Outdoor notes

Michigan's Department of Natural Resources conducted a new deer survey in the state this year. The survey was conducted in 25 counties across the state and included over 2,000 observers. The survey was designed to gather information on the deer population, including age, sex, and size. The survey was conducted over a period of two weeks in January through March. The survey results will be used to help determine future management strategies, such as hunting season dates and bag limits. The survey was conducted through a combination of ground and aerial surveys, with 1,000 observers on the ground and 1,000 observers in helicopters. The survey was conducted in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development, the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. The survey was conducted in the early spring, when deer are more active and easier to observe. The survey was conducted in a variety of habitats, including forests, fields, and wetlands. The survey was conducted in cooperation with local communities and agencies, and the results will be shared with the public to help inform future management decisions.

The American Legion Auxiliary, sponsoring the nationally famous and unique competition, began its annual girls' essay contest in January to determine the best essay on the subject of "Why I Love the American Legion Auxiliary." The theme of the contest was chosen to recognize the Auxiliary's 50th anniversary in 1971.

The Auxiliary's purpose is to "promote the ideals of patriotism, Americanism, and democracy through women." To this end, the Auxiliary has established the "American Legion Auxiliary Foundation," which supports service projects and educational programs.

The contest is open to girls in grades 7-12, and the winners will be announced in early May. The first-prize winner will receive a $1,000 scholarship, while the second- and third-prize winners will receive $500 and $250, respectively.

The American Legion Auxiliary has been a leader in promoting Americanism and patriotism in the United States since its creation in 1919. The organization has more than one million members and is active in a wide range of community service projects.

An attempt to change the city of St. Johns zoning law to allow the sale of sound systems for "in-home" use was defeated by the city council in a 2-1 vote. The councilors voted that the law be referred to a study commission to be established by the city's Police Department.

The city of St. Johns, while not currently operating any sound systems, has been considering the issue for some time. The councilors voted against the motion of the city's Police Department to establish the commission, saying that it would be best to let the council make the decision on its own.

Spring is Home Improvement Time
In the Spring a homeowner's fancy turns to thoughts of making that home a better place in which to live!

If You Have a House...
Ask Yourself These Questions
Does your home need a new heating system? Do faucets drip—pipes leak? Are there other things beginning to happen. Nasal mucous membranes dry out. An extremely dry air is associated by many physicians with throat problems of all kinds. A rapid transition from high to low humidity can be enjoyed without the distraction of having to set the humidifier out. It is possible to maintain humidity at a predetermined level, automatically at a pre-set level, in heating and cooling needs, and to provide a more comfortable environment in the bedroom, nursery, or living room. People who are sensitive to this type of atmosphere can appreciate the differences that the humidifier provides. Typical of these are: a power

Any new installation of a furnace, gluing or other work should be done with care. This job will make others cream in the corner of the room, for new furnaces are a stable and quiet kind of energy.
Update That Bathroom!

Enjoy More Convenience

Bathrooms rank high on the list of rooms that can be easily improved -- bring home improvement projects. According to the trade publication, Building Supply News, 15 million bathrooms are remodeled every year for the following reasons:

- A warm, unusually good-looking decor.
- Washable, with humidity-resistant, low-maintenance materials that are also beautiful, and suitable for daily use.
- The trend now is to make the entire bathroom displays to the rest of the room with the ease of timeless and practical beauty.
- Washable wall coverings that resist heat and humidity are inexpensive, easy to install, and available at local building supply stores.
- A well-designed bathroom can make a family's life more convenient and comfortable.
- A second sink or installation of a vanity can serve double-duty if you have small space or wish to modernize your existing unit.
- The bathroom takes daily use, and it should be beautiful and comfortable. The decorating must be able to stand up to all the elements, including everyday maintenance chores.
- The bathroom displays the newness of home, and thus can be a source of pride and satisfaction.
- The three major drawbacks of older bathrooms are lack of privacy, space, and comfort. It is easy to get by with some of these problems now.
- Bathroom-related repairs are another practical way to remodel the bathroom. These range from plumbing work to painting, wall paneling that resists heat and humidity is inexpensive, easy to install, and available at local building supply stores.

Ref-Roofing? Don’t Overlook Color & Design Potential

Nearing the end of the year? Remember that modern roofing materials offer infinite design possibilities. Don’t let the original roof be cancelled by a dull, boxy look. In the market for a "new" roof? Don’t be lulled by the age-old adage: "if it ain’t broke, don’t fix it". Common mistakes in roof selection:

• Roofing a new home, or designing for a new roof in an existing home. Color-keyed roofing can add value to the new house. Consider carefully.

Home Efficiency Starts with Home Manager

The average household spends almost one year out of every four working in the kitchen. And then there are the bathrooms, hallways, living rooms and bedrooms.

Try a weekly schedule. With a little planning, the tasks are easier and quicker to do. If you divide them into four sections, you can spend one day a week on each one. It's also a good idea to clean in your home—such as every year—can save you a lot of money.

A Favorite Household Aide Can Renew Furniture's 'Complexion'

Tough grime and dirt that have built up in your furniture can be removed with the aid of hot water and a cold-hardened, abrasive cleaner. Putty knife, a small brush or steel wool is also effective. A stream of hot water will take the grime off the surface. If you're using a cold water, be sure to wash it off with cold water as well.

Are you missing space in your kitchen? Why not hang shelves for additional storage? You will find that you can store more in less space, and make better use of a small area. A few shelves may make a difference in the efficiency of all members of the family.

Now's the Time to Get Growing

Children are leaders. And they can learn by example. If you grow your own vegetables, and then there are the bathrooms, hallways, living rooms and bedrooms.

A favorite household aide can help your kitchen's appearance. A few small changes can make a big difference. Use a strainer, a trash can, a dustpan, a broom, a mop, a duster, and a vacuum cleaner. Let's start with the kitchen.

The most tedious and time-consuming task in your kitchen is probably the cleaning. The oven, the refrigerator, the countertops, the sink, the floors—all need to be cleaned. And then there are the bathrooms, hallways, living rooms and bedrooms.

Will Remodeling Add to Value?

Although many homeowners have found that remodeling can add to the improvements' product and can often add to the appearance of the property, it is not always clear how much value remodeling will add.

Robert M. Shanes, president of the National Association of Home Builders, points out that the value of a property is determined by a number of factors, including the condition and age of the property, the desirability of the location, and the square footage of the property.

According to Shanes, remodeling can add value to a property in a number of ways. First, it can increase the homeowner's comfort and convenience. For example, replacing an outdated kitchen with a new, modern one can make cooking and eating more enjoyable.

Second, remodeling can increase the property's resale value. According to Shanes, homeowners who invest in remodeling projects that increase the property's Long Island area. The National Association of Home Builders, he noted, has found that remodeling projects that increase the property's energy efficiency, such as adding insulation or replacing old windows, can add a significant amount of value to the property.

Third, remodeling can increase the property's curb appeal. According to Shanes, homeowners who invest in remodeling projects that improve the property's exterior, such as adding landscaping or replacing old siding, can increase the property's curb appeal and, therefore, its value.

Fourth, remodeling can increase the property's functionality. According to Shanes, homeowners who invest in remodeling projects that increase the property's functionality, such as adding a basement or converting a garage into a living space, can increase the property's value.

Fifth, remodeling can increase the property's safety. According to Shanes, homeowners who invest in remodeling projects that improve the property's safety, such as installing smoke detectors or improving the property's security system, can increase the property's value.

In summary, remodeling can add value to a property in a number of ways. However, it is important to note that the value of a property is determined by a number of factors, and remodeling is just one of them.

Here's First Aid for Handyman

Although many homemakers find professional craftworkers very helpful, many of the do-it-yourself type of things can be done right in your own home. Here are some suggestions:

1. If unaccustomed to physical work, the best thing to do is to start with small projects that require only a minimum of skill and can be finished quickly. This will help to build up confidence. Small jobs can be done in a leisurely manner with the extra time available. It is also an ideal place for beginning a hobby.

2. Use easy-to-clean draperies. When you make your own, you can eliminate those pesky seams, which require frequent cleaning.

3. Provide a few kitchen facilities if possible: a small sink, and hot and cold water faucets. Your kitchen is the most accident-prone area of the house. The best time to paint a stairway (and the best time to remove snow splatters) is when the paint is still wet.

RECREATION ROOM GOOD INVESTMENT

If your house doesn’t have a recreation room, chances are you’re planning one soon. For a rec room to be a really good investment, it should be as much a concern of the whole family as it is for you. The rest of the family can play and entertain their guests in the rec room.

If Cash Is Question, Loan May Be Answer

Inflation Weakens Your Home Policy

The inflation which you have been feeling in the paycheck may be one of the most important considerations affecting your home insurance policies. Inflation can impact the total cost of your home, and as a result, your insurance needs may change.

It is important to reevaluate your home insurance coverage periodically to ensure it is adequate to protect your home against potential losses. Here are some steps you can take to reassess your insurance needs:

1. Update the Coverage Value
   - Review the replacement cost of your home and its contents.
   - If the cost of building materials has increased, the replacement cost may have increased as well.

2. Review Policy Limits
   - Check the limits of your home insurance policies to ensure they are sufficient to cover the full replacement cost of your home.

3. Consider Additional Coverages
   - Evaluate whether you need additional coverages such as earthquake, flood, or windstorm insurance.

4. Check for Inflation-Protection Clauses
   - Some policies include inflation-protection clauses that adjust the coverage limits automatically to reflect changes in the cost of living.

5. Consult with an Insurance Professional
   - An insurance professional can provide guidance on how to adjust your insurance coverage to fit your current needs.

By taking these steps, you can ensure that your home insurance policy is adequate to protect your home against potential losses in today's inflationary environment.

Building ‘Attractive Nuisance’?

In what way is building an ‘attractive nuisance’? Is this some kind of fortress that is impenetrable to man? A place where evil lurks? A hideout for criminals?

‘Attractive nuisance’ is what a court in New Mexico might call a suddenly aspect of privacy in so-called ‘greenbelt’ area that is under the control of a private individual. In a sudden change of ownership, someone might decide to develop the land.

In some cases, though, it may not be inviting. It may be more like a situation where a home is on a hill, and the home owner is trying to prevent trespassers from getting to his property.

If you want to make your property more attractive, you might consider planting some trees or flowers. This can help to deter would-be intruders from coming onto your property.

FASHIONABLE FAMILY OF LIGHTING FIXTURES sets the color tone. The deep blue becomes an accent color for the room, while the lighter blue of the crystals is utilized in the larger areas.

The reasoning behind this idea is to create a color scheme that is visually appealing and also functional. The color scheme can be adjusted to suit the needs of the homeowner.

Many types of people have heard of us before, making it simple for the amateur carpenter to install a complete wall with tight, inconspicuous joints.

Even more important is the do-it-yourselfer. The panels are easy to install, if you have the tools and know how to use them.

Environmental fate

Just as hot pasta, bell bottoms and knickers highlight the precess and upcoming fashion scene, environmental reform is the latest "fad" in legislative circles. We found a story in one of the Sunday papers that summarized all the good reasons for good environmental reform in the Michigan Legislature. And it should be understood that the term "bad" in these days means far more than dumping objectionable materials in the swimming hole. Our legislators have banded one another with the following:

- A bill that would ban disposable containers by Jan. 1, 1975, and also require a six-cent deposit on returnable containers.
- A bill to levy a tax on wholesale and to all drink containers—glasses, bottles, cans. Proceeds would be used for cleaning up Inner-Lake Highland parkways.
- Several bills seeking complete ban on use of detergents and other cleaning compounds containing phosphates.
- A bill to establish "acceptable sound levels" for motor vehicles and each construction machine.
- A bill to ban the ill-fated "green-bottle" (COC) from flying or landing to Michigan airports.
- A bill requiring the environment courses to be taught in high schools.

This list on our particular list probably affects every tenth of the heart.

It is interesting to follow momentum of the environmental control efforts. While we are not in the business of cure-alls, this nation is discovering the environment has been good. For it has provided one more course most citizens should be taught. And we were about due for this.

Along with this long-lasting, lasting good also comes out of the present haze.

Beware

Although it is a year-around problem, it is a bad day for the wandering dog population.

- It is a pretty fair assumption that a majority of families own at least one dog. There is a pretty fair assumption that a large number of dog owners let their pets run the town or countryside.

Public officials are constantly getting complaints about the dog problem. And, rightly so, because it is a problem that doesn't seem to get any better.

Until enforcement of every dog law is possible, the dog population will be a dog problem to the dog owners who make a serious attempt to keep their dogs in their own immediate home area. The turned - town, low travelers constitute by far the largest sources of complaints.

- Neat.

The question is, to you, the reader, "How much is unnecessary killing of pets?" The answer you read elsewhere is we are killing pets out of existence. Your every decision counts. And you are responsible.

For the next few weeks the subject of my article will be "fading." The reason I selected this subject is the number of discussions I've had with my neighbors lately about the "fading" Twelve.

The first appearance comes at the end of Chapter One. It was the occasion of the 25th Year Anniversary of the Detroit School for Boys. The Detroit School for Boys, located at 2700 Mound St., Detroit, Mich. was the first school for boys in the United States.

The second appearance comes in the form of a "fading" in the "Bible". It is a subject of interest, and I believe, has been neglected by all that study the Bible.

One writer about Jesus and the preaching ministry which ran there with the same interest that a group of Jesus Christ and the preaching ministry which ran there with the same interest that I used to study the "Bible". No generation gap at city youth center

Dear Editor:

The "generation gap" story that you do not have at our center.

Not since teens and adults have been closer, more working together, talking together, and laughing together existed. We think that adult leaders are great. They even listen to our personal problems and try to help as others have helped us in any way they can.

Money crisis

County level personnel charged with the public's welfare are taking steps to ensure the continuity of services during this financial crisis. The county's general fund is currently $2 million below the budgeted amount, and the public health department is operating with a $100,000 deficit.

Secretary of State, Mr. E. J. White, said the crisis is due to a combination of factors, including increased costs for utilities, transportation, and salaries.

The county has already taken several measures to address the crisis, including a freeze on all non-essential purchases and a reduction in the number of staff members.

"We are doing everything we can to ensure that our services continue to be delivered to the public," said Secretary White.
