Ballenger 'Parochiaid' amendment approved

Detroit, William D. Ballenger last week successfully maneuvered an amendment to the State School Aid Bill (HB 1292) making an annual appropriation for the State Supreme Court to set aside funds to non-public schools. The Michigan measure was passed by the Michigan Senate, after sharp debate, by a 13-14 majority.

The amendment would be considered by the Senate when the school aid bill is returned from the House of Origin.

According to Michigan Supreme Court renderings the bill would be sent to its Senate, and convened by the Senate when the school aid bill is returned from the House of Origin.

The amendment would provide an annual appropriation for the State Supreme Court to set aside funds to non-public schools. The Michigan measure was passed by the Michigan Senate, after sharp debate, by a 13-14 majority.

Joanne Greene bride of Harry E. Verellen

Mrs. Marie Joan Greene of Clinton and Harry E. Verellen of St. Johns were married in a 5 p.m. ceremony in St. Denis Church, 211 N. Chestnut St., Lansing. The couple will be residing at 1518 Lake Lansing Rd., East Lansing.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Greene of St. Johns, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Verellen of Dearborn City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the church, headed by pianist Maxine Lee, wearing a floral gauze veil which was held in place by a double row of avocados and an avocado green ribbon. She carried a bouquet of white roses, pink carnations, and green ivy.

The groom was accompanied by his father, Mr. Bart Verellen and the groomsmen were Paul Coles and Marvin Longuski. Ushers were Dennis and Laura Verellen, brother of the bride, and Jeffery Baker assisting as groomsmen.

Best man was the groom's brother, Jeffery Baker and the secretary was Mrs. Robert Coles of Dearborn City.

Survival techniques reviewed in Clinton Civil Defense classes

Some of the students present were born tousch a bomb shelter and feel protected. But, said one student, "The only thing we have to do is to learn to live." This was the message of the Civil Defense classes held last February 5 and 6 in the Courthouse by Charles Frost, Director of Civil Defense at the Michigan Technological University. Bob Jonaitis and Cassidy explained the dangers of nuclear attack and defense as illustrated by books "On the Beach," "The Caine Mutiny," "Sailors Don't Cry," and "Medical Problems of a Large Shelter." Some of the subjects covered were shelters, personnel protection, evacuation, and the psychological aspects of sheltering.

Survival techniques were reviewed in Clinton Civil Defense classes.

Redwings 'intimidate' two more West Central foes

By RON KARLE

"Everyone going for us now," said Dead-Clover Doug Confer after his Bulldogs' triumph over Grand Ledge Friday night.

The Central Confer High School Bulldogs, in a seven-point victory, led 58-42, pretty much minimized the Grand Ledge offense at every turn.

"In the first period, our defense was outstanding," said Confer. "We held them to 17 points and then we came out with a 14-point lead after the half and went on to win by 21 points, 68-47."

Grand Ledge's yardstick was not in the final match, after the Bulldogs shot high at the free-throw line and converted 26-30.

"Their defense and rebounding were good; we were able to block their shots and get rebounds on offense," said Confer.

DeWitt, Bottke, 49-42

The Peninsula-Westphalia Wings outscored DeWitt last Friday night, pulling away from the Peninsula’s high-scoring Mike Bottke in the first period, and turned back the visitors 49-42.

"The game was just too close," said Bottke after the match. "I thought we were on the verge of winning, but it was a close game.

By STANLEY F. YOLLES, M. D.

Until recently, most parents in the pill-oriented society were unaware that their children were becoming involved in the drug scene. But today, these parents are beginning to become aware of the dangers to their young people.

Many of the questions about drugs that young people bring up to their parents will be answered in this series. In the first article, we discussed the nature of drug abuse. By Stan Yolles, M.D.

This editorial campaign is not to be confused with any efforts to decrease the use of legal, mind-affecting chemicals. Rather, it is to be regarded as a means of informing the public and of providing the necessary knowledge and information to combat the drug problem.

In conclusion, we would like to say that this editorial campaign is an attempt to draw attention to the drug problem and to encourage people to do something about it.

Businessmen, beware fake yellow pages bills

Businessmen should be especially alert in the wake of reports of widespread use of bills with misprints and other defects. Many businessmen have reported that their account statements have been turned over to them without their knowledge.

The problem is real, not just a localized one. Such bills, known as "false bills," are made possible by the misuse of new and ancient mind-affecting chemicals.

Many of these documents are intended to substitute for legitimate bills and may be used to defraud the government.

There has been a recent increase in the use of false bills. The use and misuse of these documents have been a major problem in recent years.

The problem of false bills is serious and requires the attention of all who deal with business transactions.

FARM SHOWS, INC. PRESENTS

THE ORIGINAL CORN-BEAN CLINIC
A DAY OF INNOVATIVE IDEAS ON PRODUCTION, MANAGEMENT AND MARKETING

Smith Hall
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 17

If you have ever attended the Corn-Soybean Clinics, you know why they are called the "Ideas Clinics". The clinics are designed to provide both producers and industry representatives with information on how to improve their production practices and marketing strategies. The clinics are held in various locations across the Midwest and attract thousands of participants each year. The 1970 conference was no exception, with a record number of attendees. The conference featured a variety of speakers, including industry experts and agricultural researchers, who presented their latest findings and recommendations for improving crop yields and profitability. The event was a huge success, with attendees returning home with a wealth of new ideas and strategies to implement on their farms. If you missed out on this year's conference, be sure to mark your calendar for next year's event, which is always held on the second Tuesday in February.
In a day-long program featuring the most important innovations in the corn-bean field, notes Sonjate Tarnow, a special kit of educational materials will be presented to each farmer as he leaves the Smith Hall, summarizing the full day's comments and recommendations.

Fighting for profits: old story for farmers

Help on way for farmers with corn-bean decisions

With a choice between support prices or ethanol, the future is uncertain for farmers, many a small grain producer has serious management decisions to make in the coming months. With the usual cost-price squeeze on small grains, a few cents less in cost per bushel for his corn or soybean at harvest time or a few months before is often a false one, according to Sonjate Tarnow.

Better farm family life, promise of corn-bean day

If you're ready to learn what's new in corn-bean production for farmers, this program will help you make profitable decisions. And that statement summarizes the promise of corn-bean day.

A guided tour through the complex world of Mutual Funds. You'll find out what mutual funds are, how they buy stocks and bonds, and why this is important. How to hedge futures arc and how the futures market can help you protect the price of your corn, soybeans or other crops and stabilize your profit stream. You'll learn about day trading, futures and options. How to study the financial futures markets, the difference between hedging and speculation, how farmers can use futures in a variety of financial situations.

The day-long program will go to lucky winners at the end of the meeting, which will be a two-week period, notes Sonjate Tarnow. Better farm family life, promise of corn-bean day.

EXTENSION REPORT

Bean blight

BEVERAGE McQUEEN

Bean blight settled over the bean fields in early August. The disease is easily spread, causing a serious problem for bean growers, and bean production is greatly reduced.

Control studies at the Bean Research Farm at East Lansing yield greatly. Clinton County组长 favored beans with blight, and beans grown in the field of beans, in the field of beans, and the beans of beans, were all affected by the disease.

Besides, his commitments to leadership training, the members served on different committees, and their enthusiasm in going next year should mark them as long-time bean growers. Seed treatment could then eliminate even temporary seed blight.

It’s a gloomy outlook for 1970... to animal science.

Every Man a Philosopher

Everybody holds some view about life and its meaning. Whether confirmed in our daily round to the utmost or not, we include our "philosophy of life." But merely to have an isolated thought or an opinion does not help us find a foundation in which to base our entire lives. We need consistent and, preferably, the teachings of the Church have been, through the ages, conservative primarily with the deeper meaning of life. It tends toward those who are striving to realize themselves in the total pattern and purpose of human existence. It helps us establish a reasonable stability amid the flux of inner emotion and events. It helps us within the limits of all that has been, how and why shall be.

Let the Church help you weave these golden threads into the fabric of life.

The real thing

Ith's a long, cold winter, but for residents of the Fowler area who share an interest in the Eagles' cage enthusiasm it spells a joy that defies the weather. The Eagles are the mighty forces that fire minds with the spirit of attainment.

It's just a long, cold winter, but for the Fowler School Basketball team it's been a season full of achievements and challenges. With the end of the basketball season approaching, the Eagles are gearing up for a new adventure.

The basketball team has proved its mettle throughout the season, earning a spot in the playoffs. The Eagles have faced several challenges, including a tough schedule and unexpected injuries, but they have persevered and continued to grow.

The Eagles' success is not just a matter of winning games. It is the process of learning and growing as a team. The Eagles have shown great teamwork and determination, and they have earned the respect of their opponents and fans alike.

As the season comes to a close, the Eagles are looking forward to the summer and the opportunities it brings. Whether it's playing summer league games or working on their skills, the Eagles are always looking for ways to improve.

The Eagles' spirit is something that transcends the game. It is a bond that connects players, coaches, and fans alike. It is a testament to the power of teamwork and the joy of sports.

The Eagles are a true representation of the spirit of Fowler High School.
Dear Sirs:

Your letter on the evaluation of the proposal to nominally change the tax base is well taken.

We do not believe that the current tax base of the school district is the same as was used in the past.

As an example of the changes, we would like to point out that the tax base in the past included all property, both real and personal, located in the school district.

However, the current tax base includes only real property located within the school district.

This change has resulted in a decrease in the total value of the tax base, which has in turn led to a decrease in the amount of property tax revenue available to the school district.

We would like to make it clear that we do not oppose the proposal to change the tax base to include only real property located within the school district.

However, we do believe that a more comprehensive study should be conducted to determine the impact of this change on the school district's ability to fund its operations.

We appreciate your attention to this matter and look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,
