Andy's IGA celebrates 40th anniversary

The store is now owned by Andy’s IGA, which was started in 1937 by Andy Thompson. The store was originally located in downtown St. Johns, but in 1949, a 2nd location was opened in a 2-story building at the corner of Main St. and Fourth Ave. At that time, the store contained a baker and a cafeteria. The store was later moved to its current location in 1969, and now contains a bakery, a deli, and a variety of other products.

The store's origins are linked to the Soap Box Derby, where Andy’s IGA provided Pepsi for 20 cents. The store has continued to be a major part of the community, hosting events such as the St. Johns Bicentennial tree planting and providing local property tax and the State of Michigan. The store has also provided educational opportunities and has been a hub for gathering and sharing feelings and experiences.

Cressmans coordinate visit by Pakistanis

The Cressmans are acting as American guides for the Pakistani group of the American exchange program. This program, sponsored by the United States Information Agency, allows Pakistani students to study and work in the United States.

The Pakistani students are looking for ways to improve their own work and return home with new ideas. The American exchange program is designed to promote mutual understanding and friendship between the United States and Pakistan.

On Friday morning at 11 a.m., the Pakistani students will be visiting the St. Johns Public Schools. They will be accompanied by their American guides, the Cressmans. The students will be shown around the school and will have the opportunity to experience American education first hand.

The Cressmans have been helping to prepare for this event for several weeks. They have gathered information about the school system and have arranged for the students to meet with various faculty members.

The Cressmans believe that this event is an important opportunity to promote understanding and friendship between the United States and Pakistan.

We're proud of our new generation of Graduates... but where will they be tomorrow?

Right now, it's graduation time, time for celebrations, for parties and for gifts...but tomorrow, after all the honors have been bestowed, our grads will be looking to the future. Some will choose to continue their education, others will enter the business careers. All of us have a definite interest in the future of these young people, and we'll all benefit if graduates find opportunities here. We invite you to join in our efforts to make our community a good place to live, a good place to shop, a good place to work.

Viewing The Advertising Scene…

WINNIE SCHNITZLADY
Advertising Editor

In the next few months and for the next part I would like to help you get the most out of your advertising efforts. I am providing this column as a tool to help you in your business. If there are any topics you would like me to cover, please let me know.

The following tips are based on the principles of effective advertising and will be applied to various types of businesses. They are not intended to be exhaustive, but rather to provide a starting point for improving your advertising efforts.

1. Know your audience: Understanding your target audience is crucial to designing effective advertisements. Consider demographic information, such as age, gender, income level, and interests, when creating advertisements.

2. Set clear goals: Determine what you want to achieve with your advertising efforts. This will help you focus your advertising efforts and evaluate their effectiveness.

3. Use a variety of media: Utilizing multiple advertising channels can help you reach a wider audience. Consider using social media, print advertising, and online advertising.

4. Test and refine: Continuously test and refine your advertising efforts. Collect data on the performance of your advertisements and make adjustments as needed.

5. Be consistent: Consistency is key when it comes to advertising. Develop a consistent brand message and use it across all advertising channels.

6. Measure results: Use metrics to track the effectiveness of your advertising efforts. This will help you determine what strategies are working and what needs improvement.

Remember, effective advertising is an ongoing process. By following these tips, you can improve the effectiveness of your advertising efforts and achieve your business goals.

Intermediate School District initiates grass roots study to determine best direction for vocational education

The Clinton County Intermediate School District has recently initiated a grass roots study to determine the best direction for vocational education.

The study involves a comprehensive examination of future options, including vocational and technical programs, as well as the utilization of a consulting firm such as the Steering Committee and the Manpower and Training Needs Committee. The study will be conducted through a series of workshops and forums, with the aim of engaging a wide range of stakeholders, including school boards, business leaders, and community members.

The study will focus on the exploration of vocational programming, including the identification of current needs, the development of new programs, and the assessment of existing offerings. The goal is to ensure that the vocational education programs align with the needs of the local workforce and provide students with the skills necessary for success in the job market.

The study will be led by a team of experts, including vocational education specialists, business leaders, and community members. The team will work closely with the Steering Committee and the Manpower and Training Needs Committee to ensure that the study results are actionable and sustainable.

The Clinton County Intermediate School District is committed to providing high-quality vocational education programs that meet the needs of the local workforce. We believe that this study will be a valuable tool in determining the best direction for vocational education in our district.

Contact information for the study team:

- Steve Allen: Musical Director, [steveallen@clinton intermediate.org](mailto:steveallen@clinton intermediate.org)
- Jaynes O'Brien: Vocational Education Specialist, [jaynesobrien@clinton intermediate.org](mailto:jaynesobrien@clinton intermediate.org)
- Douglas Twiss: Vocational Education Specialist, [douglastwiss@clinton intermediate.org](mailto:douglastwiss@clinton intermediate.org)

We encourage all stakeholders to participate in this important study and to provide their input to ensure that vocational education in our district is aligned with the needs of the local workforce.

Back from the Future: Clinton County memories from 1920, 1945, 1955, 1975

Life was very different back in Illinois County

The Halo County, site of George Bush, Chandy Bush, and the Bush family during the Revolutionary War, was once a busy place. The town was bustling with activity, with shops, inns, and taverns dotting the landscape. But, as the years went by, the town began to fade away, and today, only a few scattered buildings and landmarks remain.

Studies refute connection between egg consumption and heart attacks

LANSING—For years we have been told that the use of eggs was responsible for heart disease and a large number of death. "The egg is the chief cause of that disease," says Clyde Springer, of St. Johns. This has been refuted by studies completed in the last few years and the use of eggs has been recommended as a source of protein, a preferred source of one of nature's richest sources of protein.

Clyde Springer, of St. Johns, has been responsible in large part for a yearly debate in the Michigan state legislature on the egg industry. This has led to a number of studies completed by the Michigan State University egg industry research teams. The results of these studies have been published in the Journal of the American Medical Association and the results confirm that the use of eggs is not responsible for heart disease. The studies have shown that the egg industry has been responsible in large part for the rise in heart disease in the population. The studies have also shown that the egg industry has been responsible for a number of other health problems, including diabetes, obesity, and cancer.

The Michigan State University egg industry research teams have been a leader in the fight against heart disease. The teams have conducted a number of studies on the effects of the egg industry on heart disease and have published their results in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The studies have shown that the egg industry has been responsible for a number of health problems, including diabetes, obesity, and cancer.

These results have led to a number of changes in the Michigan state legislature. The egg industry has been forced to change its practices in order to reduce the number of health problems caused by the egg industry. The egg industry has also been forced to change its practices in order to reduce the number of health problems caused by the egg industry.
