The new construction in Battle Creek, a $6 million addition to the hospital, is to be completed within the next two years. This will allow the hospital to expand its services and provide more care for patients. The construction project is expected to be completed in 1975.

A recent survey revealed that the hospital is in need of modernization and expansion. The hospital currently has 150 beds, but is only able to provide care for about 125 patients at a time due to space limitations. The new addition will bring the hospital's total bed capacity to 200, allowing it to accommodate more patients and improve patient care.

The hospital is also investing in new equipment and technology to enhance patient care. This includes the purchase of new medical imaging equipment, such as CT scanners and MRI machines, as well as new surgical equipment and anesthesia machines. These investments will help the hospital stay at the forefront of medical care and provide patients with the highest quality of care.

In addition to the construction project, the hospital is also working to improve its facilities and services. This includes the construction of new patient rooms, the renovation of existing patient rooms, and the expansion of the emergency department. The hospital is also expanding its outpatient services, including the addition of new clinics and the expansion of existing clinics.

Overall, the hospital is committed to providing the best possible care for its patients. The new construction project is a major step towards achieving this goal, and the hospital is grateful for the support of the community.

Almond Cressman at national meeting of regional councils

Local government elected officials from throughout the nation, including Michigan, appeared to have an interest in the Tri-Regional Councils. The occasion was the Seventh Annual Conference of the National Association of Regional Councils (NARC).

The membership of the conference adopted and participated in the resolution urging the President to release available funds for the program to consolidate into a more efficient and effective delivery system and economic development assistance. The purpose of the fly-in was to urge the President and Congress to provide more discretion to local governments in planning and implementing programs to meet critical needs and problems. Their primary purpose is to cooperate and coordinate with the federal government to fulfill the needs of local government within a decentralized system.

They emphasized that the needs of nonmetropolitan regions are not available through comprehensive or regional programs because they cannot be completely ignored until new bloc grants are distributed. Legislation is enacted. It was therefore urged that the President release available funds to assure that our critical national goals will be met while utilizing to the maximum degree the local capacity of the federal system.

On the scene

with Cheryl Snyder

High school basketball has drawn its share for another year. Many exciting seasons have gone to the air, but it is the time to remember.

Sports were held in the school when the Pirates remembered the Stories at Ithaca. Students from Clinton High School have been proud of the season, and now they have won the title of certain of the 57 team's.

Mr. Jimmy McCall and Mr. Joseph Reynolds have been meeting to gather games for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

There are many exciting moments that one doesn't remember for the year of 1973 and beyond.

The Junior Band participated in the annual District Festival on March 14, 1973. The entire tour is to be student financed.

Transportation will be by bus, and small groups of students will be furnished by the band.

The Junior Band will be making a 5-day tour to Canada, Brooklyn, Toronto and New Orleans.

There are also 2 very important dates to make on your calendar. They are: Saturday, March 17, and Sunday, March 18.

* The Junior Band participated in the annual District Festival on March 14, 1973. The entire tour is to be student financed.

Haslett makes Bath second tourney victim

MIDLOTHIAN — Ovid-Elsie's Jim Hengesbach took on favored Etna's countrywide claim service ready to help you anytime, anyplace. It's famous for its speed and fair play. And we're comprehensive. Even medical payments, and emergency road service.

PREP SPORTS

Haslett — What do you do when you get the ball to your forward and he can't find anyone to pass to? You go inside yourself.

Hengesbach did that Thursday night that Ovid-Elsie's Jim Hengesbach might join in the upset.

Hengesbach ended the season strong, finishing the Marauders' 56-31 meet in the 4th period.

Hengesbach scored the Marauders' lone point in the 4th quarter, putting Hengesbach on the Marauders' 30 points, Ovid-Elsie picked up 36 points in the last period.

Gary Brown had the scoring for Ovid-Elsie with 17 points. He was followed in double figures by Rich Jameson (16), Bob Strother, Steve Wren and Tom Villerall, Kirk Robbins, Eric Grost, Brian Stork, Dan Downing, and Mike Butler.

Local 4-H club members raise leader dogs

By Laura Rigsby

CLINTON COUNTY – The Leader Dogs for the Blind program is Backstory. Mrs. Harris of Chandler Road had 11 of them. The Harris’ will donate some or all of the pups to a Shepherd puppy. Sheesebo and his German Shepherd, Beverly Archer, Dawn Archer and her Golden Retriever puppy, Therese Thelen and her Golden Retriever, Babette Sosebee and her camera shy.

Male pups “Buster” and the females “Candy”. The pup’s mother, “Princess,” was Mrs. Bruin’s. Mrs. Bruin says Mark, her son who raises puppies for Leader Dog school, calls all his male pups “Buster” and the females “Candy”. The pup’s mother, “Princess,” was Mrs. Bruin’s. Mrs. Bruin says Mark, her son who raises puppies for Leader Dog school, calls all his male pups “Buster” and the females “Candy”.

Throughout the training periods, he regularly spent extra hours on evenings and weekends instilling affectionate and patient attitudes in the puppies.

After a long period of hard work, Mike recently won his state boxing championship in the flyweight division. He is not only a successful boxer, but also a good role model for younger members of his team.

Although Duke wasn’t accepted for training, all their efforts were not in vain. The club decided to adopt Duke and they settled in their new home. Duke is a special dog, and the club members were delighted to have him in their midst.

Requirements for potential Leader Dogs include that the dogs must be between 1 and 2 years of age, of a certain breed, and have been raised in a happy family. They also require that the dogs be friendly and accustomed to people. The Tail Waggers raise their dogs with these requirements in mind. One of the most important things in raising a Leader Dog is to get it to be happy, just like children, and to help every dog close its heart wide.

The Tail Waggers’ leader, explained that the club has received 40 letters since they started in 1939 with a hatful of ideas and about 50 letters have been received from club members around the nation. The club has been successful in raising dogs in Rochester, Mich, and has one member in each state and 24 abroad in 13 countries. Their breed club is the only one in this country to be raised as potential Leader Dogs. None of these are the Tail Waggers’ Club.

These Tail Waggers showed their dogs at an East Essex School assembly March 9. The Tail Waggers show their dogs at school assemblies, visit local schools, and have been on television to promote their success.

They have traveled as far as 200 miles to get other clubs started.

Mrs. Bruin attributes the success of these clubs to the passion of parents who are interested in raising Leader Dogs. She also feels that the Tail Waggers club is a model for other clubs to follow.

Battle of the big spenders

Big spenders are bound to lose the current battle of the budget in Washington. If we cannot get away from the old way of spending, we are going to have a very difficult time in the future. For example, it is impossible to believe the law will put a permanent crimp in their habit of spending. If we can get away from the old way, we are going to have a very difficult time in the future.

One Year Ago

The St Johns County Council, on a vote of 7 to 3, rejected the bill which would have permitted the city of St. Johns to use the money raised by the city's tax levy to pay for the construction of a new public library.

The bill, which was introduced by Councilor John Smith, was defeated by a vote of 7 to 3. Councilor Smith had argued that the city needed a new library to serve the needs of its residents, but Councilor John Smith had pointed out that the city already had a library, and that the new library would be an expensive project.

The council voted to send the bill back to committee for further review.

Following the old way of spending the old way, the response of all concerned should be that we are going to have a very difficult time in the future. For example, it is impossible to believe the law will put a permanent crimp in their habit of spending. If we can get away from the old way, we are going to have a very difficult time in the future.

This is an important question, as any change in the law that might be made must have a serious impact on the economy of the state.

We have been told that the law will put a permanent crimp in their habit of spending. If we can get away from the old way, we are going to have a very difficult time in the future.

LEGISLATION

HOUSE BILL 1565 - Passed January 10. Further committee hearings. This bill was introduced by Representative John Smith and is designed to provide better protection for the consumer in the sale of fuel.

The bill would require the manufacturers of fuel to provide consumers with better information about the quality of the fuel they are purchasing.

The bill was introduced on the recommendation of the legislative committee on consumer affairs, which has been studying the problem of fuel quality for several months.

The committee decided that it was necessary to provide better protection for the consumer, and that the bill was a step in the right direction.

When it comes to making changes in the law, we need to be careful about what we do. For example, it is impossible to believe the law will put a permanent crimp in their habit of spending. If we can get away from the old way, we are going to have a very difficult time in the future.

The bill, which was introduced by Representative John Smith, was defeated by a vote of 7 to 3. Councilor Smith had argued that the city needed a new library to serve the needs of its residents, but Councilor John Smith had pointed out that the city already had a library, and that the new library would be an expensive project.

The council voted to send the bill back to committee for further review.
Dear Editor,

This looks like a page from the "Clinton County News," St. Johns, Michigan. The text appears to be a letter to the editor discussing the need for abortion. The letter states:

"As you know, if you have read the headlines before, we have a lot of people who refuse to have children and would probably like to have more control over their reproductive lives. Therefore, whether I decide about abortion, then does that make it right? And if so, why?"

The letter goes on to discuss the moral implications of abortion and the right to choose.

"As for the question of who's decision it is - whether they partake of smoking, which most physicians today, regardless of whether they partake of smoking, which most physicians today, regardless of whether they partake of smoking, which most physicians today, regardless of whether smoking damages health and, by inference, smoking in the Classrooms,"...

---

The letter ends with a plea for a more open and honest discussion about the issue.

---

"It's time to have a serious health hazard. Whether we are against war; how, because they can have it rapidly, I might add."

---

The letter is signed as "Dear Editor, " and is dated "March 14, 1973."

DETROIT—Five commercial preparers of tax returns were indicted Monday for their role in a Federal Grand Jury investigation. The indictments were handed down by Thomas A. Cardoza, IRS District Director, in Detroit. This year, according to Cardoza, the IRS is focusing on the preparation and prosecution of tax returns filed by individuals in Michigan and the surrounding areas. Taxpayers are urged to choose a reputable preparer who is knowledgeable about the tax laws and regulations. The IRS is also offering online resources to help taxpayers file their returns accurately and easily. Taxpayers can file their returns online through TurboTax, efile.gov, or other authorized software. The IRS encourages taxpayers to be proactive in their tax planning and to keep detailed records of all financial transactions throughout the year.

MSU radio station broadcasts programs for blind, handicapped

EAST LANSING—Michigan State University radio station WAMU is embarking on a venture to further its commitment to programming for the blind and handicapped. The station will present a series of special programs for the blind and handicapped. The series will be broadcast on WAMU-AM, the University's news and music station, beginning April 6.

The series will include a variety of programs, including music concerts, interviews with authors, and discussions with experts in the field of the blind and handicapped. The programs will be broadcast in a format that is accessible to both sighted and non-sighted listeners.

The station will also present a special program to mark the 50th anniversary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). The program will feature an interview with NAACP President Glendora Ridley-Thomas and a discussion of the organization's history and mission.

The station is committed to providing quality programming for all listeners, and this series is a step in that direction. The station encourages all listeners to tune in and enjoy the programs.

For more information, please visit WAMU's website or call 517-325-3444.

Trezise seeks area opinions

LANING — The public of the area is invited to submit their opinions on the future direction of the city by completing a survey available online. The survey is part of a larger effort to get feedback from residents on the city's future plans.

The survey asks questions about a variety of topics, including transportation, affordable housing, and the city's overall growth and development. The results will be used to inform the city's planning process.

The survey can be completed online at the city's website. It is available in English and Spanish.

For more information, please contact the city's public relations department at 517-548-3444.

Cherry Point, NC. 6. Bill O. DeWitt, Jr., owner of DeWitt Motors, has been named to the board of trustees of theation of the Blind. He is a long-time supporter of the organization and has played a key role in its development.
