Fair County one of kind

By By-Lander

County Manager, American St. Jones

The Clinton County 4-H Fair - August 11-14 is an annual event that draws thousands of visitors and participants. Founded in 1948, it is a family-friendly event that features various activities, including exhibitions, competitions, and entertainment.

The fair is open to all 4-H members, and it showcases the hard work and dedication of young people in our community. It provides an opportunity for them to display their talents and skills, while also learning about teamwork and cooperation.

State to receive US-27 recommendations from consulting firm

By By-Lander

County Manager, American St. Jones

With the public hearings held, and anticipated modeling and study on the state highway US-27 funds are being made, two competing models of US-27 have emerged. The state highway US-27 funds will be used to study the two competing models of US-27.

The two competing models of US-27 are:

1. A direct route through downtown St. Jones.
2. A route that bypasses downtown St. Jones.

A study has been conducted to compare the two competing models of US-27. The study found that the direct route through downtown St. Jones would have a lower cost of construction and maintenance, while the route that bypasses downtown St. Jones would have a lower cost of operation and maintenance.

Crisis Center faces crisis--no money

By By-Lander

County Manager, American St. Jones

The Crisis Center, a local non-profit organization that provides support and resources for individuals and families in crisis, is facing financial difficulties. The organization relies on donations and grants to fund its operations, and it is struggling to meet its financial obligations.

The Crisis Center provides a range of services, including counseling, financial assistance, and support groups. It serves individuals and families in crisis, including those dealing with mental health issues, addiction, and domestic violence.

The organization is seeking financial support from the community to ensure that it can continue to provide its vital services. Donations can be made online or by mail to the Crisis Center. The organization is also seeking volunteers to help with its operations.

The Crisis Center is an important resource for individuals and families in crisis. It is committed to providing support and resources to those in need, and it relies on the support of the community to continue its important work.

Mr. McGuire, as he is known to some local DeWitters, has been content to begrudgingly pay his taxes and leave the job for the community where everybody felt as a farming minded person, "he got involved with such an irresponsible group."

During that time he has never once been unhappy with Superintendent Cronk, Jr., decided they were concerned about the vital hook up.

If Police find him, he will be arrested. Someone called the Police for federal funds.

Mr. McGuire told them they would spread one mill against all assessment district for the Bicentennial flag. Flags will not be authorized for sale to the public by the Township Fire Insurance.

Allen criticizes school aid plan

State Senator Allen has criticized a proposed school aid plan, saying that it does not provide adequate funding for schools in the state. The plan, which was presented by the Department of Education, is designed to provide funding to schools based on a formula that takes into account factors such as poverty levels, enrollment sizes, and other factors. Allen believes that the plan is inadequate and that it does not provide enough funding for schools in the state.

Profit is not a dirty word

Obviously most of us believe that business is a lot more lucrative than it actually is. Most of us obviously have the naive belief that everybody in business is making a potful.

Such business must make a profit to survive. Those days more and more businesses are failing to produce that profit, and they are going out of business. The reason is that they seem to believe the profit they make on their own item is their profit. This is not. Eventually your aim is to make a profit. Eventually your aim will be to make sure your efforts cost you less than your customers. That will give you a controlled economy and socialism; it has happened elsewhere, and it can happen here, too.

Allen amendment would allow challengers to spend more than the incumbent opponents

Changing the present political system calls for a look at some of the present rules. Some of the rules are based on a system of strengthening candidates. Allen is a Republican. He opposes candidates spending more than the incumbent does. His amendment would allow challengers to spend 100% more than the incumbent.

"This seeks to make up for those of us already in office. Taxes are going to be higher and higher and higher. At the same time, no one is doing the job. No one is doing the job of our office. The problem is that the people are too wealthy. It is time to bring all wealth back from the rich to the poor. It is time to bring all wealth back from the rich to the poor. It is time to bring all wealth back from the rich to the poor."

Democratic candidates to the same spending limits for each type of candidate.

This would perpetuate those of us already in office. Taxes are going to be higher and higher and higher. It is time to bring all wealth back from the rich to the poor.

For a Better World

Young folks who appreciate the gifts the good earth offers, who use those gifts to make things better for themselves... their families... their neighborhoods... and the nation. It's time to congratulate them, the country kids with their livestock and produce... the city kids planting parks, cleaning rivers—all of them learning and using the skills that make life a richer experience and the world a better place. We'd like you to know, 4-H'ers, that we appreciate your work and applaud your success. We're standing behind you proudly as you proceed with your projects. Thanks for creative concern.

To all 4-H'ers
and their Leaders...
Our hearty congratulations.

Picking vegetables at the right time is key to avoiding waste and keeping their goodness. When harvesting vegetables, it's important to know when they are at their peak. Before harvest, farmers use signs of yellowing or other indicators to determine the best time to pick. Once picked, they can be put into the refrigerator until the red-ripe stage (for red tomatoes) or eaten fresh (for green tomatoes).

Picking broccoli before the flower buds start to open will increase your yield and maintain the flavor and texture. Blanch or scald all vegetables to prevent enzymatic activity, which can reduce their quality and nutritional value.

When freezing vegetables, it's important to blanch them to stop enzymatic activity and preserve their nutrients. This allows you to store them for longer periods. Keep your freezer space at least three-fourths full to maintain optimal freezing conditions. The enzyme activity will slow or stop the production of enzymes, which help them grow and develop. This can be especially important when holding frozen vegetables for long periods.

When filling freezers with rigid containers, lids should be sealed tightly. Rigid containers and flat-sided ones stack best. Leaks and spillage can occur if they are not stacked properly.

Cow is tops

A cow owned by the J.A. Thompson Holstein Farm, Ionia, topped the sale at the Michigan State 4-H Dairy Show in Carson City this past weekend. The cow, which sold for $4,500, was one of the top producers in the state. The cow was owned by the Thompson family and was a key part of their successful dairy operation.

The sale was held to support the Michigan Dairy Youth Foundation, which provides scholarships and other opportunities for young people interested in the dairy industry. The sale featured top-quality dairy cattle from across the state, and the funds raised will help support the foundation's efforts to promote the dairy industry and educate the next generation of dairy farmers.

The sale was held in Carson City, Michigan, and attracted dairy farmers and enthusiasts from all over the state. The sale was a success, with bidders bidding on more than 100 head of cattle.

116 donors gave their support to the Bloodmobile.

With the temperature in the 90's, 116 potential donors gave at the Bloodmobile which was set up at the Congregational Church on Wednesday, Aug. 5. In St. Johns there were 145 total donors.

Although the telephone campaign was unable to handle the number of phone calls, the committee members and advertising provided by REHMANN's, Clinton National Bank, Rehm's Clothing, and the Lathrup Village and Pontiac pools was successful. A special thanks goes to all of the volunteers who helped make the Bloodmobile a success. The Ladies of the Lutheran Church provided the cookies which got donors, make-up artists and other others going.

The Bloodmobile is sponsored by the of St. Johns Reminder.
