History on the move in Tri-County area

The first Jugular-Chillicothe Tri-County Historical Convention was held yesterday in the city of St. Johns, attended by 200 people representing various local organizations. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the High School, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Wiskemann, president of the society.

The program began with an address from a hand-made goatee, followed by a reading from the minutes of the previous meeting. The meeting adjourned with the adoption of the minutes, and a motion to appoint Mrs. Wiskemann as president. The meeting then adjourned to a reception for the officers and members of the society.

In other news, the St. Johns City Council voted to increase the number of parking spaces in the downtown area from 200 to 300. This decision was made after a detailed study of the parking needs of the downtown area, which indicated a need for an additional 100 parking spaces.

In related news, the St. Johns High School has been awarded a grant of $10,000 from the State Department of Education to support its new athletic program. The funds will be used to purchase equipment and to hire a new head coach.

St Johns takes factor fight to Lansing Monday

ST JOHNS - A delegation of St. Johns city council officials, led by Mayor Robert Wood, will take its case to Lansing Monday to protest the state's real estate assessment against Clinton County. The delegation includes Mayor Robert Wood, Vice-Mayor Roy Ebert, City Assessor Bruce Wood, City Manager Harvey Weatherwax, and City Clerk John Hannah.

The delegation will meet with state officials to present their case, which involves a dispute over the assessment of a large commercial property in the city. The city has filed a appeal with the State Tax Commission, and the case is currently pending.

In a related matter, the St. Johns School District has hired Joe Gonzales as its new head football coach. Gonzales replaces Ernie Becker, who has retired after 10 years of coaching. Gonzales is a long-time resident of St. Johns, and was a standout player for the high school.

The delegation will present its case to the State Tax Commission on Monday, and will hold a press conference afterwards to discuss the issue.
Conner will be of Clinton County Historical Society, a position he held from July 12, and will keep running a farm called "The Lamp" on Winter Road in Clinton County. He is a member of the Clinton County Historical Society.

Green Tee Guest Day at Clinton Country Club

ST JOHNS - Many members and guests participated in the Annual Green Tee Guest Day at Clinton Country Club. The annual event was held Wednesday, June 26, under the direction of Club Manager, Larry Ashley.

After a short golf clinic and round of golf, the ladies were treated to lunch outdoors provided by Manager Ashley, then to the home to listen to Pastor Robert Miller greet the group. The Rev. Miller spoke about the need for God's love and acceptance, and then several members of the group shared their testimony of golf and golf course.

Many games were then entered into by three groups who researched golf games as well as some local golfers who were able to play. At noon, closing remarks were made and a meal was served.

The Green Tee tournament will be reconvened to be played in the near future.

From the Clinton County News

Name: D. Z. - Dollars

Dear D. Z.:

I'm just writing because there are so many stories about the local economy and the challenges that businesses are facing. I think it's important to highlight the good work that businesses are doing in Clinton County.

The local chamber of commerce has been working hard to support local businesses. They've been organizing events to help businesses connect with each other and with potential customers. They've also been offering resources and training to help businesses improve their operations and stay competitive.

One of the things that I think is really important is supporting local jobs. Many local businesses are providing opportunities for local residents to work and earn a living near where they live. That's important because it helps to keep the local economy strong and it helps to create a sense of community.

I also think it's important to support local industries. Many local businesses are involved in manufacturing and other industries that are vital to the local economy. It's important to support these industries because they help to create jobs and they help to keep the local economy strong.

Lastly, I think it's important to support local businesses because they help to keep the community connected. Many local businesses are involved in community events and they help to support local charities. That's important because it helps to create a sense of community and it helps to support those who are working to make our community a better place.

I hope that you agree with me. I think it's really important to support local businesses. That's why I'm writing to you today. I hope that you will consider supporting local businesses in your area.

Sincerely,

Warner sees bill aimed at media as death knell of free press

For Capitol observers who received a mixed or mixed-up message of a proposal for an additional tax credit, the House-approved House Bill 6175 would amend the definition of "malfeasance, misfeasance or failure to perform duties," which was originally intended to allow criminal charges to be brought against members of the media for an ad or anything in a newspaper or magazine article. The original provision of a credit is aimed at defamatory statements, obscenity, or attempts to aid in the planning or commencement of a criminal offense. The maximum amount of a credit is set at $2,000 per incident, with the maximum amount for all incidents of $5,000. For businesses, the maximum amount is set at $500 per incident, with a maximum of $1,500 for all incidents. The maximum amount for all businesses is $5,000.

Responds to letter

Dear Editor:

Last week's letter from Burt Rosecrans regarding the July 24th circulation report on the state of our newspapers is typical of the outright lies that are being circulated by individuals who are not paying their taxes. The state of our newspapers is far worse than anything that has ever happened.

Burt Rosecrans

More on homestead tax credit

If you are looking for a way to save money, you should look into the various tax credits that are available to homeowners. One of the most popular credits is the homestead tax credit, which can significantly reduce your property taxes. In this article, we will discuss the eligibility requirements for the homestead tax credit and how to claim it.

Eligibility Requirements

To be eligible for the homestead tax credit, you must meet the following criteria:

- You must be a homeowner.
- You must be the primary residence of the property.
- You must have lived in the property for at least 12 months of the year.
- You must meet the income limits set by the state. The income limits are based on your household size and are adjusted for inflation.

Claiming the Homestead Tax Credit

To claim the homestead tax credit, you must file a homestead tax credit application with your local county treasurer. The application is typically available online, but you can also obtain it in person or by mail.

Additional Information

- The homestead tax credit is a subtraction from your property tax bill. This means that you will receive a check from the county treasurer for the amount of the credit.
- The credit is also available to homeowners who are over 65 years old and to homeowners who have a disability.
- The credit is not available to homeowners who are delinquent in paying their property taxes.

In conclusion, the homestead tax credit is a valuable tool for homeowners who are looking to reduce their property taxes. To be eligible, you must meet the eligibility requirements and file a homestead tax credit application with your local county treasurer.
