COUNTY TO SET UP OWN MENTAL HEALTH BOARD

The board of supervisors voted Tuesday to set up a Clinton county mental health board to provide mental health services for county residents separate from control of the Ingham county Mental Health Board.

The action was taken at the request of the Ingham County Mental Health Board. Clinton County was informed it could continue to receive the mental health services from the state, but would have no representation on the board.

The county would be eligible for state money grants in the amount of 75 per cent of necessary program expenditures.

LAPY, BISHOP — The Cayuga Child Guidance Center served 74 adults and children from Clinton county, and 103 people in need of mental health services received mental health services in the county.

The center would be eligible for a grant of $75 per person, or a maximum of $75 per person.

Road commission problems spotlighted

Thur., May 11, 1967 CLINTON COUNTY NEWS, St. Johns, Michigan

Chairman Bruce Fowler showed the annual report of the Clinton County Road Commission Tuesday by Ewing, Draggo, said. "The extra cost of snow removal and patching will hamper us. Local road supervisors think the (road construction) bill is too high."

"Aside from DeWitt Township, there is no local help from the county," Ewing said. "We've had a lot of good proposals, but nothing has been done for a few years."

The road commission's 1966 expenditures of $1,029,821 for the county roads and the Shavey Road bridge met the February budget. The report was accepted. It showed the commissioners had cut the budget to $1,000,000.

"We will send flowers to wherever the crops are," commented Commissioner Harold Davis.

"We will have to wait until the crops are harvested," Commissioner David Lindsey said.

"In the past, we have had to wait until the crops are harvested," Lindsey said. "We have to wait until the crops are harvested, then we can get the money from the state for the repairs."

Winner of the top award “General Excellence” for 1966, presented by the Michigan Press Association

NO OTHER MEDIA REACHES AS MANY CLINTON COUNTY RESIDENTS!

8,000 homes in Clinton County!... and that's all subscriptions.*

THE CLINTON COUNTY NEWS IS RESPECTED!

People respect and invite the Clinton County News into their homes by paying for it. Wouldn't you rather spend your advertising budget with this kind of media?

THE ACID TEST:

More Clinton County businessmen spend more of their advertising dollars with the Clinton County News than any other single medium! Why? Because they get more results for their dollar!

More national firms spend more money with the Clinton County News! Why? Because they consider it their best buy!

Subscription should not be confused with distribution which is merely mailing without regard to whether the mailing piece is welcome or not open to the receiver. Subscription is your assurance that the newspaper is wanted and readl People won't pay for something they don't want or feel they don't need!

Mrs Lowrey's choir wins NDEA fellowship

Mrs. Lowrey's choir won the NDEA fellowship for the State of Michigan. The choir was chosen by a committee of judges who listened to the choir's performance and evaluated their singing skills. The choir consisted of ten members, all of whom were students at Saginaw High School. They sang a selection of music, including classical, contemporary, and spiritual pieces.

The choir was directed by Mrs. Lowrey, who has been teaching music at Saginaw High School for ten years. Mrs. Lowrey is a former State Band and Orchestra member and has received several awards for her outstanding teaching abilities. She has also directed several choral groups and has been active in community service.

The choir's成功 was due in large part to the dedication and hard work of the individual members. Each member of the choir worked hard to perfect their skills, and the group as a whole worked together to create a beautiful and harmonious performance.

The choir's performance was well received by the audience, who gave them a standing ovation. The choir members were thrilled with their accomplishment and expressed their gratitude to Mrs. Lowrey for her guidance and support.

Mrs. Lowrey's choir's success is a testament to the power of music and the importance of education. Their achievement will undoubtedly inspire other students and choral groups to pursue their dreams and reach for excellence.

Sleepy Hollow Park now more than a plan

It has been announced that the Sleepy Hollow State Park is now more than a plan. The park will be developed into a state park and total development will run $1.2 million. The park will be located in the lake bottom, particularly, and field check parks in the area at the same time. The park plans call for two beach areas along the lake, parking for the park and total development will run $1.2 million. The park will be located near a small community, 100 acres in size in the six counties surrounding the project. Not far away, there will be an improved boat launching site on the lake. This will result in an improved park and total development will run $1.2 million. The park will be located near a small community, 100 acres in size in the six counties surrounding the project. Not far away, there will be an improved boat launching site on the lake. This will result in an improved park and total development will run $1.2 million.

Impoundment not easy

Initial filling of the lake below 10,000 acres will be easy enough, Cook said. However, the construction of a dam on the lake below 10,000 acres will be difficult. The construction of a dam on the lake below 10,000 acres will be difficult.

Savethehouse

"An interesting feature of this area," Cook said, "is the existence of a real red-winged blackbird (Gnorimis sordida) at the center of Pigeon and Pequotville. It is proposed that this area be preserved and partially restored," Cook said.

The Baptist Church.

"Since intensive park and fishery regulations are being put into effect in the State Conservancy," Cook said. Westphalia looses few young people

Record of a series
by small-reader

St. Mary's Church in Westphalia is saddened by the recent death of two young people in the parish. These were among the few members of the young people's guild that met weekly in the Lansing area.

The first young person was a boy in the seventh and eighth grades. The second young person was a young girl in the same group. Both were students at the St. Mary's School in Westphalia. They were among the 200 students enrolled in the school.

St. Mary's School was founded by Father Francis Miller in 1874. It was originally a one-room schoolhouse. In 1923, the school was expanded to include seven classrooms. In 1948, the school was closed because of a lack of students.

Since then, the school has been used as a community center. It is now a part of the St. Mary's Parish. The parish has 1,200 members.

The two young people were among the many members of the young people's guild that met weekly in the Lansing area. They were among the few members of the guild that met weekly in the Lansing area.

The guild was formed in 1962 to provide a social outlet for the young people of the parish. It met weekly at the St. Mary's Church in Westphalia. The guild had about 30 members.

The guild members enjoyed a variety of activities, including picnics, potluck suppers, and social events. They also participated in community service projects.

The guild members were active in the parish and in the community. They were involved in a variety of activities, including service projects, fund-raising events, and community events.

The guild members were proud of their association with the parish and with each other. They enjoyed the companionship and support that they received from each other.

The guild was dissolved in 1965 because of a lack of members. The members of the guild were sad to see the guild come to an end, but they were grateful for the memories they had made.

Early-cut hay can make doyrmens more milk, money

Dairy farmers with a 30-cow herd can make more than $7,000 additional income by cutting their hay in May rather than June. Dr. Donald Hillman, Michigan State University extension dairy specialist, said early cutting may add $10,000 to $15,000 to dairy income in any and every case of hay cutting.

"In our research, Hillman contended, "MSU dairy scientists have found that early-cut hay is more productive, and it has high milk production value. Furthermore, early hay is more nutritious, has a higher protein content, and has a longer period of feeding value." Hillman explained.

Farm future holds no garden

Many farmers, who have harbored the hope of building a secondary income, call it "farm future." They would like to grow vegetables or fruits, raise chickens or turkeys, or have a garden, but the future is often obscured by the daily struggle.

Reduced services seen if charter amendment voted down June 21

Farm families eat more food

Farm families consume more calories, protein, sugars and fats than city families. Why? Just because the United States Department of Agriculture found out early in May that farmers were eating more food than they were in the past.

For example, the farm family eats calorie in a week more than the average city family, according to the report. The farm family eats 11,000 calories in a week, while the city family eats 7,000 calories in a week.

The report also showed that the farm family eats 125 grams of protein in a week, while the city family eats 100 grams of protein in a week.

Michael H. Hutter, state Extension dairy specialist, said the report showed that the farm family eats 50 percent more meat, poultry and fish than the city family. The farm family also eats 50 percent more milk and milk products per person of any age, 50 percent more fats and oils.

"Farm families not only eat more, but they also eat better," Hutter explained. "Farm families eat more fresh vegetables, fruits and processed foods that are high in vitamins and minerals."

Birching many ladies’ space adventure

We do not know whether adventures pertaining to ladies is classed as science fiction. Some of these stories represent a setting either on another planet or an unidentified flying object.

At an important meeting of the Washington chapter of the Scific Fiction Writers of America earlier this month, a group of women science fiction writers discussed the possibilities of space travel. The women are actively involved in writing and publishing science fiction stories.

The women discussed the possibilities of space travel and the impact it might have on their lives. They also talked about the challenges of writing scific fiction, including the need for imagination and creativity.

The women agreed that space travel could have a significant impact on society, and they encouraged each other to con-continue writing and exploring the possibilities of space travel.

Battle of Midway

McDonnell aircraft, the Americans scored several direct hits. This knocked out the carrier's steering. The dive bombers made the strike, turned off right and re-appeared. Six bombers attacked the Kaga, sank her by morning. Her sister ship, the Mikuma, was sunk by evening. The Americans chased, hoping to attain the scattered enemy forces. Admiral Farragut ordered three aircraft carriers to join the battle.

The decisive battle of Midway was fought in June 3, 4, 5 and 6. Admiral Spruance commanded the American forces. The Japanese put together powerful forces for an invasion of Hawaii. They had over 400 vessels, including 11 battleships. The American Planes attacked the Japanese ships and sank three of them. All were destroyed with only minor damage.

The decision of Japanese Admiral Yamamoto to send her carriers to Midway was daring. His mistake would lead to the end of the war. The American Navy and the Imperial Japanese Navy met on June 4. Dawn of June 4 found Midway under clear skies. The Japanese aircraft, the Zero, was in season.

The Americans lost 4,500. One hundred and fifty Japanese forces were destroyed. The difference. United States Navy took place on June 3, 4, 5 and 6, 1942.
