Smith resigns

DeWitt finally hires new city administrator

IN DAY DROWN
Mayor Donald Shriver

DeWitt—after two months of searching, the city of DeWitt has hired a new mayor. Roger Carlson, school superintendent, has been chosen to replace Mayor Lawrence Keck and will assume office on July 1.

The search for a new director began March 16 when Smith presented his resignation to the City Council with an effective date of June 1. It was accepted by the council on April 16 and approved by the Michigan Department of Education on May 1.

During his term as administrative director, Smith said, "The world has changed, school programs have changed and the attitude of the public has changed." He also noted that voluntary work could not handle the problems that arise.

Smith said the search for a new director would begin immediately and that the new director would be named by the end of the year.

DeWitt, St. Johns

DEWITT—Public schools in DeWitt and St. Johns have been operating for two years. St. Johns School District has been operating in the city of St. Johns.

Operation of Plant - 10.01% (average for the 17 schools); 10.14% (SU Johns average).

Maintenance - 2.47% (average for the 17 schools); 2.39% (SU Johns average).

Fixed charges - 2.86% (average for the 17 schools); 2.78% (SU Johns average).

The only place where SU Johns is significantly higher is in transportation - 1.91% more. This is understandable because the district covers over 200 square miles and over half of the students ride buses to school.

Also, having five elementary schools to which students must be transported adds to the transportation cost.

Because of changes in the American way of living, school curricula and programs need to be changed and updated to meet the challenges of the present and the future. The curriculum of the SU Schools reflects these changes, many of which have occurred during the past two years.

SU Public Schools probably offers as complete an educational program from grades K-12 in any other community in Michigan.

"Additional support to local schools deter­mined in Clinton County is needed all the more today with the vast implementa­tions and superimpositions of special education programs with parents that are most needed."

The cost of providing these serv­ices is greatly underestimated by the public, and we will pay for navigating these very programs after they have already run their course, if they are not yet fully under­stood and implemented. All of the above men­tioned services can be added to costs already provided for by Clinton county special education needs.

Musicale ends season with annual breakfast

Thirty six members and guests of the St. Peter's Musicale met for breakfast at Queen's diner Thursday morning preceding the final recital program of the season.

A collection committee, "In memory of Mary Ann M. Long" with Mary Ann M. Long, was the official committee in charge of the program. A large audience was present for the recital which was presented by the St. Peter's Musicale under the direction of Mrs. Estelle Brown, incoming president, and Mrs. Phyllis Rice, president-elect of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

Mrs. Brown opened the meeting and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Henry McPherson, of Saginaw, distinguished soprano, who was accompanist for the program. Mrs. McPherson performed in opera, oratorio, recital andatorio, with Professor Harold Haugh, who is associated with the University of Michigan. Mrs. Rice is a graduate of Fowler High School, a 1958 graduate of Central Michigan University, and has concertized in Michigan, Ohio, and New York. Mrs. Rice is also a member of the American Guild of Organists.

After a short program featuring music by Bach, Mrs. Rice engaged in a question and answer session with the audience. Mrs. Rice was also accompanist for the Rev. Mr. R. Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weber, in a recital. Mrs. Weber will be married to Miss Karen Evelyn Pung of Westphalia Community High School.

The meeting adjourned at 11:00 a.m., and Mrs. Brown presented a special bouquet to Mrs. Rice for her musical accomplishments.

One of the main features of the program was a presentation of several numbers by Phyllis Rice, mezzo-soprano, with Dorothy Anberg, soprano, and tenor Joe Mazzolini, formerly of the University of Michigan, with the musical accompaniment of Cyril Pung of Route 2, Portland. Mrs. Rice presented the group with a bouquet of roses.

Mr. Rumbaugh is a graduate of DeWitt High School and is a student at the State University of New York at Cobleskill.

The prospective bride is a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Grand Rapids, graduated from Grand Rapids Junior High School in 1969, and is presently attending Calvin College in Grand Rapids.

The bride was the soloist in the wedding Mass and sang "Love is a Many Splendred Thing" following the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Rumbaugh.

The traditional music was performed by the Rev. Mr. R. Weber, who is also a graduate of St. Peter's Musicale. The reception was held at the Hotel Jamaica.

The bride was presented with a bouquet of white roses by Mrs. Bertha Simmons of Biloxi, Miss., cousin of the bride. The groom's parents were guests at the reception.

After a short wedding trip the couple will begin study of law at DeWitt High School and is a student at the State University of New York at Cobleskill.

Business Notes

The big win on High School Day was the football team. Mr. MacGill was upset that we even got to play. He thought we should have played twice, and then we would have won again. But we only got to play once, and we lost.

The only thing that saved the evening was the play. Of course, we lost, but we won the game. We were happy to be there, and we had a great time. We were happy to be there, and we had a great time.

The N-J-H High School football team will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday. A special activity in this week's County News is devoted to the project.

RULES FOR PLAYING ZODIACASH™ (SERIES #21)

1. Get a free ZODIACASH Master Game Card—and one free Game Ticket—with every purchase of Kroger products at any Kroger store. Game materials may also be obtained by writing to P.O. Box 69-GR, Birmingham, Mich. 48010, the request accompanied by a purchase of $5.00 worth of Kroger products. To receive the Master Game Card with the Game Ticket, simply punch out the perforated portions of the Game Ticket, then separate the punched out portions and you will have a Master Game Card with one free Game Ticket. Game materials may also be obtained by mailing request to P.O. Box 69-GR, Birmingham, Mich. 48010—one request per envelope. No purchases necessary to participate. Adults only eligible to play.

2. On each Game Ticket there are four ZODIACASH Game Markers. To reveal the Markers, simply punch out the perforated portions of the Game Ticket, then separate the punched out portions and you will have four Game Markers. Each Marker corresponds to a square in one of the games on your Master Game Card.

3. When you have revealed the four ZODIACASH Game Markers, carefully place them in their appropriate squares on your Master Game Card. EXAMPLE: If one of your ZODIACASH Markers is January 29, for the "Z" row in the $1 game, place that Marker in the January 29 square.

4. When you have revealed four Game Markers, carefully place them in their appropriate squares on your Master Game Card. Example: If one of your ZODIACASH Markers is January 29, for the "Z" row in the $1 game, place that Marker in the January 29 square.

5. When you have a winning card which has been verified by authorized personnel, you will, after furnishing your name and address in writing, be awarded your prize. A Federal Trade Commission rule requires that the names and addresses of all winners be posted in all participating stores. When handing in your winning card, all of your ZODIACASH Markers and Game Tickets must be submitted with the card. Each Marker corresponds to a square in one of the games on your Master Game Card. Game materials void if illegible, altered, mutilated, defaced, or tampered with in any way. (See rules ten and eleven.) Game materials void if not all Game Tickets and all Game Markers are used. Game materials void where taxed or prohibited by law.

6. Game ends upon distribution of all Game Tickets. All prizes must be claimed within five (5) days after announcement of termination by The Kroger Co. or they are forfeited.

7. The Kroger Co. reserves the right to reject any materials containing printing or other errors that may appear in any materials used in the game and to avoid any such materials. All game materials remain the property of The Kroger Co.

8. Game materials valid only for this game of this division of The Kroger Co. All Game Tickets, ZODIACASH Markers and Game Cards must have the same series number. EXAMPLE: If you have Game Card Series -21, all of your game pieces must have Series -21.

9. Employees of The Kroger Co., Dansico Associates, their advertising agencies and members of their immediate families are not eligible to win.

10. ZODIACASH Marker void if it does not have on it:
(a) Series #21
(b) Date spelled out
(c) Calendar month and date
(d) Zodiac month
(e) Size of game prize

11. ZODIACASH Series #21 must conform in size, shape, and detail to the example illustrated above and must contain the five (5) items of authentication described in Rule 10.

Money problems

By HELEN VANCE

It has been said that every family has its own set of problems. There may be money problems in the family that you have never thought of before. If you think about it, you will probably be able to think of some.

Money problems can be a cause of much worry and strain. Each person thinks of money in terms of his own needs and wants. This can lead to many misunderstandings in the family, particularly if one person is more cooperative than the other. Money problems can be solved with a great deal of patience, cooperation, and understanding. The key is to spend money in the best possible way for the needs of the family.

Extra special care

By LOIS WAGNER

In today's fast-paced world, it is easy to forget the importance of taking good care of ourselves and our families. This is especially true for children, who are growing and developing rapidly. It is important to remember that children require special care in order to grow into healthy, happy adults.

No-burn ordinance

We believe the day is not too far off when all communities will have adopted a no-burn ordinance and all trash and rubbish will be hauled to landfills or to special municipal incinerators.

While this will cause an additional financial burden on local governments due to the increased trash collection and disposal, we feel most residents will favor such a move. The smoke and fumes that now often billow up from these piles will be greatly reduced.

Schools out

Only a very stodgy adult with a very short memory could fail to have a feeling of bittersweetness when she realizes—along with their folks—that there are still wide open lions of youngsters a chance to ever, should at least in part be

OPEN HOUSE
June 4-6 to 9 p.m.
June 5 June 6
2 to 6 p.m. 1 to 7 p.m.

One of the finest accomplishments of 1971 for the St. Johns community is the completion of the home built by students in the St. Johns High School Building Trades Program. The three bedroom ranch home features an attached garage, full basement, excelent construction with many plus features. Our congratulations to the students, their instructors and the many fine local tradesmen and supporters of the project. It's something we can all be proud of.

We at Capitol Savings are also proud of our growth in 1971. Our assets of over $130 million makes us one of Michigan's largest savings and loan associations. Helping communities grow by financing home owners is one of the main functions of our organization and you as a saver at Capitol can be assured the money you save will be used to make our area prosper and grow.

The open house ceremonies will start Friday at 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. Saturday's hours are set for 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday's house will be held from noon to 7 p.m. at the house, 406 W. Sickels, across from the high school.

When asked if the house will be completed in time, Terry Seybert, vocational instructor at the high school indicated that everything will be in perfect order.

"Even if we have to work all night to make sure everything is in perfect shape, it will be done on time," he said.

The house building project represents a new concept in vocational education at the high school level. Most of the work was done by the students with technical assistance from area sub-contractors in masonry, electrical, plumbing and heating.

One contractor leaving the house after completing his work told the student working with him, "You look me up in a couple of years, we could use you." Students in the vocational building trades class did the majority of the construction work, including the masonry which was sub-contracted out last year. Supervised by "Boss" Seybert, the 19 students worked an average of three hours each day since September, receiving regular high school credits, just as they would in the classroom.

This is the second year that this program has operated in St. Johns as part of the new high school's curriculum expansion program.

"The program has been very successful," Seybert said. "Last year we had 15 in the program, this year we have 19 and next year we will have around 28 enrolled.

This type of vocational training is relevant to the students because it offers on the job experience instead of classroom work said Ken Lashaway, vocational director. Seybert said that the basis of the program is to familiarize the students with the different aspects of building a house. "It won't finish this course an expert, but they will have some skills that they can use in the future. Also there is a lot of peer pressure. They have a lot of pride and feeling of accomplishment in this house," he said. Most of the students will enroll in the program next year.

The project is the ultimate in cooperation, everyone must do their share of the work or things will get held up. Needless to say, there is a lot of peer pressure.

"You look me up in a couple of years, we could use you.

The three seniors that are returning this year will help the juniors who will enroll in the program next year.

When asked what the students think of this house, Seybert said, "When you get kids working nights, Saturdays and Sundays and they could be doing something else, you can tell what they think of this house. They have a lot of pride and feeling of accomplishment in this house.

"I run this just like I was a general contractor and they were working in the community, they like it that way," he said. Most of the students will enroll in the program next year.

The project is the ultimate in cooperation, everyone must do their share of the work or things will get held up. Needless to say, there is a lot of peer pressure.

If someone is goofing off, I don't have to say anything, they will take care of it," he said.

Besides the building trades class, other students participated in the project. The vocational agriculture classes worked on the landscape by sodding the front and seeding the back. Students in the home economics classes selected interior colors for the rooms and carpets. The electronics classes wired the house, including three television hookups and the rotor antenna.

The three-bedroom house comprises an area of 1,250 square feet and is completely carpeted. It has a two-car garage, full basement, separate laundry room and fully equipped modern kitchen.

The house sits in front of a 100 by 230 lot with the nearest neighbor more than 75 yards away.

The living area is situated in the back of the house to insure complete privacy.

Seybert said, "You won't be able to find a better house in St. Johns," and he added, "If anything goes wrong, which it shouldn't, we are just across the street."

Persons interested in buying the house can talk to representatives of the St. Johns Realtors and Brokers officers who will attend the open house.

All students enrolled in the program are three students from St. Johns and one from Fowler who receive credit at their school for the classes. Those from St. Johns are Dave Rade-macher, Ernie Steffer, Kurt Parks, Mike Bearup, Steve Doty, Rick Flegel, Keith Foose, Randy Davey, Ralph Bailey, Harry Lance, Bruce Burton, Tracy Roberts and Doug Harnish.

From Fowler are Dave Winkel, Gary Palmatier and Duane Fedewa.

In this day and age when the need to bring knowledge to our young people is so important, we, the senior members of the community area, owe a debt of gratitude for the many hours expended by both Ken Lashaway and Terry Seybert in making the vocational department's home building project a reality. We owe thanks, too, to the many local people who served on the advisory committee and the St. Johns Board of Education members for their far-sightedness.

It pleases us, here at the bank, to say, "Well done." We urge everyone in the community to visit the home that the high school students of our community built with their own hands. We also are pleased to publicly acknowledge the splendid efforts of the Home-making class in doing the interior work and the Agriculture class in taking care of the landscaping.

You've accomplished a great deal. May you have continued success in the future.

LAST YEAR'S OPEN HOUSE

Between 700 and 800 people visited the house built by students in building classes at St. Johns High School at 616 S. Lansing St. Funds from the sale were used to purchase the present lot for construction of another house.

We at Randolph's offer our very best wishes to St. Johns High School for their Building Trades Program.

We're sure you'll have the same success in the future.

IT ALL STARTED HERE

Plans were set in motion in August when earth was broken for the start of a new house-building project. Checking blueprints are, from left, Tom Hundley, city clerk, Milo Rowell of Boron's, Oliver Gillespie, contractor, Ken Lashaway, high school vocational director, Ken Munger, advisory committee and Ed Schmitt, electrical contractor.

It took over 10,000 manhours for one instructor and 19 students to complete one project, a house. "I believe that is one of the best ways to communicate with the kids," said Terry Seybert, vocational instructor and construction boss for the high school building trades class.

"This is my first year teaching and I really don't believe I will teach anything else. This is what I know and this is what I can teach the kids best, practical experience," he said.

Seybert was graduated from Central Michigan University last spring with a B.S. in industrial education, with a minor in mathematics and a vocational certificate. He is a resident of Elsie. Seybert runs the class similar to a construction business. The students call him "boss." Each student approaches his particular job with the same attitude he would if it was a job.

The students are graded on their attitudes, attendance and performance, the same as a job, but without the pay. "The only trouble," he said smiling, "is that I can't fire them."

"They all know they have a responsibility to themselves and the other students. It is obvious that they all have lived up to that responsibility."

He said that many had no idea what went into building a house before they enrolled in this class. Now they have learned basic skills in the area of construction that they can use when they graduate from school.

"Every one of these students will make someone a good worker," he said.

That is the main objective of this class, to expose students to areas of interest that they can put to use in the future," he said.

Seybert said the plans for next year's house are well underway. "It will be bigger and better than this one, because sooner or later I will need long hours and now it is done," he said.
