Trezise GOP winner in 87th House race

The city of St. Johns appeared destined for a new industry Monday morning when a major industrial visit to Fort Wayne, Ind., yielded a $24,000,000 commitment to the West Virginia City. The visit was made by the city officials of the Greater West Virginia City Area Development Commission, headed by Mayor John E. Funston, and the local newspaper's representatives. The city officials were reportedly impressed by the progress made in the area, and they expressed a desire to bring the area back to its former glory.

Tiny tot splash

Farmers need freedom

A farmers' market called "Free the Farmers" will be held on August 15 in downtown Lansing. The event aims to empower farmers and promote local food systems.

Michigan grain stocks down except for rye

On July 1, Michigan's grain stocks were down except for rye. The state had 20 million bushels of corn, 2.6 million bushels of soybeans, and 20 million bushels of barley. The following months saw a decrease in corn and soybean stocks, but an increase in barley stocks.

The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) issued a report on July 1 that showed a significant decrease in corn and soybean stocks. The report highlighted the importance of maintaining a stable grain market.

Michigan dairy products show increase this year

The whole milk equivalent (based on Michigan weighted milk production) of 1970 was 1,281 million pounds, an increase of 26 per cent over 1969. This was due to both increased production and a 10 per cent increase in the price of milk.

The largest increase in milk production was in the Great Lakes States, where the 1970 production was 1,164 million pounds, an increase of 28 per cent over 1969. This was due to an increase in the number of cows and an increase in milk yield per cow. The largest increase in the number of cows was in Wisconsin, where the number of cows increased by 12 per cent. The largest increase in milk yield per cow was in Illinois, where the yield increased by 15 per cent.

The smallest increase in milk production was in the South Central States, where the 1970 production was 1,027 million pounds, an increase of 21 per cent over 1969. This was due to an increase in the number of cows and a decrease in milk yield per cow. The largest increase in the number of cows was in Kansas, where the number of cows increased by 10 per cent. The largest decrease in milk yield per cow was in Oklahoma, where the yield decreased by 5 per cent.

Here's how to judge that new cookbook

By WIFEY D. MEACH

Are you one of those gals who just can't resist each bright and colorful cookbook that appears across the counter at you?

If you are one of the guilty ones, here is a guide for you to help in judging a basic cookbook:

1. It is a cookbook that you can show guests without a quilted edging in the advertisements orQuiets the author promise to include more than 100 recipes.

2. The recipes are written in a manner to make you want to roll up your sleeves and get cooking. And the basic ingredients, when listed, are easy to find in your pantry or refrigerator.

3. It is a cookbook that you can use for planning a menu as well as for finding a particular recipe or technique. The index should be organized enough to allow the addition of new recipes.

4. It is a cookbook that you can use for finding a recipe quickly. If you locate a recipe quickly, if it contains general information about very little with the aid of techniques to get best results.

5. It is a cookbook that you can use for finding the differences between various ingredients that points out the differences between various ingredients that can be compared. The author may also include a list of equivalent measures for converting measurements.

6. It is a cookbook that you can use for finding the differences between various ingredients that can be converted. The author may also include a list of equivalent measures for converting measurements.

7. It is a cookbook that you can use for finding the differences between various ingredients that can be converted. The author may also include a list of equivalent measures for converting measurements.

8. It is a cookbook that you can use for finding the differences between various ingredients that can be converted. The author may also include a list of equivalent measures for converting measurements.

9. It is a cookbook that you can use for finding the differences between various ingredients that can be converted. The author may also include a list of equivalent measures for converting measurements.

Timothy M. Green, Register of Probate

To the Creditors of the Estate of Mrs. Virginia H. Shipman, Deceased

This is to give Notice that the Estate of Mrs. Virginia H. Shipman, Deceased, has been closed.

Dated: July 25, 1970

Judge of Probate.
Welcome Style-Master

The St. Johns County Commission last week signed a major service contract and access to property being eyed by an industry considering moving to the city. Their decision to make the moves in the last eighteen months which are slowly but surely returning St. Johns to a sound financial footing, credit the decision will hasten that goal.

John A. Fama, fabricator of modular home units, should make a good addition to our county's fine industrial community, and its presence will not only enrich the tax base of the community but provide increased revenue for county and school operations.

While there are always obstacles to overcome and problems to solve, there are many advances when economic expansion takes place. Aside from the obvious increase in tax base, new facilities and schools, there are numerous other advantages. New jobs are created which generate increased business, and the potential for location of satellite and supplier type businesses and firms is greatly enhanced. One enterprise comparable to the currently interested firm can go far in enriching the overall quality of the community.

But growth for growth's sake alone is not wise and this concern has been borne out, those working with style-Master. The firm and its personnel have fully met criteria considered to be basic for favorable advancement and development and there is great assurance that the economic and social stability of our community will remain unchanged.

One major influence is the firm's position in the realm of business and the potential it brings to the county and the community, and, foresees a mutually beneficial future.

The park

The formation of a city park board to govern the operations of St. Johns park has proved a wise move, as a new life has been taken on new life and patrons can see steadily improving facilities.

During the time when many were questioning if the park was even needed, it was realized that our community, because of shortage of operating funds, would not have steadily improving facilities.

Now, the park is a popular spot and the potential it brings to the community will remain unchallenged. New jobs are created which generate increased business, and the potential for location of satellite and supplier type businesses and firms is greatly enhanced. New jobs are created which generate increased business, and the potential for location of satellite and supplier type businesses and firms is greatly enhanced.

For example, the firm is creating a park that is not only attractive, but also functional. It provides a space for people to enjoy nature, recreation, and community engagement. The park is a place where families can come together, where children can play, and where community events can take place.

One Year Ago

The possibilities on a second realty move in Clinton County showed a large group of people to be interested in the development of a city park. The park was envisioned as a place for recreation and leisure, with facilities such as a walking trail, benches, and playground equipment.

A year later, the park has become a reality. The Clinton County Park Board was established and has taken charge of the park's operations. The community has come together to support the park, and it has become a valued resource for all.
The Last Dance

by TIM YOUNKMAN

This seems to be the year for historic silver screen portrayals. The beginning of 1994, in fact, has been marked by a handful of blockbusters that deal with the latter days of some of Hollywood's most legendary figures. The latest entry in this genre is "The Last Dance," a film that explores the final years of baseball great Billy Veeck.

The movie begins with a scene of Veeck, played by actor Jeff Bridges, as he stands on the field of his beloved Comiskey Park, the home of the Chicago White Sox. Veeck is shown to be a man who has lived a life of excess and who has always been willing to take risks. Despite his alcoholism and other personal problems, Veeck is shown to be a man who loved the game of baseball and who was always willing to do whatever it took to make the field a place of magic.

As the film progresses, we see Veeck's health deteriorate, and we watch as he struggles to come to terms with the fact that he is no longer the man he once was. We see him fighting to stay alive, even as he knows that his days are numbered.

In the end, "The Last Dance" is a powerful reminder of the importance of living life to the fullest. It is a film that shows us that even in the face of great adversity, we can still find a way to live with meaning and purpose.

Don't worry...

by REV. HUGH BANNINGA

Are you worried? Do you find yourself losing sleep over the little things? Do you worry about what other people think of you? Do you worry about what will happen tomorrow?

If you answer yes to any of these questions, then you are not alone. In fact, according to a recent study, 75% of Americans say that they worry about something at least once a week. And that worry can have a negative impact on our physical and mental health.

But worry is not the answer. Instead, we need to find ways to let go of our worries and trust in something greater than ourselves. That's where faith comes in.

Faith can be a source of comfort and strength in times of uncertainty. It can help us to see the bigger picture and to understand that we are not alone. It can help us to find peace in our hearts and minds.

So, the next time you find yourself worrying, take a deep breath and remember that you are not alone. Trust in something greater than yourself and find peace in your heart.

Two soldiers from Clinton County lost their lives in Vietnam in the past year.

Pfc. Benny Sloat, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sloat, of Ovid, was killed when the armored personnel carrier in which he was riding struck a land mine on March 19.

Spec. 4 Brent R. Law, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Law, of St. Johns was killed July 21, near Phu Bai, South Vietnam. He was with a medical unit picking up wounded men when he was hit by gunfire just before the helicopter in which he was riding landed down.

Sloat was a 1969 graduate of Ovid-Elsie High School. He enlisted in the Army early in July of that year and was sent to Vietnam on Jan. 11.

Law graduated from St. Johns High School in 1968 and attended Lansing Community College before he went into the Army July 1969. He was sent to Vietnam on Jan. 7.
Farewell...

Kathleen Behrens, director of service to military families of the Mid-Michigan Chapter of the Red Cross, explains the role of the Red Cross to recruits who gather in the Community Room of the Central National Bank to await the bus for Detroit and induction into the service.

MEDALS AWARDED VIET HERO

Mrs. and Mrs. Victor Sloat, 1400 Leland Road, rural Ovid, receive medals and citations awarded posthumously to their son, Benny, who was killed March 19 when his personnel carrier was destroyed by an enemy land mine in Vietnam. Lt. Robert Seeley, left, and SFC Charles A. Palmer, U. S. Army advisors, present the medals which include the Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Good Conduct Medal, Combat Infantryman's Badge, National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal and several sharpshooting awards.

BLUE STAR MOTHERS

From left, Mrs. Edna Eldred, Mrs. Alberta Brock and Mrs. Ruth Barrett, members of the Blue Star Mothers, represented their group recently at a coffee held for a group of Clinton County recruits leaving for physicals or induction into the service. A Mid-Michigan Red Cross representative and a member of the Ministerial Association were present at the coffee, which is held after each draft call.

About the cover

This year's cover photo was taken by former News staff writer Bob Calverley when he was serving in Vietnam. The peaceful sunset is actually a picture of Tay Nihn Base Camp where Calverley was stationed and where years ago this landscape grew two crops of rice per year but now is a jumble of water towers, temporary barracks, radio towers, and airfield, muddy roads and aid stations, he recalls.

"The people whose government these troops serve are not sure if they should be there at all," he adds. "This is what the ex-GI terms "the illogic of discussing wars." "Peacefully, hopefully, there may not be any more soldiers and this may just be a picture of a sunset."

PRESENTING GIFTS

Mrs. Alberta Brock of the Blue Star Mothers presents each recruit with gifts before he left St. Johns for Induction.

The photograph are not allowed in the camp without special permission and only under armed supervision of the soldiers who are there at the request of their government," says Calverley. "And the people whose government sent the soldiers are not sure if they should be there at all," he adds.

"This is what the ex-GI terms "the illogic of discussing wars." "Peacefully, hopefully, there may not be any more soldiers and this may just be a picture of a sunset."

Ten Cannots by Abraham Lincoln:

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift."
"You cannot help small men by tearing down big men."
"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."
"You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer."
"You cannot help the poor man by destroying the rich."
"You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income."
"You cannot further brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred."
"You cannot establish security on borrowed money."
"You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence."
"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."
