Ninth grade will move to St. Johns High School

By JON EAGLE

Opening the high school by ninth grade students is a re-occurrence in the Department of Environmental Affairs for a city who was already a member of the St. Johns Regional Planning Committee. The leader of the group is Philip Allen of the St. Johns Regional Planning Committee.

The transfer of ninth grade students to St. Johns Regional Planning Committee was made in observance of the nationwide program Earth Day.

COURT COMMISSION

Chaired by Judge Ballenger, the commission worked through months of study on the issue of districting. Judge Ballenger, who was chosen by the commissioners, then presented the final work to the court.

Ballenger said that the work was not easy, but that the court knew it was necessary to do it. He said that the court had taken this step because it was the only way to solve the problem of how to draw the lines that would be fair to all of the people in the county.

Judge Ballenger said that he had worked with the commission for some time and that he had been impressed with the way they had handled the job.

The commission had held many meetings and had worked hard to come up with a fair solution. Judge Ballenger said that he was proud of the work that they had done and that he was confident that the court would be pleased with the final result.

When the court meets to consider the commission's work, it will have to make a decision on the best way to draw the lines for the districts. Judge Ballenger said that the court would have to consider many factors, including the population of the different parts of the county, the geography of the area, and the history of the districts.

Judge Ballenger said that he hoped that the court would make a decision that would be fair to all of the people in the county. He said that he believed that the court would make the right decision and that the new districts would be a good thing for the county.

Judge Ballenger said that he was looking forward to seeing the new districts and that he was confident that they would be a improvement for the county.

To share mutual problems

School board members view county association

By ROB EAKLE

Editor

School board members and superintendents representing all six Clinton County school districts recently held a one-day meeting at the county courthouse to share mutual problems and goals.

Approximately 30 school board members and superintendents from the Clinton districts — St. Johns, Mt. Pleasant, Alma, Charlotte, Ovid-Elsie, and Portland — were called together at St. Johns Thursday by Stan Loznak, Elsie. They are members of county school boards.

Also attending were State Rep. William S. Shaller, who represents county school board members, and Julie K., a member of the public school board.

"We try to provide services you can't provide alone," said Pocuis, "Our services are only limited to those which appear in page 11 of this week's paper.

The intermediate board is an arm of the State Department of Education and essentially members of county school boards, Loznak said.

"We are here to get together and discuss problems that are mutual to all of us."

He indicated that the purpose of such an organization would be to get together and discuss problems that are mutual to all of us.

"We would like to have the opportunity to view the proposed state education association," said Pocuis, "and we have been asked to consider and share these views.

He said the intermediate board is an arm of the State Department of Education and essentially members of county school boards.

"Our services are only limited to those which appear in page 11 of this week's paper.

Spring ceremony unites couple

The bride was given in marriage by her father and entered the altar wearing an empire neckline and a fitted bodice frosted with jewel applique and white and yellow snapdragons. The bride-elect is employed by Fowler High School and is a 1969 graduate of Rodney B. Wilson High School, the groom is employed at Motor Wheel in Lansing. is a 1969 graduate of Ovid-Mt. Hope High School and is employed at the Department of Labor.

The bride and groom are the children of Mr. and Mrs. George Gomez Sr. of East Steele, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Gomez Jr. on April 4.

The wedding was held at the First Presbyterian Church of Fowler and was performed by Reverend Albert J. Fowler. The groomsmen were Michael Slinkard, Ralston Carter, and David Falusz; the attendants were Bonnie Gomez, sister of the bride, and the maid of honor, Mrs. Charles Moore, who carried a cascade of roses.

Don't end garden planting too soon. Keep coolly confident while Bonnie Gomez, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and she carried a cascade of roses.

The ceremonies opened with a special meeting Tuesday, April 22.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Framingham State Teachers College and is employed by the Secretary of State. The bride is a junior at Menominee Military Academy and was presented with a diamond ring before an altar banked with white roses and red rosebuds.

The couple greeted 400 guests at the reception following the ceremony. New officers of the Exchange Club for use only by Exchange Club cadettes were dinner guests of the groom, Mrs. Gene Hinton.

Pocquis urges motorists to show added caution

School Bus Safety Week

This is National School Bus Safety Week. The public is urged to urge motorists to show added caution to buses on the road. A national program has been established for three reasons:

1. To make people aware of the dangers involving school buses.
2. To emphasize and that the emphasis of all motorists is that the safety of school buses should be known and is our responsibility.
3. To establish a national week to recognize that the safety of school buses is a responsibility by all motorists, who, in turn, are responsible for the excellent record.

The school bus which has stopped should be given traffic current and a constant speed of 10 miles per hour or less.

JAMES L. HERRING, a recently appointed member of the House of Representatives, has been awarded the bronze star for his service.

School officials, plus a representative from the State Department of Education, reviewed the school program at this time, including the distribution of student directories upon the request of the State Department of Education. "We're going to try to sell our recognition plan over the next few months," Dr. Dan said.

The school board was then presented with a report on the proposed $800,000 building project. The report included the design plans for the new building, which would be located on the current site of the elementary school. The building would include additional classroom space, a new gymnasium, and updated facilities for the school's programs.

The Clinton County Office of Civil Defense

The Clinton County Office of Civil Defense is an office responsible for coordinating and overseeing emergency planning and response efforts within the county. The office is involved in various programs and initiatives aimed at enhancing community preparedness for natural disasters and other emergencies. This entry provides an overview of the various programs and activities carried out by the Clinton County Office of Civil Defense during a specific period, as illustrated in the image of a page from a document.

The Clinton County Office of Civil Defense is involved in several key areas:

1. Community Shelter Plan: This plan outlines the shelter options available in the event of a disaster, ensuring that residents have access to safe and adequate accommodations.
2. Civil Defense Programs: These programs focus on education, training, and preparedness exercises to inform citizens about how to respond to various emergencies.
3. Emergency Planning: The office conducts planning sessions and simulations to test response strategies and improve coordination among agencies.
4. Public Information: It disseminates information through various media channels to keep the public informed about preparedness measures and emergency responses.
5. Training and Exercises: Regular training sessions and emergency drills are conducted to ensure that emergency workers are prepared for real-world situations.

The document highlights the importance of collaboration among different agencies and individuals to ensure effective emergency response. The office works closely with the Federal Government, local governments, and community organizations to develop and maintain effective disaster management plans.

The Clinton County Office of Civil Defense plays a critical role in safeguarding the lives and property of residents through its comprehensive approach to emergency management. By continuously updating plans, conducting training, and disseminating information, the office aims to improve the county's ability to respond to and recover from disasters.
Second Derby clinic Saturday at Bee's

All boys from the area and 60 or so boys have been invited to attend a Soap Box Derby Clinic Saturday at Bee's Drive-in Theatre in St. Johns.

The boys, who comprise the St. Johns Golden Glovers, will meet at Bee's at 9 a.m. to attend the first of two clinics to be held this season. The clinic is sponsored by the St. Johns Rotary Club and is part of an effort to establish a junior boxing program in the city.

As estimated 1,000 spectators turned out for a boxing exhibition Saturday at the St. Johns City Auditorium to watch the first round of matches of the Derby which is set for Sunday, June 14.

The Redwings opened the season against Owosso, St. Johns won 11-3, with the team shutout Lakewood in the second round. The Redwings opened the season with a win over Owosso, St. Johns, 11-3, with the team shutout Lakewood in the second round.

In the appendix, published in March, the state says it will investigate the case if the teacher is not found to be in violation of sex discrimination.

The State of Michigan, according to the state's secretary of state, has received a complaint from a Michigan resident who alleged that the teacher had engaged in sexual harassment.

The state is now investigating the case, and will consider taking action if the teacher is found to be in violation of sex discrimination.

The Michigan State University System has established a policy that prohibits sexual harassment on its campuses.

The university has also stated that it will take action against any employee who is found to be in violation of sex discrimination.

North Central school officials have also stated that they will take action if the teacher is found to be in violation of sex discrimination.

According to the Michigan State University System, the complaint was made to the university's Office of Equity and Compliance, which investigates complaints of sexual harassment.

The university's Office of Equity and Compliance has also stated that it will take action against any employee who is found to be in violation of sex discrimination.

Soybean sales boosted by increased demand

Agricultural economists are noting record quantities of soybeans both at home and abroad this year, according to Laurence Hart, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Program.

It is estimated that soybean production will increase by about 60 million bushels and to 1,136 million bushels this year. This increase is primarily due to the higher price of soybeans, which has caused farmers to grow more of this crop.

Soil conservation booklet published

The Soil Conservation Society of America has announced the publication of an educational children's booklet designed to convey the importance of a sanitary environment to its readers. Titled, "Working Together for a Livable Land," the booklet is the result of intensive production and is available for free distribution to schools.

The booklet is the sixth in a series of educational cartoon-type booklets designed to aid the Soil Conservation Service in its continuing educational program. The booklet is intended for teachers and is scheduled to be released in January. The booklet's educational content is based on the Social Security Administration's "Working Together for a Livable Land" campaign and is designed to be read by school children in grades one through six.

RESEARCH TOUR

Some of the news in today's dairy industry may be of interest to you. A recent report by the National Milk Producers Federation (NMPF) indicates that the dairy industry is experiencing rapid growth in recent years. The report notes that the dairy industry has grown from a low of about $2 billion in 1958 to nearly a quarter billion dollars, or about a 100-fold increase, in 1998. The report also notes that the dairy industry has grown rapidly in recent years, with the number of dairy farms increasing at an increasing rate. The report notes that the dairy industry is now the largest employer in the United States, with dairy farmers and their families providing over 500,000 jobs. The report also notes that the dairy industry is now the largest exporter in the United States, with dairy products accounting for over 20% of all U.S. exports. The report notes that the dairy industry is also a major contributor to the U.S. economy, with dairy products accounting for over 5% of all U.S. GDP. The report notes that the dairy industry is now a major source of income for many rural communities, with dairy farms providing over 5% of all U.S. farm income. The report notes that the dairy industry is also a major source of jobs for many rural communities, with dairy farms providing over 5% of all U.S. farm jobs. 1970 Dairy Fieldman named at conference

Clarence O. Yemko, in Upper Peninsula, and William Seifried at Michigan State University, have been named winners in the 1970 Dairy Fieldman contest.

Yemko was honored in the 25th annual Dairy Fieldman contest. Seifried was named at Michigan State University.

The winners will be honored at the 1970 Dairy Fieldman contest. The contest is sponsored by the Michigan Dairyman and American Dairyman magazines.

The competition is held annually to recognize dairy producers who have made outstanding contributions to the dairy industry.

4-H: world's biggest youth demonstration

More than 9 million people are taking part in the 4-H project, making it the world's biggest youth demonstration.

The project is sponsored by 4-H Clubs, which are organized by state and local officials.

In recognition of perseverance and achievement, the Farm Bureau has named 18-year-old Donald L. Murray of the MSU College of Agriculture as its 1970 4-H Wall of Honor winner.

Murray, a junior at Michigan State University, has been involved in 4-H activities since he was a child. He has been active in various 4-H projects, including agriculture, livestock, and science.

During his 4-H career, Murray has exhibited livestock at various fairs and has participated in various 4-H activities.

He has been active in the 4-H project since he was a child, and has been a leader in various 4-H activities.

Despite his many activities, he has maintained good grades in school and has been active in various community organizations.

DUMPFIRE

Although they don't burn anything in this section of the city dump, fire did break out last week when someone dumped hot ashes in the trash.

Take a few minutes now

Save time and money - check grain storage

Agricultural officials are urging farmers to check their grain storage bins and bins to prevent waste and loss.

Many farmers are storing grain in bins that have not been cleaned or maintained.

Producers are urged to check their bins regularly to ensure that they are in good condition and are able to hold grain.

Grandma's Shoes

I don't remember which I found first, Grandma's shoes or her letter. I do recall, that as I lifted things from her battered trunk, I counted how times had slipped through. Suddenly the lady in the faded family fringe becomes real.

Hand polished and worn, her tiny shoes revealed that she was a petite person and particular. A flared gown followed a minimalist heart. "Big shoes," her letters began, and as I read her words to that long ago, this land, the reality of her ten sexual pursuits in the non-denominational. Outside the daily worship, a new house, and in that quiet moment I became acquainted with her personality.

God, God sends Himself to us in just such a way. By the beauty of His world, in the thoughts within His Bible, through the ministry of His Church. To declare the revelation of His love.

Amen your church. Through worship and prayer, nurture your understanding of God.

A note of thanks

Long before most of us knew what the world could be, Isaac Walton League, which was founded in 1922, to work for a Better Outdoor Americas, brought together people committed to nature, conservation scientists and sportmen from coast to coast. The goal of the organisation was, and still is, to improve the quality of soil, woods, waters and wildlife. As a result, achievement is long, extending from the creation of Yellowstone National Park in 1872, now Wisconsin, to the fostering of the establishment of numerous national parks and seashore recreation areas. It has also carried on antitobing and antiastraw camouflage.

The Isaac Walton League has been a powerful voice in making sure everyone can appreciate the beauty of our land and the wealth of its resources. It is fitting at this time for the Post-Dispatch to show its appreciation, by recommending that the Isaac Walton League should receive recognition for its long services. Better offer of a lifetime's thank you could be presented to the Post-Dispatch in commoring the issue of 1972 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of this conservation movement. Present efforts to persuade the Post-Office Department to issue such a stamp deserve our support.

Ruth ORAL, 37, MIBBINS 4, a naming, became an agronomy student, and later, a teacher. She is a graduate of Washington State University and has been a member of the Soil Conservation Service for 50 years. She is a member of the Soil Conservation Society of America and the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

The post office is now accepting applications for the 1972 commemorative stamp.

TOMAS, Pid., MICHIGAN 4, an award-winning writer, was born and grew up in the city of Lansing. He is the author of several books, including "The Great American Novel," which was published in 1970. He is currently working on a new novel, "A Time to Remember," which is scheduled for publication in 1972.

The post office is now accepting applications for the 1972 commemorative stamp.

For a limited time, the post office is offering a special rate for the 1972 commemorative stamp.
