DeWitt voters to fill positions vacated by recall election

DeWitt — Voters in the city of DeWitt go to the polls Tuesday to elect city council members and a mayor, in a recall election triggered by citizen petition.

Registered in that election were 525 of the 1,151 eligible voters, according to records of the DeWitt clerk. The council members are elected by district; the mayor is elected at large.

To be elected for the council are the seats numbered 4 and 5.

Voters are entitled to vote for one person in each district, either the one already in office or another who chooses to run.

DeWitt is a city of about 3,000 people, with a median household income of $12,000.

Bohm, age 40, served in the US Navy during World War II, and has been active on the city council, the city planning commission, and other civic organizations.

DeWitt was active in the Rotary, PTA (president), served as Council Fireman Chief of the Bay Beaches, participated in several fundraising and community development activities, and was a Rotarian for 50 years.

City Attorney John Bohm has served for 15 years as city attorney, and has served as city council member and mayor.

DeWitt Veteran's Club; Disabled American Veterans, 40 & 8; American Legion Post #379; member of 40 & 8; Public Service Association of America; Executive Vice President and General Manager of Farmers Mutual Insurance Company.

James Pelham is new County Extension Director

CLINTON COUNTY– Clintion County has a new County Extension Director. His name is James Pelham, and he comes to this position after working with Barry County's Agricultural Agent, Earl Shaw, who joined the Clinton County position in April of 1972. Pelham replaces Shaw, who had been with the agency for the past 11 years.

Pelham, who was born and reared near St. Johns, graduated from St. Johns High School and went on to Michigan State University, where he majored in agriculture and earned a degree in 1955. He then worked as a farm operator near Battle Creek

Area schools to receive checks for state aid

The State Board of Education has furnished State Representative Russell Chamberlain passage of the State Aid Law and the actual distribution of these payments to the local school districts was sent to the local school districts. The figures also give the total remitted to these districts so far this year. The following amounts have been distributed to the local public school districts of the state:

Pewamo-Westphalia Comm School District $2,188
St Johns Public Schools $7,625
Ovid-Elsie Area Schools $2,000
Clinton-Gratiot Voiture No. 868, Michigan National Bank, 1301 South Lansing Street, St. Johns.

Lunch and milk prices to change in St. Johns schools.

ST JOHNS--The cost of lunches and "special" milk is likely to change this year in the St. Johns School District. ..

Lunches will go from 3 cents to 5 cents. "Special" milk, or more than 1 carton with a hot lunch or purchased without a lunch, will go from 3 cents to 5 cents. The change is due to the state's announcement that there will be no longer 'hot' milk houses. The change will be in effect since the 30 school districts which serve citizens of the 8th Legislative District, and which are sent to the local school districts. The figures also give the total remitted to these districts so far this year. The following amounts have been distributed to the local public school districts of the state:

Buying your telephone equipment can have its hang ups.

High insurance payments, for one thing. Property tax payments, for another.

And maintenance, and repair service don’t go with the phone so you have to make arrangements for that.

We don’t sell phone equipment at General Telephone. But we do provide just about any kind of phone equipment you want at the lowest possible cost.

And we service it for nothing extra. Replace worn or broken parts as he extra cost. And come running the minute you need us.

When you buy your phone, you own them, you take care of them.

When we provide them, we own them, we take care of them.

Which sounds like the better deal to you?

Day With The Folks You Can

Bank On"
The outlook wasn’t brilliant for the Mudville nine that day;
The score stood four to two, with but one inning more to play;
And so, when Cooney died at first, and Barrows did the same,
A sickly silence fell upon the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go, deep despair. The rest
Clung to the hope which springs eternal in the human breast.
They thought, if only Casey could but get a whack, at that,
They’d put up even money now, with Casey at the bat.

But Flynn preceded Casey, as did also Jimmy Blake,
And the former was a pudding and the latter was a fake.
So upon that stricken multitude grim melancholy sat,
For there seemed but little chance of Casey’s getting to the bat.

But Flynn let drive a single, to the wonderment of all,
And Blake, the much despised, tore the cover off the ball.
And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred,
There was Jimmy safe on second, and Flynn a-hugging third.

Then from the gladdened multitude went up a joyous yell,
It bounded from the mountain-top and rattled in the dell.
It struck upon the hillside, and recoiled upon the flat,
For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey’s manner as he stepped into his place,
There was pride in Casey’s bearing and a smile on Casey’s face.
And now the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Defiance gleamed in Casey’s eye, a sneer curled Casey’s lip.

And now the leather covered sphere came hurtling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there;
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped.
"That ain’t my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of the storm-waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted someone on the stand.
But a scornful look from Casey, and the audience was awed.

They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn’t let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey’s lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate;
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey’s blow.

Oh! somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is flaying somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout,
But there is no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey has struck out.

Need high school diploma? LCC provides equivalency testing.

LANDING - One of the many services provided by Lansing Community College is the General Education Development Test. Administered to all GED tests are designed to help adults who have completed the 10th grade the opportunity to earn a high school equivalency certificate which is the equivalent of a high school diploma.

The GED consists of five subjects: reading comprehension in literature, reading comprehension in social science, math, science, and social science. The test may be spread out over several days. The test results vary and the minimum passing score is 50 for each subject.

A satisfactory score on the GED test is accepted by employers, civil service commissions, and community colleges. Many states also accept the GED test for the purpose of professional and technical education. A successful score on the GED test may also be required for a Michigan Equivalency Diploma.

The total fee for GED testing is $5. LCC's counseling department also offers advice and pre-testing interviews to help you qualify for the valuable service in time.

Ballenger's office is responsive

"An open line of communication" is a nice phrase. But, whether it means anything or not is often a different matter.

We feel at times that office holders like the phrase, but are busy pursuing the.Store of Ben Ballenger. A recent telephone call to his office by the Clinton County News once again made our staff appreciate the responsiveness of Ben Ballenger and those who work for him.

In the case of Ben Ballenger, who's office as open as possible to the public. An example of a man and his staff who believe in the phrase is the office of Sen William Ballenger. A recent telephone call to his office by the Clinton County News once again made our staff appreciate the responsiveness of Sen Ballenger and those who work for him.

We commend him and his staff for taking the right of the public to communicate. The citizens in their district with a responsive service genuinely interested in doing the best job they can for the public.

TEN YEARS AGO

Jobs for youth at Derby

Walter Parks, program director for Job-O-Youth, the youth work program, said the group is looking for the public to help stage the annual Derby. This year without Carlsberg sponsorship, they are now involved in taking the 1973 winner and 20 others to the national race in Akron, Ohio.

"Job-O-Youth is looking for employment for community young people, plus providing a service for those people with jobs that need to be done," Parks said.

"The public is encouraged to help, whether it's helping with washing or giving them rides," he added.

"It's a way of life that is important to the community," he said. "That's why we're involved in it."

Michigan will be facing sorely lacking in numbers in the environmental field during the next few years. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources Commission long has been known for its tough policy decisions but, with the recent appointment of a new executive director, the department is poised to make a fresh start. The new director, a former state legislator, has a reputation for being a strong advocate for the environment. He has promised to make the department more responsive to the needs of the public and to work closely with other state agencies to ensure that the state's natural resources are protected.

But when people want to complain about the size of the outdoors, our natural environment has always been a place to go for recreation. And when they want to see a place where they can go to relax and unwind, they often look to the woods and the water. And when they want to see a place where they can go to learn about the world around them, they often look to the schools.

The most important thing about the outdoors is that it is a place where we can all come together. It is a place where we can all experience the beauty of nature. It is a place where we can all learn about the world around us. It is a place where we can all have fun.

But the outdoors is not just a place where we can have fun. It is also a place where we can learn. It is a place where we can learn about the environment. It is a place where we can learn about the importance of conservation. It is a place where we can learn about the importance of protecting our natural resources.

Farm storage for grains.

Farm fields, state officials report, are filling up with Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service's Farm Storage Assistance Program, says the guide to storage. It explains the steps to having adequate on-farm storage.

The facility loan program was developed to allow farmers to begin their growing season by paying off on-farm storage. The facility loan program has been available to farmers since 1979.

As of 2023, the maximum amount of loan money that can be applied is $250,000 per farmer per season. The maximum amount of loan money that can be applied is $250,000 per farmer per season.

As of March 1 farmers showed intentions of planting 15.9 million acres of corn in 1973 than they actually planted in 1972, Corn is the principal feed grain in the U.S., supplying three-fourths of the feed used by livestock. Corn prices of both corn and soybeans have been rising in recent months. Change in farm prices for the current year will be about 12 percent above last year's. Corn prices are expected 900 million bushel supply for the 1973-74 period.

SMITH — The family of Leonard J. Smith would like to give their thanks and appreciation to all our friends and relatives during the time of the loss of our husband and father. A special thanks to Fathers James Schmitt, Albert Schmitt, and Edward Gutha, Drs. Smith and Graves, and the staff at Carson City Hospital. The Neller Funeral Home for attending to all the details also to the D. of I. for the preparation of the funeral dinner and those who remembered us with their flowers, cards, and food. Everything was deeply appreciated.

The family of Leonard J. Smith

ERNST — The family of William F. Ernst extend their sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for the flowers, memorials, cards, money and food given at the time of the loss of their beloved husband and father. A special thanks to the late Dr. Cook for his years of medical service; the Clinton Memorial Hospital for their good care; Father John Jackson and his staff for their care and kindness; the Rev. H.E. Reasonover for his many calls and words of comfort; the Osgood Funeral Home and the pallbearers. Thanks to the St. Paul Lutheran Ladies Aid for the lunch served after the funeral. Our deepest appreciation to all of you and may God Bless You.

Mrs. William F. Ernst and family

WEGNER — I would like to extend my thanks to Dr. Stephenson and Dr. Gross, nurses and nurses aides for their excellent care during my stay in the hospital. I would like to thank my friends and relatives for their cards and flowers and the food they brought in.

Mrs. Neva Wegner

DOYLE — I wish to thank everyone for the cards, prayers, flowers and the many acts of kindness shown during my stay in the hospital.
