Visit for Mom... a week at MSU

By HELEN HINCH

It is time for many, many students, and parents to be making plans for their own vacation season. The heated summer months are just around the corner with many families planning their vacations or trips to the lake. Here about a week vacation for many students.

This middle-aged couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, have planned a week's vacation in Michigan. They will be visiting relatives in the Detroit area and then on to Traverse City for a week. They plan to stay at the Johnson Inn, a historic hotel in Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, along with their two young children, will be arriving at the Johnson Inn on June 8th. They plan to spend the first few days relaxing and exploring the beautiful beaches and natural attractions of Traverse City.

After a few days of leisure, the family will head to the Detroit area to visit family members. They plan to spend a few days attending family reunions and enjoying the local culture.

On June 15th, the Johnson family will make the journey back to Traverse City for their final few days of vacation. They plan to explore the city's historic sites and enjoy the local nightlife.

During their stay, the Johnsons will also be taking advantage of the many outdoor activities Traverse City has to offer, such as hiking, kayaking, and fishing. They will be staying at the Johnson Inn, a charming hotel with a rich history.

Mr. Johnson is looking forward to the trip, saying, "We are so excited to spend a week in Traverse City. We have never been there before and are looking forward to exploring the city and its surroundings." Mrs. Johnson adds, "We are also looking forward to spending time with family and enjoying the beautiful beaches." The Johnsons are planning to return to Traverse City for another vacation in the future.

Overall, the Johnsons are looking forward to a memorable week in Traverse City. They are excited to spend time with family, explore the city's attractions, and create lasting memories.

LCC changes called necessary to maintain 'open door' policy

Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham

Their report, in part, recommended the establishment of an "open door" policy for the community college, designed to encourage attendance by students who might not otherwise participate. The report also called for changes in the curriculum to make it more accessible to a wider range of students. The college plans to expand its facilities to accommodate the increased enrollment.

Maple Rapids church remodeling completed

The Maple Rapids Congregationalist-Church recently completed an extensive remodeling of the church building on the south side of the village. New pews were the most notable change, but the church also has carpeted floors in the sanctuary, new lighting, new paneling, and a front porch that extends across the width of the church. A dedication service was held recently.

Exchange students to make trip

Exchange students Pat Blumgrund of Argentina (nearest camera) and Hanselle Larisa of Finland took over pamphlets and other material about New York, where they will be going Friday with a Methodist Youth Fellowship group. The Lions Club, represented by Charles Barnes (left), and the Rotary Club, represented by Dwaine Wilcox, are sponsoring the exchange trip, while the Methodist WSCS is putting students to make the five-day trip.

health protection from a grab bag

Grab rash, spy, what you want's alway's... good or bad, and other "live" causes. Buying health supplies from reputable retail outlets—pharmacies, drug stores, etc.—is really good buying. You can't go wrong if you buy the good products, many of which are better than those you might buy from a grab bag.

LOCAL SOLDIERS OF BASIC TRAINING

The week is made of small challenges. You do't have to be a genius to pass a basic training course, because of the many people who you know you can do it. You just have to show up on time.

Your week is made of nine classes. This equipment will be kept clean at all times. This equipment has the following parts that can be used for various purposes: a water cooler, a fire extinguisher, and a first aid kit.

You are not allowed to bring food into the homes. You will be fed by the Army and will eat in their mess hall. If you have any personal belongings, you must bring them with you when you arrive.

Your week will be divided into four parts. The first day is for orientation. The second day is for cleaning the bunks and equipment. The third day is for the weekly inspection of the equipment. The fourth day is for the weekly inspection of the equipment.

Methodists favor new church

The Methodist Church of the United Methodist Church voted two to one in favor of building a new church at a site near town, with plans and work capable of being approved by the Quarterly Conference. The vote cast shows the desire of the members for a more spacious, service and a better house.

The building committee consisted of Robert Blower, Leonard Green, Clifton Christian, Dr. C. M. Nesbitt, Mrs. J. A. Smiley and Thomas Steiner, who have been studying the possibilities for some time. The decision to build is based on the future needs and improved facilities by the congregation.

The area used is in the sanctuary facilities, and a new study program, a new heating system, a full time pastor and lay leaders group, and all at a stereo sound setup.

The membership has increased 10 in a year, and plans for this year plus were in every indication that it will continue.

The building committee visited the pastor's home and came with his family, Rev. and Mrs. Sidney Keys served the tea and cookies and punch. Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunham of the church projects; trimming the Christmas tree and aiding with any further action may be taken.

Facilities will be made before plans, means of financing, details.

Burial sites of Clinton’s Civil War veterans listed

One hundred years ago this year the Civil War erupted. Many soldiers who fought in the War are buried in Clinton County’s 53 cemeteries.

Mrs. Alice Tyler Miller, chairwoman of the Menominee of the grave location committee of the Historical Commission of Michigan, has compiled a list of the soldiers buried in the county.

“These are bound to occur,” she noted, “and corrections are welcome.”

Haylage offers dairy feeding advantages

Haylage, a key crop in dairy feeding, offers many advantages over traditional hay in terms of nutrient availability, feeding convenience, and animal health. Michigan State University research has shown that dairy cattle consuming haylage consume more energy-dense feed, which can lead to increased milk production and better animal health.

New high school site planted to corn

The seventh-sixth members of the St. John's chapter of Future Farmers of America plowed and planted the site of the new high school to corn last Wednesday during an implementation demonstration day. The tractor made short work of the plowing, as can be seen in the first picture, and the planting tractor did its work in short order, too. As left in the planter picture is Dan Mungave, vo-ag instructor at the high school.

Farm problem is in Washington

It's probably so different than it has been for a long while, but it does seem farmers, are becoming more and more into the federal government's handling of the farm problem of this nation. And there are problems.

Farmers no longer view others as their feelings about the situation. They've brought up the topic time and again and on occasion have dictated published articles pointing out examples of just what grimes there are.

Farmers have become more or less willing to talk about some of the future problems, while we can't publish them all, we will take a little space this week to echo some columns' feelings about the farm situation as it exists today.

Food and politics are making farmer mad...

Farmers have the chance to make their voices heard. They have the chance to express their opinions. But what can they do about the feeling of "the thin man hanging from his neck" in the town meeting? Can the farmer get his hand on the field where the majority feels that inflation is not a problem, and that prices are stable? Can he do anything about the feeling that "the thin man hanging from his neck" is not a problem, and that prices are stable? Can they do anything about the feeling that "the thin man hanging from his neck" is not a problem, and that prices are stable?

While the farmers have the chance to make their voices heard, they are not always willing to express their opinions. They are not always willing to share their feelings. They are not always willing to talk about their problems. They are not always willing to talk about their problems.

The problem is about the fact that farmers have been hurt by this situation. They have been hurt by this situation more than any other group. They have been hurt by this situation more than any other group. They have been hurt by this situation more than any other group.
