Zane Benedict—man dedicated to scouting

The troop at 11 was disbanded, but Benedict got it rolling again in 1971 and has been so involved in scouting ever since. Although Benedict has no sons, he said he became involved in scouting 17 years ago because of his involvement with a Scout troop. He then became a Scout leader for the past 17 years, and he continues to be so involved in helping boys become better citizens.

Benedict has been so involved in scouting that he has been recognized with several awards. In 1971, he received the Presidential Award for his leadership in scouting. He was also named a member of the National Merit Scholarship Program in 1974.

In addition to his work as a Scout leader, Benedict has also been active in the Democratic Party. He has held several positions within the party, including member of the state executive committee, chairman of the county executive committee, and chairman of the central committee.

Benedict has also been involved in other community activities, such as working for the Clinton County Democratic Party and serving on the board of trustees for DeWitt's St. Jude's Church. He has been married for 50 years and has two daughters, Debra and Gloria.
The 50-foot mural, which hung in the bank's auditorium, was created by Schuyler Marshall, a former professor of art at Michigan State University. The mural, which was painted by Marshall and his students, served as a public art project for the bank and a means of promoting community art.

Approximately 500 feet of mural, valued at more than $200,000, was removed from the bank's interior in 1964 when the building was sold. The mural was then donated to the Clinton County Historical Society, where it is now displayed in the Mann House Museum.

The mural features scenes from the history of St. Johns, including images of the city's early days, its growing population, and its significance as a center of learning and culture. The mural is a testament to the city's rich history and its commitment to preserving its cultural heritage.

The Historical Society is currently working to restore the mural and ensure its continued preservation for future generations to enjoy.

The Historical Society tour of the Mann House Museum is scheduled for Saturday, July 11, at 10 a.m. The tour will be conducted by historian and author Dr. James A. Leucht, who is well-known for his research on the history of St. Johns.

The tour will allow visitors to explore the Mann House, which was once the home of the city's first mayor, and to learn about the city's early days and the people who helped shape it.

The Historical Society encourages visitors to join them for this special tour and to learn more about the rich history of St. Johns.

A small child is hit by a car and parents are alone

According to Gil Derath, Ph.D., director of intern and extern at the Community Mental Health Center, the victims who have lost children through automobile accidents and other means don’t care, but more often than not, they need to be dealt with, they need to be helped. Then it all stops. They need to be dealt with, they need to be helped. What to say, what to do.

That's right! All you need is $1,000 as a deposit for only 1 year, and you're saving the highest rate of any type of money market savings account in town. Of course, Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal, but if you let your money compound, you could see an effective annual yield of 6.50%. That's "super" interest for only $1,000 as a deposit for 1 year.
