Second recall in county possible

Bath mill changes in action against supervisor

Bath residents recently received notices in the mail of a recall vote on two city councilmen. The notices were the result of a petition to recall City Councilman John Smith and Supervisor Reginald Nelson.

Recently, a group of Bath residents submitted a petition to recall Smith and Nelson. The petitioners claimed that the two councilmen had performed their duties in a way that contradicted the wishes of the residents. The recall vote was set for this week.

The recall vote comes as the result of a dispute between the councilmen and the residents over issues such as road maintenance and property taxes.

Smith, a longtime resident of Bath, has served on the city council for 15 years. He has been a vocal advocate for road improvements and has worked to increase the city’s budget for road maintenance.

Nelson, on the other hand, has been criticized for not doing enough to help residents. He has been accused of not being responsive to constituent concerns.

The recall vote is expected to be a close contest, with both candidates working to gain the support of residents.

School board okays additional expenses for new high school building

The Eaton County School Board has approved additional expenses for the new high school building project. The board’s decision comes as the result of a request from the county treasurer’s office.

The additional expenses include $1,200 for labor and material costs, $500 for architectural fees, and $300 for equipment rental. The total cost of the new high school building project is now $4.6 million.

The new high school building is expected to be completed in 2020. The school board has set aside $2 million in the county’s general fund for the project.

The new high school building will replace the old high school building, which was built in 1950. The new building will have 32 classrooms, a gym, and a library.

The construction of the new high school building is expected to create 200 jobs.

Narcotic traffic in county light but definitely present

By SHIRLEY KERR

A rash of incidents in recent weeks has brought the reality of narcotics to the forefront of public concern. The effects of narcotics are directly felt by all elements of our society, particularly our young people. Narcotic traffic is not confined to any particular area, but is presenting a problem throughout the county.

In our own county, we have witnessed a steady increase in the number of young people who are addicted to drugs. This problem is not limited to the larger cities, but is evident in rural areas as well. The availability of narcotics is high, and the demand is correspondingly strong.

The problem is most pronounced among our young people. They are often the most vulnerable to the allure of drugs. Narcotic traffic, in this regard, is understandable. Why should it be expected that a segment of society, especially young people, would not be affected by this problem? Drugs sometimes become a substitute for religious experiences. They become involved in this activity for the same reason that a young person would pursue a religious experience - to earn enough to purchase the necessary materials.

The drugs used legally and illegally are not the same. In this regard, is understandable why it would be so difficult for both children to become acquainted with narcotics. Narcotic traffic is not highly organized. There is no group control, but isolated incidents occur. Some groups can move in overnight, others are always alert for the opportunity to earn a living from their crime. Narcotic traffic is not highly organized. Parents are usually highly protective of their children. Consequently, it tends to be the drug users themselves who are most vulnerable to the problem. Wind, rain damages facing difficult year

Many Michigan wheat producers are facing a difficult year due to the failure of their crop and severe economic conditions. The wet spring weather, Smith reported, has caused much concern among the growers. With the high percentage of wheat in storage, it is expected that the price will rise.

Cage crowding chicks hurts egg production

Crawling during the racing season is a major problem for farmers who raise chickens. According to MSU poultry professor Calhoun Collier, this problem could be alleviated by using a forced ventilation system.

Late summer lawn seeding recommended

The heat this year has slowed the growth of many lawns. However, the weather conditions have been favorable for the growth of a number of grasses. The best period for planting grass seed is late summer, according to MSU turfgrass specialist.

North Bengal By Mrs. W. D. Bristow

North Bengal, one of several breeds of rural Indian hogs, makes its home south of the Mason-Dixon line in western Pennsylvania and is considered by some to be a potential source of American meat. North Bengal was imported to the United States by Dr. John Bartlett, who brought ten pairs of hogs from India in 1811.
Sterling Heights committee sparks Clinton river clean-up

A 50-page radio ad urging voters to support the Clinton river clean-up is stimulating interest in the river. An ad in the Detroit Free Press asked voters to vote for a $5 million bond issue to clean up the river. The ad was supported by the Clinton river clean-up committee, which is composed of veterans, business people, and citizens.

Checks for G.I. education discussed

The Veterans Administration is working to provide veterans with education opportunities. They are considering offering college courses to veterans as part of their education program.

If the veteran were a college student, he would be required to take a minimum of 12 credits per semester. If the veteran were a high school student, he would be required to take a minimum of 15 credits per semester.

A veteran who has completed 90 days of active duty service and is eligible for veterans' benefits may receive an education assistance allowance of $500 per semester.

Do I use the completed enrollment certificate?

If the veteran is unable to follow through and return the enrollment certificate, the bill will be sent to the veteran's last known address. If the veteran is unable to pay the bill, the bill will be sent to the veteran's last known employer.

For veterans who have not completed their education, the V.A. will send a letter to the veteran indicating that they may be eligible for education assistance.

A veteran who is unable to follow through and return the enrollment certificate, the bill will be sent to the veteran's last known address. If the veteran is unable to pay the bill, the bill will be sent to the veteran's last known employer.

Multiple sclerosis great crippler

Sarah Shopper

New York Times: Multiple sclerosis, which is said to affect about one in every 500 people, is a great crippler. It can strike anyone, regardless of age, sex, or race.

The disease is characterized by progressive neural damage that leads to varying degrees of disability and often to death.

The causes of multiple sclerosis are not fully understood, but it is believed to be an autoimmune disorder in which the body’s immune system attacks the myelin sheath that surrounds nerve fibers.

The symptoms can range from mild to severe and may include weakness, numbness, tingling, and vision problems.

There is no known cure for multiple sclerosis, but treatments are available to help manage symptoms and slow the progression of the disease.

The winning Side

The kids in the grandstand are yelling, "Strike him out!" and our young pitcher is going to do exactly that. This is his day for a shut-out game ... No day to win.

He's feeling pretty good about it, and who's to blame him? But what if things had gone the other way? What if some other boy had been warming up in the bullpen, about to have taken his place? But he's a well-behaved youngster, and he would have taken that attitude, too.

He has learned about being a good sport, about regard for his fellow man, and about many other equally important things in Church. For, like thousands of other American youngsters, the Church already plays an important part in his life. That is one reason why his parents have built in the fact that he will grow up to be a pretty fine man.

Lend a hand

While we do not see the proposal as one which will solve St. Johns' financial dilemma in the long run, we believe residents should be kept fully informed of possible solutions and be encouraged to support them.

Likewise, their speedy moving following the defeat of the income tax plan is clearly indicative of the widespread popular pressures and their efforts should be recognized and encouraged for their merit.

If the residents of St. Johns, who, as we indicated, encompass a number of administrative and private groups, reach the ballot box it will be but another effort to rectify or neutralize conditions which have brought about the current financial difficulties.

The forces which nurtured the fairgrounds hot dog—wild expression of a merry-go-round horse; source of revenue; increasing cost structure and an unrealistic makeup of the fair have altered very little.

As time passes by, some of our most attractive activities are fading. The front page of the Republican News revealed the effect of serious grocers will begin to operate traveling grocery vans.*

New plan assures drivers access to auto insurance

Two changes in the Michigan Automobile Insurance Plan, one driven by the federal government and the other by the Michigan Department of Commerce, will be effective for the insurance year beginning Sept. 1.

The change made under the authority of the federal government will permit the secretary of commerce to adopt a comprehensive plan that provides for a special fund to pay for bodily injury claims and for loss of earnings in connection with an injury for people not otherwise covered by insurance, according to Secretary of Commerce Curt C. Vonderheide.

The change made by the department was stimulated by the mechanical shortcomings in the current plan, which requires double premiums for insureds who have a car of any kind but no liability protection. Many insureds have a car that is kept registered but not being used on the road. This means they have to pay double premiums to the company.

Further changes in the current plan will be made at a later date, according to a statement by the department.

Salute to servicemen

For this, the second Clinton County News Salute to Servicemen, four area members of the major branches of service pose to illustrate those of whom Clinton County residents are especially proud. Representing the Navy is Gordon Shipley, Engineman Third Class, who has just completed a tour of duty in Vietnam. The American flag in the background was presented to the Methodist church by the Shipley family in memory of their other son, Bill, who was killed while serving in the armed forces. Private Dennis Worrall is the Army representative. He has been in the Army less than one year and is serving now in Korea. From Ovid, Air Force Sergeant Kenneth Cornell was on leave at home and is presently stationed at Patrick Air Force Base at Cape Kennedy, Florida. The representative from the Marine Corps, Private First Class Terry Torpey, is serving at Camp Pendleton, California.

Canteen operator

Edna makes departure a little brighter

By Mrs Shirley Earler -
News Staff Writer

Approximately three years ago a request was made by the local Red Cross unit for the assistance with the service men's canteen. Mrs Earler (Edna) Eldred responded to this and she is now at work on it full time. She is director of a group of local volunteers who work with her at the canteen.

Edna, who is 62 years old, started this work in 1958 and has never complained. She says that she enjoys it and that she would do it again if given the chance.

The canteen serves food, coffee, orange juice and other refreshments. It is open to all soldiers, and it is a place where they can meet and chat with each other.

In the past three years, Mrs Eldred has served 2,500 service men and has made all the utensils and fixtures for the canteen. She has also made all the decorations and the uniforms for the volunteers.

Edna has received many letters of thanks from the service men and women who have used the canteen. She says that she is proud to have been able to do something for them.

Edna is a mother of six children and has 12 grandchildren. She says that she enjoys being with her family and that she is looking forward to the day when she can retire and spend more time with them.

Edna says that she is grateful for the opportunity to serve and that she will continue to do so as long as she is able.

Edna makes the departure of soldiers a little brighter for all who use the canteen.

ever forget them whose heroic sacrifice
lengthens our days in peace.

Ten Cannots by Abraham Lincoln:

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift."

"You cannot help small men by tearing down big men."

"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong."

"You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer."

"You cannot help the poor man by destroying the rich."

"You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income."

"You cannot further brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred."

THEY WORK FOR FREEDOM

It isn’t a white collar job.
Or a safe one.

But it is a satisfying one, as long as they know that you are behind them.

This poem, written by a young American serving in Vietnam, was found among his effects. Jim Plouman, serving in the same area, saw the poem and liked it so well that he sent it home to his parents. They shared it with us, and we'd like to share it with you.

GOD WILL HEAR YOU
At sleep at last the day was long,
Another day passed, and closer to home,
And as I sleep, the war drags on,
And many will die before the next morn,
And as I sleep and dream of home,
A rocket has hit, but not one alone,
I Jump out of bed and head for the door,
Another rocket hits, and I dive for the floor,
Down to the bunker for what good it will do,
For God's the only one that knows if it's you.

As the rockets pour in, I sit and pray,
Dear God, listen to me, hear what I say.
This world is not perfect and neither am I,
I know I've done wrong, but don't let me die.

As the last rocket hits and the sound fades away
I know God has heard me and I know what to say.
Thank you Dear God, for hearing my plea,
I'll be a better man for this, just wait and see.

We must keep our Liberty Bell ringing!
Conceived in liberty, the birth of our nation was a giant step forward for all mankind. Let us always remember those who are trying to keep this liberty alive in service to our country.
