We Urge St. Johns People to VOTE NO on both City Tax Proposals at the Feb. 20 Special Election

We as taxpayers of the City of St. Johns, have banded together in a working committee, acknowledging that too little interest has been given in our busy lives, to local government.

We have been activated by three of our five City Commissioners attempting to impose on us, Income Tax. This New Tax, to be added under the State Enabling Act, embodied in Ordinance 210, is not in the best interests of the entire community.

The Enabling Act, (originally written for the City of St. Johns) almost two newspaper pages long, is next to impossible for anyone but a staff of lawyers to interpret. This, in itself, is contrary to the City Charter, which states: "that the fundamental laws of the City shall be brief, simple and understandable to all."

In subsequent messages we will endeavor to bring to the voters and taxpayers of St. Johns the reasons for our stand and to call to their attention, sections of Ordinance 210 which are contrary to the City Charter, to our City's welfare and the best interests of all and to suggest "No" voters on Ordinance 210 and the Charter Amendment Proposal.

These two propositions are an attempt at confusion by forcing the increase of the 15% amendment in the same election as the Ordinance 210 referendum. This indicates that the three commission members, by supporting BOTH propositions, would addlall wage earners with TWO new taxes.

City revenues don’t meet out-go, say officials

City officials say the city’s general fund is in a bad shape, the result of a huge increase in expenses over the past five years. The officials are warning that the city will have to make major cuts in services if the trend continues.

The city’s budget for the current fiscal year is about $1 million, but the city has already spent about $2 million. The city’s biggest expenses are for the police and fire departments, which account for about 40% of the budget. Other major expenses include education, public works, and public safety.

DeWitt planners submit budget

DeWitt Township planner John J. Blazek has submitted a budget for the coming fiscal year. The budget includes plans for a new police station, a new fire station, and improvements to the town’s water and wastewater systems.

The budget also includes plans for a new high school, a new middle school, and a new elementary school. The new schools are expected to cost about $50 million.

Dairy farmer works longer, earns same as production worker

Dairy farmers' increased hours of work have not translated into increased earnings, according to Ralph E. Hepp, of DeWitt, a 42-year-old farmer. Hepp spoke about his experiences to the group of 150 dairy farmers who gathered at the Clinton County Farm Bureau Convention.

Hepp said that in 1965, the increased hours were partially offset by increased milk production, but in 1966, the increased hours were not enough to offset the increased costs of doing business. Hepp believes that farmers should be compensated for their increased work hours.

Hepp also discussed the impact of automation on dairy farms. He believes that automation can reduce the need for more workers, but it can also lead to increased costs for farmers. He suggests that farmers need to be compensated for the increased costs of automation.

Hepp concluded by saying that farmers need to be compensated for the increased work hours and the increased costs of automation. He believes that farmers need to be fairly compensated for their work, and he呼吁 Congress to pass legislation that would provide farmers with fair compensation.

Citizen concern has been voiced in the last several years concerning the lack of sidewalks in the Svegles-Sturgis area of St. Johns, and the great safety hazard this breeds.

Last Tuesday several citizens of that old-school region of the city appeared before the city commission and pointed out that there were no sidewalks in their children's play areas, which led to a discussion on their way to and from Svegles School. Several people who use Sturgis Street as a regular route on their way to and from the shopping center. Both observations are well-grounded, pedestrian traffic ON Sturgis is considerable and as such is dangerous both to pedestrians and to motorists who must swing wide to avoid them. And grade crossing in Sturgis should be closed and the street made one way for traffic. The homeowner will pay for their installa-

Iff. assur ed, the March of Dimes has been in facts about birth defects.

We have learned that these tragedies often strike in every walk of life, that so little of society is exempt. In our community, we have found that children with birth defects are not objects of shame. They are not produced of divine revenge for the sins of the fathers, to be hidden away without hope or help.

There, there is much that can be done to help the children born less than perfect, but the fact, the major conditions of these can be reduced in severity, and many completely corrected, if they are detected early and given the best treatment known to modern medicine.

Highest quality medical care is offered at 200 birth defects centers designated by the March of Dimes throughout the nation. We in Clinton County are fortunate to have two—Grand Rapids Children's Hospital and Mari Ana Arbor and Mary Freebead Hospital in Grand Rapids. Research to improve treat-

Bigger, better things in Svegles-Sturgis area

The March of Dimes is 36 years old this month. That's on a national scale. The Clinton County chapter probably isn't that old—since we don't have records. For as long as the local unit has been involved, it has been a big factor in the virtual eradication of polio.

Local people who have donated to the campaign, and especially the local operators of such a concern, and crippled and killer can feel justified in giving themselves a pat on the back. And complete proof that the people are true are the people who guide the March of Dimes campaign through each year and who volunteer their time to the campaign.

oped to the form of one's own birth defects. This is also one of the reasons why the March of Dimes campaign is so needed.

IMMUNITIES ON MARKET MAKE DAIRY FARMERS UNEASY

Dairy farmers are wrestling these days, as in the whole dairy industry, with the temporal agonies of Michigan’s Agriculture. The answer is yes, but when. In brief, this is his explanation:

Michigan Chronicle

FARMERS UNRESTFUL

They remember the days when they kept their herds in their home counties, and they talk about being able to supply their communities with milk. "We used to have milk plants, and we used to be able to supply our own towns," says one farmer. "But now we’re forced to ship our milk long distances, and we’re not making any money." They understand that this is a nationwide problem, and that all the milk is going to be shipped somewhere. They also know how much the price of milk has dropped, and they fear that their share of the market will be lost.

Detroit News

FARMERS UNRESTFUL

They are not alone in their worry. Farmers all over the country are feeling the same pressure. They are losing their traditional markets, and they are being forced to sell their milk at lower prices.
