Lillian Swagart retires from the Wickes Corporation

It was confirmed recently that Mrs. Robert Swagart, Wickes Buildings division of The Wickes Corporation, has announced her retirement at the end of the fiscal year.

Mrs. Swagart has served as the manager of the Wickes facility at St. Johns, Michigan, for the past 11.6 years. She has been responsible for hiring and training department personnel; purchasing; and supervising the office of Manley, Bennett & McDonald, which handles the retail office of the Wickes facility at St. Johns.

A pattern of growth has continued into 1976 and the new St. Johns facility and operations are expected to be fully functional by early 1977. Wickes management personnel have announced plans to leave St. Johns, and Mrs. Swagart says she has no plans to return to the Wickes Corporation.

Our consistent growth pattern for fiscal year 1975 has continued into the first quarter of 1976. According to reports, this growth trend has been confirmed last year and is expected to continue throughout fiscal year 1976.

This three-year pattern has been responsible for hiring a number of local professional personnel who volunteer their services in the field of home health services throughout the Clinton County area.

A pattern of growth is planned upon satisfactory survey. This enables the local health department to continue to receive funds for the Health Services Program.

The Michigan Department of Public Health, Home Health Services Program, and the Wickes Corporation, have announced their cooperation in providing home health services. These services are provided by agencies designated by the Health Department staff. The Home Health Services Program is funded partially by the Michigan Department of Public Health and Michigan Blue Cross Blue Shield. The program is designed to provide assistance to those patients under the direction of a physician.

Editorial:

Johnnee kant spell — its noe bigge thing

Month in May said these days about the quality of education children are receiving is astounding. What's being taught is not being learned.

Sure, we've all heard about the education crisis before, but now it seems to be taking on new and different dimensions. The problem is not just with the schools, it's with the teachers. They're not teaching the kids what they need to know.

It's not just spelling, either. The kids can't even read. They can't spell, they can't write. They can't even recognize their own handwriting. It's a national disaster, in my opinion.

We need to do something about this. We need to hold the teachers accountable for what they do. We need to make sure they're teaching the kids what they need to know. And we need to make sure the kids are learning it.

We need to support our schools, but we also need to make sure they're doing a good job. And if they're not? Well, we need to find a way to replace them.

It's time we took education seriously. It's time we demanded better. For our kids, and for our future.

4-H Chatter: Japanese youth visits

BY JOY AYLWORTH

Michigan will play host to 30 Japanese youth from August 15-30. This year's participants visiting the Japanese program are students from the Kake Gakuen Youth Exchange Program at Michigan State University. Each group will have five faculty who will be hosting their new friends from outside the school or department. They are: Michael Verhagen, State 4-H Corn Judge; Joyce Aylworth, State 4-H Dairy Show Judge; Betty Jansen, 4-H Horse Show Judge; Mary Lou Vreeman, 4-H Rabbit Club; and William Caster, 4-H Sheep Judge.

The purpose of these cultural visits is to help the students understand what people of the world feel. The belief is that this can best be accomplished by having members of a family. This is especially effective between people of different cultures in the school. The belief is that the environment be created for these students to help the students understand and communicate. The best way to give them the cultural exchange program is by having groups of students. The families will have the opportunity to give the students a better understanding of their environment.

Each group has been paired with a family from the same age and ability range. The students of the groups will be traveling with their host families. A catalog of the different social activities that the students will be experiencing will be available to the students.
