Bob and Don Randolph Jr. accepted the medals of their brother Sgt. Richard L. Randolph, who was killed in combat in Vietnam. Pte. 1st Sgt. Randolph was awarded the Bronze Star Medal with V Device for heroic achievement in Vietnam.

EAST LANSING-Senior Sgt. Richard D. Randolph, who earned the Bronze Star Medal while serving in Vietnam, returned home yesterday to accept the award from his family.

Randolph was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his actions with the 45th ACR in Vietnam. He was killed in action on March 11, 1971.

BATH TWP—It's now official. Bath Township pass millage test with a near 2-1 mandate. However, the increase "were combined into a single mill increase," Shepard said, "It is a vote of confidence in the township board "what to do," Shepard said. l do feel that our state senator and representatives should be commended for bringing this issue to the attention of the people."

Shepard denied allegations that the township superintendent had been receiving bribes from contractors. He denied that the superintendent had threatened anyone with the threat of removal from office.

Shepard added that the teacher contract negotiations have been complicated by the fact that the school district is in financial difficulty. He said that the negotiations have been difficult because of the limited funds available for education.

Shepard said that the new election will probably be held some time in October.

EAST LANSING—Sergeant Richard D. Randolph began directing his men's movements at the battle of Khe Sanh, March 1968, when it was assaulted by a large enemy force.

"With complete disregard for his personal safety, Shepard Randolph kept on top of the situation, directing his men in the face of the enemy," Shepard said. "He was a true hero and will be missed by all who knew him."

"I have had friends call me and say that they would like to run against Shepard," Shepard said. "But I do feel that in order to maintain the integrity of the election process, someone must step forward to take his place for the remainder of his term."

Clinton group attends

LANSING — This week, the national group of medical radiologic technologists was in town for a three day conference at Colorado State University. The conference was attended by about one hundred people and covered the latest developments in the field of medical radiology.

The development of a disaster plan is a critical issue in the current era. Emergency Preparedness requires planning for both before and after a disaster occurs. Our group hopes to bring awareness to this important issue.

If you are interested in learning more about disaster preparedness, please attend our next meeting.

WISCONSIN

Chuck Walker, our new Vice-Principal of Medical Technology, is planning to go to Colorado State University in the near future to learn more about the latest developments in medical radiology. Chuck is excited about this opportunity and is looking forward to sharing what he learns with our group.

FOWLER HIGH SCHOOL DANCE BAND — At 7:00 P.M.

KIDDIE PARADE — At 2:00 P.M.

PICNIC — Afternoon and Evening

WACOUSTA RD., ST. JOHNS, MICH.

IN OPENING the conference, Dr. Snow, Head of the State Police Disaster Service, stated that emergency procedures should be reviewed and updated to keep pace with new developments.

The theme of the four day program "We've Only Just Begun" was expanded each of the four days to include discussions of today's problems.

At the first session, Dr. Snow emphasized the importance of planning to keep them pertinent to today's world.

The theme of the conference was to "consideration and possible adoption." The delegates from across the state discussed today's social issues with emphasis on the role of today's world.

Clinton’s 4-H has international flavor

ST. JOHNS—“International Flavor” was the theme for 80 4-H members and leaders as they participated in a foods program last Tuesday at Smith Hall. Four 4-H Clubs had booths showing some favorite foods, costumes, games, music, tradition, etc., related to that country where the group would tour through the afternoon.

The Elsie 4-H Corners 4-H Club members had their exhibit on Czechoslovakia showing many different costumes used by the people on special occasions.

These costumes were brought to this country from Czechoslovakia by an Elsie area lady and her family. The girls explained about the clothing, the customs, the music and passed out some pastry samples that the country is well known for preparing.

The Scattered Southeast 4-H Club had their exhibit on Holland with Kathy Hazle dressed up in a traditional Dutch costume used by girls in some parts of the country. Samples of different kinds of cheese and other foods were passed out to the group.

One special highlight at this stop was having Willemin Goltzik as International Farm Youth Exchange Student from the Netherlands who is staying in the country till August 2, answer questions about her home country. Later in the program Miss Goltzik showed slides and talked about her country.

Two major things she has noted different between the United States and her country “is the food and the age young

Charlie Halfmann could easily be numbered among our long-timers here at CNB&T. He began his banking career with the former Fowler State Bank and just marked his twenty-second year the first of August. The Amer has provided Charlie with opportunities to work with many bank customers from his native Fowler area and in recent years with many others as a loan officer in the St. Johns office.

Charlie's title is assistant vice president and his work involves all types of loans from real estate mortgages to auto loans, commercial loans and personal loans. As can be readily seen he's no newcomer to the loan field and those years of experience have been supported by completion of an American Banking Association course in commercial lending at the University of Oklahoma. In addition he has successfully completed accounting and commercial law courses offered by the American Institute of Banking.

On top of all this, Charlie has been active in Fowler community affairs as member of the Knights of Columbus and president of the Holy Trinity school board. When he's not taking care of these tasks or arranging a loan you might hear that he's off fishing or hunting. Then again he might be bowling or sharpening his iron game on the golf course.

Charlie and wife Marilyn have four children ranging in age from fifteen to four years. David and Debra are students at Fowler high school, Cheryl attends Holy Trinity while the school years still await Pamela.

We're pleased that Charlie chose, then stayed with CNB&T ... he's our kind of people. If you've ever worked with Charlie you'll know the latter is especially true.

Farmers, soil experts at work solving environmental problems

New Holland, Pa.-Recent research in environmental protection and conservation work being done by farmers in the area has its roots in problems of erosion, pollution and soil compaction. The New Holland area has been at the forefront of environmental conservation efforts for many years, and farmers in the area are working to mitigate the effects of their farming practices on the land base.

The New Holland Conservation District has long been involved in the implementation of conservation practices, and the district has been working with farmers to develop strategies to reduce the impact of their activities on the environment. This includes the use of terraces, buffer strips, and other practices to prevent soil erosion and protect water quality.

In addition to these efforts, the New Holland area has a long history of innovative farming practices. The area was home to a number of early innovators in agriculture, including Amish farmers who developed new techniques for growing crops and preserving the land.

Today, farmers in the New Holland area continue to work on innovative solutions to environmental problems. They use a variety of practices, from conservation tillage to the use of cover crops, to reduce the impact of their activities on the land base.

These efforts are important not only for the health of the land base, but also for the health of the community. By taking steps to protect the land, farmers are also protecting the water supply and the air we breathe.

In summary, farmers in the New Holland area are making important contributions to environmental protection and conservation. Their efforts are an important part of our collective efforts to protect the land base and the environment for future generations.

While self-employed, gypped is still used in the wasteland of slang industry, as some call it, to describe anyone who is lying to the client or the person he is working for. The term arises from the days when a contractor would make a deal with a homeowner to build a house and then wouldn't complete the job or would charge exorbitant prices. Instead, he would give the homeowner a false sense of security by promising to finish the work and then simply leave.

apparently with the help of the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, should be considered a real dare to the face of all Michigan voters.

Republicans and Democrats in the House have been in a deadlock over the problem of being blamed as making tax reform for years. Last week the debate began when a proposed constitutional amendment which would allow Michigan residents to vote in November on a property tax relief measure, was coupled with a proposal to

"Finally, the great thaw is here and it will be climaxed by President Nixon's visit to Peking."
Dear Diary,

Today was the biggest day of my short legislative career! I voted "yes" on the last two of the eight propositions— Videotape and Total Compensation. I had been opposed to these two, but there were so many different positions taken on each one that I finally felt the need to cast my vote for them.

After the voting was over, I went back to my office to read nothing but the fireplace. It was a good day.

Sincerely,

Dear Diary,

I voted "yes" on both propositions. It was a long day, but I'm glad I did it.
