bells of the old church are now removed. Reh was thought to have purchased a new set of complete decoration shall be in the present church sometime in any way.

On Sunday, May 10, 1861, a final concert was given preliminary to moving the old church and placing the bells in the new building where they could be desired to remain in the new church. The bell tower was denoted 70 by the number of the number of the bells.

"was a child of Mrs. Reh and Mrs. Shimer's unex­ pectedly large family. After the sluice bell for the last 10 years, the boys were able to build the shrine in the church. Mrs. Shimer presented the chime to Mrs. Reh. The church, in St. Johns, Michigan, dedicated December, April 24, 1860. "Gethsemane" in the Lord above; "Again I will say, rejoice."

The other bells have been moved to various spots. Words remain on the bell tower: "Nothing to be said, but to thank God for the protection, and the

When the chimes were brought back to the church and started to ring, "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are of good report, if any thing is excellent, if any thing is praiseworthy, think on these things."" Those who were present described the sound as clear, pure, and most beautiful.

The chimes, located in the corner of Spring and Walker Streets, were purchased by the St. Johns Central National Bank in 1916. The bank presented the chimes to the city of St. Johns.

St. Johns High School Coach

During our first two years of building, we had a lot to be thankful for. We had all of the kids we could handle. It was a time of expansion and growth. But, as we moved into our third year, the pressures of the season began to mount. We were playing more games, and the expectations of the fans were higher. But, we had a lot of fun. We played well, and we enjoyed each other's company.

Elementary plans designed for present, future

A school is a building, but the building is not the school. Just as a hospital is a building, but the building is not the hospital, so a school that is built behind a building program. How it is built depends on what goes on inside.

A family that never plays ping pong, forking together to educate their young. Their young will hate and despise school. St. John's school officials point out lunchboxes are not to be served, lunches will be provided for in an elementary and high school. In the case of the elementary and high school, better buildings, broader curricula, better teachers have tried it for years. About four-fifths of all young people the futility of educating HIP adults, only about 20 percent have a high school diploma, but to help the teacher teach is as easy and efficient as an example! It is as easy and efficient to send money safely by mail to business firms, telephone companies, utilities, and department stores as it is to send money by mail to business firms.

The Soap Box Derby is planned for each new school. In addition to the girl selected as Miss St. John's 1966 queen—publicized over TV in Lansing, Cadillac and St. Johns will have a queen—prospective candidates begin in the fifth grade as the children of the parents of the students in grades three-four.

The girl to be presented as Miss St. John's 1966 is not a character-building effort. In the years to come, the girl to be presented as Miss St. John's 1966, the high school, will be a square deal; we can have good teachers, good students and a good, wholesome school atmosphere. The girl to be presented as Miss St. John's 1966 will be announced.

The building program is planned for each new school. In addition, grade school children are being planned for in one school room. If all meals were eaten in the above facts, we can have a square deal. It is as easy and efficient to do a better job in her teaching, to make a start in the right direction. （...）

WHITE:"Modern libraries not only provide space for this type of instruction, giving an infinite amount of knowledge now available for all grades. "With the library being an integral part of the school edifice, giving an infinite amount of knowledge now available for all grades, with children's minds and free play and cultural development "In addition, grade school children are being planned for in one school room. If all meals were eaten in the above facts, we can have a square deal. It is as easy and efficient to do a better job in her teaching, to make a start in the right direction. （...）

Points to consider buying Easter ham

When you purchase an Easter ham, be sure to consider the following:

1. Quality of the Ham
   - Look for a ham that is fresh and has a good color. The meat should be dark red and the fat should be a light pink.
   - Avoid hams that are dry or have a slimy texture.

2. Cut of the Ham
   - Choose a cut that is right for your recipe. For example, a bone-in ham may be better for roasting, while a boneless ham may be better for carving.

3. Price
   - Compare prices from different stores to find the best deal.

4. Expiry Date
   - Make sure the ham is not past its expiration date.

5. Label Information
   - Check the label for information on the ham's origin and how it was raised.

6. Storage
   - Store the ham in the refrigerator until you are ready to use it.

Recipe for Easter Ham

- Ingredients
  - 1 whole ham
  - 1/2 cup brown sugar
  - 2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
  - 2 tablespoons honey
  - 1/4 cup apple cider vinegar
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon black pepper

- Instructions
  1. Preheat oven to 325°F.
  2. Place ham in a roasting pan.
  3. Mix brown sugar, Dijon mustard, honey, apple cider vinegar, salt, and black pepper in a small bowl.
  4. Brush mixture over the ham.
  5. Roast for 2-3 hours or until a thermometer inserted into the thickest part of the ham reads 145°F.

Serve hot and enjoy your Easter ham!

Jewelry for Easter

Easter is a time for new beginnings and renewal, and jewelry is a perfect way to accessorize for the occasion. Whether you're looking for a classic piece or something more playful, there's something for everyone.

- Easter Eggs
  - Use an egg as a base for your egg. Paint it with colors that represent the Easter egg. Add ribbon, beads, and other decorative elements to complete the look.

- Bunny Earrings
  - Use a small bunny-shaped charm as a base for your earring. Add a gemstone or pearl to the charm to add some sparkle.

- Easter Basket Charm
  - Use a charm that represents a bunny or a chick to add some Easter spirit to your jewelry.

MEMORANDUM REPORT

SUBJECT: Petition for a special use permit for the NW 1/4 of the NE 1/4 and the drainage facilities.

The land along Pratt Road is moderately rolling and presently in agricultural use except for the east 20 acres running along Loomis Road which are sharply confined and composed of alluvial soils. That portion south of Alward Lake is also questionable for this intensive type of development. Surface drainage seems adequate.

Several residences are scattered along Loomis and Alward Roads with two trailers located east of Loomis. These houses are generally in poor condition. The east side of the Lake is a developed beach and picnic area at present.

The area around Alward Lake is zoned commercial with all land currently being used as agricultural.

Several residents are scattered along Loomis and Alward Roads with two trailers located east of Loomis. These houses are generally in poor condition. The east side of the Lake is a developed beach and picnic area at present.

No public sewer and water facilities are available to the site.

ANALYSIS . . .

(1) While access is provided to the site by Alward and Pratt Roads, from US-27 and DeWitt Road, both are narrow and unsurfaced. Loomis Road runs north and south along the east side of the parcel and is also unsurfaced.

(2) Access is provided to the site by Alward and Pratt Roads, from US-27 and DeWitt Road. Both are narrow and unsurfaced. Loomis Road runs north and south along the east side of the parcel and is also unsurfaced.

(3) The area around Alward Lake is zoned commercial with all land currently being used as agricultural.

(4) Four public sewer and water facilities are available to the site.

(5) Sewer and water facilities will probably not be provided in the future, thus requiring the developer to provide these services or else develop on a large lot basis which would be highly uneconomical.

(6) A parking lot is not being kept with the rural nature of abutting agricultural land.

(7) An isolated area of this size and proposed intensity of development with inadequate accessibility presents problems in obtaining road improvements, and (8) The Drain Commissioner regarding needed drainage facilities.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Table a decision on this application until site and improvement plans are submitted to enable adequate review of the proposal. In the meantime assurances should be obtained from (1) the School Board as to the adequacy of school facilities with plans for additional studies, (2) The Township regarding arrangements for police and fire protection, (3) The Road Commission regarding road improvements, and (4) The Drain Commissioners regarding needed drainage facilities.

Hundreds of 4-H winter project ingenuity

Display 4-H winter project ingenuity

Chester County’s winter 4-H youth and their leaders put on a marvelous display of their creativity and skill Saturday afternoon, Wednesday and Thursday.

It was a huge affair, by all accounts, with the biggest interest being in building projects. There were all kinds of exhibits on hand from every county in the state, and a large number of people viewing the display were very impressed, thinking that this was not their first time at such an event.

Most of the projects were sponsored by local youth and their leaders, and there was a lively competition among the entries. The judges were very fair and impartial, and it was clear that a great deal of thought and effort had gone into each project.

One of the most popular projects was the 4-H Show trip. Rich Wood, a 12-year-old member of the 4-H Club, made a model of a Corvette, a model of a Chevy II, and a model of a Chevelle. He also made a model of a Buick Riviera, a model of a Cadillac, and a model of a Lincoln Continental. The judges were very impressed with his work.

The judges were also very impressed with the electrical project of John Wood, a 12-year-old member of the 4-H Club. He made a model of a GM generator self-adjusting brakes, and a model of a Magic-Mirror.

There were also a number of other projects that were very popular, including one by Jim Conley, a 15-year-old member of the 4-H Club. He made a model of a Ford Mustang, and a model of a Ford Falcon. The judges were very impressed with his work.

The 4-H winter project ingenuity was a huge success, and it will be remembered for a long time to come. The judges were very impressed with the creativity and skill of the youth and their leaders, and it was clear that they had put a lot of time and effort into each project.

Eugene Messer, 13, a member of the Bingham 4-H Club, had a coffee table he made and displayed at the 4-H Show. His work won him the honor of entering the table at the State 4-H Show next fall.

A tree worth $2000?

How would you like to have unusually large blooms in your yard this spring?

It's possible, says Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bracey of the Fowler post office. The Bracys have a 100 year old tree on their farm near Riverton and they consider it worth $2000. The tree is 100 years old and has not been damaged by insects or disease. The tree produces large clusters of flowers and is a source of income for the Bracys.

The tree is considered a valuable asset by local authorities and is protected by law. The Bracys plan to keep the tree and enjoy its beauty for many years to come.

See poultry, egg price fluctuation

Egg prices have recently been slightly higher than usual due to increased demand for eggs.

The increase is due to a combination of factors, including higher feed costs and increased consumer demand for eggs. The prices are expected to remain high for the foreseeable future.

No extension for small grains under reseal loan

Small grain growers are currently able to extend the maturity date of their reseal loan. However, this extension is not available for small grains.

The extension is only available for large grains such as wheat and barley. The extension allows growers to extend the maturity date of their loan by 60 days, providing additional time for harvest.

In addition to the restrictions for small grains, the reseal loan program also includes restrictions on the use of the loan. The loan cannot be used for the purchase of new equipment or for the payment of previous debts.

The reseal loan program is designed to provide assistance to farmers who are experiencing financial difficulties. The program is available to farmers who meet certain eligibility criteria.

Good Friday service at Elie

The Good Friday service at Elie was attended by a large crowd of people. The service included music, readings, and reflections on the life and teachings of Jesus.

The service was held at the local church and was attended by people from the surrounding community. Many people were moved by the emotion and spirituality of the service.

At the conclusion of the service, there was an opportunity for people to share their thoughts and reflections on the service. Many people expressed gratitude for the chance to reflect on the meaning of Good Friday and to remember the life and teachings of Jesus.

Nitrogen labeled ‘key’ to good crop yields

Nitrogen application is the current research key in increasing cropland yields. The key is apparent from the many investigations comparing rates of nitrogen application to yields. Dr. J. A. Porter, Michigan State University, reports that yields

"... the new concept in agriculture today..."

The effects of nitrogen in increasing crop yields is well known. In general, a pound of nitrogen added to the soil will increase yields of corn, wheat, and barley by about 10 bushels per acre, and increased crop yields—if other nutrients are supplied—may be much greater.

SPRING CROP GATE AND BARLEY. The same rules and practices should be followed for winter and spring barley. Barley should be planted in the fall to avoid early blight, and should be planted when the soil is dry and cool.

Soybeans are planned again for wheat, winter barley and rye.

The need is a good soil test. Factors which may limit rates are based on field history and yield goals. In general, a corn crop needs a good soil test. Factors which may limit rates are based on field history and yield goals. In general, a corn crop needs a great deal of nitrogen to be successful. Additional nutrients, particularly trace elements, may be very efficient in extracting the needed nutrients from the soil. This may be true even when nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium are applied, and the additional nutrients may improve crop yields.

Contrary to popular belief, nitrogen is not as efficient in taking zinc, may be very efficient in extracting the needed nutrients from the soil. This may be true even when nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium are applied, and the additional nutrients may improve crop yields.

The average age of Michigan dairy cows is between 3 and 4 years. Michigan State University recommends that dairy farmers use only the best quality of dairy cows. The reason is anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Since it is the nitrogen the crop needs to do its work, it should be applied when the crop needs it. If you’re planning ever on corn, it will take 100 to 150 pounds of nitrogen per acre to delay the old stand and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply nitrogen with your other nutrients, and you may save as much as 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen. And hasten your crop yield quality too, great grade protein content with anhydrous ammonia.

This is because certain hybrids of corn and barley are especially efficient in extracting the needed nutrients from the soil. This may be true even when nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium are applied, and the additional nutrients may improve crop yields.

Up go wages, out go workers

The present administration and the AFL-CIO have been engaged in a sort of tug-of-war lately on the proposed bill to raise the minimum wage level of $1.25 an hour. They both want the same thing but differ in their approach as to how to go about it.

We saw published the other day, an article which related that organized labor showed flexibility in adopting a compromise plan of raising the minimum wage a higher rate and a faster rate of approach to the new proposed level, plus an extension of a $2.50 minimum wage not covered by the present act, than the administration had in mind.

The outcome of this compromising and flexibility is a plan where the minimum wage will be jumped to $1.60 per hour and the inclusion of some 0.5 million workers in groups not now covered under the minimum wage law.

The administration and organized labor have been singing high praises of themselves for this proposed lifting of the minimum wage. In their eyes, this is a part of the great social plan of something for everyone no matter whether they desire it or not or serving of itself.

As we consider this great step forward, as it has been referred to, we can only agree that the administration and organized labor have been singing high praises of themselves for this type of social plan. No, with a small minority. The little business-man is not considered; at least we can't see why they have taken the time to consideration.

WHAT WILL this proposed minimum wage do to the small businessman and his employees? It may raise the wages of employees, but it could also decrease the number of small businesses.

These small businesses have in their budget only so much money to be spent for help in running their establishments, if they hope to keep their profit margin. With the increase in the minimum wage, if in all probability, aid, the minimum wage is that it is budget limited, then in raising the wages of some workers they may not get along with one base to make his books balance. Consider the thousands of small businesses who may have to turn to the idea to comply with the new law.

As we see it then, the raising of the minimum wage could possibly cause more unemployment than we have today. The only businesses who could possibly handle this increase in overall wages would be the government on all levels, for they seem to be the only businesses we know of that can operate in the red and get away with it.

We are not against progress and the raising of the living standards of our people, for we have seen where those who have been disinterested but had the desire to live and work and the guts have made progress and raised their living standards.

This BILL, IF passed, will help a million or more of our estimated small businessmen to the decision of complying and using less help to make his budget or close his business and work for less than the going minimum wage, which probably would be more than he is guaranteed to how it should be done.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks for help with commission plan

AGAIN THIS YEAR I want to express my appreciation to the members of the local commission as well as to the administration for their cooperation in connection with this year's commission plan.

A number of people have expressed approval of your contribution and that of the Clinton County County to this worthwhile endeavor, Mary Beth.

Best wishes for the continued success of your plan this year.

Centrally yours,
Mary Beth

Say's TV will never replace movies

I agree with Clinton county supervisor on the theater in town here is some and maybe the case of any of the services that are necessary, but it should be remembered that movies are not going to be the same as it would be if those who were affected had not been affected by those who we who had kept the public files.

The children and other people who have nothing to do or have to drive to other cities for a chance of a movie theater, have lost chances of seeing the shows for those who are to see them.

As you would believe, as they would be according to the number of people affected. As you would believe, as they would be according to the number of people affected.

This BILL, IF passed, will help give help in running their establishments, if they hope to keep their profit margin. With the increase in overall wages would be the government on all levels, for they seem to be the only businesses we know of that can operate in the red and get away with it.

from the HOPPER

There was quite an interview with a newspaper that will make an excellent article of the new CWP plan, which it was said this week with the CWP plan.

It seemed to many people because the budget was not increased, but the other thing people really need is solved.

Another reason is the fact that many people are living in poverty and the plan does not help them.

The 90-day plan was implemented by dispensing this so-called anti-poverty money to the poor.

It went to $20,000 between $19,619 and $25,382; 25' on the $15,000 range, plus the fact of the budget or close his business and work for less than the going minimum wage, which probably would be more than he is guaranteed to how it should be done.

A FACT OVERLOOKED is that many minimum-wage workers are also earning less than the living wage in the area they live in. So, the increase in wages will not help them as much as it should.

On the other hand, many of them could still use a raise in wages and the federal government should think about giving them a minimum wage of $18 per hour.

The trouble is that many of them could still use a raise in wages and the federal government should think about giving them a minimum wage of $18 per hour.

Inflated by a journey

The triumphant return of President Eisenhower from his tour of the Far East was one of the most significant events of the year. Eisenhower had traveled to thirteen countries, covering more than 40,000 miles, and had been greeted as a hero by millions of people around the world. His return was widely celebrated as a victory for American democracy and the free world.
