1973 Annual Report

The patients who used the hospital facilities during 1973 indicated, by returning a questionnaire to the hospital, that they felt the hospital was above average in the various services provided.

None of this would really be possible without the continued cooperation of our medical staff. We are very pleased to have two new additions to that staff during this year. T. Chuntarasupt, M.D., and Roger E. Fitzpatrick, M.D., are now full-time physicians in the area.

To assist our medical staff, the hospital has invested in considerable new automated diagnostic equipment. In addition to major remodeling in the surgery suite, we purchased a new crash cart with defibrillator and monitor for the emergency room and many other improved and updated furnishings throughout. This was necessary to meet the changing requirements of a viable, health-care delivery system and the increasing demands of the general public for quality service at a cost that is both fair and reasonable.

With the continued cooperative efforts of the hospital family—the auxiliary, the Red Cross volunteers, the friends of the Bement Public Library, the Candy Stripers, the employees, the medical staff, the board of directors, and trustees—and the entire community, Clinton Memorial Hospital will continue to meet the growing health-care needs of the area.
Harriet Young Thompson retires after serving Red Cross for 21 years

On April 23, 1974, Consumers Power Company had a formal dedication ceremony at the St. John's Church of Christ in Battle Creek, Michigan. The ceremony was attended by a large audience including many former employees of the company. Among those present were former General Manager Ronald Fisher, who addressed the gathering, and many others who had worked with Harriet Young Thompson throughout her career.

Thompson, a graduate of St. John's High School in Battle Creek, Michigan, graduated from the University of Michigan with a degree in Business Administration. She began her career at Consumers Power Company in 1943, working as a Secretary in the Human Resources Department.

She retired from the company in 1973 after 30 years of service. In her 30 years, she served in various positions, including Secretary, Assistant to the General Manager, and later as the Director of Human Resources. She was instrumental in establishing the company's first employee assistance program and was widely respected for her professionalism and leadership.

Thompson was a member of several community organizations, including the Battle Creek Chamber of Commerce and the Battle Creek Opera Guild. She was also active in the United Methodist Church, serving as a Sunday school teacher and a member of several church committees.

She was a recipient of the Distinguished Service Award from Consumers Power Company in 1973, and she was also honored with a plaque from the Battle Creek Chamber of Commerce in 1974.

Thompson's dedication to her work and her community was honored by the company, and she was remembered fondly by her co-workers and friends. She will be missed by all who knew her.

Capitan campaigns for Trezise seat

Robertson County Commissioner James P. Capitan today announced his candidacy for the County Commission's north district seat. He is a registered Republican.

Capitan said he will seek reelection as the district's commissioner. Robertson County has a part-time, elected commissioner. Capitan represents 36,600 people or 70 percent of the county's population.

Capitan said he had decided to seek another term to continue his work for the people of Robertson County. "I feel the people of the north district have given me a mandate to serve as their representative and I intend to do so," Capitan said. He added that he would seek re-election to a third term.

In 1972, Capitan caused a political upset when he won an election to become the county's first part-time, full-time commissioner. He was elected to a two-year term and was re-elected in 1974.

As commissioner, he served on numerous boards and committees, including the Robertson County Water Authority, the Robertson County Industrial Development Board, and the Robertson County Planning Board.

Students—start looking now for summer job

LOANS - Students who want to apply now for a summer job may go to the Michigan Department of Labor to obtain an application blank for the job they want and what they are qualified to do.

"Then start applying," says Barry Brown, head of Northern Michigan University's department of military affairs. "There may be openings for your friends, your relatives, your job."

The Labor Department is published by the Community or charitable nursery school or library aide. Therefore, it is more important to have references. Report promptly to the nearest office of the Labor Department.

Financial tips for retirees

By P. THERESA MUKOPADHYAY, President of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants

Retirement schemes, relatively speaking, are real bread and butter. A few years of planning can make a quantum difference to your financial security in old age. The Social Security Administration, in its 88th District Report by Stanley Powell, the State Representative, highlights the need for planning:

- Strengthen and protect private pension plans, have improved various benefits and options and financially they do not have to be assigned to compile the panel's findings, which takes into account, the need for a national, defined-benefit private pension system, which meets the needs of all citizens.

Recent increases in Social Security benefits, too, are due to the extension of benefits. President of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, Mrs. Cornelia Schafer, says she has high expectations of Social Security benefits. You are sure to get a higher Social Security benefit if you do not start receiving the benefits earlier than age 62. In other words, if you are not paying the price.

- The benefits received by those who retire at age 62 are lower than those paid to the age-62 retiree, and in periods in which earnings do not exceed the age-62 retiree, they are reduced by 5 percent for each additional year of work, up to 7 percent of age 65, in amounts which do not exceed 2,919 to $3,191.

- If you work only 15 hours per week, you do not become eligible for Social Security Administration, as you have to work at least 40 hours a week to be eligible. You can apply for social security at any time up to the age of 70, but you will receive full benefits for those years in which you worked. Receiving full Social Security benefits to qualify for Social Security do not affect Social Security, and they must be filed for benefits with her husband even if they do not work. To do this, however, they may only do so if they believe that the Social Security benefits are the same.

- If you work only in jobs which takes into account, as you do not have to work, or work part-time which pay in the form of Social Security Administration, you will calculate the benefits offered, which is a loosely defined term in which earnings do not exceed the age-62 retiree, and in periods in which earnings do not exceed the age-62 retiree, they are reduced by 5 percent for each additional year of work, up to 7 percent of age 65, in amounts which do not exceed 2,919 to $3,191.

Hanged before the crime

We at the County News, not being enshrined into the long hair of youth nor weighted into being the fuzzy-daddies of the older set, have a profound respect for the up-coming rock concert at the Northside Drive-in in DeWitt Twp.

Grand concert and "rock festival" is enough to strike fear in every law-abiding middle aged heart. But, the shock and alarm brought forth from the announcement of the rock concert seems to be an overwhelming condemnation of our people in advance.

Rock is the vogue among our younger people at this period in American history. To get together with their own is also the vogue of younger people. If we condemn such action at every turn because of frightful reports from the muddy Woodstock, the communication post on S. sd. of Sec. 36, TBN-R1W, th. N. 15.63 rds, W. 27.63 rds, S. 15.63 rds.

Avoid camping tragedy

By WILIAM LASHNER

Extension Agriculture Agent

There are tips to avoid tragic camping accidents. A short hint to avoid a skiing accident: Never ski alone and wear a helmet. If you ride a bike, there is a risk of injury, so wear a helmet. If you go to a drive-in movie, there is a chance you might be hit by a car. If you go on a hike, be sure to take water and a map. If you go on a road trip, be sure to drive carefully. If you go to a swimming pool, be sure to swim with a lifeguard. If you go to a festival, be sure to enjoy yourself. If you go to a hospital, be sure to get well.

North Bengal

When the leaves begin to change color, it is a good time to go camping. Be sure to take a tent, sleeping bag, and food. Be sure to wear warm clothing. Be sure to bring a flashlight. Be sure to bring a map. Be sure to bring a camera. Be sure to bring a camera. Be sure to bring a camera.
