Voters will decide on school issues

Candidates of Board of Education hold debate to identify priorities among voters to the six Clinton County school districts. "It's a sad commentary when there are no arguments," said Dr. Robert Prouty, chairman of the board.

DeWitt votes on expansion

The DeWitt Board of Education recently approved additional additions that include five English rooms, four social studies rooms, an art room, seven physical education rooms, a band room, a library, and three computer labs.

While the additional buildings will improve the educational environment for students, the levy of one additional mill for the school is growing at a rapid pace. Mrs. Sellhorn, a DeWitt Town Board member, notes that the present high school will need a renovation in the future and growth potential is a concern. She believes the present high school surpasses the capacity of the current building and recommends that the board consider the expansion of the present high school for a faster and more efficient expansion.

DeWitt voters in the DeWitt Township High School Board elections to gain voter approval for the proposal. The building proposal calls for remodeling of existing rooms and a new section with a new wing. Mr. Boutwell, the Director of School Districts, states that the bond issue will be a 30-day or 2,000-mile bond for one year remaining on the board.

Volunteer program hopeful of expansion

KNOXVILLE—The number of students involved in volunteer programs has been increasing in recent years, and many schools are looking for ways to expand these programs. The volunteer program at Knox College is one such example. The program has grown steadily over the past few years, with more students expressing interest in volunteering each year.

A number of factors contribute to the success of these programs. First, there is an increasing awareness among students, parents, and
school staff about the benefits of volunteering. It is acknowledged that volunteering not only helps those in need, but also has positive effects on volunteers themselves.

Secondly, schools have made it easier for students to become involved in volunteering by providing opportunities for students to earn credit for their volunteer work. This incentive has helped attract more students to these programs.

Finally, there is a demonstrated willingness among students to give back to their community. This is reflected in the high number of volunteers who participate in these programs.

Despite these benefits, however, there are still challenges to be addressed. One challenge is finding enough
volunteers to meet the demand. Schools need to encourage more students to
become involved in volunteering and to continue to expand these
programs.

In conclusion, the volunteer program at Knox College is a
promising example of how schools can successfully integrate volunteer work into their curricula. As interest in volunteering continues to grow, it is important to continue to support and encourage these programs to ensure that more students
have the opportunity to make a positive impact on their community.

Central Bank of the World

According to Merle Green things started happening in 1960. That was the year Green Meadow Farm's milking parlor was built and 500 Holsteins were the beginning of the world's largest registered Holstein herd.

Green Meadow Farm

Milking Parlor

Today, the farm covers 3,700 acres and contains 1,200 Holstein cows that produce 45,000 pounds of milk a day. The farm's 1,200 Holstein cows are milked in a 18-hour day. Here, milking a cow takes 3 minutes. The farm's 1,200 Holstein cows produce milk that is processed and shipped to supermarkets around the world.

Members of the St. Johns High School graduating class of 1922 gathered at the Central Bank of the World presentation room Saturday afternoon for their 50th reunion. Shown from bottom to top are: Mrs. Leonard (Bessie) Blakeslee; Leonard Blakeslee; Doris Rice Nichols; Sid Keys; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Martin; Geraldine Gohn; Lucille (Valentine) Jones; Marion Jones; Orval Price; Cressie Matthews Wakefield; Walter Gohn; Opal Creaser; Maxwell Smith; Marie Ellis; Julia Ross; Herman Ellis; Lester Lake; Mrs. Lester Lake; Hazel Halsey; News (Bryant) Keen; Minnie (Shont) Martin; Arnold Marten; and Irving Eaton.
If St. Johns voters approve a 1 mill request for building maintenance, needed repairs will be made in the various buildings. These pictures show a sampling of what is scheduled for correction. At Central School, brickwork is cracked, weather-beated and missing caused from front leaking gutters.

At Rodney B. Wilson Junior High this classroom ceiling is damaged caused from roof leaks.

Questions and answers on St. Johns millage

1. What does the request of 14.5 mills for school operation for 1972-73 compare with the millage in the past few years? The 14.5 mills being requested is a continuation of Dr. William Finkbeiner's request for approximately 15 mills two years ago. This has been the tax rate in Clinton National School District for over five years. Since 1970, the full millage for this district has been 15.5 mills.

2. Does not the one-mill levy continue and will the total millage be the same? No—the monies realized from the 14.5 mills for school operations will go toward building repairs and other improvements after the districts property tax is reduced.

3. Has the Board of Education set five millages for this district? No—the Board of Education has not voted on the 5 millage. The voters will determine if the 14.5 mill levy will be continued for another year.

4. What would happen if the 14.5 will fail? If the 14.5 mill levy is approved and voters approve other millages, the district will have no deficit. If the levy fails, the district would have to return to a five millage system. There would be no change if the voters also approve other millages. There would be a deficit of about 2 mills if the 14.5 levy alone fails. The voters would have to approve other millages to support the district.

5. Will the renewal of the 1.5 mills make a difference in the St. Johns School District? Yes, because of increased costs and the state's lowered property tax, additional funds are needed to sustain the school district.

6. Will the voters in St. Johns be required to vote on a 2-mill levy or a 3-mill levy? Yes—the voters will have to vote on both of these millages. They are separate millages and must be approved by voters to continue in operation.

7. What is the difference between the one-mill levy and the 2-mill levy? The 14.5 mill levy is the recommendation of the Board of Education. The voters will decide if this levy will continue.

8. Will the 14.5 mill levy be sufficient to make up the deficit? No—the monies realized from the 14.5 mills for school operations will go toward building repairs and other improvements after the district's property tax is reduced.

9. How do the school tax rates compare with the millage levied by other districts in the area? The millage levied by other districts is $14.5 mills for school operations in Clinton National School District. Other districts have levied 15 or 16 mills for school operation. The 14.5 mill levy is higher than the millage levied by other districts.

10. How does the educational program in St. Johns compare with the program in other school districts in the state? The educational program in St. Johns compares favorably with the program in other school districts in the state. St. Johns has a diversified program with a balanced budget. They have an education program that is comparable to other school districts in the state.

11. What will the total millage be for the St. Johns School District if the 14.5 mill request fails? If the 14.5 mill levy request fails on June 12, the district would have to return to a five millage system. There would be a deficit of about 2 mills if the 14.5 levy alone fails. The voters would have to approve other millages to support the district.

12. Will the total millage be increased? Yes, if the 14.5 mill levy request is approved. The voters would have to approve other millages to support the district.

13. What is the estimated cost of the building improvements? The estimated cost of the building improvements is $300,000 per year. This amount will be used to renovate the boiler and heating systems, improve facilities, and replace aging equipment. The estimated cost of renovating the separate buildings is $500,000 per year. This amount will be used to improve school facilities and make them more efficient.

14. Will the 14.5 mill levy be adequate to meet the needs of the district? Yes, the 14.5 mill levy will be adequate to meet the needs of the district. The levy will be used to improve school facilities and meet the needs of the district.

15. What will be done with the millage which has been used for other purposes? The millage which has been used for other purposes will be used to improve school facilities and meet the needs of the district.

16. What will be done with the millage which has been used for other purposes? The millage which has been used for other purposes will be used to improve school facilities and meet the needs of the district.

17. Is the request a continuation of past programs? Yes, the request is a continuation of past programs. The district has been carrying a deficit for the past three years. Because of this, the district has not been able to do the things which will be done if the one-mill levy is approved.

18. Will the voters be asked to vote on a different millage at the next election? No—the voters will not be asked to vote on a different millage at the next election. The voters will be asked to vote on the 14.5 mill levy and other millages which have been used for other purposes.

19. What is the importance of the 14.5 mill levy? The 14.5 mill levy is important because it will be used to improve school facilities and meet the needs of the district.

I AM THE UNITED STATES

I was born on July 4, 1776, and the Declaration of Independence is my birth certificate. The floodtides of the world run in my veins, but I am not the oppressed. I am, many things and many people, I AM THE UNITED STATES.

I am 105 million living souls—and the ghosts of millions who have lived and died for me.

I am the Statue of Liberty, the South Bend, the¢oeb of the Washtenaw County News, St. Johns, Michigan
Mary said the following:

"The problem is to interpret the request of the king to the servant. The servant is to show his forgiveness to the king. Our Lord asked the same thing of us. Forgive your brother as many as seven times."

"But I tell you, unless you forgive others their transgressions, your heavenly Father will not forgive your transgressions."

"Therefore, if you forgive others in full, your heavenly Father will also forgive you in full."

"But if you do not forgive others, then your Father will not forgive your transgressions."

Jesus said, "If your brother does something unforgiving to you, go and tell him that you forgive him."

"If he does not listen to you, take two or three witnesses."

"If he does not listen to them, take it to the church."

"But if he listens to you, your brother will become a disciple of Christ, and you must pray for him and help him in all ways."

Jesus is in the ministry, and is continually trying to do good for the people. He is a disciple of Christ, and the church is a wonderful organization for helping others. It is important to forgive others, especially when they have done something wrong.

"Forgive them seven times, but after that, do not forgive them."

"I do not say to you seven times, but seven."
Use sod waterway for surface runoff

Now that older water sewer lines have been replaced by the new method of water sewers, sewer lines will be laid underground. The use of surface runoff and waterways for draining the land will be necessary. This will help to reduce the flow of water and to control flooding. The use of surface runoff and waterways will also help to reduce the amount of water that is lost through evaporation and seepage. This will help to conserve water and to make the water supply more reliable. The use of surface runoff and waterways will also help to improve the appearance of the area and to make it more attractive. Still budget time

Mrs. Douglas Threlkirk

It's budget time, and school districts and municipalities are in the midst of making decisions about how to allocate funds for the coming year. This process is complex, involving many factors and stakeholders.

One of the key sources of funds is state aid, which is appropriated to the state budget for various purposes. This includes education assistance, for instance, and appears to be a significant part of the budget for many states.

The process of raising the money and deciding how it will be spent is ongoing, and it's budget time again. The first step is to understand the needs and priorities of the community, followed by the allocation of funds to meet those needs.

For the most part, districts and municipalities have the autonomy to decide how to allocate funds, but there are still constraints and regulations that need to be considered. This is a complex and important process, and it's important to ensure that all voices are heard and that the funds are used effectively.
