Two winners in the contest to select a name for the free senior citizen checking service are greeted by Clinton National Bank and Trust Co. officers, Brandon C. White, Jr., top, and Duane Miller. White chats with Mrs. Pearl Haught of St. Johns while Miller explains the new free checking plan with Mrs. George Foster of Click Road, Lansing. White is administrative vice-president and Miller, an assistant cashier, is assigned to the bank's Valley Farms office as assistant manager. The two ladies submitted the same suggestion and each received half of the $25 offered as a prize.

Celebration anniversary

Allen is proudly inviting you to sign the register for the Michigan Mennonite Association (MMA) Centennial, which will certain school funding from local property taxes to remain governed through Washtenaw and Washtenaw County.

To celebrate this momentous occasion, Allen will perform a special ceremony involving a ceremonial ribbon-cutting, a traditional address by distinguished guests, and a reception featuring refreshments and entertainment.

The event will take place on April 27, 2023, at the Community Center, located at 123 Main Street, St. Johns, Michigan. Attendees are encouraged to wear their most festive attire and bring family and friends to share in this historic celebration.

In addition to the festivities, there will be a special exhibit featuring photos and artifacts from the history of the MMA, as well as a Q&A session with Allen himself, likely addressing the future of local education and the role of the MMA in supporting it.

Don't miss this opportunity to join in the celebration and support the MMA's ongoing efforts to ensure a quality education for all students in Washtenaw County.
Wings on hot streak, stand 3-0 in league

ST. JOHNS—The Redwings baseball squad, after dropping a non-league game to Alma, 9-2, on Friday, April 14, went on to down St. Johns Marauders, 10-3, in league play for their third straight win.

Playing at home, the Redwings, who entered the contest with a 2-3 record, broke open the game in the first inning when they scored six runs on hits by Jim Schumaker, Jim Groom, Gary Mankey, Dave Andrea, John Lundy, and Gary Calhoun.

Marauders win invitation.

The Ovold-Elsle's Marauders, who entered the game with an 8-1 record, minimized the damage in the first inning by getting an out on a fly by Schumaker, who was on base after his first hit.

They tallied for two more runs in the second inning ended the Marauders when Schumaker doubled and went to third on an error, and stole home. Dave Andrea followed with a single to bring home Schumaker. Jim Groom added a base hit and John Lundy doubled to give the Redwings a 6-0 lead. Two outs later, Joe Foster doubled and scored. Foster was safe on a wild pitch from Gary Calhoun.

The Marauders placed 1-2-3 on Raderaacher's ground out before any more Redwings batters. The Marauders included "Rob" Foster, Gary Calhoun, and Ron MARADURERS win invitation.

Certainly Lasso® plus atrazine gets rid of crabgrass in corn. And a lot of other grasses and broadleafs.

If crabgrass has been particularly tough to keep out of your corn, maybe you should consider a different herbicide. Like Lasso plus atrazine.

Tank mixing Lasso plus atrazine controls that crabgrass. Plus a host of other grasses and broadleafs: giant foxtail, barnyard, smartweed, pigweed, and lambquarters.

Lasso plus atrazine tank mix for corn. One trip through the field gets both grasses and broadleafs—even crabgrass.

That's what you expect from your herbicide.

Bare facts of growing roses

This is the time of year when many students of gardening often think of the message: "Plant now!" and plant they do. Autoflowering, as the name suggests, is a variety of rose that will flower again after the first bloom. If you can't wait until the flowers fade to trim them, you can also use a pair of shears to pinch off flower buds. The flowers will bloom again. This rose is a good choice for those who want a continuous supply of flowers all season long.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT ROSE

Autoflowering roses are available at nurseries that specialize in roses. These roses are popular among gardeners who want a low-maintenance rose garden. They are sold as bare-root plants and do not need to be planted in a pot or in a greenhouse. They can be planted in the fall or in the spring. The best time to plant is in the fall, before the ground freezes. Autoflowering roses are easy to care for and require little attention once they are established. They are drought-tolerant and can grow in full sun or partial shade. They are also resistant to most diseases and pests. If you want a rose garden that requires little care, autoflowering roses are a good choice.

By Mrs. Neva Burns

The April meeting of the Woodale Women's Society, sponsored by the Woodale United Methodist Church, was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Elise Lentz. The afternoon was given over to a program of music and drama by the choir and of a musical rendering by the Woodale Youth Group. The program was concluded by the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by Mrs. Howard Peltier.

Mrs. Howard Peltier introduced the speaker, Mrs. Virginia Chamberlain, who is a member of the Woodale United Methodist Church. Mrs. Chamberlain is a native of the Belgian Congo and is a former missionary to that country. She has served as a missionary in the Congo and has been a member of the Ovid-Elsie Woman's Society for many years.

Mrs. Chamberlain spoke of her experiences in the Congo and of her work as a missionary. She spoke of the political and social conditions in the Congo and of the work of the mission there. She also spoke of her experiences in the Congo and of the work of the mission there.

Yard Storage Readily Erected

Sunday gardening clutch; build tidy tool house for it.

Warning! ‘Children’s Hidden Enemy’

WARNING! "CHILDREN’S HIDDEN ENEMY"

Children get lead poisoning when they eat bits of paint that contain lead, if a child eats enough lead paint, his brain will be damaged. He may become mentally retarded or even die.

Look at your walls and ceilings and woodwork. Are there places where the paint is flaking or chipping?

* Get a broom or stiff brush to remove all the flaky bits of paint from walls.

* Always keep the floor and a dustpan handy to protect the floor if you get a little bit of paint on it. Paint that contains lead cannot be painted over.

If you live in an older house and have seen your child putting chips of paint in his mouth, you should take him to a doctor, clinic, or hospital as soon as you can.

CHEMICAL CLEANERS DON’T WORK!

In the larger size, the tool house also becomes a prime storage place for climbers like wisteria or cleome vines which can be used to accent the tool house and provide quick cover for the back porch. Other vines can be used to soften the boxy appearance.

A flat roof is easiest to build. The entire unit can be stained or painted to match the tool house exterior to the rest of the home. Usually, it can be painted to match the tool house exterior without its appearance being noticed.

The CUTTING and ARRANGEMENT of ROSES

According to the experts of flower cutting, the way flowers are arranged can be very effective in enhancing their beauty. Here are a few simple rules for cutting roses that can help optimize the life of your cut roses by several days and strengthen them.

1. Harvest early in the morning when the dew is gone and the petals are still firm.

2. Choose flowers that are fully open but not yet wilted.

3. Make the cut with a sharp knife or scissors to the base of the flower, not too close to the stem.

4. Add a small amount of hydrogen peroxide to the water to prevent bacteria growth.

5. Arrange the flowers in a tall vase and let them sit up overnight to take in more water.

6. Place the vase in a cool, dimly lit location to reduce water loss.

7. Add a small amount of sugar to the water to retain its color.

8. Use a commercial humidifier to maintain the proper level of humidity.

One of the advantages of the modern type of humidifier is that it can maintain humidity in the areas where the plants are placed, preventing them from drying out. The humidifier is a big headache when there is insufficient water on that score. It is big headache, too, when there is insufficient water in the home, either in the opposite direction—lack of humidity. Furnishings Expert Offers Shopping Tips

Margaret Ward
Home Economist

"Did you know furniture is a must-have in your home? Not only does it add a touch of beauty and comfort, but it also serves as a key to success, Miss Ward said. Though you may not be thinking of purchasing furniture, every new house to have a new home.

Developing a plan before purchasing furniture is a major key to success, Miss Ward said. Furniture purchasing can be determined by studying magazines, newspapers and books, and visiting specialty shows, model rooms, home and garden shows. Choosing among stores will show the best decorator, she continued, what furniture is available, how various effects can be created with the same type of furniture, and which styles appeal to the purchaser when they are seen firsthand.

"For most of us," Miss Ward said, "shopping for furniture is like shopping for a new car. You have to sit in the thing and make sure it is comfortable."

When shopping at a reliable store which carries quality brand furniture, she said, "You are able to see if the furniture is right for your needs."

Miss Ward stressed the importance of budgeting, and analysis of individual needs. "You have to decide what your needs are, and what the budget is," she said, "then you can create a plan for your new home.

Miss Ward said, "shopping for furniture is a major part of the Southern Furniture industry calls it - once a home is furnished, the buyers are satisfied."

These are basic beliefs of Margaret Ward, home economist for the Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association. She also emphasizes the importance of approaching furniture shopping with careful planning, buying, and analysis of individual needs. "You have to decide what your needs are, and what the budget is," she said, "then you can create a plan for your new home."
No easy solution

We haven’t heard of too many municipal water and sewer disposal systems that can adequately handle all the water of the time, particularly during a flash flood. But city dwellers become concerned when they have water problems other than those of flash flooding and saving water in their basements is too complex for many today.

These people find it difficult, thus, to understand why a community would plan to add further strain on the present systems. It is a situation of not knowing their problem, thus, "Why complicate the problem further before taking care of the disease?"

Few sewer systems or surface water disposal systems are adequate when installed. Tax dollars are at stake and people, who don’t have problems, aren’t eager to pay more money just to help some guy at the other end of town. It is not an easy problem for municipalities to solve. There isn’t any way of arguing, either, with people, who through no fault of their own, find the city facilities inadequate, and as a result suffer considerable hardship.

The grips are legitimate, and efforts to alleviate present problems should be first on the list.

Fleeing homeowners

Warm weather brings out mosquitoes, golf bugs, baseball flies, midges, black flies, horseflies, horseflies, horseflies, horseflies, horseflies.

Summer in Michigan also brings gypsy groups and other fly-by-nighters who will fleece homeowners of thousands of dollars.

Paint jobs, driveway paving, roofing projects, they’re usually the first on the list.

The business man down the street or the local contractor who will be here today and tomorrow, and next week and next year.

With the job to protect the people.

So, if you’re fleeced, don’t you care, won’t you care.

Bits and Pieces—

Turncoat Politicians

By HAROLD SCHMALTZ

In 1973 there was a race in Chilton County for the United States Senate.

The Democratic primary was between Huber of Troy.

Huber wouldn’t have made a rival of the then prominent foods of the islands. It took a whole "foot in my mouth" I was sented. Anybody at this point.

So, anybody at this point.

Funny thing about the whole experience! I just about choked to death on my Un-belief bit. Not until Senator funny thing about the whole experience! I just about choked to death on my Un-belief bit. Not until Senator

Every year, editorial writers and other news media people have problems should be first on the list.

Fowler High hosts careers day

FOWLER—When an 18-year-old ends up with a high school diploma, many have wondered where they should go from there.

To help ease that decision, Fowler High School's student council launched a new program Wednesday that would become an annual affair—Careers Day.

With resource people from throughout Michigan representing various professions, Fowler students from seventh through 12th grades were treated to an afternoon of informative discussions with these successful in the fields.

Student Council representatives, with the help of Harvey Middleton, advisor, attracted speakers from 15 professions including agriculture, airlines, auto mechanics, building trades, civil service, clerical, college degree, conservation, cosmetics, engineering, technology and drafting, home economics, industrial trades, law enforcement and retail.

Those from Clinton County who participated in the sessions were undersheriff Anthony Hufnagel, conservation officer Donald Warch, and industrial trades instructor Ken Lasby of St. Johns.

Professionals from United Airlines, Michigan State Police, Michigan State University and Lansing Community College were represented during the three hours of conferences.

Fowler students, Rosanne Conley and Brad Miller, learn about careers in conservation.
