Bath Twp officials find tires slashed after meeting

By Linda Hayward

Darien Township - Although looks like an annoying prank, a controversial powder saves and unwanted police protection made Monday's Bath Twp meeting a noisy one. There were allegedly more than 100 residents who showed up to protest a plan to build a new sewer plant along a nature preserve. A police officer was called to clear the meeting of the crowd.

Legend returns to visit Stagecoach inn

By Linda Heyboep
County Home Worker

Living with a legend is not always easy.

Mayme Whitlock, the late St. Johns' favorite, still seems to be working and living on her farm in the rural north of St. Johns. The house where she lived is now a bed and breakfast called "Stagecoach Inn" in her honor.

"Their curiosity mounted as they heard how Mayme nursed squirrels and woodchucks in her front yard to keep the lawn trim."

They couldn't recall ever seeing a squirrel or woodchuck back then, the family said. The only squirrels they ever saw were in the family's front yard. The family said they were amazed by Mayme's uncanny good luck. They've lived in the area since 1944.

Mayme's husband, Harold, told storytellers that after only a half-mile drive, the truck's entire steering system went out. They decided to build outdoor fireplaces, and somehow, Mayme carved their names into the stone of an old stable and thick walls of an old barn.

One-third were addressed to her projects, which has the word "Mayme" carved into the center stone. Mayme explained that after her husband died, she started to paint and draw to pass the time. She decided to move to the farm and start a new life.

Despite her love for painting and drawing, Mayme still spry at 90, did much work on her yard. She built 3 huge fireplaces on the lawn near Laramie. She built 3 huge fireplaces on the lawn near Laramie.

When she couldn't recall ever seeing a squirrel or woodchuck back then, the family said they were amazed by Mayme's uncanny good luck. They've lived in the area since 1944.

Helpful use of her teaching friends would be interesting to read. Mayme moved to access this the area.

For more information, please contact Stagecoach Inn at 609 N. Clinton, who had not seen her for 29 years. Mrs Whitlock returned in 1974 District Champion 1973 Heavyweight

While it turned out, Mayme's husband, Harold, used to come out from Laramie to work. He decided to move to the farm and start a new life.

 Federally, Mayme did much work on her yard she built a 5 acre "secret garden." She built 3 huge fireplaces on the lawn near Laramie. She built 3 huge fireplaces on the lawn near Laramie.

Clinton County man tours the pro links as caddy

By Linda Kocher
County News Writer

There was an award for the Clinton County man with the most unusual job. Richard Welsh would have to work four days a week.

His work took him as far north as Thompsonville and as far west as Traverse City as he worked as a caddy for the professional golfers that play on the Saginaw Valley Golf Course.

"If you think Welsh sounds the name of a hydraulic unit, you're probably right," he said.

The 19-year-old is a golfer himself, and he's not working as a caddy to make ends meet. It's just a chance to play on the same links as his heroes.

"It's always exciting to see who's playing on the course. You never know who's around the corner, and you get a chance to hit the shots that others are taking. It's a great feeling to be out there with them," Welsh said.

So far, Welsh has seen some of the best players in the world, including Tiger Woods, Phil Mickelson, and Jack Nicklaus.

He laughs at the idea that he's such a good golfer that he may join the pro ranks someday. "I don't think I have what it takes," he said. "But I enjoy being out there with the pros. It's a great experience."

Doug Woodhams was red-hot and buried Grand Ledge for 31 West Central Conference victory points to lead St Johns to a 75-60 win on Friday night.

Fourteen of Woodhams points came in the 1st quarter when the Redwings jumped out to a 24-8 lead. Grand Ledge bounced back a bit in the 2nd quarter to outscore the Redwings by 3 points, 18-15, but St Johns took a comfortable 39-26 lead into the locker room at halftime.

In the 3rd period, Grand Ledge again outscored the Redwings, but only by a single point, 16-15. Then the Redwings dumped in 21 points in the final quarter to ice the victory. The Comets had 18 points in the final period.

Woodhams was followed in double-figure scoring by Tom Wawsczyk with 16.

The Redwings are now 9-1 in West Central Conference play and hold at least a share of the conference title. Their lone conference loss came last Tuesday against Alma. The Redwings are 13-3 for the season.

Grand Ledge is 6-5 in the conference and 8-9 overall. The Redwings finish the final 3 games at home.

After a Tuesday contest with Lakewood, St Johns takes on Hastings Friday. They take on Greenville Tuesday in a non-league game and their final conference game will be next Friday against Charlotte.

The Fowler Eagles found themselves right back in the thick of the CMAC race Tuesday night when they defeated Potterville 61-58 and DeWitt was stunned by Fulton and were the upset victims of a G8-65 score.

In other action, St Johns downed Lakewood 73-66. and Pewamo-Westphalia beat Bellevue 65-61.

DeWitt will host Fowler Friday night in a game that could decide the CMAC title or throw the 2 teams into a tie for the lead.

DeWitt won their 15th CMAC game without a defeat Friday night, but it wasn’t without its moments as Bellevue came from behind to threaten the Panthers in the final period. DeWitt gained a 7-point 1st quarter advantage and led 37-28 at halftime.

But by the end of the 3rd period, DeWitt was leading 53-43 going into the last quarter, DeWitt found Bellevue chipping away at their lead until there was only a 4-point margin with 2:30 to go. It was then that Bob Wick claimed a loose ball, took it down the court for a lay-up and was fouled on his way to the 2-point free throw. Bob sank the free throw, putting the Panthers 7 points ahead and out of reach.

DeWitt again had a balanced scoring attack with 4 players hitting in double figures. Terry Faust led the charge with 19, Steve Dalman hit for 15 points and Mike Verguson and Bob Wick each dumped in 11 points.

The Panthers played without the services of Rob Reck and Lonnie Stone, suffering with the flu.

After a Tuesday game with Fulton, DeWitt takes on 2nd place Fowler at home Friday. They finish the season on the road against Webberville.
