An important message for people who prepare their own income tax returns.

You've probably heard the stories. Millions of people sit down to prepare their own income tax returns. And why not? Every year, between January and April, thousands of people between the ages of 18 and 70 gather at H&R Block locations nationwide to prepare their own income tax returns. The reason? To save money, to get a refund, or simply to take advantage of the services offered by H&R Block. But, do you really know what you're getting into when you decide to prepare your own taxes? Here are some important messages to consider before you set out on your tax preparation journey.

Drain commissioners dislike DNR, road programs

A bill providing for a change in method of determining the amount of drainage assessments for drain districts would be heard by the Senate Agriculture Committee on Thursday. The drain commissioners would have the right to apportion the assessments among the districts, rather than by political appointees as is now the case. Drain commissioners feel it is more equitable than by political appointees as is now the case.

Lorena, the Michigan Association of County Drain Commissioners and Drainage Commissioners, met in Detroit last week to discuss drainage and drainage problems. The Drain Commissioners Association of Michigan and the Drainage Commissioners Association of the state will be held in January. Karber Block Company is holding a Golden Anniversary Open House this Friday, March 3, from 1:30 to 7 p.m. The Open House will feature tours of the plant with Karber employees pointing the way and answering questions. The plant is now automated and can produce 1,000 units per hour in any one of 67 shapes. Plus Miami Stone in many different colors.

Karber's also make a couple of other products... one of which I've told Larry Karber and Dean Hentng that they should run a full page ad on manholes. I think everyone has a secret desire for their very own manhole. It could be assembled in the living room or den and be the world's finest conversation piece. Or placed in the front or back yard. ...I could use one to hide from Big Mama. Anyway take in the Open House... you might win the materials for an outdoor bar-b-q they will be giving away.

We have some very nice neighbors. They even used to be friends. The friendship ended this past weekend. Really, it was their fault. Earlier this year they took our oldest boy, Erik, snowmobiling. He had a good time, was well behaved and caused no problems. This past weekend they took our youngest, Joel "the Animal." I still don't know what all happened. Joel won't talk, Lou has been resting since their return and can't talk and all Dick does is throw snowball and rocks at our house and swear revenge. We tried to warn them, Lou stopped over one day and said she and Dick were "thinking" about taking Joel along. Before she could say another word Alice had his beer case packed and his return address (wrong) printed on his forehead. Joel was ready to go even though the trip was two days away.

Friday night they left. Alice caught them as they were trying to sneak out of the driveway. She untied the Animal and put him and his beer case in the car, ...

For two days there was peace and quiet in the neighborhood. No phone calls from parents of bloodied boys. The police even stopped cruising the block. Late Sunday night the phone did ring. It was Lou explaining they would start for home as soon as they found Joel. The problem was, no one wanted to look for him. They were all too busy looking for the snowmobile he hid.

I went to bed. Alice stayed up. The next morning I asked if he had a good time. Alice said she didn't know but that "Dick didn't even help her untie Joel."

P.S. Please pass this information on to all the members of your group who may be interested.
Karber Block celebrates 50 years

ST. JOHNS—In a little two-car garage on Church Street in 1922, Francis Karber decided to go into the new cement block production industry.

He began producing the cement blocks with three employees as a sideline to his more prosperous contracting and building business.

In 1922 Karber rented a small two-car garage on Church Street, the former home of the A.H. Costello family, and gave it a new lease on life.

Karber, who has been involved with the cement block operation all of his life, is a lifelong resident of St. Johns and an army veteran.

He is married and resides with his wife Joyce and their five children in the family home adjacent to the plant.

Friday will be a special day for the Karber firm, featuring an open house for the public from 1:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. with guided tours of the operation and will feature a grand prize drawing marking the 50th anniversary.

Manufacturers of Block

And Miami Stone

Karber Block Company almost wasn't. About 50 years ago Francis Karber, a successful building contractor started making block and tile for use in his contracting activities and to supply builders with a new quality block.

Since that time the company has stripped producing tile, has started making Miami Stone, and Miami Stone products.

A look at just a sampling of the kinds of blocks produced by the 50-year-old company.

Larry Karber, right, owner of Karber Block of St. Johns discusses his production operation with Harold Wellman, Central National Bank president.

Karber Block Co.
St Johns

In 1957 Karbers Looked Like This

Since that time Karbers have modernized and automated the plant. Today 67 different block shapes can be produced...as many as 1,000 per hour. Karber's blocks are found in the court house, the high school...all through Clinton County.

They're not blocks...they're basements, homes, businesses and public buildings, that haven't been built yet.

Conducted tours of the plant will be part of Karber's Open House which will be held Friday, March 3, from 1:30 to 7 p.m.

Presto: an instant house

An instant house was erected at the corner of Oakland and Lincoln Sts, St. Johns, Thursday when construction crews from Presto, Inc., located just off the town square, put the finishing touches on their mobile crane. The crane, a 25 ton mobile crane, lifted the wet half of the unit onto the foundation. With the back section in place, the mobile crane swung the front section around for placement. Steel bands wrapped around the unit are attached to the cradle which steadies the house for lifting.

Snowmobile guide book readied

LANSING — Snowmobile enthusiasts from the 87th and 88th districts may now obtain copies of the 1972 Snowmobile Guide by writing their State Representatives R. Douglas Trezise (R-Owosso) or Richard Allen (R-Ithaca). Representatives Trezise and Allen said today that they had a limited supply of the guides prepared by the Department of Natural Resources. The sixteen-page booklet contains excerpts from the snowmobile law, a listing of State Forests snowmobile trails and State Parks open to snowmobilers and some safety tips.

What Do You Call A Free Checking Account For Senior Citizens?

IF YOU ARE ELIGIBLE FOR SUCH AN ACCOUNT, Give Us A Name And Win $25.00

An entirely free checking account is now available for senior citizens (65 and older) at Clinton National Bank. The new service includes free checks, free check book and no charges for bookkeeping and monthly statements. The whole thing is free, but we do have one rule. We don't know what to call it. So we're looking to those who will be served by it to give us a name, and the person who submits the suggestion that we use will receive $25.00. The rules are simple: jot your name, address and phone number, along with your suggested name for the Free Senior Citizen Checking Service and send to any office of Clinton National Bank in time to arrive by the end of business Friday March 17. The only other clue is that the winner must have reached his 65th birthday by the deadline date of March 17. In the event of duplicate suggestions, the first received will be considered.

All Entries Must Be Delivered To Our St. Johns Office By March 17 or be postmarked on that date.

Judges' Decision Final

Winners Will Be Notified

* Please Address Envelopes To Attention of "Senior Citizens Contest."

To be eligible for the new senior citizen checking account service, participants must have a regular checking account in effect. Thrifty check accounts are not part of this plan. Customers having Thrifty accounts must revert them to regular checking accounts to take advantage of this free service.
Is this representative government at work?

We would like to congratulate the Clinton County Apportionment Committee for acting, albeit on short notice, in presenting the county with a new apportionment plan.

On the surface, the new plan seems to be in keeping with the various court opinions, offering a fair and equitable redistribution of the electorate. The re-evaluation of the representation of the shifting population, especially in the light of the results of the 1970 census, was seen as being long overdue.

However, there were several points brought out during the committee meetings that have gone uncorrected.

First, we do not understand the purpose of the Court of Appeals which ruled in January that boards of commissioners cannot apportion themselves (or a special sub-committee) to present an alternative plan, which did not get to a vote.

Second, there was no public hearing. The county commissioners, appointed by the County Board of Commissioners, held two meetings.

There were only given until the first week of March to reach a formula for redistricting or the courts would decide for them.

What resulted was the fact that the same plan approved in January by the board of commissioners, was approved Thursday night by the apportionment committee. So, in essence, the board of commissioners apportioned themselves with the approval of the apportionment committee.

It was not ample time to seek new plans as allowed under the Filer vs. Board of Commissioners of the Inland Lakes and Streams Act (Public Act 252 of 1972). The result is a sense of the casual observer.

We understand the unfairness of recent actions by the Board of Commissioners of the Inland Lakes and Streams. It has the very honor of being the 88th District Representative. The result is that we are strongly resisting "the black hand of the" the apportionment committee.

In the Public Act 261 (1966 as amended) which indicates a requirement that the Commission make recommendations to the legislature, the next few years, while the small district may grow very little, if at all.

We will grow more and more out of proportion (and more unrepresentative) as the months go by.

Newman said the courts have ruled that anything done by the commissioners could be considered an "as passed by the commission. The criticism is not unwarranted.

Intolerance

By Jv. HUDI BALLANGA

In the 19th chapter of the Book of Acts we read about the mission work of the Apostle Paul in the region of Galatia.

"In his day it was a Christian camp," he said. "It is very unusual state-of-affairs when he came upon a sign that would tell him that all the camps in the countryside of New York City have disappeared. He began to wonder if it was possible that he would just foul up a sign in the middle of the city and that there was no way to change it. The sign originally was on the corner of Broadway and Times Square."

Therefore, in his book, "Christian Witness", he writes, "There is something to be said for this. It is against the scriptural teaching of the New Testament to put up signs like this. It is easy to see why some people would say that this is impossible."

"Let's face it. We have been run by the chief stewards of the state and the city."

As he continued, "This is why I believe that the state and city must take steps to prevent any future situations like this."

The older pastor reached his conclusion.

"You can't put up signs like this for the things you want to sell."

The eye of the child was on the sign as he stood in the middle of the street.

"This does not take into account that there are enough people in the city who would appreciate such a sign."

"We have several signs out there that are not as serious."

"It was an unfortunate situation."

The pastor recognized that 45,000 people were passing by all day long.

"This is a very uncomfortable situation."

Bollanger

The afternoon's discussion was on the topic of child welfare. It is important to provide nutritional meals for the mentally disabled, he said. There were over 200 people in attendance. He said that it was important to provide the meals.

"The children's education is essential. If we can't even provide the meals, we can't do anything else."

Home ec: not just home duty

By Patty Norris

The Otis-Elsie home ec class is yearning to get out and about and get a breath of fresh air. The class is planning a trip to Lakehurst, New Jersey, for November 15th. A bus is being reserved by Mrs. B., so if you are interested in attending, please contact her.

Courses are much more than just preparation for the future. They are also a chance to meet new people and have fun. The Otis-Elsie home ec class is excited about the trip and can't wait to get started.

The group left Owosso by bus on October 30th, headed for the Princeton area. They spent the afternoon touring the area and enjoying the sights.

On November 1st, the class attended a tea ceremony as the class motto. The ceremony was a beautiful way to mark the beginning of the new year and set goals for the future.

The seniors chose yellow and orange as the class colors. These colors will be used in many of the students' projects throughout the year.

The Otis-Elsie home ec class is looking forward to a great year of learning and fun!

I lent to over 8,000 homes in the 87th District tried to in order to support our local tax ourselves on the high side question that I have been surprised me. There is no people of the state. This year for a vote of the of this plan and to assure the questionnaire Indicate a they do. Early returns from Clinton and Shiawassee school systems. It was to be opportunity for relief from shock, sometimes, when implied control being exer­ clative responses and a good both those for and against—im and a decent mailing it also could be a lot of it for the 87th District equate the to conclude that people of much In favor of the plan and more In favor of the Constitution of this state. "The general sup­ port of the state Board of Education is trying to exert local control of our schools and there was not more than 14% of those who did not vote. But the real surprise is the Constitution of the state. The real surprise is the Michigan Constitution. It's not that all the pro­ proposals and recommendations of the State Board of Education are good. It's the people of the state.

Losing identity

Dear Sir:

In St. Johns prepared to lose its annual identity as flavor boxes of every kind. A deal has been made with Lerner and Leblanc, Inc., of Kansas City, to re­chair the city's book events.

The event, scheduled for April 10, will include readings and discussions by well-known authors and writers.

The event will feature music, food, and drinks, as well as a silent auction of donated books and art.

Please mark your calendars and come out to support this important community event.
