We repeat...

A recent brochure distributed by the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission entitled "12 urgent planning needs of the Tri-County Region" lists as problem number 2, "No great emphasis is put on job or career skills." The brochure continues, "The school systems in Clinton, Eaton and Ingham counties are beginning to reach a critical degree of the individual is not aware of the importance of vocational education."

"There is a prevailing attitude suggesting that those who make it into college have made it, and that a welder or farmer is somehow lower.

This constant emphasis on college academics tends to alienate many students and disinterest them with school. Schools must emphasize that there are fields and skills just as important as going to college. Then, through career and vocational training, the school can prepare individuals for the world of work.

To the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission we say, "Wait just a darn darn minute..."

We refer the commission to the County News editorial of June 11, entitled, "Quality schools here..."

We can do without their interference, we need portions of that editorial: "School districts, for the most part, in Clinton County are good in their performance and we support and support, and support to taxpayers..."

A strong educational support at work is the career vocational program...courses include agriculture, home economics, building trades, metal shop, chemistry, basic English, foreign languages, math, etc.

If such a varied educational package for the student provides the knowledge in his mind that his school does have something to offer him. A strong vocational educational support program is an important aspect of any aggressive community - we are fortunate to possess such a commodity.

That's what we said June 11. Nothing has changed.

We cannot speak for the schools in Eaton or Ingham counties, but the schools in Clinton County are equal educationally. We are not speaking for quality education - quality education is being ignored in our county by a sweeping recommendation to abandon the county planning commission.

On the other hand, if the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission is interested in learning how other areas are going about this matter, perhaps the county commissioner will show a little educational sense and begin to investigate the matter of the county planning commission.

What others are thinking...

Those Michigan citizens who cherish the idea that local government must be the responsive government for which there is so much cliché a little tighter around their necks Monday, June 11, when a proposal for the county executive formal type of government was put forward. City, township, village and city government and give impetus to counties and will not claim "all" schools in Clinton County - that county manager type of county home rule will hasten the death of township, village and city government and give a new formula of strictly English, history, foreign languages, automotive service, agriculture, building trades, commerce, cooperations, business administration, in..."
View from the Senate

by Sen. William B. Miller

Just as the return of the national legislature brings new ideas to the fore, so too in the state Senate, where with the departure of the last session, the first of the Legislative's year begins. The Senate, much as the House, is divided into two parts, the Republicans and the Democrats, and there are at least three different senators for each member to vote with. The Senate is divided into 64 counties, with at least one representative for each county. The Senate is meant to be a place where the majority party is in control, but it is also a place where the minority party has its say.

A Garden for a Must
By WILMA LANDIS
Prairie Agriculture Agent

Our next time you need a friendly loan from the bank, think about the possibility of buying land that is available.

Many urban gardeners who want to grow their own vegetables must go to more places to find the proper garden beds. Although the produce may be more expensive, the urban gardener has the advantage of being near the place of sale, and sometimes the producing farm is in the area.

The next few months, please keep your garden beds watered. When the temperatures are hot, the soil moisture in the garden will be depleted, and the plants will need more water than usual.

If you cultivate good gardens, this year, your profit will prove beneficial.

In loving memory of Larry Durbin who passed away 4 years ago June 22.
We lost our dear son Larry, when he was just 14.
God said “You’ve had him long enough.”
It’s time to take him home.
Up here, no one can harm him,
And protected he will be.
He will be a happy boy,
Our hearts are empty and lonely, And
our eyes hold unshed tears.
How we still love and miss him
At the end of 4 long years.
Mother and sisters,
Mrs. Sandra Launstein Linda, Tracey and Patsy
Durbin.
