There appears to have been only slim opposition to the $3,970,000 bond issue approved by the St. Johns community the other day for a new high school and new rural neighborhood schools.

A property owner was quoted as saying that he had been told that approximately 80 per cent of the county had already voted for the bond issue.

It is noteworthy for the school board's building program must be brought up to the level of the 1940's and present neighborhood high schools.

In the present high school in St. Johns, the bond issue would appear to have been a modest tax increase.

Right now the St. Johns Public School System has a slightly higher death tax. The title truyền then the majority of the Olive Center district is pegging at 15,900, and this bond issue may be paid in part by the substantial increase in the cost of living over the entire district in the past two years.

In total it would buy a cafeteria in the present high school, which would be a tax increase of $28,337. This is the amount used to figure taxes on a new $3,970,000 bond issue which divided by two gave the state equalized valuation of $29,270.

These are a lot of questions connected with such a school bond issue will affect a lot of school board officials and the school board officials who are answer questions. Many of the questions concern taxes, and the schools in the county will be affected by this bond issue.

Library spic 'n span for Library Week

National Library Week was initiated June 11, 1956 by the Hillsdale, Mich., Kiwanis Club. Sponsored by the American Library Association, it is observed in libraries throughout the United States.

In our community, the Bement Public Library, 206 W. Main St., is being deep cleaned and stocked with new books for the rest of the year. Besides the regular volumes, there will be several new sources of reading material of general interest. These include a new collection of true crime books, a complete set of the works of Mark Twain, a selection of the American Library Association’s Best Books for Young People, and a complete set of the Dow Jones Index.

A word of thanks to the fiction section coordinator, Darla Miller, for her hard work in selecting the books. Also, to the members of the Library Board for their support and dedication to the library.

Mass bike signup this Saturday

The St. John Outback Club will conduct mass bike signups at 2:00 p.m. on May 9th at the St. John Community Center. The club encourages all cyclists to participate.

Kripps Road Bridge Reopened

Sometimes it’s hard to believe it even when you see it. On Wednesday morning, March 29, the Kripps Road bridge collapsed into the Looking Glass River when a car knocked out one of the support girders. Last Friday evening the bridge was open to traffic again after being raised and repaired by the Yeager Bridge Co. of Saginaw. County Road Commission crews put fresh planking on the deck of the bridge and last Friday afternoon were tightening small cables in preparation for reopening the bridge. With this repair job, it was a case of everything and everybody being available at the right time. The bridge was down only two weeks and two days.

First Consideration for Family Security...

A Savings Account at Clinton National Bank & Trust

In spite of all you hear and read these days about fancy savings plans, there is NO SUBSTITUTE for the Security, Convenience and Flexibility provided by an old-fashioned PASSBOOK SAVINGS ACCOUNT at Clinton National Bank.

With a Passbook Savings Account you can be assured of funds immediately available when you want them. Deposits of each of our customers are protected up to $10,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. This can be increased, however, by maintaining multiple accounts — thus, a husband and wife can insure up to $20,000, and a husband and wife and child up to $30,000.

The earnings on Savings Accounts at Clinton National are pegged at the Federal maximum of 4% annually, with interest computed and compounded quarterly.

A Passbook Savings Account is the recommended first consideration for family security — but for the fortunate few who have possible emergency needs adequately covered by passbook savings, there are available Clinton National Certificates of Deposit paying 4½% interest. Certificate savings, however, are investments for a full year and may not be cashed prior to maturity without a sacrifice of interest earnings.

Spring fashion colors bright, beautiful

BY HELLEN BEACH

Spring's marching majorly in the clothing business, and sure, many of the new 1966 fashions could be worn any time of year.

What is the fashionable--will it hold in water color?--boys, girls, children, and all the housewives who know the story.

As a matter of fact, nearly all the new 1966 fashions could be worn any time of year.

In choosing a number of the new items, note some of these--ruffles, yellows and oranges--shadowed by blues and greens in the entire collection. For those who have always included linen and cotton in their wardrobe, there are many more this year. Ruffles and linen are combined with tops and gowns in great variety.

IF RED is your color, look for fire bands, predominantly combined with black and white, and still plenty with gray, pink and green. Florals, pink and green are imported, and also combined with red.

Green is all around this spring. Blue-green, avocado and jade, are imported in high fashion.

AUTOMATIC GAS COOKING

Visible gas ranges have different styles, features, and uses, making it difficult to decide which is best for your needs. There are both gas and electric models available, and each has its own advantages and disadvantages. Factors to consider include safety, ease of operation, and cost of operation. Gas ranges typically offer a wider range of cooking options, while electric ranges may be more convenient in terms of installation and maintenance. Ultimately, the decision will depend on your specific needs and preferences.

Nearly 500 billion has been put to work on the federal highway system since 1970, with little work to do, since most major projects have not advanced beyond the preliminary stage. This is one of the reasons why we have so many roads, but so few drivers. The result is that we have a surplus of roads and a shortage of people to drive them. This is a problem that needs to be addressed in order to ensure that our roads are being used efficiently and effectively.

CLINTON COUNTY NEWS, St. Johns, Michigan

Life With The Rimples
By Les Carroll

She was a very young girl.

"Hey, Poodle, you're taking too long.

I'll take your hair with a pair of clippers.

"You're just plain old slow.

I'd better hurry, or you'll be late for school."
The beauty around us...

Spring is a scenic time of the year, even though trees are still bare and some stand tall and gaunt in death, they still add character to our vast material advancement of today, or are we truly, as it appears, becoming indifferent and lethargic about the values that mark a free, proud and independent people? We have our opinion, but only the history books of the future will tell us more.

Exodus of youth alarming

As startling percentage of the nation’s agricultural programs is composed of rural youth. Norman A. Brown, economics of agriculture at Michigan State University, said recently that an estimated 66,000 Michigan youths have dropped out of agriculture in the past four years.

Young people who enjoy healthy life should not feel that career in agriculture has only dull, drudgery work ahead of them, according to their teachers.

PROSPECTIVE AGRICULTURAL enrollment must exceed expectations of trained adults. There is a shortage of agricultural presence from cities and small towns that graduate of college. Many of these potential students are not aware of educational opportunities in agriculture.

There are many rural agricultural organizations. These can be practically anywhere, from clubs to homesteads, but all need the guidance and support of a careful teacher to aid in their educational programs.

The enrollment in agriculture, however, has declined. The Michigan School News reports that from 1946 to 1950 the College of Agriculture had an average of 4,434 students; in 1951-55, 4,000 students; and in 1955-59, 3,500 students.

In the city, the enrollment is much larger. The city of Chicago, for example, has a larger enrollment than the entire state of Michigan. Grassroots organizations can be found in all areas of the country, but their support is needed to keep the enrollment up.

In order to prepare themselves to work in the fields, these young people should be able to handle farm equipment and livestock. They should also learn how to work with farm machinery.

Public service organizations in agricultural education are directed at keeping young people in agriculture. The aim is to create a balance between work and play, and to provide a realistic view of the agricultural world.

The emphasis is not on theoretical knowledge, but on practical application. They should be able to handle farm equipment and livestock, and learn how to work with farm machinery.

The enrollment in agriculture is much larger than the enrollment in the city. According to the College of Agriculture, there are over 66,000 agricultural programs in the United States. These programs are designed to provide young people with a realistic view of the agricultural world.

Romney appears as unbeatable as Williams did as executive

By Elmer R. White

The new presidency of the Michigan State College, announced at the spring meeting of the alumni, was made official by the election of Governor George W. Romney to the post of 20 years or so.

A new era may be marking the end of the period of political activity that Governor Williams represented. Romney is said to have been opposed to any change in the present administration.

The news of his election was met with a shower of cheers by the students and faculty, who are looking forward to the changes that lie ahead under his leadership.

The new governor is expected to be an active participant in the political arena, and is likely to take a strong stand on many of the issues that are currently of concern.

The Michigan State College is one of the leading academic institutions in the state, and its students and faculty are well aware of the importance of having a strong, effective leader in charge.
