Several Clinton County officials met with officials from the Michigan Department of Transportation to discuss the US-27 freeway project. The officials discussed the impact and highway design as major factors in delaying immediate construction.

The officials explained that usually it's the first Tuesday of the month, but this year it's the May primary. They noted this was a change in the usual schedule.

A new US-27 freeway is expected to be completed by 2031, with an estimated cost of $3.5 billion. The project is expected to create more voter interest than is typical in the region.

Fowler youths peddle to bridge and back

Fowler's Cycling Club is made up of beards, Bill Deomez, 20, and Bob Wesner. They put their bikes to use again this summer, pedaling to Mackinaw Bridge the second weekend of July. "Everybody said we'd get to Mackinaw before noon," they relate. So they did it for the challenge, they say.

On a rainy Friday morning, Bill and Bob set off for Maple Rapids (where their great-grandfather was born) and turn right at the bridge to retrace the route they peddled four years ago. Their trip to Mackinaw Bridge will be their second. Last year they pedaled the same distance going to the tip of the Lower Peninsula. "We're just terrible slow peddlers," says Bill. "We're just the same old boys from Fowler." But the trip was worth it, they say, to see the sights.

Wellman watches as these seat tracks are being automatically conveyed through the paint system. The products are conveyed through the paint system to the final assembly of Chrysler seat tracks before being shipped to dealers.

Barbara Sipka, Madge Owen and Constance Ballard are employed at Federal Mogul Corporation in St. Johns from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Each day, they try to make the best and most economical job of it so the customer will return. They work on the job, they say, not for the money.

When Wellman watches as these seat tracks are being automatically conveyed through the paint system, she says, "We've got to build up your endurance," he suggests.

The trip was planned with the knowledge they would be peddling for about two more hours before they were to return to Fowler. "I was sure they'd be 25 minutes late," says Bill. "I was late," says Bob.

On the trip, they say, they pedaled at an average of 10 to 12 hours each day. Swimming, eating, and taking breaks, they managed to cover 100 miles each day.

According to Wellman, their endurance improved with each day. "They are the most fit people I know," she says.

Maryellen Saxton receives honor

Mrs. Jerry (Maryellen) Saxton was notified recently that she has been selected for inclusion in the 1972-73 edition of Marquis Who's Who of American Women. Mrs. Saxton is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Ellen Ryland and the late Larry Ryland, who was employed at Federal Mogul Corporation in St. Johns from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

County GOP has "Family feud"

A paid political ad which appeared in last week's edition of the News sparked some bad feeling among Republicans in Clinton County.

The ad was placed by James Palmter, county party chairman, after a hot was called on primary candidates considered in "good standing." He said this status was gained by purchasing a ten dollar membership.

Eight GOP candidates on Tuesday's ballot were not listed in the ad, Palmetzer explained, because of them purchasing a membership card or attending any party meetings recently.

Friday two of the candidates deleted—Mrs. Jeanne Hand, running for county commissioner, and Larry Flote, a sheriff-candidate with Palmetzer to voice their objection. They took the party chairman could this very well split GOP ranks in Clinton County and expressed extreme displeasure in having their party alliance based on a monetary subscription. Mr. Palmter said there were no failure to contribute to party coffers would exempt them from party support.

It was an unfortunate misunderstanding and we can appreciate how Mrs. Hand and Larry Flote feel. We don't feel what is basically a "family argument" should be blown out of proportion.

In STEVE THelen
Shelby Community 4-H Club

Steve you ever had an idea that you just had to do with your friends? What if you had the potential to make all of your ideas come true?

If so, you have the possibility of becoming a participant in the Fun Program. The Fun Program is just what it sounds like. It's a way for people to come together, exchange ideas, and express themselves freely. All you need is an idea that you think is great, and you're in.

There are many ways to participate in the Fun Program. You could share your ideas with friends or family, or you could present them to a panel of judges. If you are one of the top five performers, you will be in the County Fair. But the Fun Program is not just about winning prizes. It's about getting together, having fun, and expressing yourself. It's about sharing the fun.

So, have you ever had an idea that you just had to do? If so, you have the potential to make it happen. The Fun Program is just waiting for you to join in and share the fun.

Health is last of the 4-H's

By LORI MQCUEEN

Health is not commonly known on a great family, and you probably don't hear much about it in every project and every phase of it. Health is what keeps everyone, in a well being state, and in every project there are members and projects where this is并在 and better looking and feeling. It has been proved that health is a vital part of every project and a project is an important part of everyone's life and health is an important part of it.

The 4-H teaches youth, not only the spiritual values in their lives of our future leaders, but also the health of our future leaders are truly commendable. We feel this is the kind of encouragement these young folks need and we urge you all to lend your support to the future work of the 4-H Clubs. We feel this is the kind of encouragement that is needed to help young people and older members alike and give them the sense of accomplishment and pride since their project has been completed. 4-H offers have been many and there are many more to come. We hope the club keeps the opportunities for members more and more in the years to come. Each member acquires more responsibilities, we grow in the experiences of their own health.

The youth of America is the future of America, and the 4-H may have many different projects to suit everyone's needs. Every project and activity in the 4-H is different and giving them a chance to develop their skills and abilities.

Knitting is a project in 4-H that many people are interested in. Boys and girls of all ages can learn how to do it and much easier. With the passing of winter days and nights, the first year of knitting will be here. Debbie Theilen shares the steps she took in the Bengal Community 4-H Club and what she learned. The Bengal Community 4-H Club has a lot of young people interested in photography as well as in the arts.

Photography is a fascinating project for all members of all ages. Taking pictures can be a rewarding hobby or it can be a business, as well as taking pictures for pleasure and lasting memories. Debbie Theilen uses photography in her 4-H club and is willing to go to a little effort to learn. Debbie’s interest in photography is a good way to pass the time. She is learning how to use a camera properly. Debbie is learning how to develop her own pictures. With her camera, she can take pictures of anything that interests her. A good picture can be turned into a good picture. This is a very good hobby was a great experience for me.

The Hon. Gerald Shepard, Chairman, called the meeting to order at 12:10 p.m.

A letter from Herb Maier of Tri County Regional Planning Commission urging support by the commission for a request to extend sewer lines in the Montrose area was read by William Hufnagel. A Pledge of Allegiance was given by Gerald Shepard.

Chairman Shepard reported a quorum was called for and a quorum was declared.

The agenda was read and approved.

A motion was made and seconded by Andrews and Gove to approve the resolution to assign 12 Circuit Court Jury Chairs to the Supervisor's Office. Chairman Gove stated that the alternative of going back to soil boring to determine percolation rates had been discussed.

Entomology is more than catching bugs

Most people think of catching bugs when they hear the title of this book. But catching bugs is only part of the picture. There are many other ways that insects and their cocoons can be used. Here are some examples:

1. Displaying Insects: Insects can be displayed in various ways, such as mounted in plastic cases, pinned to a board, or placed in a glass tank. These displays can be used in schools, museums, or even in homes as decorative pieces.

2. Science Projects: Insects can be used for science projects, especially in the area of entomology. Students can study the life cycle of insects, their behavior, and their interactions with the environment.

3. Education: Insects can be used in educational settings as teaching tools. They can be used to teach children about the different types of insects, their habitats, and their roles in the ecosystem.

4. Research: Insects can be used in research to study their behavior, genetics, and biology. They can also be used to study the effects of environmental changes on their populations.

5. Entomology: Entomology is the scientific study of insects. It involves collecting, preserving, and classifying insects. Entomologists use a variety of techniques to study insects, including observation, dissection, and DNA analysis.

These are just a few examples of how insects and their cocoons can be used. By learning more about insects, we can better understand their role in the ecosystem and how they can be used to benefit humanity.
