It's called privacy.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bandt, 83, and Mr. and Mrs. Bannister, 80, of Ovid, MI, went camping this summer, they chose a spot on the Manistee River where they could hear the water flowing. They planned to stay at their campsite, a small island off the main shore, but when they arrived, they found that the site was no longer private. The Bandts decided to move to a new site, which they found to be more secluded and private. They enjoyed the solitude and peace that the new site offered, and they were glad they had chosen to move.

Brighter days

It's been a week now since Gerald Ford became President Gerald Ford.

There's been a feeling in the past few days and it's a good feeling in the people's stomachs about our country and its leaders and few people are quoting "The whole country is going to hell, but I'm not going to watch it."

Mr. Ford is largely responsible for the renewed faith in our country and our system of government, but most of the responsibility goes all the way back to the voters of the Constitution.

Mr. Ford is responsible for the renewed faith in our country and our system of government, but most of the responsibility goes all the way back to the voters of the Constitution. We doubt those who drafted the Constitution could ever have believed how well their work, nearly 200 years later, served to prompt us citizens to take stock and say, "We've got a pretty good thing going here after all."

The resignation of Richard Nixon and all that he led up to unfortunately, he has the trauma our country will suffer.

But, the simple yet efficient transition from 1 president to another, displays the strength, not flexible, nature of our nation's system of government. We can face and deal with those traumas.

After the past several months, the US citizenry almost thrills for something to be encouraged about and the past week has certainly provided some drops of encouragement.

Mr. Ford, we wish you the best in your efforts to make the US people, not only citizens, but also "fans" of our country.

Upcoming in '74

To the Editor:

There are 21 movies in Michigan that are on the program next week. While you're out and about, get yourself a good supply of film and get busy capturing the memories of this beautiful state.

The Michigan Film Institute is now in its third year of operation and is actively working throughout the state to promote quality motion pictures. If you're interested in getting involved, please contact the Institute at the address below.

Michigan Film Institute
123 Main Street
Detroit, MI 48201

The Institute is a nonprofit organization dedicated to preserving the history of motion pictures and promoting the art of filmmaking. They offer a variety of programs and resources for filmmakers at all levels.

The upcoming films include a wide range of genres, from classic comedies to action-packed thrillers. With so many options available, there's something for everyone to enjoy.

So, mark your calendars and get ready to experience the magic of cinema with the Michigan Film Institute. Whether you're a seasoned filmmaker or a casual moviegoer, there's no better way to celebrate the beauty of Michigan than by capturing it on film.

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Seed alfalfa now...

By William Lasher
Extension Agricultural Agent

Summer seeding of alfalfa is now the only way to get it in next year's crop for several reasons.

Summer seeding would have produced a seedling stand by now, but seeding must be done in the cool part of the season. For seed germination, seedlings must be established early in the season when the weather is warm enough. Seedling establishment is made easier by the phosphorus and potassium in the soil. Seedlings are made in the spring on top of, rather than by, the cold fall rains, with the phosphorus and potassium in the soil, which accelerates seedling establishment.

Greatly the earlier the peas are sown, the greater the vigor and yield. Peas, the world's old favorite legume, are generally successful in Michigan from mid-May to mid-June. Peas are generally planted after the first crop of corn and after the corn is harvested.

For long-term yields, however, the plants should be grown in small plots. Each plot should have a controlled, uniform planting schedule. Peas should be grown in the spring on top of, rather than by, the cold fall rains. Peas are generally planted after the first crop of corn and after the corn is harvested.

OBJECTIVE: Each player chooses a range of numbers from 1 to 9, and one player, the first player, chooses a number. The second player chooses a number that is not already chosen by the first player. Each player should be sure to have a pencil and paper to keep score.

LIMITATIONS: Each player chooses a range of numbers from 1 to 9, and one player, the first player, chooses a number. The second player chooses a number that is not already chosen by the first player. Each player should be sure to have a pencil and paper to keep score.

DISTANCES: Each player chooses a range of numbers from 1 to 9, and one player, the first player, chooses a number. The second player chooses a number that is not already chosen by the first player. Each player should be sure to have a pencil and paper to keep score.

When the first player to cross out all the numbers is a woman, you lose.

Help us help. So no one's left out in the cold.
Barb and Becky Downing, two of the Mr. and Mrs. Jack Downing children, show the pride in their dad that the whole community feels for his unselfish efforts to make the St. Johns Little League a success since 1963.

Jack is also the prime "mover and shaker" in the Pony League Program in St. Johns.

But, to tell the truth, we think Jack's getting a little embarrassed with us paying him a little tribute each year in thanks for his many hours of work in the youth programs.

So, Jack, this year we won't say anything about your dedication to the youth of St. Johns, the many hours you devote to insure a successful program year after year, not to mention also the hours spent in helping the Jaycees in their Soapbox Derby.

We'll just say "thank-you, Jack."

We're Proud of Our Boys

Congratulations,

To All the Members of Little League
And Their Coaches and Sponsors
For Another Successful Season.

casey at the bat

by Ernest Lawrence Thayer

(1863 - 1940)

The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mudville nine that day;
The score stood four to two, with but one inning more to play;
And so, when Chesney died at first, and Barrows did the same,
A sickly silence fell upon the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go in deep despair. The rest
Chang to the hope which springs eternal in the human breast:
They thought, if only Casey could but get a whack, at that,
They'd put even money now, with Casey at the bat.

But Flynn preceded Casey, as did also Jimmy Blake,
And the former was a pudding and the latter was a fake.
So upon that stricken multitude grim melancholy sat,
For there seemed but little chance of Casey's getting to the bat.

But Flynn let drive a single, to the wonderment of all,
And Blake, the much despised, tore the cover off the ball.
And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred,
There was Jimmy safe on second, and Flynn a-hugging third.

Then from the gladdened multitude went up a joyous yell,
It bounded from the mountain-top and rattled in the dell.
It struck upon the hillside, and recoiled upon the flat,
For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place,
There was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face.
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt,
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt.
Then while the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather covered sphere came hurtling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there;
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped.
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of the storm-waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted someone on the stand.
And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey raised his hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone,
He stilled the rising tumult; he bade the game go on;
He signaled to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew.
But Casey still ignored it and the umpire said, "Strike two!"

"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and the echo answered, "Fraud!"
But a scornful look from Casey, and the audience was awed.
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate.
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh! somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout,
But there is no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey has struck out.
