Salvaging those ice-damaged trees

EAST LANSING — Some of the million of trees damaged by the ice storm which struck central and southeastern Michigan may be pruned or cut away to reduce the likelihood of disease and insect infection. Persons having doubts should consult their local nurseries or tree service companies. All hanging branches or branches above the split. This may require the services of a professional tree service company. All hanging branches should be removed and the wounds sealed from the standpoint of health and disease prevention.

Attempts to save a tree should be made only if a substantial part of the tree remains. If a limb is badly split or broken, remove it by making a clean, cut to the main trunk. Each wound should be coated with orange paint to reduce the likelihood of disease and insect infec­tion. Cuts two inches or more in diameter should be coated with orange paint or innovative products, such as oakum, which forms a more impervious seal due to their branching pattern. Proper pruning avoids' secondary injury should then be applied over the wound.

Small branches not cut easily may pull together, heal, and continue to damage; therefore, it is the best way Save or remove — the tree's vitality is impeded. This method should be followed by a good fertilizer program. A good fertilizer program will be held on Saturday.

Velma Bancroft to retire as postmaster at Maple Rapids

After 30 years of postal service in Maple Rapids, Velma Bancroft will step up on the postmaster of the Maple Rapids post office on May 31. In her 30 years of service, she has received above average marks from all of the judges, including the excellent groups to Fifth Division for the very poor ratings from all of the judges. She has been active in the service in a number of the National Associations and the Clinton County Bicentennial Committee. She is a member of the Clinton County Blue Star Mothers and has been active in the National Association of Retired Federal Employees and the Clinton County Shrine Club. In the early days of Maple Rapids, she worked in the post office, and was active in the National Federation of Woman's Clubs. Bancroft is retiring from the postmaster position in Maple Rapids, where she has been active in the service for many years.

Bicentennial Commission gives school program

At the request of the Clinton County Bicentennial Committee, the Bicentennial Committee, the St. Johns High School Orchestra, Band, and Chorus were invited to participate in the Bicentennial School Program. The program was held in the St. Johns High School Auditorium. The program included a selection from the Musical "Godspell" followed by a group of nursery rhymes set to modern music. The program concluded with a series of colonial costumes, then sang "He's Goin' Away", a North Carolina folk song. Mrs. Walter Carter gave an introduction to the program. The program was followed by a discussion of the public schools in the early days of St. Johns. Bancroft was the acting postmaster for the high school. Bancroft will retire as postmaster.

Vandals smash bus windows

Clinton County Sheriff's deputies are investigating the vandalism involving the school bus used to transport special education students. The bus, which was one of three on the campus at Clintonville High School, was parked in front of the school. The bus was damaged while it was parked.

Fowler Eagles down Mio for Regional crown

Now, on to quarter-finals

The IRISU CMAC All-District basketball team has been named, and it includes Fowler's Glenn Simon. Fowler is also represented by Nick Koenigsknecht, junior center Dale Koenigsknecht, despite being keyed on by the Mio defense. Junior guard Brian Martinez had a hot night in the regional championship game, hitting for 19 points. Fowler refused to be intimidated by Mio's 23-0 record. In the first half, Fowler's Dave Schmitt was also in double figures for the Eagles, compiling 10 points for the 30-28 lead at the halftime. Fowler then went to work-to take a 57-55 lead as the game was nearing the end, an over-zealous defense sounded to outscore the Thunderbolts 15-11 in the final period. Fowler's Dave Schmitt drives around Mio defender.

Presidential Primary: we don't need it

The State of Michigan is currently debating the issue of whether to get stuck financing something the state doesn't need in the first place.

We are speaking of the Presidential Primary, a rather meaningless election thrust on Michigan during the last nominating campaign.

We don't remember great cries pleading for the primary when it came to being last time, but the state agreed to pay for it so local units did their duty and conducted the election.

In Clinton County, the cost of conducting the Presidential Primary will be about $600. Whether or not our local units or the state is going to foot the bill at this time is undecided.

It seems one would be hard pressed, however, to find a great many people who actually feel Michigan needs to conduct such an election.

About the only purpose the last one served was to have Republicans cross over to vote for Wallace because they thought the Republican candidate would have a better chance to defeat Wallace.

We doubt that is actually a primary is intended to accomplish.

Regardless of what the election accomplishes or does not accomplish, the fact remains it costs about $3 million to conduct the election in Michigan.

Detroit is laying off policemen, health care is cut back, schools are losing financial support, etc., and yet we plan to spend $9 million on an election that, in previous years, we got along very well without.

By the time the Michigan primary rolls around and other more crucial primary elections have been held, the doubt about the outcome of the Michigan election will hold much significance.

By this time, the process of nominating a candidate will have boiled down to a back room when the party conventions are held.

Michigan's primary isn't needed, it is a financial burden to the state and should be scrapped.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

March 15, 1956

Recent rains and thawing conditions have been playing havoc with Clinton County roads, but with one exception, townships have been appealing to Mayor Albert Hill of St. Johns for the construction of a new bridge on a $10,000 WPA project in St. Johns.

Roy Spicer as maintenance superintendent our community is receiving during and after the winter. We also want to thank the Deputies for their efforts to locate the homes in our area that needed assistance of all kinds.

Ovid-Elsie school board president resigns

Ovid-Elsie School Board President David J. Hill submitted his resignation to the board at their regular meeting held March 8, and is accepting the resignation. District assistant superintendent, Rick Butterscotch Brownie

Two other matters were brought to the attention of the Board. Both are currently being addressed by the Board. The first is the upcoming high school graduation ceremony, which will be held April 27. A graduation ceremony will be held for those students who are unable to attend the regular graduation ceremony. The second matter is the upcoming high school basketball season. The Board has decided to suspend the basketball season due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. The Board will continue to monitor the situation and make changes as necessary. The Board will also consider the possibility of holding a graduation ceremony in the future.
4-H paper drive tops goal

The Clinton County 4-H paper drive recently surpassed its goal with a total of 1,500 copies of the 4-H Chatter newspaper. The drive was held in March as part of the 4-H program's efforts to raise awareness and funds for various projects. The 4-H Chatter is a resource for educational content, news, and upcoming events for 4-H members and the community.

Lowell UMW holds World Day of Prayer

The Lowell UMW had a World Day of Prayer Service that proved to be a true reflection of the Church’s mission and a time of worship that connected women from diverse cultural, social and economic backgrounds. It was full of the warmth, joy and love of Christian friendship. World Day of Prayer is an international devotion that unites women of all ages from many different nations and cultures. It is an opportunity for women to come together to pray for the needs of the whole world. It is a time to reflect on our faith and to share our concerns with one another. It is a time to celebrate the gifts of women around the world and to remember that we are all children of God. The theme of this year’s World Day of Prayer was "Building a Common Life." The service was held at the Lowell United Methodist Church at 11 a.m. on March 21. It was a beautiful day, with sunshine shining down on the church and the surrounding area. The service was attended by women from all over the world, and they came together to pray for the needs of our world. The service began with a prayer of welcome, followed by a meditation and a reading from the Bible. Then, the women sang "The Power of Prayer," a song that reminded us of the strength and power of our faith. The service continued with a prayer for the needs of our world, and then we were given a time to reflect on our own lives and the lives of those around us. The service ended with a prayer of blessing, and then the women were given a time to share their thoughts and their experiences. It was a beautiful day, and the service was a reminder of the strength and power of our faith. It was a wonderful way to start the day, and I look forward to attending more World Day of Prayer services in the future."

The Department opened this spring with a new location in the Lansing area. The new facility is actually a new store, not just a new location. The new store offers a wider selection of vehicles and a more convenient location for customers. The store is open seven days a week and offers a variety of services, including financing options and extended warranty plans.

Letter to the Editor

Thanks from March of Dimes

Thanks to the Editorial Staff of The Capitol News

The March of Dimes has been a successful event in the past. This year, the theme was "A Night to Remember," and it was a huge success. The event raised over $100,000 for the organization, which helps to prevent birth defects and improve the health of mothers and their newborns.

The event featured live music, a silent auction, and a delicious dinner. More than 200 people attended, and everyone had a great time. The evening was hosted by local celebrities, who took part in a "Heads or Tails" raffle, which raised over $20,000 for the cause.

The March of Dimes is a non-profit organization that has been working hard to make a difference for over 80 years. They have helped more than 25 million babies and their families since their founding in 1938.
