Charges Cederberg is abusing franking privilege

HARRISON - Big BRAUKER CONTENDS

Brauker said, "Otherwise the political leaders and see how the poll is more accurate poll than the one done by the constituent district manager for the Clinton County News, Van Wyk.

"The Congressman's office reported that 2,000 questionnaires had been mailed out were returned. Cederberg's office reported that 1,500 questionnaires could have been returned. But, the fact is that Cederberg went to the Congressional's office I believe the poll is, "blatently wrong.""

DeWitt school board names new principal

DEWITT — Fred Goers, 30, has been named principal of DeWitt High School, replacing Don Mueller, who resigned to accept a position as superintendent in the Carsonville School System.

Goers previously served as assistant principal at Montrose High School. He served in that capacity for the past 4 years and earlier served as a math teacher.

Goers is a graduate of Michigan State University. He obtained a bachelor of science degree in mathematics in 1964 and later earned his master of arts in secondary education curriculum.

A native of Chicago, he moved with his family to Saugatuck in 1949 and is a graduate of Saugatuck High School.

Three cited for violating cycle law

ST JOHNS — Three persons were assessed fines and costs in District Court in St Johns after being cited for operating motorcycles in Sleepy Hollow State Park on a trail where wheeled vehicles are prohibited.

Randy F. Curtis, 20, 2658 N Meridian Rd, Ovid; Charles S. Wieger, 21, 224 N East- Court and Richard M. Smith, 19, 119 Elm, Ovid, were issued citations by the Dept of Natural Resources July 1 for riding on prohibited trails in DeWitt and Sleepy Hollow State Park.

They were fined $10 apiece plus $11 costs and $4 judgment fees.

Health Department seeks to detect health problems

The Mid-Michigan Health Department is seeking the younger members of families receiving assistance from the Department of Social Services, so that they may become involved in a program to detect health problems.

Aurang stressed that eligibility will be determined only for those who are under the age of 18. He added that the program will be somewhat experimental. Questions as to the number of people it will serve will be worked out with local assistance.

The clinics stem from an amendment to the Social Security Act of 1967 that requires "early and periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment" (EPSDT) for children and adults whose families are receiving public assistance. The program is designed to be held in existing Health Department facilities.

Six things will be involved in the screening process, according to Dr Aurang, from a health history and physical inspection to explaining the findings to the child and accompanying adult.

From 2 reporters to 90 lawyers

For those who claim they're sick of hearing about the Watergate mess, here's a note to make us all feel better. Archibald Cox, special prosecutor appointed to head the Watergate case, has submitted a budget of around $3 million including the retaining of 90 attorneys. That boggles the mind when you consider the whole thing started from the efforts of 2 reporters from the Washington Post.

Indeed, if the 90 lawyers, it might save the nation a bundle of money to hire the 2 reporters and Martha Mitchell.

Maybe it's not as unfuzzy as you think. You might be able to control it a bit better than you think. Take these steps.

1. Begin by setting your expectations.
2. Practice your technique.
3. Adjust your equipment.

If you're ready to face these challenges and more, you're ready to face the Senate. Good luck!"
Might be wise to wait before buying...

Access thinking about developing all-girled dormitories in a campus where your every move is watched. But wait! Michigan State University has just announced that it will offer sex-segregated dorms as an option for students. The move follows a study conducted by the Office of Institutional Research which revealed that students living in single-sex dorms reported higher satisfaction with their residence life experiences. The university plans to roll out the option for the fall semester, and students will be able to indicate their preference when they apply for housing.

The change comes as the university grapples with a broader national trend towards gender-inclusive living spaces on college campuses. While some institutions have moved cautiously, Michigan State has taken a more progressive approach. The new policy will allow students to choose whether they want to share their living space with members of the opposite sex or not. The university hopes that this will create a more inclusive and supportive living environment for all its students.

The decision has sparked a mix of reactions. Some students are elated at the prospect of having more control over their living arrangements. Others have expressed concerns about privacy and safety. However, the university has emphasized that it will implement strict guidelines to ensure that students' rights are protected.

In related news, the university has also announced that it will be offering a new course on gender identity and expression. The course will be open to all students and will explore issues such as gender roles, gender identity, and the ways in which gender intersects with other aspects of identity.

Overall, the changes at Michigan State University reflect a broader trend towards gender-inclusive policies and spaces on college campuses. While the road ahead may be challenging, the university's commitment to creating a more inclusive and welcoming environment for all its students is commendable.
Of course! Let's get started. Here is the text from the image:

Can you really afford those 'great bargains' at some food stores?

Do you really save on two or three 'great bargains' when you pay more than Kroger prices on ten or more items? At Kroger, we have quality products, of course; the man who has been around long enough to call himself a butcher will have no trouble telling you why "K" Kroger's Beef, Pork, and all specialty Meats are a Better buy in the meat department at Kroger. Special Savings for our "Parents Choice" Meats are possible by special purchase or manufacturer's advertisement or favorable market conditions.

But what about the big money saving 'great bargains' that Kroger offers at Kroger? We believe most of you have seen the "Xtra Low Price" or "Day Discount Prices," special purchases or manufacturer's allowances or "Bonus Bargains" that Kroger makes possible by a special purchase or a market condition. And we identify them—call them Bonus Bargains. Bonus Bargains are really 'great bargains,' of course. We think they are special, too.

At Kroger, we have week specials. When you see an "X" next to an item in Kroger's ads or on the shelf, that means a Bonus Bargain, good for a limited time and made possible by a Bonus Bargain, good for a limited time and made possible by a Bonus Bargain, good for a limited time and made possible by a special purchase, a manufacturer's allowance or a favorable market condition or a combination of these things. We believe they are special, of course. When you pay more than Kroger prices on ten or more items, we believe you are as likely to save as you are to lose.
