Firemen seek raise, commission says no

The commission then decided to have a special assessment project started at High St. based on the recommendation that the new sewer line should not be placed in the Blue Cross escrow fund. The commission decided that the project would be financed through a special assessment for those property owners who would be affected by the new sewer line. The special assessment would be in addition to the existing storm sewer cost of $100,000, which was to be funded by a 50-50 split between property owners and the city. Property owners would be responsible for payment of 80% of the cost, and the city would cover the remaining 20%.

Tony Hufnagel tops 4-man sheriff race

Swish Swash

Gettings all spurred up for judging at the Clinton County 4-H Fair at the St Johns City Park is this young schoolgirl. These 4-H'ers were among hundreds displaying their projects at the fair which ends today.

St Johns, Tony Hufnagel topped a four-candidate Republican primary contest seeking the office of Clinton County Sheriff. "It's a tough race," said Hufnagel, "but I'm confident I can win." Hufnagel, who currently serves as a deputy sheriff in East Lansing, is running as a candidate to replace retiring Sheriff Eric Priest. Hufnagel currently serves as a deputy in the sheriff's office and is a former police officer in East Lansing.

Hufnagel, who hails from Clinton County, has been a police officer for over 20 years. He served as a K-9 officer in East Lansing and later became a detective. Hufnagel is a graduate of Michigan State University and has a degree in criminal justice.

In order to win the primary, Hufnagel will need to secure at least 50% of the vote. The other candidates in the race are Eric Priest, Tim Johnson, and Mike Smith. Priest is the incumbent sheriff and is seeking re-election. Johnson is a former police officer in East Lansing, while Smith is a former police officer in Lansing.

Hufnagel is running on a platform of increased transparency and accountability in the office of the sheriff. He promises to be a strong leader who will work hard to keep Clinton County safe and secure. "I'm looking forward to the general election," Hufnagel said. "I believe I can win this race and I'm ready to serve as sheriff of Clinton County."
Meet County News junior salesmen

Tuesday's primary election resulted in 12 of the 15 Clinton County Com missioner seats being filled. The public will soon find out who will be sitting on the board, but only the unofficial results were written in Congress last week. November's prelude will keep them from taking their seats before then.

The county's general election results will be announced prior to the November ball ot in Clinton County, and will likely be held in November. The commissioner candidates are listed below:

- Donald J. Brown
- Paul J. Dennis
- Robert J. Johnson
- Richard J. McNamara
- Thomas J. Peterson
- William J. White
- William J. Wolters
- Michael J. Ziemer

The November general election is for the re-election of the Clinton County Commissioners. The ballot also includes Propositions 1, 2, 3, and 4, which will address issues such as water management, road improvements, and public safety.

Michigan farmers retire wheat - corn acreage

EAST LANSING—It is the calendar year for Michigan farmers to retire wheat and corn acreage as part of the federal farm program. The program allows farmers to reduce the amount of farmland used for wheat and corn, which in turn can be used for other crops or fallow.

Michigan rates safest for walkers

ST. JOHNS-Clarence and Patricia Doeren presented the first field wedding ceremony which united 64 Michigan pedestrians and over 200 guests. The ceremony was held at the 16th Annual 4-H State Science Fair, October 24-25.

Michigan has the lowest pedestrian injury and fatality rates in the nation, according to the Michigan State Police. In 1971, Michigan had 7 pedestrian fatalities and 1,353 injuries, compared to 1,806 fatalities and 18,503 injuries in the nation.

The pedestrian safety program, known as the "Walk the Talk" campaign, has been in effect for 3 years. The program has reduced pedestrian injuries by 31% and fatalities by 37%.

The Michigan State Police and the National Automobiles Club of America (NACA) have joined forces to promote pedestrian safety. The Michigan State Police have established pedestrian safety programs in all 81 counties.

NACA has established a National Pedestrian Safety Program to promote pedestrian safety nationwide. The program includes educational campaigns, public service announcements, and the distribution of pedestrian safety literature.

The pedestrian safety program has won numerous awards, including the 1971 National AAA Special Citation, 100,000 to 200,000 population; Mount Clemens, Special Citation for cities in the 10,000 to 35,000 population. The program has been recognized by the National Highway Traffic Safety Program and the Federal Highway Administration.

Hi, can I help you?

ST. JOHNS—Judy Pease believes in women's lib. In her job, it's a must. She's a filling station pump jockey.

Mrs. Pease broke into the traditionally all-male job in Lansing. Her dad, Joel Morelock hired her to pump gas and to check oil, batteries and tires.

THE ST. JOHNS MOTHER of four has been doing these same duties at the Boron Oil Co station at 101 S US-27 for 10 weeks. It doesn't take her long to get to work. She bids good-bye to husband Roger and kids, age 1, 7, 9 and 11 just across the street at 104 S Whittemore.

It took a year before anyone here would take her on as an employee. Her boss, Clyde Melton, 803 E Sturgis, says he likes having Judy around.

"Sales have gone up since I hired her," he admits, "and the customers don't seem to mind a bit. It's strictly a parttime job," he continues, "and always with somebody."

JUDY, WHO DOESN'T do any heavy mechanics, confides that some customers ask her if she's sure she knows what she's doing. But, she points out, she's never had any complaints, especially about the hot pants jump suit the company provided for a uniform.

WH, does she like being a pump jockey? "Something different," she says. Her next feat is to be a fireman for St Johns.

Or should that be fireWOMAN?

The Pewamo-Westphalia Band attended the Ionia Free Fair Parade last week. This marked the eleventh consecutive year the band has played at the fair. Under their new director, Mrs. Frank Edwards, the band played "Dolly," "Owander Pirates," and "Two For Two." "Two For Two" is an arrangement played with a dance step and was done for the grandstand audience. The Pewamo-Westphalia Band was one of several in the parade.

SOMEONE ONCE SAID..........

"the pen is mightier than the sword..."

The term, of course, is a figure of speech, but history is rife with events brought about because someone took the time to transmit their views by writing. We cannot all be at the hub of government activity, but under our system each of us has the freedom to be part of the decision-making process...and our role doesn't end with our vote. After that comes the most important phase of all - regular communication with our elected officials. More than we realize, their actions are based on what "the folks back home" have to say and letters are the most effective means of communicating with them.
