School bond issue vote Monday

Expect big turnout at polls

A heavy turnout of voters is anticipated Monday when property owners of the St. Johns School District will go to the polls to vote on a $4.6 million bond issue.

The school board is asking approval of the bond issue to finance a building program that will include a new high school, additions to two rural schools and the construction of two new rural elementary schools.

Pamela Young, who is the bond issue coordinator, said Saturday that voters will have the opportunity to decide on the following:

- A new $2.8 million high school
- $1 million to construct two new rural elementary schools
- $460,000 for additions to two rural schools
- $64,000 for minor improvements to three schools

The school board is asking for a $2.8 million bond issue to construct a new high school on a site northwest of Grandville. The new building will accommodate 1,000 students and is expected to cost more than $3 million.

The bond issue will also include $1 million to construct two new rural elementary schools on a site at the west edge of Grandville. The new schools will have a capacity of 500 students each.

The bond issue will also include $460,000 for additions to two rural schools on a site on the east edge of Grandville. The new buildings will have a capacity of 200 students each.

The bond issue will also include $64,000 for minor improvements to three schools on a site in the west edge of Grandville. The new buildings will have a capacity of 500 students each.

Education

Afford

We hope that St. Johns School District property-owning residents will vote their agreement at the polls MONDAY, MAY 9!

The Plan

After much thought, visiting other schools, talking with teachers, and consulting the citizens’ committee, the Board is submitting the following building program.

1. 26 new elementary classrooms for grades K-6
2. 3 added to existing 4 at Eaton
3. 3 added to existing 4 at Eureka
4. A new 7-room school in the southeast quarter
5. A new 15-room school in the southwest quarter
6. Special Education rooms—one in the north, half one and in the south half—would be added. These are not included in the bond issue but financed through the County Special Education Fund.
7. A new high school for grades 10-11-12 to be built on the same site south of the present football field.
8. The present high school will be used as a junior high school for grades 7-8-9. The form shop will be converted to a cafeteria.
9. Topping the seventh and eighth grades out of Central will provide 5 additional elementary classrooms. These will be used for rural students living close to St. Johns.
10. By building the four neighborhood elementary schools, almost all children will be attending school within 5 miles from home.
11. Outing about 120 rural students now attending the city elementary schools will relieve the crowded condition there.

Every dime of these two proposals will go into building construction and furnishings . . . to bring facilities up to an adequate standard.

Minor equalizing...

The equalization commissioner's job is to balance the assessments of the various properties to make sure all types of property are taxed at the same rate. This minimizes loss of revenue to local government but also insures uniform treatment of property owners. The assessments are the basis for real estate taxes.

Multi-family units for DeWitt rejected by zoning commission

DeWitt — DeWitt's planning commission last week approved a plan for the construction of three two-family dwelling units. The approval was the result of a long planning process that included several public hearings and meetings.

William Parrish had sought approval for two multi-family units on a single-family property located at 1st and Front across from the park. The commission decided that the property was not suitable for multi-family units due to the size and location.

In other action, Dr Fred Smith was given permission to build a commercial structure on land he has purchased for the purpose of parking, which he now owns.

Child guidance clinic fills big need for area families

One of the Clinton County Board of Supervisors' major problems in 1966 has been the headache of trying to find a site for the Child Guidance Clinic. With the help of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank, the clinic is now open in the Clinton County Hospital, where it is expected to do a big business.

The clinic is the result of a project that started in November, when the county health department and the Clinton County Hospital began to work on the problem of providing a place for the guidance clinic. The project was supported by a grant from the state health department, and the clinic is now open.

The clinic is open to all children, and the staff is available to help with any problem that may arise. The clinic is staffed by two full-time and two part-time workers, and the clinic is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Physical education begins in Kindergarten, but it is directed by only the individual teachers. Here at a special event in the high school gym, Kindergarten youngsters from Swagles Street School play "Square in the Tree," one of a number of games used to teach children to play together and share things.

Basketball is one of the team sports emphasized in Girls' P. E. classes, and not only rules but appreciation of boys basketball is taught. Going up on the center jump are Jan Fowler and Susan Downing. The referee is Mrs. Helen Kramer girls P. E. instructor.

Physical fitness is the prime objective of the physical education programs in the St. Johns Public School system. Calisthenics are given every day of the high school level to enhance muscular growth and physical well being. Even in grade school, this type of activity is used. In the picture at left and below, fourth graders at Periha Palmer School do pushups.

Impressive individual skills are a product of work and determination. Scott Heibeck displays good form doing his routine on the side horse.

Physical education is the city concept of the physical education program in the rural schools. This involves the physical education of all children in the various grades. The activities are designed to promote, both physically and mentally. The classes are held in one end of the St. Johns Public School.

THE FIFTH GRADE: At this age level, activities are increasing in physical fitness. These objectives are to strengthen and further develop the physical fitness, which will aid in the development of physical fitness. The girls' activities include basketball, softball, tennis, folk dancing, and track. The boys' activities include football, soccer, wrestling, baseball, and track. The activities are designed to promote the physical fitness of the children and to develop their muscles, gain strength, and improve their health.

THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM: The physical education program is the responsibility of the physical education teachers. The activities are designed to promote physical fitness and to develop the muscles and improve the health of the children. The activities are designed to promote the physical fitness of the children and to develop their muscles, gain strength, and improve their health.

Keeping students physically fit keeps them mentally alert.

St. Johns school officials point out

Patrick Richards points out the need to keep students physically fit. He believes that physical fitness is the key to a healthy mind.

Demonstration is one of the most effective means of teaching new techniques in wrestling. Gary Johnson, one of the wrestlers, demonstrates a guillotine pin while other boys watch the slow motion action.

The use of the Marine Corps physical education program in the rural schools has been very successful. The activities are designed to promote physical fitness and to develop the muscles and improve the health of the children. Pohl tells of new Peace Corps experiences in Peru's mountains

BY DAVID W. POHL

Peru is the land of the Andes, the highest mountains in the world. It is the land of the Incas, the great Inca civilization that once ruled over all of Peru and much of South America.

In the province of Cusco, we visited the ancient city of Machu Picchu, perched high in the Andes Mountains. It was a remarkable experience to stand on the terraces and look out over the surrounding landscape.

We also spent time in the city of Lima, the capital of Peru, where we visited the Presidio de Barranco, a museum dedicated to the history of the Peruvian military.

We had the opportunity to meet with local people and learn about their way of life. We visited a local market and tried some traditional Peruvian foods, such as ceviche and lomo saltado.

During our trip, we visited some of the many different areas and regions of Peru, from the high mountains to the coastal plains.

It was a fantastic experience to see the diversity of landscapes and cultures in Peru, and to get a glimpse into the lives of its people.

We are grateful for the opportunity to have been able to travel to Peru and learn more about this fascinating country.

Owosso was the guest speaker that day. She related the history of buttons, including their use in the 1800s and early 1900s. She pointed out that buttons have been used in the United States since the early 1800s, and that they have been used for both fashion and function. She also mentioned that buttons have been used in the military for centuries, and that they have been used as a form of identification for soldiers.

Mrs. Glenn Horn and her husband, along with two other couples, flew to Santa Fe last winter for the annual convention of the Rational Button Society. They were honored as guests at the meeting, and Mrs. Glenn Horn gave a talk on buttons that was well received by the audience.

The Rational Button Society, which meets at the Carson City Hospital, honored several of its members at a special meeting held Tuesday afternoon, May 15, at the home of Mrs. Mary Parker, a member of the organization. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hardaker were the speakers at the meeting, and Mrs. Duane Doh Miller was also present. The program included a talk on the history of buttons, and several of the members of the organization gave brief talks on different aspects of the topic.

The next meeting of the Rational Button Society will be held Tuesday afternoon, May 26, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Parker, with Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Wright serving as host and hostess. The meeting will include a talk on the history of buttons, and several of the members of the organization will give brief talks on different aspects of the topic.

Soil stewardship time is now, director says

BY AUGUST MOORE
Clinton County News

We cannot continue to neglect soil stewardship. If you look over your farm, or in any pasture or field, you will likely see a portion that could be better. Teachers who are speaking on this topic today are saying that the time is now. Too much emphasis has been placed on this time and we need to turn our emphasis. It is not too late to start making changes. To help us do this, one of our educational classes is being held at the Clinton County Extension Office. This class is for all farmers and agriculturists and the extension office will provide the materials and guidance.

FLATTEN BAD MOURNING — Rural Michigan probably makes the most frowny face when the corn is harvested. However, this year corn and soybeans may combine to make a good profit. In the Westphalia area, the corn is up in the fields and ready to be harvested. The soybeans will be ready for harvest in the next two weeks. The farmers in this area will be able to make a good profit from their crops.

Food costs eat up one-fifth of family income

It takes a lot of 'Mighty' to live! In fact, Michigan living costs one-fifth of the family income. The family income is split almost equally among the different members of the family. This includes the primary wage earner, the secondary wage earner, and the children.

Restoring worn-out pasture profitable

From one or two low quality plots of land to a full-scale enterprise, pasture can be made profitable. This requires the use of good management techniques such as rotational grazing, proper fertilization, and proper seed mixtures.

Poultry feed compound can save egg costs

A compound is proving itself to be a valuable brown egg supplement. The compound contains lecithin, a protein that is a major component of egg yolk. It is being used to replace up to 30 per cent of egg diets in chicken house ration systems, according to Dr. William G. Matthews of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The compound, marketed by Mathews Elevator Co., contains 10 per cent of a blend of lecithin and protein. It is sold at a cost of 1.25 cents per pound.

Dr. Matthews said the compound helps increase egg production by 20 to 25 per cent and reduces feed costs by 5 to 10 per cent.

Plan ahead — vote yes on schools

We like to think of St. Johns and the people who live round about as progressive people, people who are ready for new things. We have one of the growing counties in the state. Our homes have been generally neat and well-kept, as are the farms in the rural areas.

We have a feeling of a quality about us, and though we’re not perfect we always seem to be striving for something better. We’re a progressive people but we’re also forward thinking.

We’re a family and business group in order to get the job done in the best manner possible and at the best price. This is a regular occurrence and we don’t think much about it.

But it is now time to plan ahead for a district-wide job of great continuing importance — the education of our youngsters. This planning should not be taken lightly because it is a heavy responsibility. We must plan ahead to insure there’ll be enough room in our schools to be able to teach them what they’ll need to know in the future.

We’ll have to plan ahead so those facilities will be as effective in the future as they might be now. The school board has come up with a plan that takes all this into consideration and yet it probably as conservative as one can be in planning for the future.

For instance, we are a progressive, thinking people, we’ll realize farmers probably won’t have another year like last year. This year, even, we can’t know that for sure, but as thinking people we do know it’s coming. Surely the result of the proposed improvement in education, won’t be the burden next year and thereafter.

As thinking people, we here in the district look farther ahead just that a year. We look for a better crop this year which is supposed to bring higher income and district valuation created by new homes and business centers all resulting in a more favorable tax situation for the district and for us as individuals.

It would be a shame to waste any important school bond issue defeated because we stopped thinking ahead and doomed our whole philosophy of life, if we are not thinking ahead, a vote yea on the bond issue next Monday, May 5, will be the only logical vote.

A Look Into The Past...

from the HOPPER

By STEVE HOPPO

WE RECENTLY searched the town records of St. Johns and found that St. Johns was a school district in the days of yesterday. It is difficult to visualize that this was so.

A man will be a real authority on schools and its necessity. Over the years, the St. Johns school district has grown steadily. It is difficult to imagine what the days of yesterday were like.

It is with great pride that we now have a school board that is looking to the future.

Sunday, May 5th.

The school board is working on a plan which it is sure will prove beneficial.

The school board is a very important one, and it probably was at that time.

A plan that a man who has a vision for the future will bring about.
