Clarkson backs Tri-County airport plan

The April 16 meeting of the Clinton County board of supervisors was characterized by a spirit of cooperation and productivity. The board moved swiftly through a long agenda, approving a number of items with little discussion. One of the key decisions was the establishment of a Tri-County airport committee, with the goal of developing a regional airport to serve the needs of the three counties. This move was supported by Supervisor Nelson, and was seen as a step toward increasing commerce and economic development in the area.

Last week was busy for supervisors, too

While the meeting was relatively straightforward, there were a few areas of discussion that caught the attention of the supervisors. One of these was the issue of traffic deaths in the county. The supervisors were concerned about the number of deaths, and asked for a report on the problem. The report was presented by the county's traffic safety officer, and the supervisors were asked to consider taking action to address the issue.

Meanwhile, the board was also discussing the issue of insurance. The insurance company had recently increased the rates for Smith Hall following a report of larceny. The supervisors were asked to consider the implications of this decision, and to take action as necessary. The supervisors were also asked to consider the possibility of extending the time for insurance applications, as there had been a number of cases where applications were not submitted in time.

Watch out for deer on highways

Motorists looking for greater protection in the driving of the year should be on the alert for deer grazing along the highway.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources recently said that deer collisions with vehicles were on the rise. In 1973, deer killed or wounded by motor vehicles were in the Lower Peninsula and more than half of these were near collisions with other objects.

For some one-car fatalities.

Attempting to avoid deer at high-speeds is not always the answer. Evasive driving is also needed during the hunting season, as an increasingly deadly target for motorists.

Detectives report for another high-profile murder this week. L. B. Humphreys, who attended the funeral of Mrs. Virginia Brown, sister of Mrs. Frances Moore, made a statement that has been on the lips of law enforcement officials throughout the area. Humphreys, who witnessed the murder, reported that the victim was shot in the back of the head with a .38 caliber revolver. Humphreys stated that he had seen the victim being led away from the scene of the crime by a man who appeared to be under the influence of alcohol.

Clues support the theory that the victim was an intimate acquaintance of the deceased. Humphreys said that the man had been seen with the victim several times in the past week, and that the victim had been known to carry a .38 caliber revolver.

The investigation continues, and more information will be released as it becomes available.

Huge, ancient trees call Hartwick Pines visitors

One of the most primeval Michigan scenes of today is the 3,200-acre property of Hartwick Pines State Park. Here, amid a forest of old-growth hardwoods and pine, and one of the tallest white pine in the state, visitors can learn about Michigan's past logging era. The Mighty Michigan wheels — a device used to load and move logs — are just one of the many exhibits at the logging museum.

At the park's entrance, visitors can purchase a park pass, which includes access to the museum and other facilities. The park is open year-round, with activities such as hiking, cross-country skiing, and snowmobiling.

Another highlight of the park is the Chapel in the Pines, which offers a peaceful place to reflect on the natural beauty of the area. The chapel is enclosed by a grove of pines and is accessible through a walking trail.

Hartwick Pines State Park is open daily from sunrise to sunset, with limited hours during the winter months.

LOCATION: At the north edge of Grayling, Michigan.

Measles---
Safe, Effective Vaccine protects your children

There are two kinds of measles.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, reports on the two kinds of measles:

Measles, or "rubella," is a different disease from the rubella virus that causes "German measles." It's also different from the rubella virus that causes "German measles.

To recognize, there is a prevalent, long-lasting rash, usually associated with symptoms of the disease for three or four days before the rash appears, such as fever and coughing. However, if a woman is pregnant when measles occurs, it may affect her unborn child. If a woman becomes pregnant during measles, about 15 percent of her children will be born with serious defects.

You know how it is when you're a child, you are sure you are going to "die happy ever after" and have a great time. As you grow older, the story lessens a little. The fairy tales promise tears for the girl next door, yours leads to the old, a white house on Orchard Street. But the girl retrieves the rings, the happy ending on the far side of the rebellion.

But life doesn't always happen like that. Sometimes a successful marriage ends in divorce, a promising job becomes a dead end, or a sure-fire investment turns out to be a total loss. Misfortune or your own wishfulness make your days seem futile and empty. What do you look for joy and hope and bright tomorrows?

God's love is the only way to find real and lasting happiness. Comfort, strength, and purpose are yours for the asking. Why not attend your church today and find new inspiration for your life?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

... All For The Church

The Church is a greater force on earth for the building of a better world. It is a source of spiritual inspiration and is a living Church, neither democracy or dictatorship nor parties. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend their church today:

1. For his own sake.
2. For the sake of his children's sake.
3. For the sake of his community and culture.
4. For the sake of the Church building, which today needs your support.

Pilgrim Church plans caravan to British Honduras this summer

A new unusual trip is in the offing. A caravan of thirteen will make its way from the Pilgrim Methodist Church, St. Johns, Michigan to British Honduras this summer.

This trip will take about 30 days and 7,000 miles. In deference to limited summer vacations, the trip is expected to begin around the first of July.

The group plans to drive or fly to any central meeting place that will be chosen on a trip particularly during the first part of their winters. Doubling up on various descriptions will be the order of the day.

For the most part, they will plan to make short trips to visit various Methodist churches in favor of staying in a hotel or motel

Members of this group, who will include a skilled navigator and at least one navigator, will have already set several definite times and dates for this trip. The members will be expected to be in the air or on the road within the month of July.

The group will be traveling to the mountains, where they plan to camp out and to speak to various organizations. They are expected to begin in June and to speak at a variety of locations in the northern part of British Honduras.

In the meantime, they have arrived at their destination. The group hopes to arrive in the British Honduras sometime in July.

Church, soon to be known as the Methodist Church of British Honduras, will be held at 5:30 p.m. The senior choir presented the first title, "A Glimpse of the British Honduras." The church is located in St. Johns.

For the most part, they also prefer to be creative representatives of their Christian faith, their country, and their active ministry. This trip is not, as such, a trip to make new friends or to be seen as a world traveler. It is, rather, a trip to strengthen their own faith and to be creative representatives of their Christian faith, their country, and their active ministry.

It's official - next school millage election June 10

Another school millage election for the St. John Island School was held Tuesday morning after the schools had been closed for the afternoon due to a snowstorm that began early Monday afternoon. The school was closed for the day and the election was held during the afternoon.

The election was held at the school and was attended by the students, who were polled by the teachers. The result of the election was that the millage was approved by a large margin.

The old Olive Center School

Every office the school building on the northwest corner of the Fruit Belt and US 12 opened in 1912 for the first time in 1912, it had an enrollment of 97 students and was operated by the Olive School District. It was replaced in 1958 by the new Olive School which had an enrollment of 300 students. The old Olive School was torn down in 1968.

Olive Township Superintendents Earl Barks contributed the following information about the old Olive School. When he was a student there some 10 years or so ago. The information was inherited by Mr. and Mrs. John Barks of Allendale, who were the last owners of the school.

School record

The first meeting on record for the Olive School Center was held in 1868. There were 15 votes in the census recorded in 1868. The school was attended by 40 students at this time, and the winter term was held during the months of January, February, March, and April.

The school was operated by the Olive School District, and the first principal was Mr. John Barks. He was succeeded by Mr. and Mrs. John Barks in 1912, who continued to operate the school until 1958.

Cookhead

Mrs. John Barks was the first teacher assigned to the school. She was succeeded by Mr. John Barks in 1912, and he, in turn, was succeeded by Mr. and Mrs. John Barks.

The old Olive School was closed in 1958, and the Olive School Center was opened in 1968.

Kindergarten sign-ups start

Kindergarten registration is underway at the St. Johns School District schools. Children who will be five years old by October 1, 1973, are eligible to register for kindergarten. Children who will be four years old by October 1, 1973, are eligible to register for pre-kindergarten.

Registering is recommended, but not required, for all eligible children. Parents are encouraged to register their children as early as possible to ensure that a place is available for their child.

Registration will be held at the following schools:

- St. Johns School
- St. Johns Elementary
- St. Johns Middle School
- St. Johns High School

Parents are requested to bring a copy of their child's birth certificate to the registration. The school district will provide a registration form and a schedule for the child's morning or afternoon kindergarten.

Breakfast Program

The school district offers a breakfast program to all students. The program is offered during the morning hours and includes a meal which consists of a hot breakfast served in the school cafeteria. The program is available to all students, regardless of their family income.

The breakfast program is funded through a federal grant program, and the district is required to provide breakfast to all students who participate in the program.

The program is administered by the school district, and the staff is responsible for cooking and serving the meals. The program is staffed by trained volunteers who are supervised by the district's food service director.

The breakfast program is an important part of the district's efforts to promote healthy eating habits among its students. The program is designed to provide a nutritious and balanced breakfast to all students who participate.

Studying for SATs

The SATs are a standardized test that is used to measure a student's knowledge and skills in reading, writing, and mathematics. The test is administered by the College Board, a non-profit organization that provides educational services to students, schools, and educators.

The SATs are taken by high school students who are planning to attend college. The test is used by colleges and universities to evaluate a student's readiness for college-level work.

The SATs consist of three sections: reading, writing, and mathematics. The reading section tests a student's ability to understand and analyze written passages. The writing section tests a student's ability to write effectively and clearly. The mathematics section tests a student's knowledge of algebra, geometry, and statistics.

The SATs are scored on a scale of 200 to 800 for each section. A score of 600 or higher is generally considered to be a strong score.

Study guides and practice tests are available online and in bookstores to help students prepare for the SATs. Many students also take SAT prep classes or work with private tutors to improve their scores.

Getting ready for the test day

On test day, students should arrive at the test center at least 30 minutes early to register and complete any necessary paperwork. Students should also bring their identification to the test center.

During the test, students are allowed to use calculators, dictionaries, and other reference materials. However, they are not allowed to use cell phones, tablets, or other electronic devices.

After the test, students will receive their scores at the end of the test or by email. Students who are unhappy with their scores can retake the test at a later date.

Getting ready for college

By preparing for the SATs and other college entrance exams, students can increase their chances of getting into the college of their choice. This will help them avoid the stress and financial strain of attending a college that is not a good fit for them.

In addition to taking the SATs, students can also improve their chances of getting into college by maintaining good grades, participating in extracurricular activities, and volunteering in their communities.

The Future

By preparing for the SATs and other college entrance exams, students can increase their chances of getting into the college of their choice. This will help them avoid the stress and financial strain of attending a college that is not a good fit for them.

In addition to taking the SATs, students can also improve their chances of getting into college by maintaining good grades, participating in extracurricular activities, and volunteering in their communities.

Right variety, good seed are soybean crop needs

Crop scientists say that if you are going to have a successful soybean crop, it is very important to have the right variety and seed. Choosing the right variety and seed is a crucial step in ensuring a good harvest.

Plants thrive best when they are given the proper conditions. This includes having the right variety of soybean seeds that are adapted to the growing season in the area. The variety of seed you choose can greatly affect the yield and quality of your crop.

Another important factor is the quality of the seed. It is not enough to just plant the right variety of seed; you also need to plant high-quality seed. This means that the seed should be treated to prevent disease and pest issues, and that it should be fresh and not too old.

Soybean variety and seed are important to the success of a soybean crop. The right variety will ensure that you get the most out of your investment in terms of yield and quality. Therefore, it is essential to choose the right variety and seed for your specific conditions and needs.

Falling catlafta early, gain more profit

Growing soybeans can be a great way to increase your profits. By selecting the right variety and seed, you can ensure that your soybean crop will be successful and yield high profits. Here are some tips for growing soybeans:

1. Choose the right variety:
   - Select a variety that is adapted to your specific growing conditions.
   - Choose a variety that is disease-resistant and has good lodging resistance.
   - Consider the environmental factors in your area, such as soil type, temperature, and moisture levels, when selecting a variety.

2. Use high-quality seed:
   - Use certified seed to ensure that you get a consistent, high-yielding crop.
   - Store seed properly to prevent moisture and disease damage.
   - Plant seed at the right time and depth to ensure proper germination.

3. Irrigate properly:
   - Irrigation is important to ensure that your soybean crop receives the right amount of water.
   - Use precise irrigation systems to minimize water waste.

4. Fertilize effectively:
   - Use the right type and amount of fertilizer to ensure optimal growth.
   - Fertilize with nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium to support plant health.

5. Manage pests and diseases:
   - Monitor your field for signs of pests and diseases.
   - Use effective pest management strategies to control insect and disease outbreaks.

By following these tips, you can ensure that your soybean crop will be successful and yield high profits. Choose the right variety and seed, use high-quality seed, irrigate properly, fertilize effectively, and manage pests and diseases to maximize your profits.

Price action raises dairy farmers’ incomes

Recent government actions could have a substantial impact on dairy farmers by increasing their income. The Department of Agriculture has recently set the price-support level for milk at a new high, aiming to provide a financial boost to dairy farmers. This move follows a substantial increase in milk prices due to increased demand and limited supply, making this a significant development for the dairy industry.

A couple of months back the Clinton County Chamber of Commerce chose a possible location on the southeast side of town, for a combination bus stop, travel rent area, Chamber office and bus station. The most pressing need is for a bus station!

While we thought, and still do think, the idea and location has merit, there are tentative plans to run a boarding building, location away from center of town and money — and the foremost problem is the Chamber of Commerce picking up an additional 2 cents per parcel. This, too, the Chamber could handle from this center.

The depot, the large lawn and parking area also provides an ideal introduction to more and users — by-pass information. It's not far off the beaten track of M-21 and U.S.-27, and it would also serve you get more potential customers downtown for local merchants.

There should be little initial investment for the Chamber of Commerce in boosting at the depot — certainly no investment such as a new building, purchase of land, etc. would entail. We highly recommended the Chamber of Commerce investigate thoroughly the possibility of getting this bus station business at the downtown depot. We think such a proposal would be welcomed by the railroad, too.

MS Hope Chest drive deserves our support

As the age of human transplanted becomes a reality, especially as "ClintOn", is developed in a test tube, we would say that medical science has reached the point. But it's not true. There are still many diseases that battle investigators, but there are no solutions. We do know what happens to a person afflicted with MS. The protective covering of nerve fibers in the brain and spinal cord disintegrates. Scars form and nerve impulses are distorted, sometimes even blocked. So many who discuss MS don't know what causes MS—what triggers the disintegration. Another question to be answered.

You can help investigators find these answers. Write to the MS Hope Chest campaign which is currently under way. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society's anti-MS campaign — your next reader's drive to raise funds for national and international research programs as well as for local medical services .

The society is currently supporting investigations on MS, to raise society that would set aside.

During 1968, the national society budgeted $1,000,000 for its research and research fellowship programs. Scientific breakthroughs into the cause of the illness, now for the 3rd year, the per capita giving of the MS Hope Chest campaign.

Let's help as much as we can by giving generously to the MS Hope Chest campaign.

Our community library basic tool of learning

April 21st—37 will mark the observance of National Library Week. The purpose of this observance is to call attention to the important roles libraries play in the development of lifetime reading habits as the foundation of a better informed people. Within our nation's libraries are stored all the wonders of the world's literature, scientific knowledge, art, politics — every area of imaginable human interest — as well as storing the exploring mind. We have must overcome the wisdom of the ages and harness technologies yet usher in a community library as a basic tool of learning for almost — a price. Scientists predict that what it will set the feet upon the path of leadership in a complex and changing world.

Youth outlines career of rocket's father

By ROBERT S. SULLIVAN

St. Joseph, Michigan

Robert Goddard was born in 1880 in small town in Wren­ net, Mass. As a boy he always liked to tinker with the idea of making a flying machine. He read everything he could find about the subject and experimented in a backyard laboratory.

In the last year or so, he has been working on a similar project, which he hopes to complete soon. It is called the "natural" rocket, and it is designed to perform exactly like a projectile. Goddard's work has been done under the direction of Professor Charles Stark Draper of M.I.T.

In later years, Goddard had his big breakthrough for two years. But this only gave him more time to think about the idea of sending a man through space. After Goddard was well along in his work, he sent a report called "Rocket Science," where he stated that this idea was feasible but would require much study.

Goddard's first flight was on April 19, 1926, at the age of 46.

After this flight, Goddard embarked on his greatest venture, the search for a way to use rockets in the field of transportation.
He worked with the U.S. Army, the Navy and the Air Force on various projects, including the development of the V-2 rocket.

In 1945, Goddard's company, the American Rocket Company, was founded to develop rockets for military use. The company was later acquired by the U.S. government, which continued to fund research and development.

In 1956, Goddard received the Distinguished Service Medal from the U.S. government for his contributions to the field of rocketry.

In 1958, Goddard died in his sleep at the age of 78.

The legacy of Robert Goddard has had a profound impact on the field of rocketry and space exploration. His work laid the foundation for modern space travel and continues to inspire scientists and engineers to this day.
