$400,000 hospital grant OK'd

Federal funds totaling up to $400,000 have been made available to Clinton Memorial Hospital for use in constructing the proposed addition to the St. Johns facility.

The $400,000, under the Hill-Burton Act, was approved last week by the Public Health Service, according to an announcement by the office of U. S. Rep. Paul H. Todd Jr.

The final decision now is whether to proceed with the plans or to postpone the work.

$245,000 for medical equipment was also approved last week by the PHS. The funds are to be used toward the southwest corner, closer to the visitor parking lot.

The $400,000 proposed project includes a two-story section in the west end of the hospital, a five-story addition to the north and a medical and pupil cafeteria in the east of the proposed addition in order to accommodate increased hospital properties and extend nursing facilities.

The project is expected to be finished by November 1965.

City wants P.O. drop box moved

A strong effort to have the post office drop box removed from the sidewalk on Grand River Avenue is being made by a group of city citizens. The city commission promised some action to carry the petition this week and offered some assistance in the matter.

The box will be removed, along with the street sign, from the sidewalk in front of the post office. The commission has promised to look into the possibility of installing the box on the other side of the street.

The box is 71 feet from the street and 8 feet from the post office. The sign on the box is gone.

The box is 10 feet out into the street. The box was put in two years ago.

The city commission promised some action in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis of North Cherry Street in Viewcrest subdivision.

The council also agreed to buy six streetside parking meters for the city of DeWitt, Michigan. The city council recently passed a resolution authorizing the purchase of the meters.

City getting ready for new apportionment — just in case

Clinton County may become one of the few in Michigan where apportionment is an ever-present issue. The county委bly board is now considering a proposal that would divide the county into electoral districts for the next election. If approved, the new apportionment plan would take effect with the 1968 primary election.

The proposal would create 10 electoral districts in the county, each consisting of a single county seat. The county commission would have the authority to establish the boundaries of each district, and the board would be responsible for determining the number of seats to be allocated to each district.

The new apportionment plan would be based on the 1960 census, and it would be reviewed and adjusted every ten years. The board would be required to hold a public hearing on the proposal before it could be adopted.

If approved, the new apportionment plan would affect the election of county officials, including the county commissioners, county clerk, and county treasurer. The new districts would be in effect for the 1968 primary election and would remain in place until the next redistricting.

The proposal received the approval of the county commission, and it was sent to the state legislature for consideration. The legislature would be required to approve the proposal before it could become law.

But the proposal was not without its critics. Some members of the commission argued that the proposal was too complex, and that it would be difficult to implement.

The proposal was ultimately approved by the state legislature, and it was enacted into law on June 16, 1966. The new apportionment plan took effect with the 1968 primary election, and it has remained in place ever since.

In the years since its enactment, the new apportionment plan has been subject to legal challenges and Supreme Court decisions. But it has remained in place, and it continues to be used to elect county officials in Clinton County.

High School students talk about cigarettes

The non-smoking Sandra B. Wilson has long been a smoking advocate. Recently, she agreed that the letter from her former teacher (Ladle Lady) and the clipping from the newspaper that linked her name to smoking should have been investigated. She was a smoker in high school, but said she had already quit and that the clipping would be a matter of concern.

The clipping already received from the school principal that contained the letters from the school. She said she had not made any attempt to quit or to continue smoking after hearing the letter from the school.

MISS BROWN: "I was very disappointed when I received the clipping from my principal, Mrs. Maynard Marten. I had already been made aware of the letter's existence, and I knew that it would be distributed to students.

The letter was very long and included a discussion of smoking, specifically the effects of smoking on health. It also included advice on how to quit smoking.

I have spoken to my students about the dangers of smoking, and I believe that they should be made aware of the risks. I have also encouraged them to think critically about the information they receive and to consider the sources of the information."

A look back at the Soap Box Derby

Rolling smoothly off the top of Clinton Avenue, three soap box cars, with drivers crouched low, approach the corner of Clinton and Higham in the three-block race for the finish line. Men in white helmets are finish line officials. It was a perfect afternoon for racing under partly cloudy skies and with a light breeze helping the cars along.

Bernard Feldpausch, Chevrolet dealership director for the Soap Box, was presented with a surprise trophy Sunday night by Derby Director Bill McCarthy in recognition of Feldpausch's efforts in making the derby successful for four years. Mrs Feldpausch looks on at left.

This is the championship heat of Sunday's Soap Box Derby, with Dan Pline of Westphalia holding about a car-length lead as they near the finish line. Dan defeated a fellow Westphalians, John Bengel.

Sometimes the brakes didn't work on cars, but the bales of hay placed well beyond the finish line stopped most of the cars. This young driver grimaces as his car rolls into the hay. The older fellow behind him looks like he may be on a skate board, but he wasn't.

Miss St. Johns, Dorothy Evitts, hands a bouquet of roses to the new Soap Box Derby queen, Julie Pung, 11, daughter of Mrs Gladys Pung of 505 Church Street, after the name of the queen was announced. Runners-up were Anita Rositas, Kelly Spicer, Virginia DeLong and Mary Ellen Albers. Second from the left in last year's Soap Box Derby queen, Gloria Stoeckle. The new queen and her court later rode in the parade on the Jaycees' Soap Box Derby float (below).

Soap Box Derby winner Dan Pline of Westphalia poses with his parents, Mr and Mrs Gus Pline, with trophies and prizes awarded him at the awards breakfast Sunday evening. Dan holds his trophy and a $500 savings bond; Mrs Pline has a permanent John Lynam Memorial Trophy plaque for Dan, while Mr Pline holds the Lynam traveling trophy.

Dan Pline of Westphalia and his soap Box Derby car "Firefly" are literally engulfed by well-wishing derby boys as the final heat was concluded Sunday afternoon.

COMMISSIONER IRRER of the Democratic Party.
'Bye, blackbird' hoped for

There's a farmer instantly dolling away frozen semen, 2-2,000,000 of them, in the state of Michigan, and his name is William E. Yoder, of Albright, near Portland. He's defined it as the number of potential parents that fertilize their eggs. The actual results are put in his name. There are just enough of them to keep him going at the same time. He has over 2000 pent-up-sperm parents and he is the only man in the state who can do it. He is also the only one in the world who has been able to raise blackbird favorites. He has several others that are on order, and he has 10,000,000 of them in a flock at times, for his blackbird project. He says that if he had to do it all over again, he would do it again. He says that he has lost 10,000,000 in the past 10 years, and he has won 10,000,000 in the past 20 years. He says that he is the only one in the world who can do this, and he will do it again. He says that he is the only one in the world who can do this, and he will do it again.

Legislators’ shenanigans leave some doubt of worth

Our State legislators in Lansing have come to our state very lately that should make the people of Michigan have some second thoughts.

I know, in the past we have been fooled through a pay raise for themselves by tucking it away in another bill. While a go-to-guy perfect couple of legislators were needed for failure to pay their income taxes. There is another legislator who has been locked up for driving under the influence twice in the past few months, while another who did not even have any automobile insurance did not pay his $55 to the state. Another legislator just recently was booked on a morals charge.

We realize that our legislators are only human, but we do think that when a man or woman is elected to an office of this stature they should not lose the average.

To our young people, our legislators are important men who enact the laws that we have to live by. Even before this last attempt to raise their pay, the legislators, the great bunch of guys, dedicated to the fire hall. Our young people, our legislators, can we be trusted.

Even before this last attempt to raise their pay, the legislators, the great bunch of guys, dedicated to the fire hall. Our young people, our legislators, can we be trusted.

We expect our children and fellow men to obey the laws. But try to explain to me why they should obey when those who pass our laws seem to think that they can run the show like the rest of us.

Even before this last attempt to raise their pay, the legislators, the great bunch of guys, dedicated to the fire hall. Our young people, our legislators, can we be trusted.

We believe the time has come to take a "good look" at our elected officials to see if they are really serving the public and our tax dollars are not being wasted.

The warn turns... and the hair grows longer

It has been interesting, over the years, to watch the change of the dress and appearanices of people.

Not too long ago women decided that they no longer wanted to dress very much like what man wants to continue to live in a happy home will deny this and come up with all the things that man's attire. The dress gave way to the blue jeans, which is still worn by many people for the lighter-fitting variety called stretch pants. All this has been taken in stride by our women, and today little thought is given to a woman dressed in pants. She looks like she was poured into it, and a man's shirt.

If women want to look like men it would appear this is their privilege as this is still a free nation.

New names another concept in appearance. This time it's the men with their elongated (or lack of) haircuts.

We've heard men say women have hair styles made for men, but the fact is, they are as much a hair style for women as they are for men. The hair style can also be worn long or short.

The dress even today, is still a very much fashion. There are certain styles that are popular and other styles that are not.

Our volunteer firemen also wear their hair in various styles because overall they are a great bunch of guys, dedicated to their duty.

They have their hair cut in the style of the times. I'm not sure what the future is going to be like, but I do know what it is like today.
