St. Johns—In a surprise move Friday, three of the four local draft board members resigned their positions, saying the outcome of the trial of Lt. William Calley, of St. Johns, was "a last straw." One member of the board, however, said he would stay on until next month's meeting. The resignations mean the board's activities will be stopped. The local activities are part of a statewide response to the court martial conviction of Lt. William Calley, of St. Johns. The board was formed in 1969 as a reaction to the My Lai massacre. The current composition of the board includes: Chairman, James Halfmann, 341 W. Main; Lloyd Peterson, 260 W. Main; and James Stevens, 340 W. Main. The resignation was announced by Peterson at a meeting Friday afternoon. "We feel that any longer involvement with the board is a violation of the American Constitution," he said. "The safety of the Board is so clearly at stake that we feel we must resign."

Two of the resigning members said they felt the board's role was "unconstitutional." "We feel that the board's role was "unconstitutional,"" said Peterson. "We feel that the board's role was "unconstitutional,"" said Peterson. "We feel that the board's role was "unconstitutional,"" said Peterson. SUGAR PLUMS AND SPRING FASHIONS

ST. JOHNS—The St. Johns chapter of the Future Homemakers of America (FHA) is sponsoring a Spring Style Show on Thursday, April 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the school. Students, bridal fashions from Julie K's of St. Johns and new styles of clothes made by home economics students, will take part in the show. There will be a 50 cent charge at the door for anyone over 13. The P-W chapter has many FHA events. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the founding of the FHA and an annual pageant competition is sponsored each year. The competition has helped many girls to develop leadership in FHA participation in many activities in their communities.

Vicki Smith bride of Thomas Woodhams

ST. JOHNS - Vicki Louise Smith of the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith of Platte, was married Saturday afternoon, April 11, 1970, to Thomas Woodhams, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Woodhams of St. Johns.

The marriage was performed by Rev. J. J. Bedell at the Oklahoma Chapel, St. Johns. The bride was given away by her father and was escorted down the aisle by her brother, R. E. Smith.

The bride was a flower girl and wore a white chiffon over pink taffeta floor-length gown, a fitted bodice, accented with ruffles, a round neckline, and long sleeves. They wore floral print gowns in blues, pinks, and greens and yellows fashioned into bouquets of pink carnations and greenery to be shown during the next meeting.

The couple was married in a ceremony attended by members of the bride and groom's families.

The following poem, with the general theme Poems of Moods, were submitted to Les Schwartz by 6th grade students at Rodney B. Wilson Junior High School, as part of a reading assignment. Schwartz then submitted them to the Clinton County News.

The Snow was as a blemishless lamb,
There's Wide open spaces.
It's nice it really is.
The rain came one day and took the snow away,
And the way it fills the empty space.
It makes you good to smell the country air.
There are guys with hair as short as the ducks all come here and even a swan.
That makes a little pond.
That's what makes summer fun.
Summer is over Man and machine has destroyed your sort of life is dying out,
We no more can hear the sound of the buck.
Or we can't hear the babbling brook.
You can hear the birds chirping and singing, and the frogs croaking.
You can smell the fresh country air.
We had everything except our kites.
We slept out in the woods that night,
We flew our kites all day until it was night.
We had everything except our kites.
Later that day we went on a hike,
We no more can hear the sound of the buck.
Or we can't hear the babbling brook.
Some of us went sky diving.
Your sort of life is dying out.
We had everything except our kites.
Later that day we went on a hike,
We no more can hear the sound of the buck.
Or we can't hear the babbling brook.
Maybe Spring is not yet to come,
Ane we're all waiting for the sun.
But where is the sun?
Flowers are coming up,
Spring is coming.
Then I sit upon the shore,
Getting sleepy, More and More.
Waiting for day, to meet the night.
Chirp, whistle, and sing.
Skies are blue 'Cause It is Spring,
But don't say I didn't tell you so.
Maybe Spring is not yet to come.
Ane we're all waiting for the sun.
But where is the sun?
Flowers are coming up,
Spring is coming.
Then I sit upon the shore,
Getting sleepy, More and More.
Waiting for day, to meet the night.
Chirp, whistle, and sing.

SPRING
Winter is like a dream,
Winter is the time to think, sleeping, falling.
It's time to think clear, fresh, sunny, Suddenly, suddenly, suddenly, Suddenly, Suddenly, Suddenly, Suddenly, Suddenly. —Stanley Searles

"LOVE"
Love comes so brief that Knowing its own time,
Not lasting too long.

Snowmounds.
Snowmobiles, icefishing.

"LOVE" "TIME"
—Stanley Searles

WINTER
Time is like a dime
It gets hotter every day.
Summer is here, hurray!
At night it is cool.
It is windy outdoors.
Birds are making nests.
There's a lot of sunshine.
The trees are turning green.
Ice is melting into water.
Winter has gone, Spring is coming.

—Ward Rand

SPRING
The sea is the most beautiful place in the Dune buggies go whizzing by,
Seagulls, squawking up in the clear bluish sky.
And go boating through the wide and wondrous
Little kids frolicking around in the water.
A boy with wondrous idesas, walking along
Over the trees fly the Jays,
Spring is EVERYWHERE I
They are so happy and gay.

Isn't there7
Where did all that fresh clean air go^to.
Screeches of sirens and smells, really
Her hair was like silk.
She was all that 1 cared for
She was all that 1 could Love,

I love the country.

The smoke from the smokestacks,
The trash laying all around
What about the pollution?
Because if you start smoking,
Then you'll start poking, poking,
Because now all you hear is a siren.

Seas, worlds.

SPRING IS COMING
Spring is here, Spring is coming.

—Randy Bellant

SPRING
Winter is full of cold days
With carrier selling of a new
The time goes by the minute
With shopping (leaves all signs of day.

SNOWMOBS
Seating, No, I'm not joking,
Because of the sudden coming of the
They are so happy and gay.

THE SEA
You hear a cry, a cry, as waves hit rocks, breakage, to stop you to go to the shore and go.
Little side breaking around in the water,
A few with seaweed, seaweed, seaweed,
That's why you see some rocks.

Now is the time to play in

The days go by freely and gay,Gracefully In the sky.

BEAUTY
The animals thought they were a clown
Wanting to get more food.
He saw a girl
Playing around with a clown

"LOVE"
Love is like a dove flying
In the sky.

The smoke from the smokestacks,

SOFT Electronics
In the sky.

I can not see why it had to be this way—
The snow is falling to make the ground
And the winter winds blowing around
The snow is falling to make the ground

"LOVE"
Love is like a dove flying
Gracefully In the sky.

Close the gate.

“SHIT”
You see a crane, a crane,

WHERE WAS ALL THAT I LOVED
She was all that I could see,
She was all that I could see,
A few with seaweed, seaweed, seaweed,
That's why you see some rocks.

SHE WAS ALL THAT I LOVED

Next Sunday In
Clinton County Churches

We welcome you to the fellowship of our services. Our desire is that you find in our worship the assurance of God's love and the hope of His purpose. We believe that Sunday is the Lord's Day and that we should give it to Him. We therefore do not observe Sunday School in the morning, save in the case of the confirmation class, but reserve our first worship service for the worship of God. We invite you, therefore, to worship with us at 11 a.m., and to attend the Sunday School at 10 a.m.

It's A Great Feeling

by TIM YOUNGKMAN

DeWitt Water 2

The DeWitt Middle School was accepted into the highly selective North Central Association of Colleges and Schools on April 5, 1971. This was a major milestone for the school, as it was the first time the school had been accredited by an outside organization.

The school was established in 1929 and had been working towards accreditation ever since. The principal, Mrs. J. D. Robinson, was thrilled with the news and said, "We've been working towards this for a long time, and it's wonderful to finally see it come true." The students were also excited, with many saying they felt a sense of pride and accomplishment.

Middle School Administrator, who attended the national conference, was overjoyed with the news. "This is a great day for our school," he said. "It's a testament to the hard work and dedication of our students, teachers, and staff." The administration plans to continue to work towards excellence in education and to provide the best possible education for the students.

Tell them you know

There are so many people, particularly in small communities, who are continually doing unselfish tasks for the benefit of others. They often go unnoticed and quite frankly, unappreciated.

We take these kind-hearted, interested persons for granted because they are not seeking praise, nor do they wish to be remembered for the number of deeds they may have performed.

We can all pick out people in our community who know of no other way of life than being helpful. And how can you place a true value on their services? It's almost impossible, but we're sure the best payment that could be offered would be an occasional knowledge of appreciation.

It proves an embarrassment to these people to call public attention to their valuable community. But they should be told how much their dedicated work is appreciated. We believe that this column will be warmly welcomed by your readers.

Let's not always the civic worker for granted.

One Year Ago

April 10, 1970

One of the best known authors of our time will be returning to DeWitt to speak at the high school on April 10th. The author, who has written several best-selling novels, will be giving a lecture on the art of writing and will also answer questions from the students.

This is a rare opportunity to hear from one of the great minds of our time, and it is sure to be a memorable event. Don't miss it!

Ten Years Ago

April 6, 1961

The Clinton County News will be celebrating its 100th anniversary on April 6th. To mark the occasion, the newspaper will be printing a special edition that will feature photos and stories from the past century.

As you read through the edition, you'll be able to see how much news and information the world has changed over time. From the early days of photography, when it was a rare luxury, to the modern era of instant news and information, the world has gone through many changes.

But one thing hasn't changed: the importance of journalism. The Clinton County News has always been a voice for the people, and we hope you'll continue to support us as we continue to bring you the latest news and information.

it was quite a week for the police. Robert Prowant, Drew Carpenter, and will be owned by Roy Bovee of Lansing who also is the owner-

"Tell them you know." This is a phrase that has been used by many in the past to encourage others to express their gratitude to those who have helped them.

But it's not just about expressing gratitude. It's about acknowledging the hard work and dedication that goes into providing a better community for all.

Do you know someone who has done something special for you? Let them know how much you appreciate their efforts.

Welfare scandal

by SIR.

WILLIAM S. BALENSKOFF

As the move everywhere in the 19th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, Mrs. Betty Ford this week reminded Americans that welfare is the most visible face of inequality. In her recent speech at the Democratic National Convention, Mrs. Ford emphasized that the welfare system is critical to the well-being of all Americans, particularly those who are economically disadvantaged.

The 18-year-olds say: "If we are old enough to die for our country in war, we are old enough to buy a beer."

This statement underscores the ongoing debate about the appropriate age for consumers to legally purchase and publicly consume liquor. The controversy—that 18-year-olds should be permitted to consume alcohol has run into extremely strong opposition from those Who feel strongly that there should be some restraints on youngsters for their own protection.

The story of the 18-year-old who could inherit money without old enough to marry but he cannot be...
