise and to gain access to the market. Many American companies have also established distribution networks in foreign countries, which helps them to reach customers and to distribute their products efficiently.

In some cases, companies may choose to establish a manufacturing facility in a foreign country. This allows them to take advantage of lower production costs, access to local raw materials, and a more favorable tax environment. For example, many American companies have established manufacturing facilities in China, which has a large and growing market for consumer goods.

In conclusion, the benefits of establishing plants abroad are significant. Companies can gain access to new markets, reduce production costs, and improve distribution networks. However, it is important for companies to carefully consider the risks and challenges associated with this strategy. They should conduct thorough market research, assess the political and economic environment, and develop contingency plans in case of unforeseen events.
