Alcoholism is not just an adult problem. In these days of free speech and human rights, there is more widespread recognition of the problem. In the past, alcoholic individuals were shamed and embarrassed, and the problem was hidden. Today, however, the public is more aware of the issue, and there is a greater emphasis on treatment and recovery.

In the past, alcoholism was often seen as a problem that affected only men. However, women are not immune to the effects of alcoholism, and they too can suffer from the problems that come with the disease. Many women struggle with alcoholism, and they often face unique challenges in getting help.

Many people believe that alcoholism is a disease that cannot be cured. However, this is not true. With the right treatment and support, people can overcome alcoholism and live healthy, fulfilling lives.

We need to work together to address the problem of alcoholism. This includes increasing awareness, providing resources and support, and promoting recovery. Let's commit to making a difference in the lives of those affected by alcoholism.

NEW STYLES IN CREDIT ABOUND

By Helen St. Mejard

Credit cards represent the newest and most modern way to purchase goods and services, and do not require cash or a checkbook. You can never overdraw your credit card, and if not canceled can be presented to any card to present for purchase of gasoline or other merchandise.

There are currently over 1,000 credit cards available on the market, and two are especially useful to travelers. These are the "Diner's Club" and "American Express." The latter two are especially useful to travelers.

Most recently we have seen the expanding use of these credit cards, which allow one to make purchases in a number of stores without having to write a check from the bank.

In addition to the new styles, there are still old stand-bys — in particular, all stores, 60- and 90-day accounts, and installment cash loans; installment credit at the store; 30-, 60-, and 90-day accounts; and credit costs, credit management? whether to buyr?and now^mpre billing from the bank.

In order to do this, you come to the store and present your card. There is no need to fill out any form, and the merchant will charge the balance directly to your account. You would pay for this kind of account, when you are ready to use it, at first for purchase of gasoline or other merchandise.

The meeting was turned over to our leader James Johnson, who gave a very interesting lecture on salmon and trout, and included films, the repair of casting lines, and the dressing of flies. The members then on their own interest made themselves at home in the general store, and several residents of the area and family of the Kentleys, who attended the meeting, played the game of billiards.

Let's say it's $500 and your top limit you can borrow. The entire month, you could still write additional checks up to the $500 limit. Let's say it's $500 and your top limit you can borrow. The entire month, you could still write additional checks up to the $500 limit.

State tax form still available

In the absence of a federal income tax form, the state of Michigan has initiated its own tax form. The new form, which became available in January, is designed to be more user-friendly and easier to understand. The form includes sections for income, deductions, and credits, and is intended to simplify the process of filing state taxes. Taxpayers are urged to review the form and consult with a tax professional if necessary. The deadline for filing state taxes is April 15th. State tax form still available

Taxes on the state level are expected to remain stable in the coming year. The state budget has been balanced, and there are no plans for significant increases in taxation. However, local governments may still face pressure to increase taxes to cover rising costs. The state has also announced a new program to encourage the use of public transportation, which is expected to reduce traffic congestion and improve air quality. A lobby for John Q.

What taxpayers need is a stronger lobby in Washington and Lansing. We've got to end the game of politics. It is just as something getting fed up with the coat of government. It seems like every new pending project that needs money, it carries with it a label of "progresses," and nobody wants to dawdle the progress of things.

Meanwhile, here's John Q. paying the tithe.

John Q. can hardly stand straight anymore because of the tax pressure on his shoulders. John Q. can hardly stand straight anymore because of the tax pressure on his shoulders. Girl Scout Week

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will celeb­rate their 17th birthday March 12 during National Girl Scout Week—March 10-15. Founded in 1912 in Savannah, Georgia, Girl Scouting has grown up with the nation. The theme of the organization for the years 1964-65, "Values to Hold, Worlds to Explore," represents values held constant for almost 60 years—but expressed each day in new ways and in a modern and timely way.

Today's girl scouts work against poverty and prejudice. Last year, the organi­zation's national board of directors voted to support the major goal objectives of the Republican National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders. The 3.5 million members express their beliefs—their values—through service in their own and neighboring communities, in schools, libraries, centers, hospitals, parks, or wherever goodwill and dedication can be used.

Let's wish them a heartfelt "happy birthday" during this week.
