Fertilizer supply to be "up" but depends on other states

Supplies of most fertilizer materials are expected to be up for 1973, according to Don Diehl, state executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, office of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Supply of most fertilizer materials should be up about 8% to 10% over the 1972 level, Diehl cautioned that these increases are not expected to materialize immediately. Supplies of most fertilizer materials are generally adequate through March 1973, but a continued high demand may deplete the supplies before the peak consumption season.

Central National Bank co-sponsors tribute to states

By ST JOHN -- Central National Bank of St. Johns, through its membership in the American Bankers Association (ABA), will sponsor a special series of programs on the 50th anniversary of the admission of the 50 states into the Union.

The series will originate from the District of Columbia and the territories and will be presented during the year preceding the 1976 bicentennial of our nation's birthday. The first program of the series is Jan. 29, 1975, and will be Jan. 29th each day for 52 weeks.

The 50 states will then be served to promote the entire United States. The series will include historical and cultural events of each state. The first program, the Bicentennial, was held in honor of Doris Ovenden, a 28 year employee. The management made the retirement party for her a surprise party complete with cake, coffee, and presents, and to thank everyone involved in her work.

We need more "nuts".

We read in the Ingham County News, which had borrowed it from Rudy Petzold, editor of the Tuscola County Advertiser. We agree with the Editor's comment:

"People nowadays think you're some kind of nut if you volunteer for civic causes. You've got to pride yourself in being willing to put yourself out for the community or the country."

"But what kind of a country would we have ended up with had we not had early patriots - and the later ones - taken that same hurt. Why pick on me? Am I the only man in Boston with a horse?"

The following people had given the usual 1970 answers, when called with the Ingham County News that it bears repeating:

Rudy Petzold, editor of the Tuscola County Advertiser. We agree and "adoption of a resolution... a review of the region's top 10... Commission's Governmental... 88th District Report

State Representative

The Special House Ways and Means Committee on Business and Professional Administration, headed by Speaker Bobby Baldwin of Detroit, held a hearing on the Public Post Office and Lumber Exchange lottery. The committee was concerned about the lack of federal funds for the post office and the need for an increased postal fleet.

The committee heard testimony from witnesses who supported the extension of the lottery to the entire state. They argued that the lottery would provide much-needed revenue for the state and help to prevent the closure of post offices.

The committee also heard from witnesses who were opposed to the extension of the lottery. They argued that the lottery would harm small businesses and cause job losses.

The committee voted to extend the lottery to the entire state. They believed that the lottery would provide much-needed revenue for the state and help to prevent the closure of post offices.

The committee's decision was widely supported by the public and was seen as a victory for those who believed in the need for increased postal services.

DO NOT sell or cut through.
Sellers or those who have sold them should immediately discontinue all sales and remove all advertising from the display with the exception of name and address.

In the past few months, we have received several complaints about the sale or distribution of welding equipment and,
products. These complaints have ranged from the sale of equipment to the use of equipment by inexperienced operators. In order to address these concerns, we have developed a set of guidelines to ensure safe and lawful
use of welding equipment.

1. Retail Sales
   - Retail stores should not sell welding equipment
     to inexperienced
     customers without
     prior training.
   - All sales should include a detailed manual
     on proper use and
     safety procedures.

2. Industrial Use
   - Industrial users should
     follow all OSHA
     regulations.
   - Regular safety
     inspections should be conducted.

3. Personal Use
   - Individuals should
     undergo proper
     training before
     using welding equipment.
   - Wear appropriate
     protective gear.

In addition to these guidelines,
we encourage all welding
operators to attend
training sessions
provided by local organizations or instructors.
